CHAP. XVI.

a Afa for state of Baasha King of Israel, maketh a covenant with Benhadad King of Aram. 12 He is reproved of the Prophets. 16 Whome he putteth in prison. 18 He putteth his trait in the Physicians. 18 He dieth.

IN the sixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Afa came a Baasha King of Israel vp against Iudah, and buile Ramah to let none passe out or goe in to Afa King of Iudah.

2 Then Afa brought out silver and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and of the Kings house, and sent to Benhadad King of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, lying,

3 There is a covenant betwene me and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee silver and golde: come, & breake thy league with Baasha King of Israel that hee may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto King Afa, and sent the captaynes of the armies which hee had against the cities of Israel. And they smote Lion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his work cease.

6 Then Afa the King tooke all Iudah, and carried away the stones of Ramah and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha did build, and he buile therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the Seer came to Afa King of Iudah, and saide vnto him, Because thou hast rested upon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the host of the King of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 ¶ The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great host with charrets & horsemen, exceeding many? yet because thou didst rest upon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 ¶ For the eyes of the Lorde beholde all the earth: to see howe his life sith with them that are of perfect heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Afa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Afa oppressed certayne of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the Actes of Afa first and last, Ioe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Afa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was diseased in his feete. & his disease was extreme: yet he fought not the Lorde in his disease, but to the Physicians.

13 So Afa slept with his fathers, & died in the one and fourtieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And after the helpe of the Philistin, as a meane by whom God woeketh, 14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for himselfe in the cite of David, and layed him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours and diuers kinds of spices, made by the arte of the Apotecarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

5 Iehoshaphat is vnto the Lorde, opposeth victories and bowes. 6 He doth his lawes, 7 And teacheth the people to be taught. 11 He receiveth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and prevailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bandes in the land of Iudah in the cities of Ephraim, which Afa his father had taken.

3 And the Lorde was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the first wayes of his father David, and fought not Baalim,

4 But fought the Lorde God of his father, and walked in his commandmentes, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lorde stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lorde, and he tooke away moreouer the high places and the groves out of Iudah,

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne hee sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nathaneel, and Michaiah, that they should teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemariah, and Nathaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoniah, Leuites, and with them Eliama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the lawe of the Lorde with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lorde fell vpon all the kingdomes of the landes that were round about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistines brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred raimentes, and seven thousand and seven hundred hee goates.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew vp on his age: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers. In Iudah were captaynes of thousande, Adnah the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And at his hand Iehohanan a captaine, & with him two hundred and fourscore thousand.

And ^aIchozaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in ^aaffinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine ^byeeres he went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slew sheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to goe vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab King of Israel sayd vnto Ichozaphat King of Iudah, Wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Ichozaphat sayd vnto the king of Israel, Alke counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of ^cProphets foure hundred men, and sayd vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they sayd, Goe vp: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Ichozaphat sayd, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that wee might inquire of him?

7 And the King of Israel sayd vnto Ichozaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I ^dhate him: for he doth not prophetic good vnto mee, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Ichozaphat sayd, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuch, & sayd, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Israel, and Ichozaphat King of Iudah fate either of them on his throne clothed in ^etheir apparell: they fate euill in the threeling floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophetic before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him ^fhornes of yron, and said, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the prophets prophetic so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the King.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophets ^gdecare good to the King with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, that will I speake.

14 ¶ So he came to the King, and the King sayd vnto him, Michaiah, shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leave off? And he said, I Goe ye vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the King said to him, Howe oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepherd: and the Lord said, ^hThese haue no Master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israel said to Ichozaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophetic good vnto me, but euill?

18 Again he said, Therefore heare yee the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the ⁱhoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall ^jperswade Ahab King of Israel, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, another said thus.

20 Then there came forth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and said, I will ^kperswade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherain?

21 And he said, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And ^lhee said, Thou shalt ^lperswade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth, and do so.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a ^mfalse spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came nere, & smote Michaiah vpon the ⁿcheeke, and sayd, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah sayd, Beholde, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel sayd, Take yee Michaiah, and carry him to Amon the gouernour of the cite, and to Iozab the kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah sayd, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And ^ohe sayd, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Ichozaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel sayd vnto Ichozaphat, I will ^pchange my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the King of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the King of Aram had commanded the captains of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the King of Israel onely.

31 And when the captains of the charrets saw Ichozaphat, they sayd, It is the King of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Ichozaphat cried, and the Lord helped him, and moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captains of the charrets saw that he was not the King of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drew a bowe ^qmightily, and smote the King of Israel betweene the ioynts of his brigandine: Therefore he sayd to his charret man, Turne thine hand, and carrie me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

And Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah returned safe to his house in Ierusalem.

3 And Iehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer went out to meet him, and sayd to King Iehoshaphat, a Wouldst thou helpe the wicked, & love them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lord is upon thee.

3 Neuertheless good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went & throw the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And he set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, ciety by ciety.

6 And sayd to the iudges, Take heed what ye doe: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, and he will be with you in the cause and iudgement.

7 Wherefore now, let the face of the Lord be vpon you: take heed and doe it: for there is no iniquity with the Lord our God, neither respect of persons, nor receiving of reward.

8 Moreover in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Leuites, and of the Priests, & of the chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgement and cause of the Lord: & they returned to Ierusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfit heart.

a Iehoshaphat and the people pray vnto the Lord, as the marvelous victories that the Lord gaue him against his enemies, so His returne and aid.

After this also came the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, & with them of the Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

2 Then there came that told Iehoshaphat saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazzon Tamar, which is En-gedi.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set him selfe to seeke the Lord, & proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselves together to take counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court.

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddst not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

9 ¶ If euill come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house & in thy presence (for thy name is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now beholde, the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldst not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them now not:

11 Beholde, say, they reward vs, in committing to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs, & stand before this great multitude that cometh against vs, neither doe we know what to doe: but our eyes are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood before the Lord with their young ones, their wives, and their children.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Isiel, the sonne of Mataniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Alaph, was there, vpon whom came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare ye not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morrow goe ye downe against them: behold, they come vp by the cliffe of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the end of the brooke before the wilderness of Iemel.

17 Yee shall not need to fight in this battell: stand still, moue not, and beholde the illustration of the Lord towards you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare ye not, neither be afraid: to morrow goe out against them, and the Lord will be with you.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Corithites flood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice to his eie.

^w To the intent that there should be none to make title to the crown, and so the might vnder the government.

17 And they came up into Iudah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wifes, so that there was not a sonne left him, save ^k Iehozabab, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in proceesse of time, even after the end of two yeeres, his guts fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yeeres olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeeres, and lived without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram, 9. Iehoram king of Iffrael king Ahaziah, 10. Athaliah putteth to death all the Kings issue, 21. Iehoiada slayeth.

^a Nd ^a the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his stead: for the auncie that came with ^a the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and ^b fortie yeere olde was Ahaziah when he beganne to reigne, and he reigned ^c one yeere in Ierusalem. and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter ^d of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counsellid him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his ^e counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsell, & went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab King of Iffrael to fight against Hazael king of Aram: at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Izreel because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael king of Aram. Nowe Azariah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah ^f came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, he went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimhi, ^g whom the Lord had anoynted to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vnder the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And he sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

10 ¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her sonne was dead, shee arose and ^h destroyed all the Kings seed of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshaphat the daughter of the king, tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stole him from among the Kings sonnes, that should bee slaine, and put him and his nurse in the bedde chamber: so Iehoshaphat the daughter of King Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so he slew him not.

12 And hee was with them hid in the house of God six yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned out the ⁱ land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iehoiada the Priest of Iehoram made King, 15. Athaliah slayeth Iehoiada and his sonnes, 19. Iehoiada appointeth ministers in the Temple.

^a Nd ^a in the seventh yeere Iehoiada waxed bolde, & tooke the captaines of hundredths, to wit, Azariah the sonne of Iehoram, and Ishmael the sonne of Iehohanan, & Azariah the sonne of Obad, & Masiah the sonne of Adaiaph, & Eliahaph the sonne of Zichri in couenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers ^b of Iffrad: and they came to Ierusalem.

3 And all the Congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: and hee sayd vnto them, Beholde, the Kings sonne must reigne, ^c as the Lord hath sayd of the sonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shall do, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shall be portes of the doores.

5 And another third part toward the Kings house, and another third part at the ^d gate of the foundation, and all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests, and the Leuites that minister: they shall go in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compass the King round about, and eury man with his weapon in his hand, and hee that entrench ^e into the house, shall be slaine, and be you with the King, when hee cometh in, and when hee goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke eury man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundredths, speeres, and shieldes, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (eury man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar, and by the ^f house round about the king.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the cowne, and gase him the girdle onic, and made him king. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anoynted him, and sayd, God save the King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and praying the King, shee came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when shee looked, beholde, the king stood by his pillar at the entering in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, and

and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah sent her clothes, and said, ^a Treason, treason.

14 Then Ichoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundreths that were gouernours of the hoste, and laid vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, and he that I followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her: and when she was come to the entering of the horsegate by the Kings house, they flew her there.

16 ¶ And Ichoiada made a ^k couenant betwene him, and all the people, and the King, that they would be the Lordes people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and ^l destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and flew ^m Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Ichoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the ⁿ hands of the Priests and Leuites, whome Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, ^o as it is written in the Law of Moses, with raioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And hee set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vnclane in any thing, should enter in.

21 Then all the people of the land reioyced, and the cite was quiet, ^b after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIIII.

¶ ^a Ioath repaired the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Ichoiada, hee staid in Iherusalem, as the flower to death Zechariah the Prophet. 25 Ioath a child of his came forraint. 27 After him reigned Amasiah.

¶ ^a Oath ^a was seven yeere olde, when he beganne to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Ioath did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of ^a Ichoiada the Priest.

3 And Ichoiada ^b tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioath minde, to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and laid to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of ^b Micael money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haue the thing: but the Leuites shafted not.

6 Therefore the King called Ichoiada, the ^c chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Ieuites to bring in our of Iudah and Ierusalem ^a the taxe of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tal-ernacle of the testimonie?

7 For ^d wicked Athaliah, and her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they beflow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the King commanded, ^a and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation thorow Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lorde ^a the taxe of Moses the seruant of God, laid vpon Israel in the wilde nelle.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, ^e they brought the chest vnto the kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: ^a & when they saw that there was much filuer, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the hie Priest, came & emptied the chest, & took it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered filuer in ^a undance.

12 And the King & ^f Ichoiada gave it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, & hired masons & carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gave it also to workers of yron and brasie to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workmen wrought, and the worke ^g farnished through their hands: ^a & they restored the house of God to his state, & strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the filuer before the King and Ichoiada, and hee made thereof ^a vessels for the house of the Lord, ^a even vessels to minister, both morters and incense cuppes, and vessels of golde, and of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Ichoiada.

15 ¶ But Ichoiada waxed olde, and was ful of dayes, and dyed. An hundreth and thirtie yeere old ^a he was when he dyed.

16 And they buried him in the cite of Dauid with the ^a Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Ichoiada, came the ^a princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the King, and the King hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and sent groues and idoles, and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: & they ^a made profestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Ichoiada the Priest, which stood ^a about the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why haue ye transgressed the commandements of the Lord? surely ye shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him & stoned him with stones at the ^a commandment of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioath the King rememberd not the ^a kindness which Ichoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he dyed, hee said, The Lord ^a looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the filste of Aram came vpon Ierusalem, and they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and fute all the boye of them vnto the King of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Aram came with a small companie of men, yet the Lorde delivered a very great armie into their hands, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they ^o gaue sentence against Ioaſh.

(For And when they were departed from him, for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the p children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the Kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against Ioaſh, Zabad the sonne of Shimrath an Ammoniteſſe, and Ithozabad the sonne of Shimrith a Moabiteſſe.

27 But q his sonnes, and the summe of the take gathered by him, & the foundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

x Amaziah putteth them to death which ſlew his father. to He ſendeth backe them to Iſrael. 11 He ouercommeth the Edomites. 14 He ſideth to Iſrael. 17 And Ioaſh King of Iſrael ouercommeth Amaziah. 27 Iſraell ſlaine by a conſpiracie.

Amaziah was five and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yeere in ^o Ieruſalem: and his mothers name was Ichoaddan, of Ieruſalem.

2 And hee did ^a vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdom was eſtabliſhed vnto him, he ſlewe his ſeruants, that had ſlaine the King his father.

4 But he ſlewe not their children, but did as it is written in the Lawe, and in the booke of Moſes, where the Lord commanded, ſaying. * The fathers ſhall not die for the p children, neither ſhall the children die for the fathers, but euery man Iſhall die for his owne ſinne.

5 ¶ And Am aziah aſſembled Iudah, and made them Captaines oer thouſands, and captaines oer hundredths, according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Iudah and Benjamin: and he numbred them from ^o twentie yeere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundredth thouſand choſen men, to go ſooth to the warre, and to handle ſpeare and ſhield.

6 He hired alſo an hundredth thouſand valiant men out of Iſrael for an hundredth talents of ſiluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, ſaying, O King let not the armie of Iſrael go with thee: for the Lord is not ^o with Iſrael, neither with all the houſe of Ephraim.

8 If ^o not, goe thou on, doe it, make thee ſelfe ſtrong to the battell, but God ſhall make thee fall before the enemies for God hath power to helpe, and to caſt downe.

9 And Amaziah ſaide to the man of God, What ſhall we doe then for the hundredth talents, which I haue giuen to the hoſte of Iſrael? Then the man of God answered, The Lorde is able to giue thee more then this.

10 So Am aziah ſeparated them, to w^t, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly againſt Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Am aziah was encouraged, and ledde forth his people, and went to the ſalt valley, and ſmote of the children of ^h Seir, ten thouſand.

12 And ^o other ten thouſand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and caryed them to the toppes of a ^o rocke, and caſt them downe from the toppes of the rocke, and they all burſt to pieces.

13 But the men of the ^o armie, which Am aziah ſent away, that they ſhould not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the citie of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and ſmote three thouſand of them, and tooke much ſpoyle.

14 Nowe after that Am aziah was come from the ſlaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and ſet them vp to be his gods, and ^o worſhipped them, and burned incenſe vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Am aziah, and ſent vnto him a Prophet, which ſaid vnto him, Why haſt thou fought the gods of the people, which were not able to ^o deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, ^o he ſaid vnto him, Haue they made thee the Kings counſeller? ceaſe thou: why ſhould they ^o ſmite thee? And the Prophet ceaſed, but ſaid, I knowe that God hath determined to deſtroy thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not obeyed my counſell.

17 ¶ Then Am aziah King of Iudah tooke counſell, and ſent to Ioaſh the ſonne of Iehozah, the ſonne of Iehu King of Iſrael, ſaying, Come, I let vs ſee one another in the face.

18 But Ioaſh King of Iſrael ſent to Am aziah King of Iudah, ſaying, The thifle that is in Lebanon, ſent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, ſaying, ^o Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and the wilde beaſt that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thifle.

19 Thou thinkeſt: lo, thou haſt ſmitten Edom, and thine heart liſteth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doſt thou prouoke to ^o thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, and Iudah with thee?

20 But Am aziah would not heare: for q it was of God, that he might deliuer them into ^o his hand, becauſe they had fought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioaſh the King of Iſrael went vp: and he, and Am aziah King of Iudah ſaw one another in the face at Bethſemeth which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Ioaſh the King of Iſrael tooke Am aziah King of Iudah the ſonne of Ioaſh, the ſonne of Iehozah in Bethſemeth, and brought him to Ieruſalem, and brake down the wal of Ieruſalem. from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundredth cubites.

24 And hee tooke all the gold & the ſiluer, and all the veſſels that were found in the houſe of God with ^o Obed Edom, and in tie treaſures of the Kings houſe, and the children that were in hoſtage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Am aziah the ſonne of Ioaſh King of Iudah liued ſter the death of Ioaſh ſonne of Iehozah King of Iſrael, ſixteene yeere.

26 Concerning the reſt of the aces of Am aziah ſirſt and laſt, gre they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Iſrael?

C H A P. XXVI.

1. His wretched prayer, and vnto the Priests office. 19 The Lord plagued him. 20 The Priests drave him out of the Temple, and retyred him out of the Lords house. 21 His buriall, and his successour.

THen *all the people of Iudah tooke *Vzziah, which was sixteen yeere olde, and made him King in stead of his father Amaziah.

2 He built ^bEloth, and rettored it to Iudah after that the King slept with his fathers.

3 *Sixteen yeere olde was Vzziah, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two & sitie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And hee did vprightly in the fight of the Lord, according to al that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he fought God in the dayes of *Zechariah (which vnderstood the visions of God) and when ^hhe fought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For hee went forth and fought against the Philistims and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabzib, and the wall of Alhadd, and built cities in Alhadd, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwell in Gur-baal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue *gifts to Vzziah, and his name spred to the entring in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreover Vzziah built towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the *turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wilderness, and digged many ^hcisternes: for hee had much cattell both in the valleys and playnes, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountains, and in ^hCarmel: for hee loved husbandrie.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Iciel the Scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole ^hnumber of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men, were two thousand and sixe hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred and seven thousand, and siue hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemy.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very tarticalli engins in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him maruclously, till hee was mightie.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart ^hwas lift vp in his destruction: for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, & went into the Temple of the Lorde to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they wisdood Vzziah the King, and saide vnto him, *It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: ^hgoe forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while hee was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, beholde, hee was leprous in his forehead, & they caused him hastily to depart thence: and hee was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 *And Vzziah the King was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in a house apart, because hee was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the Kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Vzziah, first and last, did Ishaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the Kings: for they sayd, He ^his a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

C H A P. XXVII.

1. Iotham reigne, and ouercometh the Ammonites. 8 His reigne and death. 9 Ahaz his sonne reigne in his stead.

Iotham *was siue and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteen yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And hee did vprightly in the fight of the Lord, according to all that his father Vzziah did, saue that hee entred not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet ^hcorrupt their wayes.

3 He built the hie ^hgate of the house of the Lord, and he built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forest hee built palaces and towres.

5 And hee fought with the King of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him ^hboth in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie ^hbecause hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iotham, and all his warres & his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel, & Iudah.

m To Tiglath Pileser & those Kings that were vnder his dominion, 2. King. 16, 7.

Ahaz was twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned fixtene yeere in Ieru-salem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord, like David his father.

But he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, & made euen molten images for Baalim.

Moreover he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the high places, and on hilles, and vnder every greene tree.

Wherefore the Lorde his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they smote him, and tooke of his many prisoners, & brought them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the King of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

For Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slew in Iudah sixscore thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lorde
God of their fathers.

And Zichri a mighty man of Ephraim slew Maaseiah the Kings sonne, and Azrikam the go-uernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the King.

And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caried away much spoyle of them, and brought the spoyle to Samaria.

But there was a Prophet of the Lordes, (whose name was Obed) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and sayd vnto them, Beholde, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, hee hath deliuered them into your hand, and yee haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth yu to heauen.

And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaides vnto you: but are not you such, that sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

Now therefore heare mee, and deliuer the captives againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehziah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, flood vpon against them that came from the warre,

And said vnto them, Bring not in captiues hither: for this shall be a sinne vpon vs against the Lord: yee extend to adde more to our finnes and to our trespass, though our trespass be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

So the armie left the captiues & the spoyle before the princes and all the Congregation.

And the men that were named by name, rose vp & tooke the prisoners, & with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, & gae them meate, and gaue them drinke, and anoynted them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the citie of Palme trees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

At that time did King Ahaz send vnto the Kings of Asshur, to helpe him.

(For the Edomites came moreouer, and slew of Iudah, and caried away captiues.

The Philistims also inuaded the citie in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Beth-hemesh, and Aialon, & Gederoth and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Tim-nah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz King of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, and had grievously transgre-sed against the Lord.

And Tiglath Pileser King of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

For Ahaz took a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the Kings house, and of the Princes, & gaue vnto the King of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

And in the time of his tribulation did hee yet trespass more against the Lord, (This is King Ahaz)

For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I wil sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, & brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

And in euery citie of Iudah hee made him places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

Concerning the rest of the actes, and all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Israel.

And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

11 Nowe my sonnes, be not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah the sonnes of the Kohathites: & of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, & Azariah the sonne of Iehalel: and of the Gerhoniotes, Joah the sonne of Zimmah, and Eilen the sonne of Ioah: 13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Iehiel: and of the sonnes of Afaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimci: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came according to the commandment of the King, and by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the uncleannesse that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to cary it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 Then began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and sayd, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King arose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and seuen lambes, and seuen he goats, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuary, and for Iudah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullockes, and the Priests receiued of the blood, and sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goats for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, & they laid their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all

Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 Hee appoynted also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with viols, and with harpes, according to the commandment of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the 1 commandment was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of m the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commanded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. so they prayed with ioy, and they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayde, Nowe ye haue consecrated your selues to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praye into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seauente bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for purification sixe hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were two few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were 1 more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering, so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced and all the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie thorowe the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they e laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

i He sheweth the cause why some obay & some mocke at Gods calling, to wit, because his Spirit is with the one, and mooueth their heart, and the other is left to themselves.

11 Neuertheless diuers of Aher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselves, and came to Ierusalem.

k Which declareth that we must put away those things where-with God is offended, before we can sense him aright.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one i heart to doe the commandement of the King and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

l Seeing their owne negligence (who should haue bin most prompt) and the readinesse of the people, Chap. 36.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnleavened bread in the second moneth, a very great assemblee.

m To wit, of the lambe of the Passeouer, n He knew, that faith and sincereitie of heart was more agreeable to God, then the obseruation of sherie ceremonie, and therefore he prayed vnto God to pardon this fault vnto the people, which did not offend of malice but of ignorance.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterward they slewe the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were l ahamed, and sanctified themselves, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receiued of the handes of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, ~~euen~~ a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleaused themselves, yet did euen the Passeouer, ~~but~~ not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him,

19 That prepaereth his whole heart to seeke

the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleaused, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and o healed the people.

o That is, did accept them as purified.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleavened bread seuen dayes with great ioye, and the Leuites and the Priestes prayed the Lord, day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

p This feast is the feast.

22 And Hezekiah t spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge so sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemblee tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullockes, and ten thousand sheepe: and many Priestes were sanctified.

q This great liberallitie declareth how Kings, Princes, and all they, to whom God hath giuen wherewith, ought to be most ready to bestowe it in setting forth of Gods glory.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priestes and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

r According to that which is written, Num. 6.19, when they should dissimile the people.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people desirous of iusticie, 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing, 13 He ordereth euery seruice to distribute to euery one his portion.

AND when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and brake downe the high places, and the altars thorowout all Iudah and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, vntill they had made an ende: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

a According to the commandement of the Lord, Deu. 7.5, ioh. 7.5, 2. Mac. 12.40, b That is, all they which came to the Passeouer,

2 And Hezekiah appoynted the courses of the Priests and Leuites by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priestes and Leuites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

c That is, in the Temple where they assembled as in a tent.

3 (And the Kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, ~~euen~~ for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the euening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moones, and for the solemne feastes, * as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

d The tithes and first fruites for the maintenance of the Priests & Leuites.

4 He commanded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue a part to the Priestes, and Leuites, that they might bee e encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

e That their mindes might not be intangled with worldly things, but that they might wholly and cheerfully serue the Lord, for praise.

5 ¶ And when the commandement was spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites, of come, wine, and oyle, and honic,

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countries could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loude voice in the Jewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to altonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, even the m workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Iiaiah the sonne of Amoz, a prayed against this and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and c capitaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so hee returned f with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his p owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sanherib King of Asshur, & from the hand of all other, and || maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was g magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 * In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward b bestowed vpon him: for his heart v was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gaue him treasures of silver, and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stables for all beasts, and || forres for the || stubles.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him || distance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of c Gihon, and led them straight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward.

31 So Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

32 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to || trie him, and to knowe all that was in his heart.

33 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Iiaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Iisrah.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manassih his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII

1 Manassih ambassador, 9 Hezekiah Iudah to erre, 11 He was a way prisoner into Babylon, 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered, 13 He abolishesth idolatry, 16 And Ierusalem true religion, 20 Hee dieth and Amon his sonne succeedeth, 23 IJehoiach his sonne serueth Iay.

Manassih was twelue yeere olde, * when hee began to reigne, and he reigned fure and fiftie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the abominations of the heathen, * whom the Lord had callt out before the children of Iisrah.

3 For hee went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, & made groues, and worshipped all the holste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, I In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the holste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 * And hee caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft, and to charming, and to forcerie, and hee feed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 Hee put also the carued image, which hee had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Iisrah, will I put my Name for euer,

8 Neither will I make the foote of Iisrah to remouue any more out of the land which I haue appoynted for your fathers, so that they take heede, and doe all that I haue comaunded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the b hand of Moses.

9 So Manassih made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worke then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Iisrah.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake c to Manassih and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the holste of the King of Asshur, which tooke Manassih and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when hee was in tribulation, hee prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was d entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his Kingdome: then Manassih knew that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this hee built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of c Gihon in the valley, euen at the enerie of the fift gate, and compassed about: Ophel, and rayfed it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but vnto the Lord their God.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them, 23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants ^h conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Iosiah destroyeth the idoles, & Amon reformeth the Temple. 2 The booke of the Law is found. 3 He searcheth in Hilkiah the Prophete'sse for counsell. 7 God heareth his prayer. 31 He maketh a covenant with God.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of ^a Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yeere of his reigne (when he was yet ^a child) he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfe yeere he began to purge Iudah and Ierusalem from the high places, and the groues, and the carved images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe ^c in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on his vpon them: he brake also the groues, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stamped them to powder, & strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the ^d bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their mautes they brake all round about.

7 And when hee ^d destroyed the altars & the groues, and had broken and stamped to powder der the images, and had cut downe all the idoles thoroughout all the land of Israel, hee returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne, when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah and Maasiah the gouernour of the cite, and Iosah the sonne of Ioshaz the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the ouerscers of them were Ialah and Ochiaiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward all the workemen in euery worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the ^b booke of the Law of the Lord given by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and sayde to Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan carryed the booke to the King, and brought the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerscers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chanceller declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Law, he ^c tare his clothes,

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Shophan the chanceller, and Afsiah the Kings seruants, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for mee, and for the rest in Israel and Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the wordes of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

23 And she answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Tell yee o the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euil all the curses, that are written in the booke which they haue read before the King of Iudah:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their hands, therefore shall my wrath fall vpon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so haue I say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did melt, & thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardst his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me, and tarst thy clothes, and wepest be-

28 Beholde, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the king worde again.

29 ¶ Then the king sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalem.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the smallest, and hee read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stood by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to keepe his commandmentes, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and that hee would accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused all that were found in Ieru-salem, and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the couen-ant of God, euil the God of their fathers.

33 So Iosiah tooke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled al that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iosiah keepeth the Pasfeouer. 2 Hee kept fourth Gods feruice. 3 Hee fighteth against the King of Egypt, and dyeth.
4 The people bewaile him.

Moreouer * Iosiah kept a Pasfeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the Pasfeouer in the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he appointed the Priestes to their charges, and incouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord.

3 And he sayd vnto the Leuites that brought the things which are signified. b So that the Leuites charge was not only to minister in the Temple, but also to instruct the people in the word of God.

all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shall no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as * Da-uid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren, the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Pasfeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the people sheepe, lambs and kiddes, all for the Pasfeouer, euil to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priestes and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Ichiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priestes for the Pasfeouer, euil two thousand and six hundred sheepe, and three hundred bullockes.

9 e Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Netha-neel his brethren, and Hahabiah and Ichiel, & Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Le-uites for the Pasfeouer, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, & the Priestes flooded in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandment:

11 And they slew the Pasfeouer, & the Priestes sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites slayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to give it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And * they roasted the Pasfeouer with fire, according to y^e custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes and cauldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for themselues and for the Priestes: for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselves, and for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the fingers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing: * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ie-duthun the Kings Seers: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from their seruice:
therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keepe the Pasfeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord according to the commandment of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Pasfeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Pasfeouer kept like that, in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet:

neither did all the Kings of Israel keepe such a Passouer as Iofiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all Iudah, and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

19 This Passouer was kept in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iofiah.

20 ¶ After all this, when Iofiah had prepared the Temple, Necho King of Egypt came vp to fight against Carchemish by ¶ Perath, and Iofiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou King of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haft: I leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Iofiah would not turne his face from him, but I changed his appaell to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot at King Iofiah: then the King sayde to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants tooke him out of that charret, and put him in the second charret which hee had, and when they had brought him to Ierusalem, hee died, and was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudah and Ierusalem mourned for Iofiah.

25 And Ieremie lamented Iofiah, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Iofiah in their lamentations to this day, and made the same for an ordinance vnto Israel: and behold, they be written in the lamentations.

¶ Then the people of the land tooke Iehozahz the sonne of Iofiah, and made him King in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Iehozahz was three and twentie yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned three moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the King of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of filuer, and a talent of golde.

4 ¶ And the King of Egypt made Eliakim his brother King ouer Iudah, and Ierusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Iehozahz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakim was five and twentie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eleven yeere in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came vp Nebuchad-nezzar King of B. b. and bound him with chains to carry him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also carried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his Temple at B. b.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found vpon him, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Iudah, and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 ¶ Iehoiachin was eight yeere olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the yeere was out, King Nebuchad-nezzar sent and brought him to Babel with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiah his brother King ouer Iudah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and reigned eleven yeere in Ierusalem.

12 ¶ And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremias the Prophet at the comandement of the Lord, 13 But hee rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and hee hardened his necke and made his heart obdurate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which hee had sanctified in Ierusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them ¶ by his messengers, rising early & sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God and despised his words, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For hee brought vpon them the King of the Caldians, who slewed their young men with the sword: he in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither young man nor virgin, ancient, nor aged, God's gate all into his hand.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the King, and of his princes: all these caryed he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and I burnt all the places thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrew, but is translated out of the Greeke.

O Lorde Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and of their righteous seed, which hast made heaven and earth with all their ornament, which hast bounde the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glorie can not be borne, and thine angrie threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnumerable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, & most mercifull, & repentest for mans misdoings. Thou, O Lorde, according to thy great goodnes hast promised a repentance and forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, & Isaac and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned before the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions,

O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde and see the height of the heavens for the multitude of mine vniuersall offences. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither have any release: or I have provoked thy wrath & done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandements. I have set vp abominations and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, & I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and deliuer me not with my transgressions. Be not angrie with me for euer by reseruing euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue mee that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praye thee for euer all the dayes of my life, for all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer, Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance (saith the way for them to returne to thee, b He speaketh this in comparison of himselfe & those holy fathers which have their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe he calleth their finnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousness.

EZRA.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lorde is ever mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, & as he exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them none in bondage sauenie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pities them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they should grow into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endure as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophet they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and Scribe of the Law, as chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixtieth yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeere after the returne of the first vnder Zorobabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great companie, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessarie for the Temple: and as his coming bee redressed that which was amiss, and set the things in good order.

a Cyrus sendeth against the people that was in captiuitie, & sendeth with them such as he holy vessels.

NOW in the first yeere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the worde of the LORD, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and hee made a Proclamation thorow all his kingdomes, and also by writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, the Lorde God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is hee among you of all his people with whom the Lord his God is? let him goe vp to Ierusalem which is in Iudah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: he is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

the ^b sonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God,

3 And they set the altar vpon ^c his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countries) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, ^{euen} burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

that were consecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord:
but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not laid.

7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meat and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Sidon and of Tyrus, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto Jap-hoph, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

8 ¶ And in the second yeere of their coming vnto the house of God in Ierusalem in the second moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priestes and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalem, and appointed the Le-uites from twentie yere olde and about, to set forward the worke of the house of the Lord.

9 And Ieshua stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Iudah together to sit forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadad with their sonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the builders layed the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priests in their apparell with trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbales, to praise the Lord, ^a after the ordinance of Dauid King of Israel.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue prayse, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord. For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lord was layed.

12 Many also of the Priestes & the Leuites and the chiefe of the fathers, ancient men which had sene the first house, (when the foundation of this house was layed before their eyes) went with a loud voice, and many shouted aloud for ioy,

13 So that the people coulde not discern the sound of the shout for ioy, from the noise of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud cry, and the noise was heard farre off.

k Meaning 7 gifts that are wont to be giuen to kings when they passe by any country. Psalm. 110. 4. We haue eaten the fat of the Palaces.

Vt the adversaries of Iudah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerebubabel, and to the chief fathers, and sayd vnto them, We will build with you: for we seeke the Lord your God as ye doe; and we haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Elia Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerebubabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chief fathers of Israel, sayd vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to build the house vnto our God: but for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building.

5 And they hired counsellors against them, to hinder their deuiſe, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of Achaſuerus (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artahſtaſte, Mitredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahſtaſte king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was in the Aſſyrian writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the chanceller, and Shimſhai the ſcribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahſtaſte the king, in this fort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chanceller, & Shimſhai the ſcribe, and their companions Dinaie, and Apharſacheie, Tapelaie, Apharſaie, Archeuie, Babelaie, Shuthanchuie, Dehaue, Elmaie, 10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble Aſſuapper brought out, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the Riuier, and Cheneth.

12 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahſtaſte, THE SERVANTS the men beyond the Riuier and Cheneth, salute thee.

13 Be it knowne vnto the king that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a cite rebellious and wicked) and builde, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

14 Be it knowne now vnto the King, that if this cite be built, & the foundations of the walles layed, they will not giue tolles, tribute, nor custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

15 Nowe therefore because we haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,

16 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this cite is rebellious and noisome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of olde time, for the which cause this cite was destroyed.

17 We certifie the King therefore, that if this cite be builded, and the foundation of the walles layed, by this means the portion beyond the Riuier shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the Chanceller, and Shimſhai the Scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Riuier, Iſſelam and Cheneth.

18 ¶ The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me.

19 And I haue commanded & they haue searched, and found, that this cite of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, & hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Riuier, and tolles, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the cite be not build; till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heed now that ye faile not to doe this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of king Artahſtaſtes letter was read before Rehum and Shimſhai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah due prophets. 2 The worke of the Temple ceased for a while. 3 The work of the Temple ceased for a while. 4 The work of the Temple ceased for a while.

Then Haggai a Prophet and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, euen vnto them.

2 Then Zerebubabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozachab arose, and began to build the house of God at Ierusalem, and with them were the Prophets of God, which helped them.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the Riuier, and Sether-boznai and their companions, and sayd thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build the house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

4 ¶ Then said we vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

5 But the eie of the Lord was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters therunto.

6 The copie of the letter that Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuier, and Sether-boznai and his companions, Apharſacheie (which were beyond the Riuier) sent vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowne vnto the King, that we were into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layd in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and sayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

1 Some trade for Shalmanazar, or preterit. 2 Called also Cherech, as verſe 10.

3 Not altogether exhausted them to continue, but they used little diligence because of the troubles.

5 Which incouraged them to goe forward, and adured them that they were more capabill to build their own house, then they were to build the Temple of God.

6 That is, the enemies asked this, as verſe 10. 7 His fauour and the spirit of his people.

8 For possible.

10 We asked their names also, that we might certify thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yerres ago, which a great King of Israel * builded and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, * he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the * first yeeve of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, that was in Ierusalem, and brought then into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one * Sheshbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And he sayd vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and layd the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet it is not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let there be (care) made in the house of the Kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to build this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the king send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commaundment of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleuened bread.

1 Then * King Darius gaue commaundment, and they made search in the * librerie of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a * coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall,

3 IN THE FIRST yeeve of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem, Let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threefoore cubites, and the breadth thereof threefoore cubites,

4 Three * orders of * great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expences be giuen of the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tattai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Sether Boznai, (and their companions Aphanese, which are beyond the Riuer) be ye farre * from thence.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaines of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commaundment what ye shall do to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the true tribute beyond the Riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto these men that they * cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue need of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullocks, or rammes, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be fet vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name * to dwell there, destroy all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speed.

13 ¶ Then Tattai the captaine beyond the Riuer, and Sether Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded & finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commaundment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahastate king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth * Adar, which was the sixt yeeve of the reigne of King Darius.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundredth lockes, two hundredth rammes, foure hundredth lambs, and twelue goats, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the * booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passecouer on * the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests & the Leuites were purified all together) and they killed the Passecouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had * separated themselves vnto them, from the filthinesse of the Heathen of the land to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate,

22 And they kept the feast of vnleuened bread seven dayes with ioy: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of * Assyria vnto them, to * encourage them in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

3 The sonne of Ananiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraioth, the sonne of Vzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abihua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a scribe prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yeere of King Artahastate.

8 And hee came to Ierusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seuenth yeere of the King.

9 For vpon the first day of the first month began he to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the first month came he to Ierusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahastate gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and scribe, even a writer of the words of the commandments of the Lord, & of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 ARTAHASTATE King of Kings to Ezra the Priest and persic Scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen, and to Chemeth.

13 I haue giuen commaundment, that euery one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites to goe to Ierusalem with thee, shall goe.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the King and his seuen counsellers, to enquire in Iudah and Ierusalem, according to the Lawe of thy God, which is in thine hand,

15 And to cary the siluer and the gold, which the King & his counsellers willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

16 And all the siluer and gold, that thou canst finde in all the prouince of Babel, with the free offering of the people, and that which the Priests offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem,

17 That thou mayest buy speedily with this siluer, bullockes, rammes, lambs, with their meate offerings and their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

18 And whatsoever it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to do with the rest of the siluer, & gold, doe ye it according to the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needfull for the house of thy God, which shall be meete for thee to bestowe, thou shalt bestow it out of the Kings treasure house.

21 And I King Artahastate haue giuen commaundment to all the treasurers which are beyond the River, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it be done incontinently, 22 Vnto an hundred talents of siluer, vnto an hundred measures of wheate, and vnto an hundred baths of wine, and vnto an hundred baths of oyle, and salt without writing.

23 Whatsoeuer also by the commaundment of the God of heauen, let it be done speedily for the house of the God of heauen: for why should he be wroth against the Realme of the King, and his children?

24 And we certifie you, that vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or Ministers in this house of God, there shall no gouernour lay vpon them tolle, tribute nor custome.

25 And thou Ezra (after the wise dome of thy God, that is in thine hand) set iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the River, even all that knowe the Lawe of thy God: and teach ye them that knowe it not.

26 And whosoever will not doe the Lawe of thy God, and the Kings lawe, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, which so hath put in the Kings heart, to beautifie the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem, 28 And hath inclined mercie toward me, before the King and his counsellers, and before all the Kings mightie Princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon me, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to goe vp with me.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seutient males.

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Priests, and found there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore, sent I to Eliezer, to Aric, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Joiarib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding, 20 And of the Nethinims, whom David had set, and the Princes for the seruite of the Levites, two hundredth and twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was assured to require of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the King, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Halhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the siluer and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counsellors, and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundredth and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessels, an hundredth talents, and in gold an hundredth talents:

27 And twentie b. sins of golde, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasie very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them vntill ye weigh them before the chiefe Priests and the Levites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests and the Levites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the River of Ahaua on the twelfe day of the first month, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laid vs waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God: by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabab the sonne of Ieshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the Levites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, nine and six rammes, seutient and seuen lambs, and twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commision vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the River: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

When us as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests, and the Levites are not separated from the people of the landes (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they have taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the land, and the hand of the Princes and rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and satte downe afflicted.

4 And there assembled vnto mee all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I satte downe afflicted vntill the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose vp from mine heauinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God.

for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, and our trespasse is grown vnto the heauen. 7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue we, our kings, and our Priestes bene deliuered into the hand of the Kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little place grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, & giue vs a little reuining in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath enclined mercy vnto vs in the fight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, & to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah & in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandments,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, * The land wherunto ye go to possesse it, is a vncleane land, because of the filthines of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandments, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bene ^b refused to escape, as appeareth this day: beholde, we are before thee in our trespasse: therefore wee cannot stand before thee because of it.

C H A P. X.

1 The people repented and turned, and put away their strange wives.

W Hiles ^a Ezra prayed thus, and ^d confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and sayd to Ezra, We haue trespased against our God, & haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is ^b hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away ^c all the wiues (and such as are borne of them) according to ^f counsell of the Lord, & of those that feare the commandments of our God, & let it be done according to ^f Law.

4 Anſwer for the matter ^d belonged vnto thee: we also will with thee: be of comfort & doe it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel, to sweare that they would doe according to this word. So they swore.

6 * And Ezra roſt vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drunke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto [†] all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whoſoeuer would not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes, and Elders, alhis substance should be [†] forfeit, and hee should be ſeparate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled themselves vnto Ierusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ^e ninth month, and all the people late in the ſtreete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the ^e fraine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, & said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, & haue taken strange wiues, to increase the trespasse of Israel.

11 Now therefore ^b giue praye vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and doe his wil, and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voice, So wil we doe according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rainie weather, and wee are not able to ſtand without, neither ^c is the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers ſtand therefore ^d before all the Congregation, & let all them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery cite and the Iudges thereof, till the ſerue wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Alah-el, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tikvah ouer this matter, and Methullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and ^d departed, euen Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and late downe in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first month they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priestes there were men found, that had taken strange wiues, ^e so wit, of the sonnes of Iehshib, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maafiah, Aeliezzer, and Iarib and Gedaliah.

19 And they gaue [†] their hands, that they would put away their wiues, and they that had trespased, ^e gaue a ramme for their trespasse.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set up worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compass of fewe yeeres hee raised up diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captain to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners and planted religion: and the third builded up the walles, delivered the people from oppression, and provided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King favoured him greatly, and gave him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which hee could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah becometh the calomist of Ierusalem. 2 He correcteth the finnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

He words of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the twentieth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shulhan,

2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he & the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they sayd vnto mee, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the province, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these words, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And sayde, O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, & thine eyes open, to heare my prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day & night for the children of Israel thy seruants, & confesse the finnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 We haue grievously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandest thy seruant Moses,

8 I beseech thee, remember the worde that thou commandest thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye will transgresse, and I will scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and doe them, though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants, and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eares now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to feare thy Name, & I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, he came to Ierusalem, and builded the walles.

Nowe in the moneth Nisan in the twentieth yeere of king Artahastae, the wine stood before him, and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. nowe I was not beforetime sad in his presence.

2 And the king said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrow of heart. Then was I fore afraide, 3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for euermore should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lye waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the king said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen,

5 And Gyde vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruants haue found fauour in thy fight, I desire that thou wouldest lend mee to Iudah vnto the cite of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King sayd vnto me, (the Quene also sitting by him) How long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent mee, and I set him a time.

7 After I sayd vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue mee letters to the captaynes beyond the Riuier, that they may conuay me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Alaph the keeper of the Kings Riuier, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the cite, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the King gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 Then came I to the captaynes beyond the Riuier, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaynes of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But Samballar the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a fewe men with me: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beaſt with me, save the beaſt whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoule, and there was no roume for the beaſt that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that wee are in, howe Ierusalem lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings wordes that he had spoken vnto mee. And they sayd, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Samballar the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, I rebell against the King?

The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor memoriall in Ierusalem.

BUt when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, then was he wroth and sore grieved, and mocked the Jewes.

a And sayd before his a brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus hee sayde, What doe these weake Jewes? will they fortifie themselves? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and sayd, Although they build, yet if a foxe goe vp, he shall euen breake downe their stonie wall.

4 c Heare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray d in the land of their captiuitie.

5 And couer not their e iniquitie, neither let their sinne bee put out of thy presence: for they haue prouokt vs before the builders.

6 So wee built the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the h halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches beganne to be stopped) then they were very wroth.

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to f hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, & set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah sayde, The strength of the beaers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had sayde, They shall not knowe, neither see, till wee come into the miks of them and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Jewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they tolde vs f ten times, g From all places, whence yete shall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and sayd vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: h remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wines, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowne vnto vs, then God brought their counsell to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shields, and bowes, & habergins: and the rulers stood i behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword piewed on his loynes, and so builded: and hee that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then sayde I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

a Of his compassions that dwelt in Samaria.

b Thus the wicked that confide that God power is ouer in a readinesse for the defence of his, mocke them as though they were weak and feeble.

c This is the remedie that the mercie of God haue against the desolation & derisions of their iniquities to see to God by prayer.

d Let them bee spoiled and led away captiue.

e Let thy prayers declare to the world that they for themselves againt thy Church thus be prayed, soely hating respect to Gods glory, and not for any private affliction, or gudge.

f Their hearts bright, & their meate in fast, meaning the people.

g That is, often times.

h They which brought the tidings, sayd thus, When you heare your worke, and goe either to rest or to rest, your enemies will assaile you.

i Who is euen hard to deliuer his out of danger, and therefore seeing they should fight for the maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preservation of their owne liues and of their, hee encourageth them to play the valiant men.

k To ouerthrow them and to encourage them to their worke.

fill their enemies,

20 In what place therefore ye heard the sound of the trumpet, ^a I rejoyce yet thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the speares, from the appearing of the morning, till the farras came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my ser-uants, nor the men of the ward, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, ^a saue euery one put them off ^b for washing.

CHAP. V.

^a The people are oppressed and in necessity, & Nehemiah remembereth it. ^b He took not the person of others that had ruled before; he should graunt the people.

NOW there was a great crie of the people, and
Of their wives ^a against their brethren the Iewes.

24 For there were that said, We, our finnes and our daughters are many, therefore we take vp ^b come, that we may eate and liue.

25 And there were that said, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp corne for the famine.

26 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the Kings ^c tribute ^d pon our lands and our vineyards.

27 And now our flesh is as ^e the flesh of our brethren, and our finnes as their finnes: and loe, we bring into subiection our finnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters ^f now in subiection, and there is no power ^g in our hands: for other men ^h haue our lands and our vineyards.

28 Then was I very angrie when I heard their crie and these wordes.

29 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and saide vnto them,
You lay ⁱ burthens euery one vpon his brethren:
and I fet a great assembly against them.

30 And I said vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: and will you sell your brethren againe, or shal they be ^k solde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

31 I said also, That which ye doe, is not good.
Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the ^l reproch of the heathen our enemies?

32 For euery I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and come: I pray you, let vs leaue off this ^m burden.

33 I Refore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and ⁿ remitt the hundredth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oile: that ye exact of them.

34 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast said. Then I called the Priestes, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

35 So I shooke my lappe, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out, and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, and prayed the Lord: & the people did according to this promise.

36 And from the time that ^o the King gaue me charge to bee gouernour in the lande of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahsalice, ^p that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten
the ^q bread of the gouernour.

37 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourthe shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

38 But rather I fortified a ^r portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no lande, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

39 Moreover there ^s were at my table an hundredth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

40 And there was prepared dayly an ox, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and ^t I within ten dayes wine for all ^u in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

41 Remember me, O my God, in goodnesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

^a Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom, and saile to his accusers. ^b He is not discouraged by the false Prophets.

ANd when Sanballat, and Tobiah, & Geshem
the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no moe ^c breaches therein, (though at that time I had not fet vp the doores vpon the gates)

42 Then sent Sanballat and Geshem vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may meete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to doe me euill.

43 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I can not come downe: ^d why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

44 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same maner.

45 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

46 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ^e I Gashmu hath said it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt bee their King according to their ^f wordes.

47 Thou hast also ordeined ^g the Prophets to preach of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these wordes it shall come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counsell together.

48 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that thou sayest: for thou findest them of thine owne heart.

49 For all they affraid vs, saying, Their handes shalbe weakened from the worke, and it shal not be done: now therefore ^h encourage thou me.

73 And the Priests and the Leuites, and the porters and the fingers and the rest of the people and the Nethinims, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the ⁱ seuenth moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

i Which concerned part of September and part of october.

C H A P. VIII.

a Ezra gathered together the people, and sealesh to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keep the feasts of Tabernacles or booths.

And all the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the ^a Scribe, that he would bring the booke of ^l Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

a Reade Ezra 7. 6.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the congregation both of men and women, and of all that ^b could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenth moneth, b Which had age and discretion to vnderstand.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill ^c the midday) before men and women, and that they vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people ^d hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

c This declareth the great ayle, that the people had to heare the word of God.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vrijah, and Hilkiiah, and Maasiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaijah, and Mihael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was ^d about all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maasiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabab, Hanan, Pelaijah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nchemiah (which is Tirsitha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, singe vnto all the people. This day is holy vnto ^l Lord your God: moune not, neither weepe: for all the people ^e wept, when they heard the wordes of the Law.

e In considering their offences against the Lawe, therefore the Leuites due not reuenge them for mourning, but assure them of God's mercies for sinners as they are repentant.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, & send part vnto them, for whom none ^f is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not fory therefore: for the

the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold ye your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away part, and to make great joy, because they had vnderstood the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commaunded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in * Bootheries in the feast of the seventh moneth.

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, & branches of myrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make bootheries as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them, and made them bootheries, euery one vpon the * rooffe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootheries, and fate vnder the bootheries: for since the time of Iehusha the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

18 And hee read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eighth day a solemne assemblie, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange minis. 5 The Leuites exhort them to praye God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 16 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this moneth the children of Israel were assembled with * fasting, and with sackcloth, & earth vpon them.

1 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the * strangers) and they stood, and confessed their finnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

2 And they stood vp in the place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they * confessed and worshipped the Lord their God four times.

3 Then stood vp vpon the staires of the Leuites, Iehusha, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherabiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cried with a loud voyce vnto the Lord their God.

4 And the Leuites said, euem Iehusha and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, Stand vp, and praye the Lord your God for euer, and euer, and let them praye thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth about all thanksgiving and praye.

5 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, & all that are in them, & thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of * Vr, in Caldea * and madest his name Abraham,

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * and madest a couenant with him, to give vnto his seede the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou diddest breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the middes of the Sea on dry land: and those that purified them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And * Ieddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloude, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances and good commandements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedest them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselves proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements,

17 But refused to obey, & would not remember thy maruelous works that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe (and said, This is the God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) & committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in the wilderness: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way whereby they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldst not thy M A N from their mouth, & gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou diddest also feede them fourtie yeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not old, & their feet swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes & people, and * scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon, & the land of * King of Hethlon, and the land of Og King of Bashan.

baths, the new moones, for the solemne feastes, and for the things that were sanctified, and for the sinne offerings to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the worke of the house of our God.

³⁴ We cast also lottes for the offering of the wood, even the Priestes, the Leuites, and the people to bring it into the house of our God, by the house of our fathers, yeerely at the times appointed, to burne it vpon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the Lawe,

³⁵ And to bring the first fruites of our land, and the first of all the fruits of all trees, yeerely by yere,

¹ Who dwelt in Ierusalem after it was builded, as and who in the city of Iudah.

^And the rulers of the people dwelt in Ieru-salem: the other people also cast lots, ^a to bring one out of ten to dwell in Ierusalem the holy cite, and nine parts ^b to be in the cities.

² And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Ierusalem.

³ These now are the chiefe of the province, that dwelt in Ierusalem, but in the cities of Iudah, euery one dwelt in his owne possession in their cities of Israel, the Priestes, and the Leuites, and the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants.

⁴ And in Ierusalem dwelt certaine of the children of Iudah, and of the children of Benjamin.
Of the sonnes of Iudah, Athaiah, the sonne of V-ziah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Ama-riah, the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Mahaleel, of the sonnes of ^c Perez,

⁵ And Maaseiah the sonne of Baruch, the sonne of Col Hozeh, the sonne of Hazaiiah, the sonne of Adaiiah, the sonne of Iohanan, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of ^d Shiloni.

⁶ All the sonnes of Perez that dwelt at Ieru-salem, were foure hundredth, threescore and eight valiant men.

⁷ These also are the sonnes of Benjamin, Salu, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Ioel, the sonne of Pedaiiah, the sonne of Koliaih, the sonne of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ithiel, the sonne of Ieshaiah.

⁸ And after him Gabai, Sallai, nine hundredth and twentie and eight.

⁹ And Ioel the sonne of Zichri was gouernour ouer them: and Iudah, the sonne of Senuah was the second ouer the cite.

¹⁰ Of the Priestes, Iedaiah, the sonne of Ioia-rib, Iachin,

¹¹ Seraiah, the sonne of Hilkiah, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitub was chiefe of the house of God.

¹² And their brethren ^d that did the worke in the Temple, were eight hundredth, twentie and two: & ^e Adaiiah, the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Pelaiiah, the sonne of Amzi, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Paltur, the sonne of Malchiah:

¹³ And his brethren, chiefe of the fathers two hundredth and two and fourtie: and Amashai the sonne of Azareel, the sonne of Ahazai, the sonne of Meshilmoth, the sonne of Immer:

¹⁴ And their brethren valiant men, an hundredth and eight and twentie: and their ouerseer was Zabdiel the sonne of Haggedolim.

¹⁵ And of the Leuites, Shemaiah, the sonne of Hathub, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Hananiah, the sonne of Bunni.

¹⁶ And Shabbethai, and Iosabad of the chiefe of the Leuites were ouer the ^f gates of the house of God without.

¹⁷ And Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdai, the sonne of ^g was the chiefe to ^h begin the thankesgiuing: and Bak-bukiah the second of his brethren, and Abda the sonne of Shammua, the sonne of ⁱ was the sonne of Ieduthun.

¹⁸ All the Leuites in the house were two hundredth fourescore and foure.

¹⁹ And the porters Akkub, Talmon and their brethren that kept the ^j gates, were an hundredth twentie and two.

²⁰ And the residue of Israel, of the Priestes, and of the Leuites dwelt in all the cities of Iudah, euery one in his inheritance.

²¹ And the Nethinims dwelt in the ^k fortres, Ziha, and Gijza was ouer the Nethinims.

²² And the ouersee-er of the Leuites in Ieru-salem was Uzzi the sonne of Bani, the sonne of Athaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Mi-cha: of the sonnes of Alaph singers were ouer the chorale of the house of God.

²³ For it was the kings commandement concerning them, that faithful prossens should be for the singers euery day.

²⁴ And Pethaiah the sonne of Meshezabeel, of the sonnes of Zerah, the sonne of Iudah, was at the Kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

²⁵ And in the villages in their landes, some of the children of Iudah dwelt in Kirith-arba,

CHAP. XIL

1 The Priests and Levites which came with Zerubbabel unto Jerusalem, are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

These also are the Priests and the Levites that came with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua: to wit, Seraiah, Jeremias, Ezra,

2 Amariah, Malluch, Haruth,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abiah,

5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Ioarib, Iedaiah,

7 Salu, Amok, Hilkiah, Iedaiah: these were the chiefe of the Priests, and of their brethren in the dayes of Ieshua.

8 And the Levites, Ieshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Iudah, Mattaniah: were over the thanksgivings, he, and his brethren.

9 And Bakbukiah and Unni, and their brethren were about them in the watches.

10 And Ieshua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliashib, and Eliashib begate Ioiada.

11 And Ioiada begate Ionathan, and Ionathan begate Iaddua.

12 And in the dayes of Ioiakim were these, the chiefe fathers of the Priests: vnder Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Jeremias, Hananiah,

13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan,

14 Vnder Melicu, Ionathan, vnder Shebaniah, Ioseph,

15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Helkai,

16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnethon, Meshullam,

17 Vnder Abijah, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and vnder Moadiah, Pitrai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shammas, vnder Shemaiah, Iehonathan, 19 Vnder Ioarib, Mattenai, vnder Iedaiah, Vzai,

20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hashabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nehaneel.

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Ionathan and Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles even unto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to give praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of David the man of God, ward & over against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Othadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the three oldes of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim, the sonne of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem to keep the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgivings and with songs, cymbales, viols and with harpes.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselves together both from the plaine country about Jerusalem, and from the villages of Netophath, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreyes of Geba, and Azmuth: for the fingers had built them villages round about Jerusalem.

30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and cleansed the people, & the gates, and the wall.

31 And I brought up the princes of Iudah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremias,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, & Iudah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, even over against them went they up by the flaires of the cite of David, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of David, even unto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second companie of them that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was upon the wall, and upon the towre of the furnaces even unto the broad wall.

39 And upon the gate of Ephraim, and upon the olde gate, & upon the filthgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, even unto the shecpegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies (of them that gave thanks) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maasiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maasiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzai, and Iehohanan, and Malchiah, and Elam,

1 The Law is read. 3 They ſeparate from them all ſtrangers.

Ezra 4. 2.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ieruſalem:
for in the two & thirtieth yeere of ^a Artahſtate
King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and || after certaine dayes I obtained of the King.

7 And when I was come to Ieruſalem, I vn-derſtood the euill that Eliſh^a had done for Tobiah, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the houſe of God.

8 And it grieved me fore: therefore I caſt forth all the veſſels of the houſe of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleaſe the chambers: and thither brought I againe the veſſels of the houſe of God with the meate offering and the incenſe.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euery one was fled to his land, ^e ſee the Leuites and fingers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprooued I the rulers and ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſaken? And I aſſembled them, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treaſures.

13 And I made treaſurers ouer the treaſures, Shelemiah the Priſt, and Zadok the ſcribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanani the ſonne of Zaccur the ſonne of Matta-niah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to diſtribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, hercin, & wipe not out my kindeſſe that I haue ſhewed on the houſe of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In thoſe dayes ſawe I in Iudah them, that trode wine preſſes on the Sabbath, and that brought in theaues, and which laded aſſes alſo with vine grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Ieruſalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I I proteſted to them in the day that they ſolde vitales.

16 There dwelt men of Tyns alſo therein, which brought fiſh and all wares, and ſolde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ieruſalem.

17 Then reprooued I the rulers of Iudah, and ſaid vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers b thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this city? yet yee increaſe the wrath vpon Iſrael, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ieruſalem began to be ſharke before the Sabbath, I commanded to ſhut the gates, and charged that they ſhould not be opened till after the Sabbath, and ſome of my ſeruants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhould no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all mar-chandife remained once or twice all night without Ieruſalem.

21 And I proteſted among them, & ſaid vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you, from that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I ſaid vnto the Leuites, that they ſhould cleaſe theſelues, & that they ſhould come & k keepe the gates, to ſanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

23 In thoſe dayes alſo I ſaw Iewes that married wives of Aſſod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children ſpake haſe in the ſpeech of Aſſod, and could not ſpeake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reprovved them, and curſed them, and ſmote certaine of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye ſhall not giue your daughters vnto their ſonnes, neither ſhall ye take of their daughters vnto your ſonnes, nor for your ſelues.

by theſe things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for he was * beloued of ESTER.

THE ARGUMENT.

BECAUSE of the diversity of names, whereby they used to name their Kings, and the supposition of Byres wherein the Ebrewees, and the Grecians do vary, divers authors write diversly as touching this Ahasuerus: but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1. & 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and some of Assyria, called also Ahasuerus, which was a name of honour, and signified great & chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he ever stirreth up some, by whom he freeth his comfort, and deliverance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at the height: and how God preferreth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and have a care and love toward their brethren.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the Kings word, † that he had giuen in charge to the eunuchs: therefore the king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the king sayd to the wise men, † that knew the times (for so was the kings manner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement: †

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marfana, and Memucan the seven princes of Persia, and Media, which saw the Kings face, and sat the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vashti, according to the law, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahasuerus by the commission of the eunuchs?

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the Princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done a euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahasuerus.

17 For the sake of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, & shall say, The King Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much despightfulness and wrath.

^a After the Queen was put away, certain young maydes are brought to the King. ¹⁷ Ester pleases the King, and is made Queen. ²² Mordecai discovereth unto the King, that she would betray him.

AFTER these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus had appeased, he remembered Valthi, and what she had done, and what was decreed ^b against her.

² And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the King beautifull young virgins,

⁴ And the mayd that shall please the king, let her reigne in the stead of Valthi. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

⁵ ¶ In the cite of Shushan, there was a certaine Jew, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Ieremi,

⁶ Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem * with the captiuitie that was caried away with Ieconiah King of Iudah (whome Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away)

¹¹ And Mordecai walked * euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

¹² And when the course of euery mayd came, to go in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had bene twelve moneths according to the manner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, six moneths with oyle of myrhe, and six moneths with sweet odours, and in the purifying of the women):

¹³ And thus went the maydes vnto the King) whatsoeuer he required, was ^g giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

¹⁴ In the euening he went, and on the morow he returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shasbazz the Kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except he pleased the king, and that she were called by name.

²² And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and he tolde it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found: so therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the ^o Chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III.

^a Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the king, that all the Jewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

AFTER these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seat aboue all the princes that were with him.

² And all the kings seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai ^b bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

³ Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, sayd vnto Mordecai, Why transgressist thou the kings commandment?

⁴ And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they ^c tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Jew.

⁶ Now he ^d thought it too litle to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jewes, that were thorowout the whole kingdome of Ahasuerus, as was the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth e Nisan) in the twelfth yere of King Abasueroh, they call Pur (that is, a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth e Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto King Abasueroh, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the / Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will / pay ten thousand talents of silver by the hands of them that haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the Kings treasure.

10 Then the King tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Iewes aduersarie.

11 And the King said vnto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the Kings / scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaiues that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing therof, & to euery people according to their language: in the name of King Abasueroh was it written, & sealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent / by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Iewes, both yong and old, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them, as a praye.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be given a commandement in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was given in the palace at Shushan: and the King and Haman fare drinking, but the scribe of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

g Mordecai giueth the Queen knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 10. Shee wisheth that they pray for her.

NOWE when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the middes of the cite, and cryed with a great cry, and a biter.

2 And he came euen before the Kings gate, but he might not enter within the Kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 As it was in euery prouince, and place, whither the Kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Iewes, and fasting, and weeping and mourning, and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 Then Efters maides and her eunuches came and tolde her: therefore the Queene was very heauie, and the seruants to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he refused it.

5 Then called Ester Haman one of the Kings eunuches, whom he had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the cite, which was before / Kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the / summe of the silver that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the / copy of the writing and commission that was given at Shushan to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that shee should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 So when Hatach came, hee tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester said vnto Hatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces doe knowe, that whosoever, man or woman, that cometh to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the King holdeth out the golden rodde, that hee may liue. Nowe I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirte dayes.

12 And they crucified Mordecai of Efters wordes.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answer Ester thus, Think not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, / comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answer Mordecai,

16 Goe, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eat not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides will fast likewise, and so will I goe in to the King, which is not according to the law; and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

5 And the King said, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the King and Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and saide, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the King to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morow according to the Kings saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he stood not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheless Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, hee fent, and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him, and how that he had set him above the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Haman said moreover, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banquet that she had prepared, saue me: and to morow am I hidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But all this doth nothing auail me, as long as I see Mordecai the Iew sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubites hie, and to morow we speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the King vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and hee caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth out the Chirivicles, and sheweth the falsitie of Mordecai, so and commendeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

THE same night the King slept not, and hee commanded to bring the booke of the recordes, and the Chronicles: and they were read before the King.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigtana, and Teresh two of the Kings eunuchs, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahastueorsh.

3 Then the King said, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this. And the Kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King said, Who is in the court? (Now Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King said vnto him, What shalbe done vnto the man, whome the King will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome would the King doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whome the King would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the King ofish to weare, and the horse that the King rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head,

9 And let the raiment and the horse be deliuered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the King will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse thorow the streete of the cite, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whome the King will honour.

10 Then the King said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast said, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Iewe, that sitteth at the Kings gates: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horse backe thorow the streete of the cite, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whome the King will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the Kings gate, but Haman halted home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zeresh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him. Then said his wife men, and Zeresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, 4 But shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuchs and halted to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman againe and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 4 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallies, which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banquet with the Queene Ester,

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if we were sold for seruants, and for handmaidens, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduersarie could not recompence the Kings losse.

5 Then King Ahastueorsh answered, and said vnto the Queene Ester, Who is he? and where is he that I presume to doe thus?

6 And Ester said, The aduersarie and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the King and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he saw that there was a mischief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they drinke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed where

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted, 2. Comfortable letters are sent unto the Jews.

The same day did King Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes unto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell down at his feet weeping, & besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuce that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King held out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the King.

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I have found fauour in thy sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuce of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which hee wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kinned?

7 And the King Ahasuerus sayd vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iew, Behold, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon the tree, because hee laid hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write yee also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the thurd month, that is the month of Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Iewes and to the princes, and captaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundredth and fuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: and hee sent letters by postes on horsebacke and that rode on beasts of price, as dromedaries and colts of omars.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to spaire themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to route out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women; and to spoyle their goods:

13 The copie of the writing say, howe there should be a commandement giuen in all & euery prouince, published among all the people, and that the Iewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price, and dromedaries, and went forth with speede, to execute the Kings commandment, and the decrees was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apparell of blewes, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linnen and purple, and the citie of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery citie and place, where the Kings commandment & his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

At the commandment of the King, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death: 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged: 15 The Iewes keep a fast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth of Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the fame, when the Kings commandment and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together into their cities thoroughour all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace, slew the Iewes and destroyed ^a five hundred men.

7 And Parthandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, and Vaicazatha,

9 And Parthandatha, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaicazatha, the ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slew they: but they layd not their hands on the spoyle.

11 On the same day came the number of those

That is, to defend themselves against all that would assault them.

Which hath part of February, and part of March.

The King gave them licence to kill all that did oppose them.

He sheweth by these words that follow, what this light was.

Condemned themselves to the Iewes religion.

This was by Gods great providence, who overrueth the ioy of the wicked into sorrow, and the merriment of the godly into gladness.

Did them honour, and shewed them friendship.

Which had finished their death by the commandment of the wicked Haman.

Besides those three hundred, that they slew the second day, as verse 15.

Whereby they declared that this was Gods iudgement vpon the enemies of his Church, forasmuch as they might not their wayes, but being executed their enemies.

that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King sayd vnto the Queene Elter, The Iewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace and destroyed fise hundred men, & the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or wherein thy request moreouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayd Elter, If it please the King, let it be granted also to morrow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to doe according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundred men in Shushan, but on the spoyle they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, ^h fenetic and fise thousand: but they layd not their hand on the spoyle.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, & rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, & they rested on the fiftenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting & ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled towne, ^k kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, reuer a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote ^l these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahahueroh, both neere and farre,

21 Inioyning them that they should keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fiftenth day of the same, euery yeere,

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorowe to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and ^m to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammolath, the Agagite all the Iewes aduerfarye, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy them, and had ⁿ cast Pur (that is a lot) to confume and destroy them.

25 And when ^o the came before the King, hee commanded by letters, Let his wicked ^p deufie (which hee imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, & because of all the words of this letter, & of that which they had fene besides this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordained, and promised for them and for their feede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not ^q faile to obserue those 9 two dayes euery yeere, according to their writing, and according to their feafon,

28 And that these dayes should be remembered, and kept throughout euery generation and euery familie, and euery prouince, and euery cite: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them should not perish from their feede.

29 And the Queene Elter the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Iew wrote with all ^r authoritye (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time)

30 And hee sent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and feuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahahueroh, with ^s wordes of peace and truth,

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim according to their feafons, as Mordecai the Iew and Elter the Queene had appointed them, & as they had promised for them ^t felues and for their feed with ^u fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Elter confirmed these wordes of Purim, and was written in the booke.

CHAP. X.

The flimuray and authoritie of Mordecai.

And the King Ahahueroh laide a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the fea.

1 And all the ades of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecai, wherewith the king magnified him, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

2 For Mordecai the Iew was the second vnto King Ahahueroh, & great among the Iewes, and ^a accepted among the multitude of his brethren, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his feede.

I O B.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things & in his body, but also in his minde and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement words, and subtil dispositions brought him abhoist to despair: for they set forth God as a seuerer Iudge, and most all enemies vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in want they should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding hee did constantly resist them, & at length had good successe. In this story we haue to marke what Iob maintaineth a good cause, but heendeth it well: againe his aduersaries haue an ill matter, but they end it euilly. For Iob holdeth that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secret iudgements, whereof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but hee should be contented. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiectod him, yet through his great tormments, and affliction hee brasteth forth into many inconueniences both of words and sentences,

^k As the Iewes do open to this day, calling it in the Persian language Purim, that is, the day of lots. ^l The Iewes gather hereof that Mordecai wrote this storie, but it seemeth that he wrote but onely these letters, and decrees that follow.

^m He fetheth before our eyes the remembrance of Gods deliuerance, the maintenance of quall friendship, and reliefe of the poore.

forerunner, and towards himselfe is a desperate man in many things, and so was that would resist God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Against the adversaries maintaineth with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespasses, grounding upon Gods providence, his iustice, and mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they maintaine an euill cause. & (which commendeth Iob as a iust man, Eccl. 14. 14. and James 5. 11.)

C H A P. I.

1 The holiness, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 12 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

Here was a man in the land of Uz, called Iob, and this man was an upright and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And hee had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred shee asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, euery one his day, and sent, & called their three sisters to cate and to drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes have sinned, and I blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob euery day.

6 ¶ Nowe on a day when the children of God came and floode before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, ¶ From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Haft thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe none is like him in the earth? an upright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayde, Doeth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Haft thou not made ¶ an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that hee hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand & touch all that hee hath, to see if hee will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayde vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hath is in thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the sheeps were violently, and rooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and sayde, The fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and sayde, The Caldeans tooke our three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles hee was yet speaking, came another, and sayde, Thy sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great winde from beyond the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayd, ¶ Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken: it is blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

3 And the Lord sayde vnto Satan, Haft thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe none is like him in the earth? an upright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet hee continueth in his vprightnesse, although thou mouest mee against him, to destroy him without cause.

k Because our infirmities cannot comprehend Gods in his maiestie, hee is set forth vnto vs as a King, that our capacities may bee able to vnderstand that which is spoken of him.

l This declareth that although Satan bee an aduersarie to God, yet hee is compelled to obey him, and doe him all homage, without whose permission and appointment hee can doe nothing.

m This question is asked for our infirmities: for God knowe whence hee came. n Heere is declared the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his prey. o Pet. 5. 8. p Hee leaereth thee not for thine owne sake, but for the commodity that hee receiueth by thee.

q Meaning, the place of God, which served Iob as a rampart against all temptations. r This significth, that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that muoeth vs.

And Satan answered the Lord, and sayde Skin for skin, and all that thou hast, I will give for his life.
5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his bones and his flesh, so for if hee will not blas pheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but save his life.

7 So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boyles, from the sole of his foot vnto his crowne.

8 And hee tooke a potsherd to scrape him, and hee fate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his wife vnto him, Dost thou continue yet in thine vprightnesse? m Blaspheme God, and dye.

10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and not receive euill? In all this did not Job sinne with his lips.

11 Nowe when Iobs three friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voices and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they fate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nightes, and none spake a word vnto him: for they sawe, that the griefe was very great.

This is the most grievous temptation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to pervert the them, that they trust in God in vaine. m For death was appointed to because they are rebellion against God. e Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue light of the sunne separate it from the night. f That is, most obscure darknesse, which maketh them

alway of death,
that are in it.

A fterward as Job opened his mouth, and b cured his day.

2 And Job cryed out, and sayd,
3 Let the day perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when I was sayde, There is a man childe conceived.

4 Let that day be darknesse, let not God regard it from above, neither let the light shine vpon it.

5 But let darknesse, and the shadowe of death shaine it: let the cloud remaine vpon it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darknesse possesse that night, let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

Yes, desolate be that night, and let no ioy be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being ready to reuenge their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dimme through darknesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day.

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorrowe from mine eyes.

11 Why dyed I not in the birth, or why died
I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For should I nowe haue ioyen and bene quies, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest.

14 With the Kings & counsellors of the earth, which haue builded themselves & desolated places.

15 Or with the princes that had golde, and haue filled their houses with silver.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vtinelly birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked I haue there ceased from their tyranny, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, and heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not,
they would euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioy for gladnesse, and reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is euill, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing cometh before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I feared, is come vpon mee, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnesse, neither had I rest, yet trouble is come.

CHAP. IIIL.

1 Job reprehended of impietie, 7 an euill counsel, 17 and of the presumption of his owne iustification.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 If wee aslay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but a who can withholde him selfe from speaking?

3 Beholde, thou hast taught many, and hast strengthened the weake hands.

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightnesse of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being

f Which curst the day of their birth, let them lay that cuse it vpon this night.

g Let it be al wayes night, and never let day

h This and that which followeth, declareth that when man giueth place to his passi ons, he is not able to stay off herpe

much heauier to all euill, except God call him

i The vehemen

l That is, by death the crueltie of the tyrants kath ceased.

m All they that

He sheweth that the benefices of God are not com fortable, except the heart be ioy science quieted.

o That feeth not bene to come out of his miserie s, because he de pendeth not on p In my prosper itie I looked for a fall, as it is come nowe to passe. q The feare of troubles that should easen, caused my prosperitie to cease to do me good, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

a Seeing this al was impietie.

b Thon hast com forted others in their afflictions, and canst thou now comfort thy selfe?

c Thus he con
cludeth that Job
was not an hypo
crite, but that he was not truly
giuen.

d Thus he con
cludeth that Job
was not an hypo
crite, but that he was not truly
giuen.

e Thus he con
cludeth that Job
was not an hypo
crite, but that he was not truly
giuen.

d He concludeth that Job was not grieved, seeing that God had heard him so extremely, which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

e They that doe evil, can not but receive euill. f He sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blast of his mouth.

g Though men according to their office doe not punish tyrants (whom he compares to lions, and their children to their whelpes) yet God both is able, and his justice will punish them.

h A thing that I knew not before, was declared vnto me by visions that is, that whosoever thinketh himselfe iust, shall be found a sinner, when he commeth before God.

i In these visions that God sheweth to his creatures, there is ever a certaine feare joynted, that the authority thereof might be had in greater reverence. k When all things were quiet, so when the feare was somewhat allayed, as God appeared to Eliash. King. 19. 12. l He prooeth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie. m If God finde impietie in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay liell to man's charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God.

n They see death continually be looke vpon eyes, and day by day speaking toward them. o No man for all this doth consider it. q That is, because that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

1 Hee willeth Job to consider the example of all them that have liued or doe liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in rising against God as he doeth. b Murmuring against God is affliction: increaseth the paine, and vttereth miserie. c That is, the sinner that hath not the feare of God. d I was not moued with his prosperitie, but knew that God had cured him and his. e Though God sometimes suffer the fathers to punish in this world, yet his indignations will light vpon their wicked children. f By publique indigment they shall be condemned, and none shall pisse them. g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him. h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennes and miserie, but his owne finne. i Which declareth that finne is euill in our corrupt nature: for before finne it was not subject to paine and affliction.

being an innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that are plow iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the vblast of God they perish, and with the breath of his noftrils are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the Lion, and the voyce of the Lionesse, and the teeth of the Lions whelps are broken.

11 The Lion perisheth for lacke of praye, and the Lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to mee secretly, and mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, & dread which made all my bones to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before me, and made the haire of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stood one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in silence heard I a voyce, saying,

17 Shall man be more iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, hee found no stedfastnesse in his seruants, and laid follie vpon his Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moeth?

20 They shall be destroyed from the morning vnto the evening: they perish for euer, & without regarde.

21 Doth not their dignitie goe away with them? doe they not die, and that without a wife doome?

k When all things were quiet, so when the feare was somewhat allayed, as God appeared to Eliash. King. 19. 12. l He prooeth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie. m If God finde impietie in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shall he lay liell to man's charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God. n They see death continually be looke vpon eyes, and day by day speaking toward them. o No man for all this doth consider it. q That is, because that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

C H A P. V.

2. 1. Elihu sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked, & the first of the wicked. 2. Gods power who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth him.

ALL now, if any will answer thee, and to which of the Saints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtlesse anger killeth the foolish, and enuie slayeth the iudic.

3 I haue seene the foolishly well rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation, saying,

4 His children shall be farre from saluation, and they shall be destroyed in the fgate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungrye shall eate vp his haruest: yea, they shall take it from among the thornes, and the thirftie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For misery commeth not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparks flie vpward.

8 Though God sometimes suffer the fathers to punish in this world, yet his indignations will light vpon their wicked children.

9 By publique indigment they shall be condemned, and none shall pisse them.

g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him. h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennes and miserie, but his owne finne. i Which declareth that finne is euill in our corrupt nature: for before finne it was not subject to paine and affliction.

8 But I would inquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which I doeth great things and vnsearchable, and marvellous things without number.

10 He mighthe raine vpon the earth, & powreth water vpon the ffreets, 11 And setteth vp on him them that bee low, that the forswallow may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuities of the craftie: so that their hands cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 He taketh the wife in their craftinesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with darkenesse in the day time, & grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But he sauteh the p poore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shall stop her mouth.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp, he smiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in fixe troubles, and in the seuenth the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death, and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the bea of the earth.

23 For the stones of the ffield shall be in league with thee, and the beafts of the ffield shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grassie of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in y a full age, as a ricke of carme commeth in due season into the burne.

27 Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy sake.

28 When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shall terrore vs. x God shall be lesse thee, for thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended. y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompente it otherwise to their advantage. z VVee haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man subiectureth himselfe for his owne finne.

C H A P. VI.

1 Job answered, that his paine was more grievous then his fault. 2 He willeth death. 3 He complaineth of his friends.

1 Job answered and said,

2 Oh that my griefe were well weighed, and my miseries were layde together in the scale!

3 For it would be now heavier then the sinde of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venom wherof doth drinke vp my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against me.

5 Not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest heauell that the lawfull can haue.

6 My griefe is more grievous then my sinne, and my woundes are more grievous then my guilt.

7 VVhen I declare that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest heauell that the lawfull can haue.

8 To know what there is to be feared without sinne, is to know what there is to be feared with sinne.

9 VVhen I declare that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest heauell that the lawfull can haue.

10 To know what there is to be feared without sinne, is to know what there is to be feared with sinne.

11 VVhen I declare that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest heauell that the lawfull can haue.

12 To know what there is to be feared without sinne, is to know what there is to be feared with sinne.

13 To know what there is to be feared without sinne, is to know what there is to be feared with sinne.

14 I suffered as thou dost, I would like thee to be as thou art. 15 He commendeth Job to himselfe, because hee was a sinner, and God to whom all creatures are subject, and whose workes declare that man is irreparable, except hee glorifie God in all his workes. m He sheweth by particular examples, what the workes of God are.

16 In things plain and euident they inuestigate foolishly in stead of wisdom. o This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as hee stricken, Deut. 32. 9. p That is, hee punisheth himselfe before God.

q He compares the sinner of the wicked to thorns & thistles. r If the wicked be compelled to Gods workes to stoppe their mouths, more they that profess God.

s He offeendeth trouble, after his children are away for sometime, but continually trull in him, but they shall haue a comfortable issue, as in the greater and the last, which is here called the ieuenech.

t Whereas the wicked languish in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce.

u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shall terrore vs. x God shall be lesse thee, for thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended. y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompente it otherwise to their advantage. z VVee haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man subiectureth himselfe for his owne finne.

d Think you that I rise without causing the brute beasts do not complain when they have what they would e Can a man taste delight in that hath no favour? meaning, that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they can not a way with things that are vexatious to the mouth.
f Herein he findeth double, both in withstanding impatience to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

g This is, let me the stronger be, because I come to distrust Gods promises through mine impatience.
h He feareth lest he should be brought to incongruities, if his sorrows should continue.

i Here I not sought to wipe any sorrow as much as was possible [Or, as I desire, or, less, &c.]

k He compares these friends which comfort vs not in miserie, to a brooke, which in summer when we neede water, is drie, in winter is hard frozen, and in the time of raine when we have no neede, overflows with water.

l They that passe thereby to goe into the bare countries of Arabia, thinke to finde water there, so quench their thirst, but they are deceived.

m Thus it is like to this brooke, which deceiveth them, that thinke to have water there in their needes. I looked for consolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which let an necessitie will give part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not give him comfortable words.

o Shew me wherein I have erred, and I will confesse my fault. p Hee that hath a good conscience, doeth not thinke at the charge words or reasonings of others, except they be able to persuade him by reason. q Do you cail at my words, because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in miserie? Consider whether I speake as one that is driven to this impatience through very sorrow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemn me.

r Thus he saith, as if he had said, I am worse then an hireling.

s With not an hired man I have sinned and sinned, then this my conscience torment I am worse then an hireling.

5 Doeth the wilde asse bray when hee hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is vnlawfull, shall it be eaten without fault? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorrows, are my meate.

8 Oh that I might have my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy mee: that he would let his hand goe, and cut me off.

10 Then should I yet have comfort, I though I burne with sorrow, let him not spare: because I have not denied the wordes of the Holy one.

11 What power have I that I should endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in mee no help? and that my strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men have forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 My brethren have deceived me as a brooke, and as the rising of the rivers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with yee, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried vp with heate and are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places.

18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, considered them, and they that goe to Shetha, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely now are ye like vnto it: ye have seene my fearful plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I saide, Bring vnto me? or give a reward to me of your substance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to vnderstand, wherein I have erred.

25 Howstedfast are the wordes of righteousness? and what can any of you iustly reprove?

26 Doe ye imagine to reprove words, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the winde?

27 Yee make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and digge a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me, for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there bee none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousness in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele sorrow?

30 As a servant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

31 So have I had as an inheritance the moments of vanitie, and painefull nights have bene appointed vnto me.

32 If I laye me downe, I saye, When shall I arise? and measuring the cuening I am euen full with toiling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

33 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

34 My dayes are swifter then a weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.

35 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

36 The eye that hath seene mee, shall see mee no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall be no longer.

37 As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come vp no more.

38 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

39 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirite, and muse in the bitterness of my minde.

40 Am I a fable? or a wholsom, that thou keepest me in ward?

41 When I say, My couch shall relieue mee, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 42 Then fastest thou me with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

43 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.

44 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: I spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

45 What is man, that thou dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?

46 And doest visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?

47 How long will it be yet thou depart from me? thou wilt not let mee alone whilst I may swallow my spittle.

48 I haue sinned, what shall I doe vnto thee? O thou preferer of men, why hast thou set mee as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe.

49 And why doest thou not pardon my trespass? and take away mine iniquitie? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

50 Of persuasion with God, that he might stay his hand. n After all remembrance I haue broken forth, and leade Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfetion, that he could bryde himselfe from reasoning with God, because that hee had sinned.

51 That is, I shall be dead.

3 As a servant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

3 So have I had as an inheritance the moments of vanitie, and painefull nights have bene appointed vnto me.

32 If I laye me downe, I saye, When shall I arise? and measuring the cuening I am euen full with toiling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

33 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

50 Of persuasion with God, that he might stay his hand. n After all remembrance I haue broken forth, and leade Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfetion, that he could bryde himselfe from reasoning with God, because that hee had sinned.

51 That is, I shall be dead.

52 My sorrows have continued from month to month, and I haue looked for hope in vain.

53 This signifies that his desire was rare and most horrible.

54 Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuiety of mans life, which passeth without hope of redemption in consolation whereof he desired God to cause compassion on him.

55 I then beheld me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence, I shall no more enjoy this mortal life.

56 Seeing I can by none other means comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefs by wordes, and thus he speaketh as one overcome with griefe of minde.

57 I am not a poore wretch, what needeth that thou to lay fo much paine on me? I so that I can have no rellight now do.

58 He speaketh as one overcome with sorrow, and not of indignation or of the examination of his faith. I seeing my terna of life is so short, let me have fewe rest and ease.

59 Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to content against him? Iob with all his friends.

60 He decribeth that their words which would destroy any thing from the iustice of God, is but as a puffe of a winde that vanishest away.

61 That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning that Iob ought to be rewarded by the example of his children, that hee offend not God.

CHAP. VII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preferreth the good.

2 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, How long wilt thou talke of these things? & how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a mightie winde?

3 Deeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the Almighty subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes have sinned against him, and hee hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie,

5 And they have sinned against him, and hee hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie,

6 And they have sinned against him, and hee hath sent them into the place of their iniquitie, downe, yett shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perih.

14 His confidence also shall cutt off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spyder.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall holde him fast by it, yett shall it not endure.

16 The iust is greene before the sinne, and the branches spread out the garden thereof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folded about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it be dried, saying, I have not sene thee,

19 Beholde, it will reioyce i by this meanes, that it may grow in another molde.

and thy lips with ioy.

and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

11 Beholde, when he taketh a pray, I who can make him to restore it? who shall giue vnto him,
What doest thou?

12 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mightie helpe hee doeth vnder him.

13 How much lesse shall I answer him? or howe should I finde out my wordes with him?

14 For though I were iust, yett could I not an-swere, but I would make supplication to my Iudge.

15 If I cry, and hee will not heare me, yett would I not beleeue, that hee heard my voyce.

16 For he destroyed me with a tempest, and wounded me without cause.

17 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

18 If I speake of strength, beholde, he is strong: if I speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to please?

19 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: if I would be perfite, hee shall iudge me wicked.

20 Though I were perfite, yett I know not my foule: therefore I abhorre I my life.

21 This is one point: therefore I said, He de-stroyeth the perfite and the wicked.

22 If the scourge should suddenly fall, I should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

23 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the Iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

24 My dayes haue bene more swift then a post:
they haue fled, and haue sene no good thing.

25 They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the eagle that flyeth to the pray.

26 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me,

27 Then I am afraid of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

28 If I be wicked, why labor I thus in vaine?

29 If I wash my selfe with snow water, and purge mine handes most cleane,

30 Yett shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make me filthy.

31 For hee is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

32 Neither is there any vmpire that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

33 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me:

34 Then will I speake, and feare him not: but because I am not fo, I holde me still.

35 They that are counted perfite as they are wicked, & to the wicked, I: this is spoken according to our apprehension, as though we would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Chap. 3. why should hee suffer the innocents to be so long remored by them? That they cannot see to doe iustice. That can they the contrary? I thinke not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorowes bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemne me. Why doest not God destroy me at once? thus hee speaketh according to the infinitie of the felix. yf I thought I were neuer to pure in mine owne eyes, yett all by corruption betwixt God. Whatsoever I would do to cure my fault, with God disclose me to much more. Which might make us accorde betweene God and one speaking of impatience, and yett confessing God to be iust in punishing him.

1 I will say vnto God, & Condemne mee not:
shewe me wherefore thou contendest with me.
2 Thinkest thou it is good to oppress me, and to cast off the labour of thine hands, and to fauour the Counsel of the wicked?
3 Hast thou & carnall eyes? or doest thou see as man seeth?
4 Are thy dayes as mans dayes? or thy

5 That thou inquest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?
6 Thou knowest that I cannot doe wickedly:
for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.
7 Thinke & haue made me, and fashioned me wholly round about, and wilt thou destroy me?
8 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?
9 Hast thou not powred mee out as milke?
and turned me to cruels like cheefe?
10 Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and ioyned me together with bones and sinewes.
11 Thou hast giuen me life, and grace: and thy visitation hath preferred my spirit.

21 Into a land, I say, darkes as darkenesse it selfe, and into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

CHAP. XI.

1 Job is comforted of Zophar, 7 God incomprehensible, 14 He is mercifull in the repentant, 18 There is distance betwixt light and darknes.

Then answered Zophar the Naamahite, and said,
1 Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great talker be iustified?
2 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

3 For thou hast sayde, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.
4 But oh that God would speake & open his lippes against thee!
5 That hee might shewe thee the secrets of wisdom, how thou hast deferred double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.
6 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?
7 The heauens are his, what canst thou do? it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou know it?
8 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.
9 If he cut off & shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?
10 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth in-iquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.
11 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man
newe borne is like a wilde asse: i colte.
12 If thou & prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine handes toward him:
13 If in iniquitie be thine hand, put it farre away, & let no wickednes dwell in thy Tabernacle.
14 Then truly shalt thou lye vpon thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.
15 But thou shalt forgoe thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.
16 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and bee as the morning.
17 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, and shalt lie downe safely.
18 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraide: yea, many shall make sure vnto thee.
19 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be row of minde.
20 Renounce thine owne euill works, & see that they offend not God, nor hurt thou shalt charge. 1 He doth what quiers of conscience and successe in all things shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. 2 Lett vs say, k He sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance, 7 Hee declares the might, and power of God, 17 And how hee chargeth the cowards of thames.

Then Job answered, and said,
1 In deede because that ye are the people only, a wisdom must dye with you.
2 But I haue vnderstanding aswell as you, and am not inferior vnto you, yea, who knoweth not such things?
3 I am b as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and hee heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.
4 He that is ready to fall, w as a limpe de-sifted in the opinion of the rich.
5 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safetie, that prouoke God, & whom God hath enriched with his hand.
6 Alke now the beafts, & they shall teach in deede they had, and the other, that in read of vnto consolation, they did deside and dip in their friend in his aduise. c The which neighbour, being a mocker, and a wicked man, sheweth that no man is in Gods fauour, but hee be hath all things that he desireth. d As the rich sheweth a light, so teach that poore ou, so is he despised that felleth from prosperitie to aduersitie. e Iste, to whom God hath brought in with his hand. f Hee declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brute beafts doe dayly teach.

b Hee chargeth Job with this, that hee should say, that the things which hee saies, was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.
c Which is, as to stand in sufficing of thy litle be significth that he will neuer be overcome, whiles
he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must break off the contrarie, and by mans mouth.
d That is, the perfection of God, and if man be able to comprehend the height of the heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the firmament, how can hee answer to the perfection of the Creator?
e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controule
him?
f That is, without vnderstanding to the vnder-standing, nor after, and come of God, and not of nature.
g If thou repent,
pry vnto him.

a Should he persuade by his great talkes, that he is iust?

d He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortal tie but as man in extreme paine when reason is to overcome by affections and torments.

e Herby he declareth that the fear of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die.

f That is releas my paines, and take me to mercie.

g Meaning, vnto
the day of the resurrection when he should be changed and reward.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall freely thy mercies and answer when thou callest me.

bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 4 But man is sicke, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth vp,

12 So man slepeeth and riseth not: for he stall to wake againe; nor be raised from his slepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in § grave, and keepe me secret, vntill thy wrath were past,
and wouldest giue me terme, and I remember me.

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee thou shalt louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou art numbrest my steppes, and doest not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place.

19 As the water breaketh § stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his finnes shall be honourable, neither shall he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree.

22 But while his flesh is vpon him, he shall be sorowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

23 For he knoweth not if his finnes shall be honourable, neither shall he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree.

CHAP. XV.

24 Eliphaz reprehendeth Job, because he is a foolish wisdomer, and purueth to himselfe. 10 He desireth that the earth on the which he walketh, should take away his number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayde,

25 Shall a wife man speake words of the wind, and fill his bellie with the East winde?

26 Shall he dispute with words not comely?
or with talke that is not profitable?

27 Surely thou hast cast off § feare, and refrain-est prayer before God.

28 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen § the tongue of the crafty.

29 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

30 Art thou the first man, that was borne?
and wast thou made before the hills?

31 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and dost thou restraîne wisdomes f to thee?

32 What knowest thou that we know not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

33 With vs are both ancient & very aged men, farre older then thy father.

34 See the consolations of God § final vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

35 Why doest thine heart § take thee away, and what doe thine eyes meane,

36 That thou answerest to God § at thy pleasure, and bringest forth words out of thy mouth?

37 For by God, not by their counsell. 11 Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceits? 12 Job answered, saying,

14 What is man, that he should bee cleane?
and he that is borne of woman, that he should be iust?

15 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnesse in his Saintes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthie, which § drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare mee, and I will declare that which I haue seene.

18 Which wife men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and have not kept it secret:

19 To whome alone the land was § giuen; and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauelleth of childe, and the number § of yeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A founde of feare is in his cares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 He beleueth not to returne out of § dark-nesse: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandreth to and fro for bread where he may § hee knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and § anguish shall make him a fraid: if they shall preuaile against him as a King re-dies to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath covered his face with his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flankes.

28 Though he dwell in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes,

29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the § perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darknesse: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and he shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 He § beleueth not that he errett in vanitie: therefore vanitie shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not be Greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her fowre grape, and shall cut him off, as the olive doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of § bribes.

35 For they § conceale mischiefe and bring forth vanitie, and their bellie hath prepared deceit.

36 neuer come to perfection. 10 He standeth in his owne conceits, that heuen give no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shall bring him to destruction. 11 As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. 12 Which are built or maintained by pawning and libertie. 13 And therefore all their vanities shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Job reprooeth the inconstancie of his friends, 9 Counteth in what extremities he is, 10 And taketh God to witness of his owne innocencie.

Job answered, and said,
2 I haue often times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none end of this? 4 I haue heard, and am affraid: I haue seene, and am dreadfull.

Chap. xviii.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd, Why wilt thou make an end of thy words? cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?

Thou art as one, that teareth his soule in his anger. Shall the earth be forsaken for thy sake? or the rock remoued out of his place?

Yea, the light of the wicked shalbe quenched, and the spake of his fire shal not shine.

The light shalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle shalbe put out with him.

The steps of his strength shalbe restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

For he is taken in the net by his feet, and he walketh vpon the snares.

The greene shall take him by the heele, and the thiefe shall come vpon him.

A snare is layed for him in the ground, and a trappe for him in the way.

Fearfulness shall make him afraid on eue-ry side, and shall drine him to his feet.

His strength shall be as famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.

He shall deuoure the inner partes of his skinned, and the first borne of death shal deuoure his strength.

His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to go to the king of feare.

Fears shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

His roots shal be dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.

His remembrance shall perill from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the street.

a Which come

c That is, like a mad man.

d Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with these otherwise then hee dealt with all men?

e Whence the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God change his state,

ordinarie working for their sinnes.

ger.

sumed by famine.

strong and violent death shall consume his strength,

word signifieth, his members or parts.

i That is, with small great feare.

m Has shall fall from prosperity to adversity.

a When they shall see what same vnto him.

18 They shall drue him out of the light vnto darknesse, and chase him out of the world.
19 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
20 The posteritie shall be astonied at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.
21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

a Job representeth his friends, 15 and reciteth his miseries and grievous paines, 25 Hee affirmeth himselfe of the general resurrection.

a That is, many times, Heb 4. 1.
b That is, I my selfe shall be punished for it, or you haue not yet coforted it, c He breatheth out againe in o his passions, & declineth himselfe in affliction, d Meaning out of his afflictions, e Meaning his children, and whosoever was deere vnto him in this world, f Which is pluckt vp, & hath no more hope to growe, g His manifold afflictions, h Mine bondholde strengthe at the lesse Iob the lesse that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be moued, i Which were heere and mine, k Besides these great losses & most grieuous vnto him, he was toucht in his owne person or followeth, l All my flesh was confounde, m Seeing I haue there yet cause to complaine, n Confound me not as a hypocrite, specially you which should cofort me, o It is not enough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increaseth my sorrow, p To fix my bodie punished, except ye trouble my minde, q He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions his religion is perfect, and that he is not abashed, as they judged him, r I doe not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I know that I shall venge before the great Iudge, who shall see my deliuerer and Saviour,

B^{Vt} Iob answered, and sayd,
2 How long will ye vex my soule, and torment me with words?

3 Ye haue now a ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had in deed erred, mine error b remaineth with me.

5 But in deed, if ye will aduance your felices against me, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Know now, that God hath c ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I crye out of violence, but I haue none answer: I crye, but there is no iudgement.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that I can not d passe, and he hath fet darknesse in my paths.

9 He hath spoyled mee of mine honour, and taken the c crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, & I am gone: & he hath remoued mine hope like a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His s armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath remoued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 A they that dwell in mine house, and my maydes tooke mee for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruants, but hee would not answer, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine i owne bodie.

18 The wicked also despised me, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred me, and they whom I loued, are turned against me.

20 My bone k cleaueth to my skinned and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the l skinne of my teeth.

21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue m pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why do ye persecute me, as a God i and are not satisfied with my a flesh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with an yron pen in lead, or in stone for euer!

25 For I am sure that my Redeemer liueth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this body, yet shall I see God: in my flesh.

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me, though my reintes are consumed within me.

28 But ye say, Why is he persecuted? And there was a f deepe matter in me.

29 Be ye afraide of the sword: for the sword will bee t augmented of wickednesse, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, & so to be an example for others, & God will be reuenged of this hasty iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the carnall shall haue a short end, 22 Zophar for a time they flourish.

T^{Hen} answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,

1 Doublelesse my thoughtes cause mee to answer, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard a the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding caught me to answer.

4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth,

5 That the reioicing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though b his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the clouds,

7 Yet shall he perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall flee away as a dreame, & they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night,

9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall do so no more, & his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall c flatter the poore, and his hands shall d restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the f sinne of his youth, and e it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednesse f was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth,

14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of aspes was in the middes of him, 15 He hath deuoured substance, and bee shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his bellie.

16 He shall sucke the g gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall fly him.

17 He shall not see the r riuers, nor the floods and freames of honie and butter.

18 He shall restore the labour, and shall deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shall be his exchange; & he shall enioy it no more.

19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoyled houses which he builded not.

20 Surely he shall seele no quietnes in his body, neither shall he reuerse of that which he desired:

21 There shall none of his k meate be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

22 When hee shall be filled with his abundance, hee shall be in paine, and the hand i of all the wicked shall affaile him.

and therefore God did plague him in this for the time, & though God giue all to the abundance of his blessings yet he shall haue no part thereof, i That is, that rauenness and spoylers of the poore, shall enioy their theft but for a time: for that God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution: so that it shall be no exchange, k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie, l The wicked shall not be in rest; for one wicked man shall desire to destroy another, e Herin Iob declareth plainly that he had a full hope that he should seele and body should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection, f Though his friends thought that he was but a wicked man, he was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, & so to be an example for others, & God will be reuenged of this hasty iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

a He declareth that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him, b His purpose is to prouoke Iob to be a wicked man, and an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his profession into aduersitie,

c Whereas the b other through ambition and gyna oppressed the poore, the child through parents and misters shall seele sinne in the poore, d So that the thing which he hath in his away by violence shall be restored againe by force, e Meaning that he shall say nothing away with him, but his sinne, f As profane that is sweet in y mouth bringeth destruction, when it cometh into the bodie: so all vice in the flesh is plucking but strength God receiue it to destruction,

g He compareth cruel greedie greed to the venom of aspes, which is most dangerous: noting that Iob's greediness was truly come by, and therefore God did plague him in this for the time, & though God giue all to the abundance of his blessings yet he shall haue no part thereof, i That is, that rauenness and spoylers of the poore, shall enioy their theft but for a time: for that God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution: so that it shall be no exchange, k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie, l The wicked shall not be in rest; for one wicked man shall desire to destroy another, m Hee shall seele no quietnes in his body, neither shall he reuerse of that which he desired: 21 There shall none of his k meate be left: therefore none shall hope for his goods.

Some reade vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a scab.
Some reade, of the quier.
All leaue & forgoe that light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.
That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.
Meaning, y^e children of the wicked shall flow away like waters, & be disper-ces.

Thus God will plague y^e wicked.
Against God, thinking to excuse him-

Gods hand.

23 He shall be about to fill his belly, but God shall send vpon him his fierce wrath, and shall cause to raine vpon him, vpon his meat.
24 He shall flee from the yron weapons, and the bowe of Steele shall strike him thorow.
25 The arrow is drawn out, and cometh forth of the body, and shinneth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him.
26 All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not blown, shall deure him, and that which remained in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed.
27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall rise vp against him.
28 The increase of his house shall go away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that he shall haue of God, for his f words.

CHAP. XXII.

7 Job declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, & inuoluntarily they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand, & Next ought to be taught wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

But Iob answered, and sayd,
2 Hear diligently my words, and this shall be in stead of your consolations.
3 Suffer me, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I drech my talke to man? If it be so, how should not my spirit be troubled?
5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraide, and feare taketh holde on my flesh.

7 Wherefore do the wicked liue, and vnaue olde, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seed is established in their fight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth their children like sheepe, and their fennes dance.

12 They take the tabret & harpe, and reioyce in the found of the organs.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly they go downe to the graue.

14 They say alfo vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should feare him? and what profit should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Loc, their wealth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out, and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God will lay vpon the sonow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.

20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he sheweth his aduersities, that if they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that haue God, are better dealt withall, than they that haue him. It is not their owne, but God only lendeth it vnto them. I God haue me from their prosperitie. 4 When God recompenseth his wickednesse, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vaine.

shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any teach I God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One ^{is} dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marrow.

25 And another ^{is} dieth in the bitterness of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Beholde, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the princes house? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 May ye not aske them that go by the way? and ye cannot denie their signs.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The slime valley shall be sweet vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort ye me in vaine, seeing in your answers there remaine but lies?

35 For ye say, yet death is taken, that God will bring him to an account. He shall be glad to lie in a slime pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace. I saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie and the wicked aduersitie.

CHAP. XXIII.

8 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes, & His accusations of vnmmercifullnesse, & 12 and that he desired Gods praesence, & He exhorteth him to repentance.

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise may be profitable to himselfe?

3 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare of thee that he will accuse thee? or go with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for mortgage, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were wearie, thou hast giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authority, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore shames are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee.

11 Or darknesse that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not God on his iue in the heauen? and behold the height of the stars how high they are.

13 But thou sayest, How should God know? can he iudge thorow the dark cloud?

14 Who hath hid his counsel from the Almighty, that he should not see the things that were done in this world?

15 Who hath despised his counsell, that he should not see the things that were done in this world?

16 Who hath hid his counsel from the Almighty, that he should not see the things that were done in this world?

17 Who hath despised his counsell, that he should not see the things that were done in this world?

18 Who hath hid his counsel from the Almighty, that he should not see the things that were done in this world?

1 Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie and punisheth the godly.
2 Meaning, the wicked.
3 To wit, the godly.
4 As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgement.
5 Thus they called Iob soule in derision, concluding that he was destroyed because he was wicked.
6 Which through long travelling haue experienced and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked doe prosper, and the godly liue in affliction.

k How God hath punished them from the beginning?

l He prostrate Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, m whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.

n He answereth to that, which Job had said, Chap. xii.

o That the wicked have prospered in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like.

p The influence of the wicked for two causes: first, because God turneth himself indge of the world, and by this means continueth his honour and glorie:

q secondly because God sheweth that he hath care over his in that he punisheth their enemies.

r That is, the state and preservation of the godly is hid under Gods wings.

s Meaning of the wicked.

t He exhorts Job to repentance and to reuerence God.

u God will restore unto thee all thy substance. v Which shall be in abundance like dust.

w That is, the favour of God. x God will deliver his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. y God will deliver a whole country from perill, even for the just mans sake.

z We sheweth the just cause of his complaining, and touching that Eliphaz had exhorred him to reuerence to God, Chap. xii. he declareth that he desireth nothing more but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

a Vnto his absolute power, and saying, Because I am God, I may do what I will.

b Of his mercie he would give him power to answer him.

c When hee of his mercie hath given strength to maintain their cause.

d Meaning, that they consider Gods justice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what God hath purposed: he curseth himself.

14 The clouds hide him that he cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heaven.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men have walked?

16 V which were cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a ruier that overflowed:

17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and aske what the Almighty could do for them:

18 Yet hee filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, & the innocent shall laugh the to scorn.

20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of it them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay vp thy words in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp: & thou shalt put iniquity farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the fumes of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almighty shall thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shall deliuer the vylard, & it shall be preferred by the purenesse of thine hands.

31 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and seruence of the Iudge, so that he is not punished only for his faults.

32 We sheweth the just cause of his complaining, and touching that Eliphaz had exhorred him to reuerence to God, Chap. xii. he declareth that he desireth nothing more but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

33 Vnto his absolute power, and saying, Because I am God, I may do what I will.

34 Of his mercie he would give him power to answer him.

35 When hee of his mercie hath given strength to maintain their cause.

36 Meaning, that they consider Gods justice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what God hath purposed: he curseth himself.

10 But he knoweth my way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the golde.

11 My foot hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, & I haue observed the words of his mouth more then mine appointed food.

13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, he doth what his minde desireth.

14 For he will performe that which is decreed of me, and I many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.

16 For God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in darkness, but he hath hid the darkness from my face.

18 I appointed him to a good end: I see many points man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without lease. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth come end, as either he knoweth the cause.

19 Job describeth the wickednesse of others, and sheweth what cause belongeth to the wicked, as how all things are governed by Gods providence, and the destruction of the wicked.

20 How should not the times be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his dayes?

21 Some remove the land marks, that rob the flocks and feed thereof.

22 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse: and take the widows oxe to pledge.

23 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.

24 Beholde, others are wilde asses in the wilderness, goe forth to their businesse, and arise early for a pray: the wildenesse gaue him and his children food.

25 They reape his promise in the field, but they gather the late s vintage of the wicked.

26 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.

27 They are wet with the shewes of the mountaines, & they imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

28 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.

29 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaming from the hungry.

30 They that make oyle between their wallies, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.

31 Men cry out of the city, and the foules of the flaine cry out: yet God doth not charge them with folly.

32 These are they that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

33 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore & the needy: & in night he is as a thief.

34 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye shall see me, and disfigureth his face.

35 They digge thorow houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day:

36 In their places, which are appointed for the poore: meaning that the labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger. m For the great oppression and extortion. n One out and call for vengeance. o God doth not condemn the wicked, but fermeth to passe over by his long patience. p That is, Gods word becometh they are reprobated thereby. q By their particular vices, & the licentiousness, he would proue that God punisheth not the wicked and rewardeth the iust.

10 Job hath this preminence about me: that he knoweth my way to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his works: but of the wicked there is a confidence, & God setteth him for his profit.

11 His word is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the body is sustained.

12 Job confesseth that at this present hee felt not Gods favour, & yet was assured that he had appointed him to a good end: I see many points man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements.

13 That I should not be without lease. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth come end, as either he knoweth the cause.

14 Job describeth the wickednesse of others, and sheweth what cause belongeth to the wicked, as how all things are governed by Gods providence, and the destruction of the wicked.

15 How should not the times be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his dayes?

16 Some remove the land marks, that rob the flocks and feed thereof.

17 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse: and take the widows oxe to plledge.

18 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.

19 Beholde, others are wilde asses in the wilderness, goe forth to their businesse, and arise early for a pray: the wildenesse gaue him and his children food.

20 They reape his promise in the field, but they gather the late s vintage of the wicked.

25 They that make oyle between their wallies, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.

26 Men cry out of the city, and the foules of the flaine cry out: yet God doth not charge them with folly.

27 These are they that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

28 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore & the needy: & in night he is as a thief.

29 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye shall see me, and disfigureth his face.

30 They digge thorow houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day:

He fleeth to the waters for his refuge.

They think that all the world is bent against them, and dare not goe by the way.

As the dry ground is neuer full of waters, so will they neuer cease from sinning, till they come to the grave.

A Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their end shall be most vile destruction, and in this point Job cometh to himselfe and therewith his confidence.

He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pite others.

He declareth that after that the wicked have destroyed the weak, they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore they are justly punished by Gods iudgements.

That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can give a perfect reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprobated.

they know not the light.

But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the shadow of death.

He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shall be cursed in the earth: hee will not behold the way of the vineyards.

As the drie ground and hence consume the snow waters, so shall the graine forget the fanners.

The pitfull man shall forget him: the worme shall feede his sweetnes: hee shall be no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

He doth euil intreat the barren, that doth not beare, neither doeth he good to the widow.

He draweth also the 7 mightie by his power, and when hee riseth vp, none is sure of life.

Though men giue him assurance to bee in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought lowe as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the toppe of an ear of corne.

But if it be not so, where is hee or who will proue me a liar, and make my words of no value? they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore they are justly punished by Gods iudgements.

That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can give a perfect reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprobated.

CHAP. XXV.

Will proueth that no man can choose nor without sinne before God.

A His purpose is to proue that altho God reue and with the iust, yet some after hee send prosperitie, & because he did not shew to Job he concludeth that he is wicked.

Who can hide him from his presence?

That is, he is in the sight of God?

If God show his power, the moone and starres cannot bave that light, which is given them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, 1 Power and feare a wish him, that maketh peace in his iust places.

Is there any nume in his armies? and vpon whom b hee all not his light arise?

And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can hee cleane yf is one of a woman?

Behold, he will giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vncleane in his light.

Howe much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

Howe much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Job sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his owne senses.

A Thome endeth nothing, for neither thou helpest me, which am distressed, into all helpe, neither yet speakest sufficient.

By Gods helpe who hath no neede of thy defence.

But thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

That is, thou dost not apply it to thee.

But Job answered, and said, 1 Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? faulteth thou the arme that hath no strength?

Whome counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou shewest right well as the things is.

To whom dost thou declare shewes words? or whose spirit cometh out of thee?

The dead things are formed vnder the waters, and I reere vnto them.

The graine is naked before him, and there is no couering for destruction.

He stretcheth out the North, and throweth the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

Hee bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloudes doe not broken vnder them.

Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne:

Hee sitteth in the ierme places of the earth.

That is, hee sitteth in the ierme places of the earth.

That is, hee sitteth in the ierme places of the earth.

That is, hee sitteth in the ierme places of the earth.

And spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

He hath set bounds about the waters, vntill the 1 day and night come to an end.

The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding hee fineth the pike thereof.

His Spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked 1 serpent.

Loe, these are part of his wayes: but how little a portion heere we of him? and who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

Which is a figure of floues fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. In these few things, which we see daily with our eyes declare his great power and preuidence, how much more would they appeare, if a warre able to comprehend all his wayes?

CHAP. XXVII.

The confidence and performance of Job, 12 The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Job proceeded and continued his comparable saying,

The liuing God hath taken away my iudgement: for the Almightye hath put my soule in bitterness.

Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

I will keepe my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprocure me of my e dayes.

Mine enemye shall be as the wicked, and hee that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

For where I hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

Will God heare his cry, when trouble cometh vpon him?

Will he see his delight on the Almightye? will he call vpon God at all times?

I will teach you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almightye.

Behold, all yee your feloes haue scene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanitie?

This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almightye.

If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widows shall all weepe.

Though hee should heape vp silver as the dust, and I prepare payment as the clay,

He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuise the slander.

The buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gatherd to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carry him away by night.

The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: & it shall raine him out of his place,

And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though he would faine see out of his hand.

That is, hee shall see out of his hand.

23 Every man shall clap their hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXV.

Job sheweth that the wisdom of God is不可测度.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attain in this world to divers secrets of nature, but man is never able to comprehend the wisdom of God. b There is nothing but it is compassed within certain limits, and hath an end, but Gods wisdom, c Measuring him that dwelleth thereby, d Which a man cannot wade thorow. e That is, come, and vnderstand at brimstone or coale, which easily concealeth fire. f He alludeth to the mines and fountains of nature, which are vnder the earth, whereinto utter foules nor beastes can come. g After that hee hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power. h Though Gods power and wisdom may be vnderstood in earth by things, yet his heavenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto. i It is too late a thing for vs to attaine vnto in this world. k It can neither be bought for gold nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God. l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone. m Meaning, that there is no natural means whereby man might attaine to the heavenly wisdom: which he meane by the foules that flye him. n He maketh God onely the author of this wisdom, and the giver thereof. o Psalme 117. p He declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdom, as he knoweth by feeling God, and departing from him.

1 He siluer surely hath his vein,^a and the gold his place, where they take it.
2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is moken out of the stone.
3 God putteth an end to darknesse,^b and hee tryeth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bond of darknesse, and of the shadowe of death.
4 The flood breaketh out against the c inhabitant, and the waters d forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.
5 Out of the same earth cometh e bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.
6 The stones thereof are a place f of sapphires, and the dust of it is gold.
7 There is a path which no foule hath known, neither hath the kites eye seen it.
8 The Lyons whelpes haue not walked it, nor the lyon passed thereby.
9 He putteth his hand vpon the g rockes, and overthroweth the mountains by the rootes.
10 Hee breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.
11 Hee bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe, and the thing that is hid, bringeth hee to light.
12 But where is wisdom found? h and where is the place of vnderstanding?
13 Man knoweth not: is the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.
14 The depth saith, It is not in mee: the sea also saith, It is not with me.
15 i Golde shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.
16 It shall not bee valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious Onix, nor the Saphire.
17 The gold nor the Chrysolall shall be equall vnto it, nor the exchange j salbe for plate of fine golde.
18 No mention shalbe made of corall, nor of the I gabish: for wisdom is more precious then pearls.
19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.
20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding?
21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the k soules of the heauen.
22 Definition and death say, We haue heard the same thereof with our eares.
23 l But God vnderstandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
24 For he beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen.
25 To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.
26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.
28 And vnto man he said, Behold, m the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Job complaineth of the prosperitie of the same part, 7. at his auertise, 11. justice and equitie.

S O Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,
2 Oh that I were as n in times past, when God preferred me!
3 When his a light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorow the darknesses,
4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when Gods providence was b vpon my tongue:
5 When the almightie was yet with me, and my children round about me:
6 When I washed my pathes c with butter, and when the rocke powred mee out riuers of oyle:
7 When I went out to the gate, d even to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.
8 The young men saw me, and e hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood vp.
9 The princes stayed talke, and layde their hand on their f mouth.
10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the roote of their mouth.
11 And when the g ear heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witness to h me.
12 For I deliuered the i poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.
13 k The blessing of him that was ready to perishe, came vpon mee, and I caused the wilowes heart to reioyce.
14 I put l off iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.
15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.
16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.
17 I brake also the iawes of the vnrighteous man, and plucked the praye out of his teeth.
18 Then I said, I shall die in my m nest, and I shall multiply n my dayes as the sand.
19 For my roote is o spread out by the water, and the dew shall lie vpon my branch.
20 My glorie shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.
21 Vnto me men gaue care, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.
22 After my wordes they replied not, and my talke dropped vpon them.
23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth p as for the latter raine.
24 q If I laughed on them, they belauced it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fail.
25 I appointed out r their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Job complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11. 21 because of his auertise and affliction, 23 Death is the banke of all life.

B U T now they that are: yonger then I, a mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the b dogges of my flockes.
11 c men were glad to do me reuerence, the young men now contemne me, b Meane to be my shepherds, or to keepe my dogges.

f Job moueth before.
g When I felt his fauour.
h I was free from affliction.
i That is, seemed by euident tokens to be more present with me.
j By these familiars he doth desire the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that hee had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him, e Being assured of their lightnesse and afraid of my grauitie.
k Acknowledging my wisdom.
l All that heard me praised me.
m Testifying that I did good alittle.
n Because his aduersaries did to much chafe him with wickedness, he is compelled to render account of his life.
o That is, did succome him that was in distress, so he had cause to praise me.
p I desired to do iustice, as others did to wear out by apparel.
q That is, as some in my bed, without all trouble and inquietude.
r My felicitie doeth increase.
s That it was pleasant vnto them.
t As the drie ground thirsteth for the raine.
u That is, they thought it scarce to be with, or they thought not that I would contemne vnto them.
v They were afraid to offend me, and cause me to be angry.
w I had them to commandment.

a That is their interit died for famine before they came to age.

b For malice.
c Iob sheweth
there that mocked him in his afflictio:
were like to their fathers, wicked, & lewd fellows, such as he here describeth.

e They make songs of me, and mocke at my miserie.

f God hath taken from me the force,
erect, & aueraine, wherewith I kept
shil in sobrietas.
g He said that the young men when they saw him, hid themselves, as Cha.
29. 8. and now in his miserie they were in-pudent and licentious.

h That is they forgot by all means how they might destroy me.
i They neede none to helpe them.
k By my calamitie
they took an occasion against me.
l My life is as ashes, and I as bale deat.

m Meaning, so-uerie.
n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.
o He speaketh
not thus to accuse
God, but to declare the vehemencie of his afflictio, whereby he was carried before him felice.

p He compareth his afflictions to a tempest or whirlewind.

q None can deliver mee thence though they lament at my death.

r In stead of comforting they mocke
ed at me.
s Not delicting in my worldly thing, not so much, as in the vile of the funne.

t Lamenting them that were in afflic-tion, & mouing others to pitee, &c. u I am like the wilde beastes that desire meel solitary places.
v With the beate of affliction.

2 For whereto shoulde the strength of their haues haue serued mee, seeing age perished in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitary, fleeing into the wilderness, which was darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp the nettles by the bushes, & the juniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were chafed forth from among men:
they shouted at them, as at a theefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of rivers, in the holes of the earth and rockes,

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistles they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their a song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from mee, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my a corde and humbled me, & they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pulst my feete, and haue trode on me as on the b paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none i helpe.

14 They came as a great brach of waters, and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes,

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is now i powdered out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 It perceareth my bones in the night, and my finewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as the color of my coate.

19 As He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 Whē I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me, neither regardest me, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe o cruelly against me, and art enemy vnto mee with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest mee to ride vpon the pwinde, & makest my i strength to faile.

23 Surely I knowe that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtes none can stretch his hand vnto
the graue, though they cry in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heavinesse for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, & euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenesse.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without funne: I stood vp in the congregation and cried.

29 I am a brother to the a dragons, & a companion to the ostriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, & my bones are burnt with a heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

C H A P. XXXI.

1 Iob reuolth the innocen-c in his language, for number of his ver-ties, which declares what ought to be the life of the just.

I should I thinke on a mayde?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboute? and what inheritance of the Almightie on his?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not hee beholde my wayes and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haste to deceipt,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know mine d vprightnes.

7 If my steppes hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath e walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine handes,

8 Let me fowe, & let another e cate: yea, let my plantes be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue layde wayte at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife g grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure h to destruction, & which shall roote out al mine increase.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my mayde, when they i did contend with me,

14 What then shall I do when k God standeth vp? when hee shall visit me, what shall I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made l him? hath he not bealone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haued caught the eyes of the widow to faile,

17 Of haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath grownen vp with me n as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue feared any perill for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loynes haue not blessed me, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift o vp mine hande against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate,

22 Let mine p arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was fearefull vnto me,
& I could not be deliuered from his highnes.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue layde to the wedge of golde, Then art my confidence,

25 If I reioiced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did beholde the r sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightness,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secrete, or if my mouth did kisse mine s hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God t above)

29 If I reioiced at his destruction that haued destroyed me,

1 I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.
2 Would not God
there haue punished me?

c Iob declareth

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.
33 If I haue hid * my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosome, 34 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept * silence, and went not out of the doore.
35 Oh that I had some to heare me! beholde me a signe that the Almighty will witnesse for me: though mine aduersarie should write a booke against me,
36 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, and binde it as a crowne vnto me?
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a prince.
38 If my lande * crye against me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together, siluer: or if I haue grieved * the soules of the masters thereof,

cockle in the stead of barley.
THESE WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.
C H A P. XXXII.
u Elihu reprehenseth them of faulte. b Age mighth not a mans wise, but the spirit of God.
S O these three men ceased to answer Iob, because he esteemed himself iust.
1 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Ba-rachel the * Buzite, of the familie of * Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because he iustified himselfe * more then God.
2 Also his anger was kindled against his three friendes, because they could not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.
3 (Nowe Elihu had wayted til Iob had spoken: for d they were more ancient in yeeres then he)
4 So when Elihu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.
5 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel, the the Buzite answered, & sayd, I am young in yeeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to shewe you mine opinion.
6 For I said, The dayes * shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wisdom.
7 Surely there is a spirite in man, * but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstand-ing.
8 Great men are not alway iust, neither doe
the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.
9 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion.
10 Behold, I did waite vpon your wordes, and hewkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out * reasons.
11 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprobued Iob, nor answered his wordes:

12 Left ye should say, We haue * found wis-dome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.
13 Yet hath i he not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answer * him by your wordes.
14 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talke.
15 When I had wayted (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more) 16 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.
17 For I am full of * matter, and the spirit which in me compelleth me.
18 Beholde, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that brast.
19 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lippes, and will answer.
20 I will not now accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.
21 For I may not giue * titles, lest my Maker should take me away suddenly.
C H A P. XXXIII.
u Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. b He sheweth that God hath directi vnto him to instruct man and to draw him from sin. 19 He affirms man and suddenly delivereth him.
20 Hee being deliuered giueth thanks to God.
W Herefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke and hearken vnto all my wordes.
1 Beholde nowe, I haue opened my mouth:
my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.
2 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, & my lippes shall speake pure knowledge.
3 The * Spirit of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.
4 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe and stand before me.
5 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in b Gods stead: I am also formed of the clay.
6 Beholde, my temour shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand * be heauie vpon thee.
7 Doubtles thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:
8 I am d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.
9 Lo, hee hath found occasions against mee, and counted me for his enemy.
10 He hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.
11 Beholde, in this hast thou not done right:
I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.
12 Why dost thou strue against him? for he doeth not * giue account of all his matters.
13 For God speaketh f once or twise, and one seeth it not.
14 In dreames & visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, and they sleepe vpon their beds,
15 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which he * had sealed, 16 That hee might cause man to turne away from his enterprise, and that hee might hide the pride of man, 17 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life should not passe by the sword.
18 He is also stricken with sorrow vpon his bed, the cause of his iudgements, as by afflictions, or by his messenger. b Thats determined to send vpon them. I He sheweth for what end God sendeth afflictions: to beate downe mans pride, and to turne him from euill.

and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

12 So his foule draweth to the graue, and his man his right conscience,

14 Then will he haue mercie vpon him, and and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.

uourable vnto him, and hee shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteousness.

17 Hee looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and persecuted righteousness, and it did not profite me,

CHAP. XXXIII.

g Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called himselfe righteous. 12 He saith that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mighty. 30. By none the hypocrites reioyce.

17 Occure Elihu answered, and sayde,

2 Hearre my wordes, ye wife men, and hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare yeareth the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath sayd, I am righteous, & God hath taken away my iudgement.

6 Should I lye in my right? my wound of the arrowe is grievous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh scorn-fullnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath sayde, It profiteth a man nothing that he should walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, ye men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not doe wickedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whome hath he appointed ouer the earth beside himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit: and his breath,

15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust,

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this and hearken to the voyce of wordes.

17 Shall he that hateth iudgement, be counted and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou lay vnto a King, Thou art wicked?
or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, & regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his handes.

20 They shall die suddenly, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mighty without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkness nor shadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For hee will not lay on man so much, that he should cry enter into iudgement with God.

24 He shall breake the mighty without reeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall he declare their workes: he shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the fiers.

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the y hypocrite doeth reigne, and because the people are feared.

31 Surely it is appointed vnto God to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not, teach thou mee: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Will he performe the thing through b thee?
for thou hast reproved me, because that thou hast chosen, and not I now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge: neither were his wordes according to wisdom.

36 I desired that Iob may be tryed, vnto the ende touching the answers for wicked men.

37 For hee addeth rebellion vnto his sinne:
he clappeth his handes among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

c Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chuse and refuse fiction at his pleasure. d That he may speake as he can, that we may understand him and all the wicked that shall vs such arguments. e He standeth libbarnely in the maintenance of his cause.

CHAP. XXXV.

8 Neither darth goddinesse profite, or vngodnesse hurt God, Iob saith. 13 The wicked cry vnto God and are not heard.

17 Elihu speake moreover, and sayd,

3 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayd, I am more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast sayd, What profiteth it thee and what auaileth it me, to purge me fro my sinne?

as though hee would say, that God tormenteth him without iust cause.

4 Therefore

k To destroy him,

then much more ought they to be atrayed to speake euill

p The messengers of iustice that God shall send.

q God doeth not allice men about measures, so that he should haue occasion to contemne with him.

r For all his creatures are at hande to serue him: so that he needeth not to seek for any other army.

s Make the manifest that they are wicked.

t Declare the thing that were hid.

u Meaning, openly in the sight of all men.

v By their cruelty and extortion.

w When tyrants sit in the throne of iustice which vnder pretence of exercising iustice are but hypocrites and oppress the people, it is a figure that God hath shewed vs
backe his condescension and fauour from that place.

x Only it belongeth to God to moderate his correction, and not vnto man.

y Thus Elihu speecheth in the person of God, as it were as though Iob became his would be wicker then God.

z Will God vs
thy cause sell in doing his wordes?

a Iob saith spoke thee wherein thou couldst be mislead-ed by his innocence, it seemed iust cause.

b Therefore

b Such as are in the like: rous.

c If thou canst not control the clouds, wilt thou presume to instruct God?
d Neither doth thy fire hurt
God, nor thy injustice afflict him:
for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt man and exalt him to cry,
who if he fought to God, which suffereth comfort, should be delin-eud.

f Because they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

g God is iust,
he focuses thou judgment of him.
h For if he did punish thee as thou deservest, shouldest not be able to open thy mouth.

a He sheweth that when we speak of God, we must lift up our spirits more high, than our natural state is able to teach.

b Thus hath perceived that I am a fleshful infirm.
c And that I speak to thee in the name of God.

e Strong and constant, and of vnder-standing: for these are the gifts of God, and he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God
punisheth now Job,

it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore he will not persecute the wicked: but so the humble and afflicted heart will draw grace.

e He preferreth
the godly to honour.

f He will move
the earth, if he feele the finnes that are in him.

g He will come to him by repentance as he did Manassah.

h Ps. 139.

i That is, in their folly or obduracy, and so false cause of their owne destruction.

k Which are mercifully sent against God and flatter themselves in their vices.

l When they are in affliction they seek not to God for succour, as Aba. Chro. 4. 11.
Reu. 4. 11.

4 Therefore will I answer thee, and thy companions with thee.

5 Looko vnto the heauen, and see and behold the cloudes which are hier then thou.

6 If thou finnest, what doest thou against him, yea, when thy finnes bee many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiveth he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousness may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, & to cry, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none sayth, Where is God that made me, which giueh songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueh vs more wisdom then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth nor.

13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the small with great extremities.

16 Therefore Job b openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, & And his justice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 12 The properties of the wicked.

Elihu also proceeded and sayde,

2 Suffer me a lide, and I will instruct thee: for I have yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch a my knowledge a farre off, and will attribute righteousness vnto my Maker.

4 For truly my words shall not be false, and he that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is mighty and valiant of courage.

6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueh iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they bee bounde in fetters and tyed with the cordes of affliction,

9 Then will he shewe them their worke and their finnes, because they have bene proud.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and comāndeth them that they retorne from iniquity.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperie, & their yeres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the sword, and perish without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites b of heart increase the wrath: for they i call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soules dyeth in youth, and their life among the whore-mongers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would he have taken thee out of the straight place into a broad place, and not shutt vp beneath: and i that which reflectt vpon thy table, had bene full of far.

17 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equite maintaine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is, least he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifes can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 Be not careful in the night, howe he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to iniquities: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appoynted to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men behold.

25 All men see it, and men beholde it: a farre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, and we knowe him not, neither can the number of his yeres be searched out.

27 When he restraineth the drops of water, the raine foweth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes doe drop and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can know the diuisions of the cloudes and the thunders of his tabernacle?

30 Beholde, he spreadeth his light vpon it, and couereth the b bosome of the sea.

31 For thereby he iudgeth the people, and giueh meate abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the cloudes, and comāndeth them to goe against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Elihu sheweth that the vnsearchable wisdom of God is manifest by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The fumes, 9 The whirlwindes, 11 And the raine.

A T this also mine heart is a stonied, and is smooched out of his place.

2 Heare the b found of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the world.

4 After it a noyse foundeth: hee thundereth with the voyce of his maiestie, and hee will not stay them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundereth maruelliouly with his voyces: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.

6 For he faith to the snowe, Be thou vpon the earth: & likewise to the small rayne and to the great rayne of his power.

7 With the force thereof he c shutteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beastes goe into the denne, and remaine in their places.

o For their clearnesse.

p That is, our ignorance, signifying that Iob was so presumptuous that he would controule the workes of God.

q Hath God need to say should tell him when man murmureth against him? r If God would direct it, man should see reason? s The cloude stoppeth the shining of the sunne, that man can not see it till the winde haue chased away the cloude; and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of these things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements? t In Ebrew, golde; meaning, faire weather and cleare as golde, u Meaning, without cause.

10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breadth of the waters is made narrow.

11 Hee maketh also the cloude to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloude of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it bee for punishment, or for his land, or of mercie, hee canst it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloude to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the many varietie of the cloude, and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or howe thy clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shal say vnto him: for wee cannot dispute our matter because of darkness.

20 Shall it bee to telde him when I speake? or shall man speake when hee shalbe destroyed?

21 And now we see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleareth them.

22 The brightnesse cometh out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee can not finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: hee is a secret not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceite.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the workes of man in the confirmation of his creatures, to whose excellencie the power, iustice and prouidence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirlwinde, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layd the foundation of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

5 Who hath layd the measure thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line out to it?

6 Where vpon are the foundations thereof set: or who hath layd the corner stone thereof?

7 When the starres of the morning e prayed mee together, and all the children of God reioiced:

8 Or who hath shut vp the Sea with doores, when it issued, and came forth as out of the wombe:

9 To comprehend all Gods workes: much lesse the secret councils of his iudgements. e The starres and diuine creatures are said to praise God, because his power, wisdom and goodnesse is manifest and known therein. f Meaning, the Angels.

9 When I made the cloude as a covering thereof, and darkened as the swaddling bandes thereof:

10 When I stablished my commandment vpon it, and set bars and doores, 11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here shall it stay thy proud waves.

12 Hast thou commended the morning since thy days? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might bee shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the fire arme shal be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou scene the gates of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkness?

20 That thou shouldst receiue it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst knowe the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou scene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue hidde against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spouses for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the dammers,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the seed of the herbe to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yee? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone, and the face of the depth is frozen.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The homile and providence of God, which extendeth euen to the young rauen, which man shall occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Iob confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

After he had declared Gods workes in the heauen, he sheweth his maruolous providence in earth euen toward the brute bralls, b Reade Iob. 247.9.

A The churche maketh mention of wilde goates and hinds because they bring forth their young with most difficultie, d That is, how long they go with young e They bring forth with great difficultie, f That is, the barren ground where no good fruites growe, g Is it possible to make the vncome tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoint the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.

h They write that the ostrich couereth her egges in the sand, and because the country is hote and the sunne Rill keepeth them warme, they are hatched, i If he should take care for them, k That is, to haue a care & natural affection toward his young, l When the young ostrich is grown vp, he continueth the houle, m That is, given him to reget which is meant by saying & taking his maner for with his strength he couereth his necke, n He heareth with his houle, o He is soildeth the ground, that it seemeth no thing vnder him,

Wilt thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lions whelpes, 2 When they couch in their places, and re-meine in the couert to lie in wait? 3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate, when his birdes crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate? 4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth young? or dost thou marke when the hinds doe calue? 5 Canst thou number the moneths that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth? 6 They bowe themselves: they c bruiſe their young and cast out their sorowes. 7 Ter their yong waxe fatte, and growe vp with come: they goe forth and returne not vnto them. 8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse? 9 Is it I which haue made the wilde asse his house, and the i safe places his dwellings. 10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crie of the druer. 11 He fecketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing. 12 Will the vnicorne g graue thee? or will he tary by thy cribbe? 13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his hand to labour in the furrow? or will he plow the valleys after thee? 14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him? 15 Wilt thou beleue him, that hee will bring home thy feede, and gather it vnto thy barnet. 16 Haſt thou giuen the pleaſant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich? 17 Which leaueh his egges in the earth, and maketh them h hote in the dust, 18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them. 19 He sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauelled in vaine. 20 For God hath deprivd him of h wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding. 21 When i time is, he mounteth on his necke mocketh the horse and his rider. 22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or couered his necke with m neyng? 23 Hast thou made him alraide as the grasshopper? his strong neyng is fearefull. 24 He a diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meeete the harneſt man. 25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the frowd, 26 Though the quier rattle against him, the glittering speere and the shiekle. 27 Hee is swallowed the ground for fiercenes and rage, and he beleeneth not that it is the noise of the trumpet. 28 He laugh among the trumpets, Ha, ha: hee smelleth the battell asme off, and the noise of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shal the hauke flie by thy wisdom, firsteuing out his wings toward the P South? 30 Doeth the eagle mount vp at thy commandment, or make his nest on his? 31 Shee abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower. 32 From thence shee spiketh for meate, and her eyes beholde afarre off. 33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the faine are, there is the. 34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, & said, 35 Is this to learne, to strue with the Almighty? hee that reprooueth God, let him anſwere to it. 36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying, 37 Beholde, I am vile: what shall I anſwere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth. 38 Once haue I spoken, but I will anſwere no more; yea, twice, but I will proceede no further.

CHAP. XL.

How weakman power is, being compared to the workes of God: 10 Where power appeares in the creation, and governing of the great creatures.

A Gaine the Lone answered Iob out of h the whirle wind, and said, 2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me. 3 Wilt thou disanull a my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou wast be iustified? 4 Or hast thou an arme like Gods? or dost thou thunder with a voice like him? 5 Decker thy selfe now with b meedle and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glory. 6 Cast abroad the indignat on of thy wrath, & behold euery one that is proude, and abase him. 7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place. 8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place. 9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d doe thee. 10 ¶ Behold now c d her moth (whom I made with thee) which etch g graffe as an oxe. 11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loynes, and his force is in the naill of his helie. 12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: f finewes of his floues are wrap together. 13 His bones are like slauces of braſſe, and his frall bones like slauces of yron. 14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: he that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him. 15 Surely the mountaines bring him fourth graffe, where all the beastes of the fildes play. 16 Lieth hee vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and finnest? 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuier compaſſe him about? 18 Behold, he spoileth the riuier, k and hasteeth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth. 19 Hee taketh h with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through h whatsoever meeteth him. 20 ¶ Canst thou draw out i Lubarban with an hooke, & with a line which thou shalt cast down vnto his tongue? 21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose, canst

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Job. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, and death.

Then Job answered the Lord, and said,
1 I knoweth that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no a thought hidde from thee.
2 Who is hee that hideth counsell without b knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, euen things too wonderfull for me, c and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, d & declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Job, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, & against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Job.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seven bul-locks, and seven rammes, and goe to my seruant Job, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Job shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seruant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bilhad the Shubite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Job.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice so much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, & did cate bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, & comforted him for all the euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a peece of money, and euerie one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Job more then the first: for he had 14 fourteene thousand sheepe, & fixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, & three daughters.
14 And he called the name of one Jemimah, and the name of the second Keziah, and the name of the third Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women founde so faire as the daughters of Job, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Job an hundred and fourty yeeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Job died, being old, and full of dayes.

THE PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGUMENT.

For psalms, according to the Hebrewes; and were chiefly instituted to praise and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalms or Songs of David, because the most part were made by him.

This booke of Psalmes is set forth unto vs by the holy Ghost to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heavenly wisdom are here set open for vs, so take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great & his maiestie of God, here we may see the brightness thereof most clearly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bowtie, and approach neere therunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, here we may haue a most lovely, & comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life euermlasting, here is Christ our only redeemer, & mediator most evidently described. The rich man may learne the true use of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that wil reioyce, shal know the true way, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when he sudeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecutors of the children of God shal see how the hand of God is euerm against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he breideth them, in so much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, & how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly here we haue most present remedies against all temptations and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being wel practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, thus in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layd up for all them that loue the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Balaam, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to study & meditate the heavenly wisdom. For the effect thereof is, that they be blessed, which growe in holiness all their life to the holy Scriptures: And that the wicked & sinners of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to their terrible destruction.

Blessed is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornfull:

But his delight is in the Law of the Lord, and in his Law doth he meditate day & night.

For he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of waters, that will bring forth her fruit in due season: whose leaf shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall doe, shall prosper.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde drieth away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

^a Which a man hath given once place to euill counsell, or to his owne conscience, he beginneth to forget himself in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the line of yfcornes.
^b David 6.
^c In the holy Scriptures.
^d Inter. 17. 8.
^e Gods children are so moyntened euerm with his grace, that whatsoever cometh vnto them, toucheth vnto their saluation.
^f Though the wicked seeme to beare the swinge in this world, yet the Lord drieth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the company of the righteous.
^g Not tremble whyle they feele Gods wrath.
^h Doth approue and prosper, like as not to know, is to reprove and reitell.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet David reioyceth that notwithstanding his sinners rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer, and aduance it euen to the ende of the world. And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves vnder Gods yoke, because it is his will to resist God. He vnto it forward Christes Kingdomes.

Why do the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vaine?

^a The conspiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the lawes, and power of Kings, cannot preuaile against Christ.
^b Acts 4. 13.

The Kings of the earth band themselves, and the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cordes from vs.

But hee that dwelleth in the heauen, shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, and vexee them in his fore displeasure, saying,

When I haue set my king vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

I will declare the decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto me, Thou art my sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Alke of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the endes of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in peeces like a potters vessell.

Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

Kisse the Sonne, lest hee be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne: blessed are all that trust in him.

^a Reuelat. 2. 27.
^b Hee exhorteth all rulers to repent in time, & in place of homage. i When the wicked shall rise, and seeme yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shall destruction suddenly come. The 5. 5.

PSAL. III.

David driven forth of his kingdomes, was greatly comforted in mind for his sin against God: 4 And therefore caldeth vpon God, and waileth loud through his promise against the great raylings and erreours of his enemies, yet against death is faine, which hee sawe present before his eyes. Finally he reioyceth for the good successe, that God gave him, and all his Church.

^a For, as was said.
^b Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ.
^c Psal. 1. 26.
^d Gods plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.
^e To shewe that my vocation to the kingdom is of God.
^f Acts 13. 27, 28.
^g As touching man know heege because it was the first time that David appeared to be elected of God.
^h So it is applied to Christ in his last coming and manifestacion to the world.
ⁱ Not onely the lawes but the Gentiles also.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.

b Selah here signifies a lifting up of the voyce, to cause vs to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.

c When he considered the truth of Gods promise, and tried the same, his faith encreased maruellously.

d Bee the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer means to deliuer his.

a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chiefly to let the tune and to beginne: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and hee began this Psalm on the instrument called Neginoth, or in a tune so called.

b Thou that art the defender of my iust cause, c Noth of minde and body.

d Ye that thinke your selues noble in this world.

e Though your enterprises please you neuer so much, yet God will bring them to nought.

f A King that walketh in his vocation, g For feare of Gods iudgement. h Cease your rage. i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies. k The multitude seeketh worldly wealth, but David seeketh his felicitie in Gods fauour. l This woe in Elinore may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to David, signifying that hee should doe as joyfully alone, as if hee had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

For a musical instrument or tune.

a That is, my vehement prayer and secret complaint and sighings.

b With patience and trust till I be heard.

c Seeing that God of nature hath wickednesse, he must needs punish the wicked & save the godly.

d Which raine melt ragingly after their carnall affections.

of A Psalm of David, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

Lorde, how are mine aduersaries increased? how many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. o Selah.

3 But thou Lorde art a buckler for mee: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard mee out of his holy Mountain, Selah.

5 I layde mee downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be affaide for a teme thousand of the people, that should beate me round about.

7 O Lorde, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheek bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

PSAL. IIIII.

When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproacheth his enemies, who thought they resisted his dominion. And finally praiseth the fauour of God, for all worldly losses.

a To him that excelleth on Neginoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me whe I call, o God of my righteousness: thou hast set me at libertie, when I was in distress: haue mercie vpon mee, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O yee o sonnes of men, howe long will ye turne my glory into shame, o louing vauitie, and seeking lies? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe i a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 Tremble, and feare not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be i still. Selah.

5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shew vs any good? but the Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen mee more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay mee downe, & also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lord, I onely makest me dwell in safetie.

PSAL. V.

David oppressed with the multitude of his enemies, and fearing greater danger, calleth to God for succour, shewing howe requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. After being assured of prosperous successe, hee cometh to comfort, concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall partake of the same mercie.

To him that excelleth vpon Neginoth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me words, o Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my cry, my king and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, o Lorde, for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will b waite.

4 For thou art not a God that loatheth wickednes: neither shall coul doe with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloody man and deceitfull. 7 But I will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade me, o Lorde, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no confidence is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their throate is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, o God: let them shall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And b let all them that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt blesse the righteous, and with fauour: I will compasse him, as with a shield.

PSAL. VI.

When David by his sinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not only his sinne against him, but also considered the horrors of death resulting therefrom, he dolefully bewaileth that if God took him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him, as he was wont to doe whilst he was among men. He then finally feeling Gods mercie, hee sheweth rebuke to his enemies, which reioiced in his affliction.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth vpon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, a rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercie vpon mee, o Lorde, for I am weak: o Lord heale me, for my bones are vexed.

3 My soule is also fore troubled: but Lorde how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, o Lorde: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I caused my bed euey night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 Mine eye is dimmed for despight, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lorde will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and fore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

11 When the wicked thinke that the godly shall perish, God deliureth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

Bring forth accused by the oath of saints sentence, he calleth to God to be his defender. To whom hee commendeth his innocence. 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill towards Saul: 10 Next that it touched Gods glory to avarie sentence against the wicked, 11 And finishing into the consideration of Gods mercie, and promise, hee watcheth to deliuer the cause eueryway of his enemies, 12 Representing that it shall fall on their owne necke that which they haue purposed for others.

15 But I will beholde my face in righteousness, and when I awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

16 And am deliuered out of my great troubles,

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalm is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thanksgiving in the morning into his kingdom, wherein hee exulteth and prayeth most highly the marvellous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 2 As he first sheweth the image of Christes kingdom, and the faithful may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquere and overcome by the不可breakable power of his Father, though all the world should thus against him.

a The faithfull are sure to persevere to the end. b That is, reioyce both in body and in soule. c This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members haue immortalitye. d Where God fauoures, there is perfect felicitie.

a My righteous cause. b The vengeance that thou shalt shew against mine enemies. c When thy Spirit examined my conscience. d I was innocent toward mine enemies both in deede and thought. e Though the wicked provoked me to doe euill for euill, yet thy word kept me backe. f He was assured that God would not refuse his request. g For all rebell against thee, which trouble thy Church. h For their crueltie cannot be satisfied but with my death. i They are put vp with pride, as the stomache that is choked with fa.

k Stoppe his rage. l For which is thy sword. m By thine heavenly power. n For whose tyrannie hath nothing remained. o And he is not the least that Gods children oft times doe. p This is the full felicitie, conforting against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourable countenance opposed vnto vs. q And am deliuered out of my great troubles.

To him thus excheleth. A Psalm of David the servant of the Lord, which shaketh unto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lord delivered him from the hands of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

I Will loue thee deerly, O Lord my strength.

1 ² The Lord is my rocke, and my fortresse, and hee that delivereth mee, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horn alio of my saluation, and my refuge.

3 I will call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to bee prayed: so shall I bee safe from mine enemies.

4 The sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednes made me afraide.

5 The sorowes of the graue haue compassed mee about: the snares of death ouertooke mee.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations alio of the mountaines mooued and shooke, because he was angry.

8 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and a consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled therat.

9 He bowed the heauens alio & came downe, and darkness was vnder his feete.

10 And hee rode vpon Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenes his secret place, and his pailioun round about him, euen darkenes of waters, and cloudes of the ayre.

12 At the brightnes of his presence his clouds passed, hailestones and coles of fire.

13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue i his voice, hailestones & coales of fire.

14 Then he sent out his arrowes and scatred them, and hee increafed lightnings and destroyed them.

15 And the chanel of waters were seene, and the foundations of the worlde were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lord, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrils.

16 Hee hath sent downe from aboue and taken mee: hee hath drawn mee out of many waters.

17 Hee hath delivered mee from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were too strong for me.

18 They presented me in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 Hee brought mee forth also into a large place: he delivered mee because hee fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded mee according to my righteounesse: according to the purenes of mine handes he recomended me:

21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his commandements from mee.

23 I was vpriht also with him, and haue kept mee from my wickednes.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded mee according to my righteounesse, and according to the purenesse of mine handes in his sight.

25 With the godly thou wilt shew thy life: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the frowarde thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proude lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue broken through an holste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is vncompt: the wordes of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth mee with strength, and maketh my way vpriht.

33 He maketh my feete like hinds feete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.

34 He reacheth mine handes to fight: so that a bowe of jbrasse is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast alio giuen mee the shield of thy saluation, and the right hand hath stayed me, and thy louing kindnesse hath caused me to encrease.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder mee, and mine heeles haue not slid.

37 I haue putted mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise, they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded mee with strength to battell: them that rose against mee, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he answered them not.

42 Then I did beate them smal as the dust before the winde: I did treade them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people, whose I haue not known, shall serue me.

44 As loone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall be in subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall shrink away, and feare in their priuie chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed bee my strength, and the Lord of my saluation be exalted.

47 It is God that giueth mee power to auenge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast let me vp from them, that rose against mee: thou hast delivered mee from the i crull man.

49 Therefore I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and wil sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth hee vnto his King, and sheweth merite to his anyointed, as David, and to his seede for euer.

persecuted him. In this propheticall apperaineth to the kingdom of Christ, and vocation of the Gentiles, at Rom. 15. 9. n This did not properly appertaine to Salomon, but to Iesus Christ.

Here hee speaketh of God according to our capacity, who sheweth mercy to his, and punisheth the wicked, as is sayde also, Leuit. 24. 21.

u When their sinne is come to the full measure, hee attributeth it to God, as he both gaue the victory in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.

He the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.

He giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.

As towers and fortes, which hee lookes out of the enemies.

To defend me from dangers.

He attributeth the beginning, continuance, and increase in well doing only to Gods fauour.

David declareth that hee did nothing besides his vocacion, but was stirred up by Gods Spirit to execute his iudgements.

Thou hast giuen them into mine handes to be slaine.

They that reuiled the cry of the afflicted, God will also reuile them, when they cry for helpe: for either paine or feare cause those hypocrites to cry.

Which dwell round about me.

The kingdom of Christ is in Davids kingdom prefigured: who by the preaching of his word bringeth all to his subiection.

Or, I.e. signifying a subiection contra ned and not voluntarie.

Feare shall cause them to be afraide and come forth of their secret holes and holdes to seeke pardon.

1 To the intent he might shew the firmament to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, he searcheth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heavens with their propinquity, & ornaments: 2 And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath revealed himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. To which peculiar graty by commending the Law, he searcheth forth more at large.

3 To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

He 1 heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth the worke of his hands.

2 Day vnto day vttereth the fame, & night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their 4 line is gone forth thorow all the earth, & their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which commeth fourth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioyceth like a nightie man to run his race.

6 His going out is from the end of the heauen, and his compass 1 vnto the ends of y^e frame, and none is hid from the heat thereof.

7 The 1 Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisdom vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are g^o truth: they are righteous 1 altogether.

10 And more to be desired then golde, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then honie and the honie combe.

11 Moreouer by them 1 thy seruant made circumpect, and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can vnderstand his 1 faults? cleanse me from secret fauults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from 1 presumptuous finnes: let them not reigne ouer me: so shal I be vpright, & made cleane from much wickednes.

14 Let the words of my mouth, & the meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength, and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

1 A prayer of the people vnto God, that he would please him to haue their King, and rescue his sacrifice, which he offered before he went to battell against the Ammonites.

2 To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

He 1 Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the name of y^e God of Iakob defend thee.

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and 1 turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose.

5 That we may reioyce in thy 1 saluation, & set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the Lord will helpe his anointed, and will heare him from his 1 Sanctuarie.

a Herethy kings are also admonished to call to God in their affaires, b The vertue, power and grace of God, c In token that they are acceptable vnto him, d Granted to the King in whole wealth our felicity standeth, e The Church feeleth that God hath heard their petition. f As by the visible Sanctuarie Gods familiaritie appeared vnto his people, so by the heauenly is meant his power and maiestie.

ric, by the mightie helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, & some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord: 1 let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid in the person of the people prayeth God for the victorie, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. Wherein the holy Ghost setteth the faithful to Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

2 To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

He king shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea how greatly shall he reioyce in thy saluation!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou 1 diddest prevent him with liberal blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gavest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignitie and honour hast thou layd vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him 1 4 blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 Because the king trusteth in the Lord, & in the mercy of the most High, he shall not slide.

8 He shall find out them that hate him, & thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fire ouen in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his 1 wrath, and the fire shall deuoure them.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

11 For they 1 intended euill against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therefore I saw that thou put them 1 apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had released his sorowes and griefs, wherein he was vexed, so he recometh himselfe from the latter end pit of desperation, & promises in hope. And here vnder he owne person he stretcheth forth the figure of Christ, whom he did foresee by the spirit of prophesie, that he should mortally, and strangely be derided, and a haile, before his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

2 To him that exalteth vpon 1 Aileeth Hagiothar. A Psalm of Dauid.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me, and art so farre from mine health, and from the words of my 1 roaring?

2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not, and by night, but I haue no audience.

3 But thou art holy, and dost inhabite the 1 prayes of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and wered deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a 1 worne, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that see me, haue me in derision: they make a moue and nod the head saying, all creatures, which was meant of Christ, And herein appeareth the vnsearchable loue of God toward man, that he would thus abate his souerain for our sake.

g The worldlings that put their only trust in God, h Let the King be able to deliuer vs by thy strength, when we be in trouble vnto him for succour, a When he shall overcome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.

b Thou declarest thy liberal fauour toward him before he prayed.

c Dauid did not onely obtrude his, but also assurance that his posteritie should reioyce for euer.

d Thou hast made him thy blessings to others, and a perpetual example for euer.

e Here he describeth the power of Christs kingdome against the enemies thereof.

f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the crocke till God destroy the aduersarie.

g They layd it as were their nets to make Gods power to give place to their wicked enterprises.

h As a mark to shoot at.

i Mainetene thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

Or the kinde of the mourning: and thus was the name of some common song, a Here appeareth that horrible condition, which he sustained betwene faith and desperation, b Being tormented with extreme anguish, c Or, I cease not, d He meaneth the place of prayings, vnder the Tabernacle, or in the Temple, called because he gave the people continually occasion to praise him, e And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ, And herein appeareth the vnsearchable loue of God toward man, that he would thus abate his souerain for our sake.

19 Meaning the possessor, which the Lord keepeth as a seed to the church to obtaine his praise among it.
20 That is, God hath fulfilled his promise.

8 * He trusted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him saue him, seeing he loueth him, 9 But thou didst draw me out of the wombe: thou gauest me hope, euen at my mothers breasts.
10 I was cast vpon thee, euen from the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.
11 Be not farre from mee, because trouble is neere: for there is none to helpe me.
12 Many young bulles haue compassed me: mighty bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.
13 They gaue vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.
14 I am like a hewe poured out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.
15 My strength is dried vp like a postheard, and my tongue cleaueth to my iawes, and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.
16 For dogges haue compassed me, and the assembly of the wicked haue inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.
17 I may tell all my bones: yet they beholde, and looke vpon me.
18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots vpon my vesture.
19 But be not thou farre off, O Lord, my strength: hasten to helpe me.
20 Deliuer my soule from the sword: my de- folate soule from the power of the dogge.
21 Saue me from the lions mouth, and an- swere me in sauing me from the homes of the vncomers.

22 * I will declare thy Name vnto my bre- thren: in the middes of the Congregation will I praise thee, saying,
23 Praise the Lord, ye that feare him: mag- nifye him, all the seed of Iaakob, and feare ye him all the seed of Israhel.
24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.
25 My praise shall be of thee in the great Con- gregation: my P vovues will I performe before them that feare him.
26 The poore shall eat & be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lord, shall praise him: your heart shall liue for euer, 27 All the ends of the world shall remember themselves, & turne to the Lord: and all the kin- reds of the nations shall worship before thee.
28 For the kingdom is the Lords, and he ru- leth among the nations.
29 All they that be fat in the earth, shall eat and worship: all they that goe downe into the dust, shall bow before him, euen he that cannot quicken his owne soule.
30 Their feet shall serue him: it shall be counted vnto the Lord for a generation.
31 They shall come, & shall declare his righ- teousnesse vnto a people that shall be borne, be- cause he hath done it.

PSAL. XXIII.

1 Because the Prophet had proued the great mercies of God at diuers times, and in diuers matters, he gaue her a certain assurance, fully perswading himself, that God would continue the very same goodnesse towards him for euer.

A Psalm of Dauid.
The Lord is my * shepheard, I shall not want.
2 He maketh me to rest in greene pasture, and leadeth me by the still waters.
3 He restoreth my soule, and leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his Names sake.
4 Yea, though I should walke thorow the valley of the shadow of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with me: thy rodde and thy staffe, they comfort me.
5 Thou dost prepare a table before mee in the sight of mine aduersaries: thou dost anoint mine head with oile, and my cuppe runneth ouer.
6 Doubtlesse kindnesse and mercie shall fol- low me all the dayes of my life, and I shall re- maine a long season in the house of the Lord.
7 My enemies shall be confounded, and they shall be brought to nothing: but I shall praise the Lord in the presence of his holie ones.
8 For thou, O Lord, art my God, and thou hast redeemed my soule from death.
9 For thou, O Lord, art my God, and thou hast redeemed my soule from death.
10 For thou, O Lord, art my God, and thou hast redeemed my soule from death.

PSAL. XXIII.
1 Altho the Lord God hath made and govern all the world, yet towards his chosen people hee graciously doeth much abundantly appear, in that among them he will haue his dwelling place. Which though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet only they do enter aright into this sanctuary, which are the true worshippers of God, purged from the sinful filth of this world. Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, so the end he might stur up all the faithful to the true seruice of God.

A Psalm of Dauid.
The earth is the Lords, and all that therein is: the world and they that dwell therein.
2 For he hath founded it vpon the seas: and established it vpon the floods.
3 Who shall ascend into the mountaine of the Lord? and who shall stand in his holy place?
4 Euen he that hath innocent hands, and a pure heart: which hath not lift vp his minde vn- to vanitie, nor sworn deceitfully.
5 He shall receive a blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his saluation.
6 This is the generation of them that seeke him, of them that seeke thy face, this is Iaakob. Selah.
7 Lift vp your heads ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euershalting doores, and the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is the King of glory? the Lord, strong and mightie, euen the Lord mightie in battell.
9 Lift vp your heads, ye gates, and lift vp your sides, ye euershalting doores, and the King of glorie shall come in.
10 Who is this King of glorie? the Lord of hosts, he is the King of glorie. Selah.
11 The temple he also prayeth for the spiritual temple, which is eternall, because of this promise which was made to the temple, as it is written, Psal. 132. 14.

PSAL. XXV.

1 The prophet touched with the consideration of his sinnes, and also grieved with the cruell malice of his enemies, he prayeth to God most fervently to haue his sinnes forgiven, & especially such as he had committed in his youth. he beginneth eu- ery verse according to the Hebrew letters, two or three except,

A Psalm of Dauid.
Vnto thee, O Lord, lift I vp my soule.
2 My God, I trust in thee: let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer mee.
3 So let all that hope in thee, shall not be al- hamed: but all they shall be confounded, that trans- gresse without cause.

a Reaine me in the faith of thy promise, lest I swaue not on a side.

d Confiantly, and against all temptations.

e He confesse that his manifold finnes were the cause that his enemies did thus persecute him desiring the cause of the euill may be taken away, so the intent that the effect may cease.

f That is, call them to repentance.

g He will gouerne and comfort them that are truly humbled for their finnes.

h And for none other respect.

i Meaning, the number is very small.

k He will direct such with his spirit to followe the right way.

l He shall prosper both in spiritual and corporeall things.

m His counsell contained in his worde, whereby he declarath that he is the protector of the faithfull.

n My griefe is increased because of mine enemies enuies.

o The greater that his afflictions were & the more that his enemies increased, the more nere felt he Gods helpe.

p For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly towards mine enemies, let them knowe that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

4 Shewe me thy wayes, O Lord, and teach me thy pathes.

5 Leade me forth in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust: all the day.

6 Remember, O Lorde, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindeesse: for they haue bene for euer.

7 Remember not the finnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindeesse remember thou me, *eu*n for thy goodnesse sake, O Lorde.

8 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.

9 Them that bee meeke, will hee guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.

10 All the pathes of the Lorde are mercy and truth vnto such as keepe his counsaunt and his testimonies.

11 For thy Names sake, O Lorde, be mercifull vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.

12 What a man is he that feareth the Lorde? him will hee teach the way that he shall chuse.

13 His soule shall dwell at ease, and his feede shall inherite the land.

14 The secretes of the Lorde is reueiled to them, that feare him: and his counsaunt to giue them vnderstanding.

15 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lorde: for he will bring my feede out of the net.

16 Turne thy face vnto mee, and haue mercy vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.

17 The sorowes of mine heart are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles.

18 Looke vpon mine affliction, and my trouble, and forgie all my finnes.

19 Behold mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruell hatred.

20 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let mee not be confounded, for I trust in thee.

21 Let mine vprightnes and equity preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.

22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly towards mine enemies, let them knowe that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

PSAL. XXVI.

David oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, crieth for ayde from God, and assured of his integrity towards him, desireth his helpe, and to defend his innocencie. Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence he was banished by Saul, promising integrity of life, and open prayer and thanksgiving.

A Psalm of David.

Iudge me, O Lorde, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lorde: therefore shall I not slide.

2 Prouee mee, O Lorde, and trie me: examine my reins, and mine heart.

3 For thy louing kindeesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth.

4 I haue not danted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.

5 I haue hated the assembly of the euill, and haue not companied with the wicked.

6 I will wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lorde, and compasse thine altar,

7 That I may declare with the voyce of thanksgiving, and fet forth all thy wonderous workes.

8 O Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloodie men:

10 In whose hands is a wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: redeeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.

12 My foote standeth in a vprightnesse, I will praise thee, O Lorde, in the Congregations.

PSAL. XXVII.

David maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils as appeareth by the prayer, and thanksgiving, wherein he Wherin we may see the constant faith of David against the assaults of all his enemies, and also the end, wherefore he desireth to live and to be deliuered, partly to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of David.

The Lorde is my light & my saluation, whom shall I feare? the Lorde is the strength of my life, whom shall I be affraide?

2 When the wicked, *eu*n mine enemies, and my foes came vpon me to cate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hostie pitched against me, mine heart should not be afraid: though warre be raised against me, I will trust in b this.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lorde, that I will require, *eu*n that I may dwell in the house of the Lorde all the dayes of my life, to behold the beautie of the Lorde, and to visite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble hee shall hide mee in his Tabernacle: in the secretes place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set me vp vpon a rocke.

6 And nowe shall hee lift vp mine head: for mine enemies round about mee: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and prayse the Lorde.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I crye: haue mercie also vpon mee and heare mee.

8 When thou shalt say, Seeke vny my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lorde, I will seeke thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from mee, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Though my father and my mother should forsake mee, yet the Lorde will gather me vp.

11 Teach mee thy way, O Lorde, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue mee not vnto the lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnessers risen vp against me, and such as speake cruelly.

13 I should haue faim'd, except I had beleued to see the goodnes of the Lorde in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lorde: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lorde.

6 I will force thee with a pure affection, and with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee.

7 Deliuere me not in the overthrow of the wicked.

PSAL. XXVIII.

a Being in great feare and heavinesse of heart to see God distressed by the wicked, he desirous to be of them. b And cryeth for vengeance against them, and at length affaith him 28. that God hath heard his prayer. c Vnto whose nation he commendeth all the faithfull.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Vnto thee, O Lord, do I cry: O my strength, be not deaf to me, lest, if thou answer me not, I be like them that go downe into the pit.

2 Hear the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I holde vp my handes toward thine *h*oly Oracle.

3 Drawe me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, & was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is my strength, and hee is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Save thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalt them for euer.

g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meane, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world, to be for the most part kinde therein to God. 2 As the justie faine him for the founders and temples, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 3 And sheweth thereby God therein shewes, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, and cometh them thereby to praise his name.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Give vnto the Lord, ye sonnes of the mightie: give vnto the Lord glorie and strength, 2 Give vnto the Lord glorie due vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is upon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mightie: the voyce of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also, and Shirion like a yong unicorn. 7 The voyce of the Lord divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness of Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voyce of the Lord maketh the hindes to g calfe, and divideth the forests: therefore in his Temple doth every man speake of his glory.

g For hee maketh them to call their calves. h Maketh the trees bare, or scattereth the most fertile places. i Though the wicked are nothing moved with these sights, yet the faithfull praise God.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the flood, and the Lord doeth renaine king for euer.

11 The Lord shall give strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.

PSAL. XXX.

1 When David was delivered from great danger, hee rendered thanks to God, & sheweth vnto the rest the life, and to learn by his example, that God is rather mercifull then severe and rigorous toward his children. 2 And also that the faithfull prosperitie is sudden. 3 This done, hee returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

¶ A Psalm of Song of the dedication of the house of David.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: b for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast c relieved me.

3 O Lord, thou hast brought vp my soule out of the graue, thou hast reuiued me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, ye his Saints, and give thanks before the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 For hee endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour d life: weeping may abide at evening, but ioy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayde, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse hast made my mountaine to stand strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, when I goe downe to the pit? shall the dust e give thanks vnto thee? or shall it declare thy truth?

10 Heare, O Lord, and haile mercy vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded mee with gladnesse.

12 Therefore shall my tongue praise thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will give thanks vnto thee for euer.

g The Congregation of the Lord here in earth: therefore he would haue to praise his Name, which is the end of mans creation. 1 Because thou hast preferred mee, that my tongue should praise thee, I will not be vniuindful of my dutie.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 David delivered from great danger, first releaseth what meditation he had by his power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemies being ready to take him. 2 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is ready to shew that fauour him. 3 Finally he exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God and to love him, because hee preferreth & strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

IN thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy righteousness.

2 Bow downe thine eare to me: and hearken hastie to deliuer me: be vnto me as strong rocke, and an house of defence to save me.

3 For thou art my rocke and my fortress: therefore for thy Names sake direct me and guide mee.

4 Draw mee out of the net, that they haue layde priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

thou hast sent me my trouble: thou hast knowen
my soule in adversities,

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in the hand of the enemy, but hast set my feet at large.

9 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine eye, my soule and my bellie are confused with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauinesse, and my yeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a reproch among all mine enemies,

PSAL. XXXII.

David punished with grievous sickness for his sinnes, counsell them blessed to whom God doth in pitee their transgressions.
5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes, and obtained pardon, 6 he exhorted the wicked men to line godly, 11 and the good to reioyce.

A Psalm of David to give an instruction.

Blessed is he whose wickednesse is forgivenen, and whose sinne is couered.

And to be justified by faith, is to haue our sinnes freely remitted, and to be reputed iust, Rom. 4. 6.

2 Blessed is the man, vnto whom the Lord im-puteth not iniquitie, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 When I held my tongue, my bones confused, or when I roared all the day,

4 (For thine hand is heauie vpon me, day and night: & my moisture is turned into the drouth of Summer. Selah.)

5 Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgavest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shall euery one, that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time, when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters they shall not come nere him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preferrest me from trouble: thou compassedst me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

8 I will instruct thee, and reach thee in the way that thou shalt go, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be yee not like an horse, or like a mule,

P S A L. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, with complaints of their malicious wickednesse. 2. Therefore I am to consider the vniuersall goodnesse of God towards all creatures: 3. That specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinary course of Gods working, 12. Who in the end destroyeth the wicked and saueh the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth, A Psalm of David, the seruant of the Lord.

Wickednesse sayth to the wicked man, euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For hee flattereth himselfe in his own eyes, and his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.

4 Hee imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he stretcheth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

1. Hee imagineth mischief vpon his bed: he stretcheth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

1. By describing at large the nature of the reprober, hee admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfullnesse vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnesse is like the 7 mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, Lord, dost saue man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuier of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindnesse vnto them that knowe thee, and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not y root of pride come against me, and let not the hand of y wicked man moue me.

12 There they are fallen that worke iniquities: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

and the 13 to come. 14 Hee sheweth who are Gods children, so wit, they that knowe him, and leade their liues vprightly. 15 Let not the proud aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked dring me away. 16 That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

P S A L. XXXVII.

1 This Psalm containeth exhortation and consolation for the weale, that are persecuted at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 2. For how profperously flourisheth the wicked due for the time, hee doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitory, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies. 3. And how miserably that the righteous flourish in the world, yet his end is peace, and hee is in the fauour of God, hee is deliuered from the wicked and persecuted.

A Psalm of David.

Ret not thy ielousie because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone bee cut downe like grasle, and shall wither as the Greene berbe.

3 Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And delite thy selfe in the Lorde, and hee shall giue thee thine heartes desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lorde, & trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnesse as the light, and thy iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lorde, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him f which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe also to doe euill.

9 For euill doers shall be cut off, and they that wait vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 Therefore yet a litle while and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and hee shall not be found.

11 But meeke men shall possess the earth, & shall haue their delight in the multitude of peace.

12 The wicked praeiseth against the iust, and gnaweth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lorde shall laugh him to scorn, for hee hath said that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawn their sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe

1. Meaning, except he moderate his afflictions, hee shall be led on as they do. 2. Hee correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time bee come. 3. Matt. 23. 1. The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne peccers and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time. 4. the

5 Though wickednesse seemeth to flourish all the world, yet by their heauensly prosperitie they shall be cut downe.

6 Hee sheweth who are Gods children, so wit, they that knowe him, and leade their liues vprightly. 7 Let not the proud aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked dring me away. 8 That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

9 The depth of thy providence governeth all things and directs them: albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

10 Onely Gods children haue yough of all things, both concerning this life and the life to come.

11 Hee sheweth who are Gods children, so wit, they that knowe him, and leade their liues vprightly. 12 Let not the proud aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked dring me away. 13 That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselves.

14 He admonisheth vs neither to vex our selues for the prosperitie of the wicked, nor to desire to be like them, so make our state y better.

15 For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their state in a moment.

16 To trust in God, and doe according to his will are two tokens that his providence will neuer faile vs.

17 Reuolted by thine owne wisdom, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.

18 As the hope of the day light, so the iusts heart is not to be offended with the darkness of the night: so ought we patiently to trust that God will cleare our cause and restore vs to our right.

19 When God liueth, the wicked prospereth in the flesh, that hee fauourer their doings. Job. 21. 7. &c.

20 Meaning, except he moderate his afflictions, hee shall be led on as they do. 21 He correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time bee come. 22 Matt. 23. 1. The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne peccers and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time. 23 In the meane while beualls their sin, & offer vp their times as a sacrifice of their obedience.

the poore and needie, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.

15 But their sword shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shall be broken.

16 A small thing unto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord vprholdeth the iust man.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shall be perpetual.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue much.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be consumed as the fatte of lambs: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull and giueth.

22 For such as he blest of God shall inherite the lande, and they that be curst of him, shall be cut off.

23 The pathes of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his way.

24 Though he fall, hee shall not bee cast off, for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and an old; yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his seede enuyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and doe good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forsaketh not his Saintes: they shall be preferred for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherite the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous will speake of wisdom, and his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the Lawe of his God is in his heart, and his steppes shall not slide.

32 The wicked warcheth the righteous, and see keth to slay him.

33 But the Lord will not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall exalte thee, that thou shalt inherite the land: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree, 36 Yet he passed away, & loe, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shall be destroyed together, and the ende of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous men shall be of the Lord: he shall be their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall helpe them, and deliuer them: he shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

k For they are daily fed as with Manna from heauen, and haue sufficient, when the wicked haue neuer enough, but euer hunger.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them.

m They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for the day of slaughter.

n God to smite them with his blessing, that he is able to helpe others.

p God prospereth the faithful, because they walke in his wayes with an vpright conscience.

q When God doth exercise his faith with mercie tenacious.

r Though the iust man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, & though God suffer some iust man to lacke temporal benefites, yet he recompenseth him with spirituall treasures.

s They shall continually be preferred, vnder Gods wings, and haue at least inward rest.

t These three points are required of the faithful, that their talke be godly, that Gods lawe be in their heart, and that their life be vpright.

u For though it be sometimes to expedient both for Gods glory, and their saluation, yet he will approve their cause, and reuenge their wrong.

x So that the profane of the wicked is but as a cloud, which vanishes away in a moment.

y He reuerceth the faithful to make diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and also of his iudgements.

z Hee sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in vaine, but in the ende haue good success, though for a time God proueth them by sundry temptations.

David being full of many griefes, and sorrowes, hee first to be chiefest of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. He uttereth the greatness of his griefe by many words, and confidence, as mounted with the arrows of Gods wrath, for the sinners, euil instead of his enemies. But in the end with firm confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and beseecheth for speede helpe at his hand.

A Psalm of David for a remembrance.

Lord, rebuke mee not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrows haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.

3 There is nothing found in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head: and as a weightie burden they are too heauie for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnesse.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I go mourning all the day.

7 For my reins are full of burning, and there is nothing found in my flesh.

8 I am weakened, and sore broken: I roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart is panted: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stand aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stand as farre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceit continually.

13 But I as a deafe man heard not, and as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, doe I wait, thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, lest they reioyce ouer me: for when my foot slippeth, they extol themselves against me.

17 Surely I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is euer before me.

18 When I declare my paine, and am sorry for my sinne,

19 Then mine enemies are aaine, & are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They also, that reward euill for good, are mine aduersaries, because I followe goodnesse.

21 Forsaue me not, O Lord: be not thou farr from me, my God.

22 Hee that to helpe mee, O my Lord, my saluation.

For that thou securre me not in time, they will mocke and triumphe: so though thou hadst forsaken me, I am without hope to recover my strength in mine great misery, they mocke reioyce. He had rather haue the hatred of all the world, then to faile in any part of his due to Godward. Which is the author of my saluation: and this declareth that hee prayed with true hope of deliuerance.

PSAL XXXIX.

David uttereth with what great griefs and bitterness of minde he was drunke in their unregiment complaints of his infirmities, for hee confesseth that where hee had determined himselfe, that hee should faste yettine wearie, that he would not through the greatness of his griefe, & then hee sheweth certain requestes which take of the infirmities of man, & aduise with them many prayers, but all that flowe from a

To the excellent musician a Jeduthun.

A Psalm of David.

I Thought, I will take heed to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

I was dumme & spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, & my sorow was more stirred.

Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I spake with my tongue, sayng,

Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me knowe how long I have to live.

Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely every man in his best state is altogether a vanitie. Selah.

Doubletelle man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth him selfe in vaine: he heareth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

And nowe, Lorde, what wait I for? mine hope is cūen in thee.

Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a relike unto the foolish.

I should have bene dumme, and not have opened my mouth, because I thou didst it.

Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth shalt bite him: he beautes to confume: surely every man is vanitie. Selah.

Hear my prayer, O Lord, & hearken vnto my cry: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger & wee, & a sojourner as all my fathers.

Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, & before I go hence and be not.

David being inwardly afflicted, blisseth them that praise his name. 9. And complaint of the trouble of his own friends and familiar, as came to passe in Iudas, ch. 13. 18. After he seeing the great mercies of God greatly chafing him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13. Giveth most brave thanks vnto God.

PSAL. XL.

David delivered from great danger, with magnificence and praise the grace of God for his deliverance, and commendeth his praises towards all mankind. 9. Then doth he promise to give himself wholly to Gods service, and so do the last verse. 14. Afterward he giueth thanks and praise to God, and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he callith for aid and succour.

To him that exalleth, A Psalm of David.

I waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.

He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the myrie clay, and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

And he hath put in my mouth a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it & feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is the man that maketh the Lorde his trust, and regardeth not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.

O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs. I would declare, & speake of them, but they are more then I am able to expresse.

Sacrifice and offering thou dost not desire: of his providence over all, and everesth his countenance towards vs are farre above our capacities: we can not so much as tell them in order.

For mine ears hast thou prepared burnt offering and sinne offering: haile thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me.

I desired to doethy good will, O my God: yea, thy Lawe is within mine heart.

I haue declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: loe, I will not reftaine my lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.

I haue not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy truth from the great Congregation.

Withdrowe not thou thy tender mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy truth alway preserue me.

For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my finnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

Let them be confounded & put to shame together, that fecke my soule to destroy it: let them be drinen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

Let them be destroyed for a reward of their flame, which say vnto me, Aha, aha.

Let all them, that fecke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them, that loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

Though I be poore and needie, the Lorde thinketh on me: thou art mine helper & my deliuerer: my God, make no taryng.

He defendeth that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. 10. Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon him. 11. As the faithful alway praise God for his benefices: to the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLII.

To him that exalleth, A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that judgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in y time of trouble.

The Lord will keepe him, & preserue him aliaie: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, & thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his enemies.

The Lord will strengthen him vpon y bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sickness.

Therefore I saide, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

Mine enemies speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

And if he come to see me, he speakeeth lies, but his heart heareth iniquitie within him, and when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

All they hate me, whisper together against me: euen against me do they imagine mine hurt.

A mischief is light vpon him, and he that lyeth, shall no more liue.

Yea, my familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did cate of my bread, hath lifted vp the heele against me.

David here numbereth 3. degrees of our salvation. Gods mercy, whereby he pitieth vs into this righteoussness, which signifieth his continual propitiety and his truth, whereby appeareth his constant favour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation.

As to reaching the judgement of the flesh, I was vnto the delict of all.

consequently, yet faith inwardly moored mine heart to pray.

Not condemning him as according to the flesh, when God doth visit, knowing that there are diuers causes, why God heareth vs.

And yet he heareth vs, and yet he heareth vs, and yet he heareth vs.

When for sorrow and griefe of mind he calteth himselfe vpon his bed.

Thou hast comforted him in his sickness and in his comfort.

 11 By this I know that thou fauourest me, because mine enemies doth not triumph against me.
 12 And as for me, thou vpholdest me in mine integritie, & dost set me before thy face for cuer.
 13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel worke without end. * So be it, euen fo be it.

PSAL. XLII.

a The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being led by his go shepherds, he could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was pained in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward afflicted.
 7 And lest of all be thirrest, that he was not to furre overcome with these sorowes and thoughts.
 8 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

As the Hart brayeth for the riuers of water: so panteth my soule after thee, O God.

b My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come & appeare before the presence of God?

c My teares haue bin my meat day & night, while they daily say vnto me, Where is thy God?

d When I remembered these things, I powered out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the House of God with the voyce of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

e Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and inuict within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his preference.

f My God, my soule is cast downe within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iordan, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizar.

g One is deepe called another deepe by the noise of the water spoutes: all thy waies and thy floods are gone ouer mee.

h The Lord will grant his louing kindeste in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

i I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? why goe I mourning, when the enimie oppresseth me?

k My bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproche me, saying daily vnto me, Where is thy God?

l Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: he is my present helpe, and my God.

a As a hart desireth to be kept of them, which were of the number of the Leuites.
b By their similitudes of thirst and panting, he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.
c As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether giuen to weeping.
d That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary fate, I die for sorowe.
e Though he suffered grievous assaults of the flesh to call him into despise, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, getteth the victorie.
f That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountains.
g Afflictions came to thicke vpon me, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed, whereby he sheweth there is no end of our miserie till God be pacified, and send remedie. He asseureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come.
h That is, I am most grieuously tormented.
i This repetition doth declare that David did not overcome at once: to teach vs to be constant, for as much as God will certainly deliuer him.

PSAL. XLIII.

a He prayeth to be deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might iustly praise God in his holy Congregation.

b Vnto thee, O God, and defend my cause against the vnumercifull people: deliuer me from the deceifull and wicked man.

c For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why goe I so mourning, when the enimie oppresseth me?

d Send thy light and thy truth: let them leade me: let them bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

e Then will I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy & gladnes: & vpon the harp will I giue thanks vnto thee, O God my God.

a He desireth God to vnderstand his cause against the enemies, but chiefly for that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.
b That is, the cruel companies of mine enemies.
c To wit, thy fauour, which appereth by the performance of thy promises.
d He promitteth to offer a solemne sacrifice of thanksgiving in token of his great deliuerance.

e Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks, he is my present helpe, and my God.

stantly to waite on the Lord, though thy troubles be long and great.

PSAL. XLIIII.

a The faithful remembreth the great mercie of God toward his people.
 9 After they complained, because they felt it no more.
 17 All they allege the covenant made with Abrahams, for the keeping whereof they shew what growth things they iustified.
 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to remember their afflictions, listing the same unworthily to the contempt of his benediction.
 24 To him that excelleth. A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

We haue heard with our cares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the workes, that thou hast done in their dayes, in the olde time:

2 How thou hast driuen out the heathen with thine hand, & planted them: how thou hast destroyed the people, & caused them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sword, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto me Iakob.

5 Through thee haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we to den downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I did not trust in my bow, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast faued vs from our aduersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confesse thy Name for cuer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and putteth vs to confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turne backe fro vs aduersary, & they which hate vs, spoile vs for theshelues.

11 Thou giuest vs as sheepe to be eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without gain, and doest not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among people.

15 My confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath couered me.

16 For the voyce of the slanderer & rebuker, for the enimie and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee, neither deale we falsely concerning thy counaunt.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths.

19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of dragons, and couered vs with the shadow of death.

20 If we haue forgotten the Name of our God, & holden vp our hands to a strange god.

31 Shall not God search this out? for hee knoweth the secret of the heart.

32 I dare not lift up mine hand for thine name, O Measuring, the proud and cruel tyrant.

33 They boast not of their vertue, but declare that they rest vpon God in the midst of their afflictions: who punished not now their finnes, but by hard afflictions called the consideration of the heavenly ioyes.

34 Or, whiles, meaning the customers (as of temptation), here we see the power of faith, which can be overcome by no perill.

35 They shew that they honoured God a night, because they trusted in him alone.

36 They take God to witnesse that they were vpright to himward.

a Whereby he admonisheth the faithful not to relent, but constantly to waite on the Lord, though thy troubles be long and great.

a This Psalm fresheth to haue bene said by some excellent Prophet for the vie of the people, when the Church was in extreme miserie, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochos, or in such like affliction.
b That is, the Canaanites.
c To wit, our fathers.
d Of Canaan.
e That is, our fathers.
f Gods freewill and loue is the onely fountaine and beginning of the Church, Deut. 32.
g Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie.
h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselves, which before they did attribute to their fathers.
i As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his fault in judgement.
j For as their pleasure.
k Rom 8. 34.
l Knowing God to be author of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedie in his hands, who wounded them.
m As flames which are sold for a low price, neither knowest thou how much that offereth more, but takest the least chapman.
n I dare not lift up mine hand for thine name, O Measuring, the proud and cruel tyrant.

1 The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punish them not for their finnes; but for Gods cause, Matt. 5. 10. Ps. 14. 1. There is no hope of recoverie, except thou put to thee hand and ruff vs 7p.

2 Which is the only and sufficient ransom to deliver both body and soule from all kinde of flaccie and misery.

22 Surely for thy fake we are slain continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not aslee for ever.
24 Wherefore hiddest thou thy face? and forgettest our misery and our affliction?
25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.
26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy mercies sake.

27 Which is the only and sufficient ransom to deliver both body and soule from all kinde of flaccie and misery.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiesty of Salomon, his honour, strength, beauty, riches, and power are praised; & also his marriage with the Egyptian king an heathen woman a blisful, so if that they can recover her people and the love of her country, and give her self wholly to her husband, Under the which figure, the wonderful maiesty and increase of the kingdom of Christ and the Church his spouse now taken of the Gentiles is described.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Psalmum a song of love to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

My heart will utter forth a good matter: I will intreate in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.

2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is power in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for ever.

3 Gird thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mightie, to war, thy worship and thy glory,

4 And prosper with thy glory: ride vpon the worde of truth and of meekenes and of righteousness: for thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pierce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou iouest righteousness, and hatest wickednesse, because God, when thy God hath favoured thee with the oyle of gladnes about thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the yuorie palaces, & where they haue made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters are among thee honourable wives: vpon thy right hande did stande the Queen in a vesture of gold of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyre with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of broidered gold.

14 She shall be brought vnto the King in rayment of needfull worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy & gladnes shall they be brought,

and shall enter into the Kings palace.

16 In stead of thy fathers shall thy children bee: thou shalt make them princes a through all the earth.

17 I will make thee O Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee world without ende.

A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

H Aue mercy vpon me, O God, according to thy louing kindnes: according to the multitude of thy mercies, b As his finnes were manifold and great, so he requaeth that God would give him the feeling of his excellent and abundant mercie.

tude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only have I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

5 Beholde, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 Behold, thou louest truth in the inward parts: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart.

7 Purge me with hyssope, & I shall be cleane: wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.

8 Make me to heare ioy and gladnesse, that the bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.

9 Hide thy face from my finnes, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 Create in me a cleane heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Reforce to me the ioy of thy saluation, & stablish me with thy free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked, and finnes shall be conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer me from blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousness.

15 Open thou my lippes, O Lorde, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou desirest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Be fauourable vnto Zion for thy good pleasure: build the walles of Ierusalem.

The foole hath said in his heart, There is no
God: they haue corrupted & done abominable wickednesse: there is none that doth good.
2 God looked down from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.
3 Every one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none y^e doth good, no not one.
4 Doe not the workers of iniquitie knowe that they cate vpon my people as they cate bread?
they call not vpon God.
5 There they were afraid for feare, where no feare was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that belieged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.
6 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion:
when God turneth the captiuitie of his people,
then Iacob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.
7 They cruelly deuote them, & VWhen they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them: Be the enemies power neuer so great, nor the danger to fearefull, yet God deliuereth him in due time.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that vphold my soule.
5 He shall reward guilt vnto mine enemies:
O heate them off in thy truth.
6 Then I will sacrifice freely vnto thee: I

HEARE my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.
2 Harken vnto me, & answer me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse.
3 For the voice of the enemy, & for the vexation of the wicked, because they haue brought iniquity vpon me, and furiously hate me.
4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.
5 Feare and trembling are come vpon mee, and an horrible feare hath covered me.
6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove:
then would I flee away and rest.
7 Beholde, I would take my flight farre off,

9 Delroy, O Lord, & diuide their tongues:
for I haue seene crueltye and strife in the cite.
10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both iniquitie and mischief are in the middes of it.
11 Wickednesse is in the middes thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her treasures.
12 Surely mine enemy did not defame me:
for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduersarie exalt himselfe against me: for I would haue hid me from him.
13 But it was thou, O man, euen my companion, my guide and my familiar:
14 Which delisted in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.
15 Let death cease vpon them: for when I go downe quicke into the graue: for wickednesse is

That is in this light of the sunne.

BE merciful vnto me, O God, for man would swallow me vp: he fighteth continually and vexeth me.

2 Mine enemies would fight swallow me vp:
for many fight against me, O thou most High.

3 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee.
4 I will reioyce in God, because of his word.
I trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 Mine owne d wordes grieue mee daily: all their thoughts are against me to doe me hurt.
6 They gather together, and keepe themselves close: they marke my steps, because they waite for my foule.

7 They thinke they shall escape by iniquitie:
O God, cast these people downe in thine anger.
8 Thou hast counted my wanderings: put my steares into thy bottell: are they not in thy register?

9 When I cry, then mine enemies shall turne backe: this I know, for God is with me.

10 I will reioyce in God, because of his word:
in the Lord will I reioyce because of his word.

11 In God do I trust: I will not be afraid what man can doe vnto me.

12 Thy vowes are vpon mee, O God: I will render praises vnto thee.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and also my feete from falling, that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Psalm of David in Micham. When he fled from Saul in the cave.

HAUE mercie vpon mee, O God, haue mercie vpon mee: for my soule trusteth in thee, and in the shadowe of thy wings will I trust, till these afflictions ouerpass.

2 I will call vnto the most high God, euert to the God, that per formeth his promises toward me.

3 Hee will sende from d heauen, and saue mee from the reprofe of him that would swallow me.
Selah. God will send his mercie, and his truth.

4 My soule is among lyons: I lie among the children of men, that are set on fire: whose teeth are speeres and arrowes, & their tongue a sharpe sword.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heauen,
and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

6 Let thy hand layde a net for my steps: 8 my soule is pressed downe: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the midst of it. Selah.

7 Mine heart is prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared: I will sing and giue praise.

8 Awake my tongue, awake lytle and harpe:
I will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lorde, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the heauens, and thy truth vnto the clouds.

11 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heauens,
and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

P S A L. LVIII.

He describeth the malice of his enemies, the flatters of Saul, who both secretly and openly sought his death, and from whence they speake to Gods iudgements, so shewing that the iust shall triumphe, when they see the punishment of the wicked to the glory of God.

TO him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Micham.

1 Is it true? O Congregation, speake ye iustly? O sonnes of men, iudge ye vprightly?

2 Yea, rather ye imagine mischief in your heart: b your handes execute crueltie vpon the earth.

3 The wicked are strangers from the wombe:
euen fro the belly haue they erred, & speake lies.

4 Their poyson is euen like the poyson of a serpent: like y deaf addar that stoppeth his eare.

5 Which heareth not the voice of the inchanter, though he be most expert in charming.

6 Brake their teeth, O God, in their mouthes: brake the iawes of the yong lyons, O Lorde.

7 Let them smelt like the waters, let them passe away: when hee flooteth his arrowes, let them be as broken.

8 Let them consume like a snail that melteth, and like the vntimely fruit of a woman that hath not scene the funne.

9 As my flesh before your pots feeble the fire of thornes: so let him carry them away as with a whirlewinde in his wrath.

10 The righteous shall reioyce when hee feeth the vengeance: hee shall wash his feete in the blood of the wicked.

11 And men shall say, Verily there is fruit for the righteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

the pot before the water feeth: hee doeth fresh God to destroy before they bring them so passe. h With a pure affliction. i Their punishment and slaughter shall be great. k Seeing God gouerneth all by his prouidence, he must neede put difference betwene the godly and the wicked.

P S A L. LIX.

David being in great danger of Saul, who had to slay him in his le propheth vnto God: 2. Declareth his innocencie, and their fury. 3. Desiring God to destroy all such that haue of malice in their hearts. 4. In which though hee hath layd a time to revenge his people, yet in the end he will confound them in his wrath. 5. That he may be knowne to be the God of Israel in the case of the world. 6. For this hee singeth praises to God, and of his mercie.

TO him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Micham. When Saul sent and they did watch the house to kill him.

O My God, b deliuer mee from mine enemies:
defend me fro them that rise vp against me.

2 Deliuer me from the wicked doers, and saue me from the bloodie men.

3 For loe, they haue layde waite for my soule:
the mightie men are gathered against me, not for mine offence, nor for my sinne, O Lord.

4 They runne and prepare themselves without a fault on my part: arise therefore to assist me, and helpe.

5 Euen thou, O Lord God of hosts, O God of Israel awake to visite all the heathen, and bee not merciful vnto al transgressors maliciously. Selah.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalm partly consisteth meditations, whereby David encouraged himselfe to trust in God against the assaults of temptation. And because our misdeeds are easily drawn from God by the allurements of the world, he sharply reproveth this vanity, to the intent he might cause faith in the Lord.

9 To the excellent Musitian. Jeduthun.

A Psalm of David.

YEt as my soule keepeth silence vnto God: of him commeth my saluation.

2 Yet hee is my strength and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not much be moued.

3 How long will ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall all staine: ye shall be as a bowed wall, or as a wall shaken.

4 Yet they consule to cast him downe from his dignitie: their delight is in lies, they blasse with their mouths, but curse with their hearts. Selah.

5 Yet my soule keepe thou silence vnto God: for my hope is in him.

6 Yet is he my strength, and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not be moued.

7 In God is my saluation and my glory, the rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.

8 Trust in him alway, ye people: & powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.

9 Yet the children of men are vannie, the suddenly deit of yon.

10 David was greatly moued with these troubles, therefore he thrusteth himselfe to trust in God. 11 These verses must be necessary to strengthen his faith against the horrible assaults of Satan.

12 He admonisheth vs of our wicked nature, which rather hide our grow, and bur on the bridle, then vnto our griefe to God to obaine remedy.

10 Trust not in oppression nor in robbery: he not vaine: if riches increase, feare not your heart thereof.

11 God speake once or twice, I have heard it, that power becometh vnto God.

12 And to thee, O Lord, mercy: for thou rewardest euery one according to his work.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 David after he had been in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this Psalm, 2 wherein he thanks to God for his wonderful assistance, in whole mercies he trusted, euen in the midst of his miserie, 3 prophesying the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 and contrariwise his promise to all them that trust in the Lord.

g A Psalm of David. When he was in the wilderness of Iudah.

O God, thou art my God, carely will I seeke thee: my soule b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and drie land without water.

2 Thus c I beholde thee as in the Sanctuary, when I beholde thy power and thy glory.

3 For thy louing kindnesse i better than life: therefore my lips shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy name.

5 My soule shall be satisfied, as with marrow and fatnesse, and my mouth shall praise thee with ioyfull lippes.

6 When I remember thee on my bedde, and when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast b mine helper, therefore vnder the shadow of thy wings will I reioyce.

8 My soule c cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand i upholdeth me.

9 Therefore they that seeke my soule to destroy it, they shall go into the lowest parts of the earth.

10 They shall cast him downe with the edge of the sword, and they shall eate a portion for foxes.

11 But the king shall reioyce in God, and all that s swear by him shall reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shall be stopped.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 David prayeth against the furie and false reports of his enemies. 2 He declares their punishment & destruction, so to the comfort of the iust and the glory of God.

g To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Hear me a voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from feare of the enemy.

1 Hide me from the b conspiracie of the wicked, and from the c rage of the workers of iniquitie.

2 Which haue their thought like a sword, and thot for their arrowes d bitter words:

3 They shoot at the vpright in secret: they shoot at him suddenly, and s feare not.

4 They encourage themselves in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares priuily, and say, Who shall see them?

5 They haue taught our iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they taught out, euen euery one s his secret thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

6 But God will shoot an arrow at them suddenly, and they in oppressing them. 7 There is no way to seeke and subtil to do hurt, which they inuented not for his destruction.

denly: their strokes shall be at once.

8 They shall cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whosoever shall see them, shall b flee away.

9 And all men shall see it, and declare the worke of God, and they shall vnderstand, what he hath wrought.

10 But the righteous i shall be glad in the Lord, and trust in him: and all that are vpright of heart, shall reioyce.

PSAL. LXV.

1 A praise and thanksgiving vnto God by the faithful, who are signified by Zeru, 2 for the changing, profusion and governance of them, 3 and for the plentiful blessing poured forth vpon all the earth, but specially towards his Church.

g To him that excelleth. A Psalm or song of David.

O God, a praise waiteth for thee in Zion, and vnto thee shall the vow be performed.

2 Because thou hearest the prayer, vnto thee shall all b flesh come.

3 Wicked deede c haue preuailed against me: but thou wilt be mercifull vnto our transgressions.

4 Blessed is he, whom thou chusest and causest to come to thee: he shall dwell in thy courts, and we shall be satisfied i with the pleasures of thine House, euen of thine holy Temple.

5 O God of our saluation, thou wilt d answer vs with fearful signes in thy righteousness, O thou the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are farr off in the e sea.

6 He stablisheth the mountains by his power: and is girded about with strength.

7 He appeareth e the noise of the seas, and the noise of the waues thereof, and the murmurs of the people.

8 They also that dwell in the vtremost parts of the earth, shall be afraid of thy signes: thou shalt make t the East and the West to reioyce.

9 Thou s visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou makest it very rich, the b ruer of God is full of water: thou preparest them come: for so thou appointest it.

10 Thou k waterest abundantly the furrowes thereof: thou causest the raine to descend into the valleys thereof: thou makest it soft with snowes, and blessest the bud thereof.

11 Thou crownest the yeere with thy goodness, and thy steps drop fatnesse.

12 They drop vpon the pastures of the wilderness: & the hills shall be compassed with gladnes.

13 The pastures are clad with sheepe: the valleys also shall be couered with corne: therefore thy shout for ioy, l and sing.

14 He sheweth that all y order of nature is as a testimonie of Gods love towards vs, who cauleth all creatures to serue our necessitie. 15 That is, the dumb creature shall not only reioyce for a time for Gods benefits, but shall continually sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He proueth all men to praise the Lord, and to consider his works. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to affray the great, to and sheweth how God hath delivered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 15 He proueth to give sacrifice, 16 and proueth all men to reue what God hath done for him and to praise his Name.

g To him that excelleth. A song or Psalm.

P S A L. LXVIII.

In this Psalm David steth forth as in a glasse the wonderful mercies of God toward his people: 4. Vnto by all means and most frange forers declared himselfe to them. 15. And therefore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces, and victories doth excell without comparison all worldly things. 24. He exhorteth therefore all vnto to praise God for ever.

g To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Iong of David.

God will arise, and his enemies shall be feared: they also that hate him, shall flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth, so shall thou drive them away: and as waxe melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But the righteous shall be glad, and reioyce before God: yea, they shall leape for ioy.

4 Sing vnto God, and sing prayes vnto his name: exalt him that rideth vpon the heavens, in his Name: O Lah, and reioyce before him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherless, and a Judge of the widowes, even God in his holy habitation.

6 God maketh the solitary to dwell in families, and delivereth them that were prisoners in stocks: but the rebellious shall dwell in a dry land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people: when thou wentest thorow the wilderness, (Selah)

8 The earth shooke, and the heavens dropped at the presence of this God: even Sinai was moved at the presence of God, even the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sendest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance, and thou diddest refresh it when it was wearie.

10 Thy Congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast thy goodness prepared it for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue matter to the women to tell of the great armie.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: they did flee, and the that remained in the house, diuided the spoyle.

13 Though ye haue lien among pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove that is covered with silver, and whose feathers are like yellow golde.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was white as the snow in Zalmon.

15 The mountaine of God is like the mountaine of Basan: it is an high mountaine, as mount Basan.

16 Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this mountaine, God delighteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord will dwell in it for euer.

17 The charrets of God are twentie thousand thousand Angels, and the Lord is among them, in the Sanctuaries of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vpon high: thou hast led captiuitie captiue, and receiued gifts for men: yea, even the rebellious shall bow down, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praised be the Lord, even the God of our saluation, which leadeth vs daily with benefits. Selah.

a Canaan, where his Church was, in Zion the Church of God doth excell all worldly things not in pompe & outward shew, but by the inward grace of God, which there remained because of his dwelling there.

b Why boast ye of your enemies if this Church tooketh them prisoners, & made them tributaries: in Christ, which is God manifested in flesh, subdued Satan and sinne vnder vs, and gaue vnto his Church most liberal gifts of his Spirit, Ephes. 8.

a The Prophet sheweth that also if God suffereth the wicked tyrants to oppress his Church for a time, yet at length he will be reuenged of them.

b He sheweth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commoditie and saluation of his Church, which praise him therefore.

c Lah and Iehonah are the names of God, which do signify his essence and maiestie incomprehensible: so thereby is declared that all idols are but vanities, and that the God of Israel is the only true God.

A Psalm of Dauid.

SAUE mee, O God: for the waters are entred vnto my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre, where no staie is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drie mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are more then the haire of mine heade: they that would destroy me, and are mine enemies: falsely, are mightie, so that I reioiced that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnesse, and my fautes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lorde God of hostes, be ashamed for mee: let not those that seeke thee, bee confounded through mee, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffred reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers finnes.

9 For the reule of thine house hath eaten mee, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a pro-curbie vnto them.

12 They that I sate in the gate, spake of mee, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lorde, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I sinke not: let mee be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnes is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproofe and my shames, and my dishonour: all mine p aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauines, and I looked for some to haue pitie on mee, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

THESE 4 prayers of Dauid, the sonne of Ithai.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that wither the world, y prosperitie of the vngodly, 24 nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 25 for as much as the wicked turne away, 26 and the godly enter into his resting place, 28 in hope whereof he reioiceth himselfe into Gods hands.

2 A Psalme committed to Asaph.

YEt God is good to Israel: euen, to the pure in heart.

3 As for me, my feet were almost gone: my steps had well nere slipped.

4 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prostitute of the wicked.

5 For there are no bonds in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

6 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with sorrow.

7 Therefore pride is as a cleane vnto them, and clemencie couereth them as a garment.

8 Their eyes stand out for fatnesse: for they haue more then heart can with.

9 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppressor: they talke presumptuously.

10 They glory in their pride, as some doe in their chains, and in cuthie as some doe in apparel. For, they passe the dayes of the deare.

9 They 4set their mouth against heaven, and their tongue walketh thotow the earth.

10 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Loe these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I haue cleansed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For daily haue I bene punished, and chastised euery morning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painfull for me,

17 Vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast fet them in slippery places, and callest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord, when thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despid.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolish was I & ignorant: I was a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glory.

25 Whom haue I in heaven but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion for euer.

27 For loe, they that withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that goe auhoring from thee.

28 As for mee, it is good for mee to draw nere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

reason to secke out Gods iudgements, the more doth he declare himselfe a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watch alwayes ouer me to preserve me. n He taught neither helpe nor comfort of any face of God only. o He teacheth vs to desire our felicitie, to haue God our whole satisfaction, and ouerly contentment. p That is, forsake thee to secke others. q Though all the world shinke in God, yet he promiseth to stand in him, and to ingulf his works.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The first of all complaints of the Church and her religion, 2 under the name of Zion, and the temple destroyed: 31 And testifying the might and free mercie of God, 32 by his clemencie, 33 they require helpe for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruaunts, 33 and the confusion of his proud enemies.

2 A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, a why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

3 Thinke vpon thy congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, and on the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

4 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemy that doeth euill to the Sanctuary.

5 Thinke not that hast measured out for thy felle as with a line of vnde.

d They blaspheme God, and are not his power, & rule vpon men, because they esteeme them selfe as gods.

e Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God often times fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrow, thinking that God conuicteth not right the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth enen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g I giue place to my wicked thought, I offend against thy prouidence, seeing thou disposdest all things most wisely, and prouidently thy children in their great dangers.

h Vntill I eued into thy school, and I learned by thy word and holy Spirit, that thou orderdest all things most wisely, and iolly.

4 Thine adversaries roare in the midst of thy Congregation, & set vp their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was removed, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carved worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and raised it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroy them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersarie reproch thee? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, when thy right hand? draw it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of olde, working saluation in the middes of the earth.

13 Thou diddest diuide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Leviathan in pieces, and gauest him to be meat for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and ruer: thou driedst vp mighty riuers.

16 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

17 Thou hast fet all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Summer and Winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Give not the soule of thy turtle dove vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for o the daikie places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruell.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needie praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: mainteine thine owne cause: remember thy daily reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

1 A lamentable prayer in God to hope the miseries of his Church, 8. Desiring him to consider their first estate, when his favour shined towards them, so the intent that he might finally that work which he had begun.

2 To him that excel'th on Shophaniam Edith. A Psalm committed to Asaph.

1 H EARE O thou Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Ioseph like sheepe: shew thy brightness, thou that sittest betweene the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim & Benjamin, and Manasse stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs. 3 Turne vs againe, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be faued.

4 O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people? 5 Thou hast fedde them with the bread of teares, & giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.

6 Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselves. 7 Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shall be faued.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it. 9 Thou madest rouse for it, & diddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the land.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughes thereof were like the fig goodly cedars. 11 She stretched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the River.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her? 13 The wilde i bore out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beastes of the field haue eaten it vp.

14 Returne we beseech thee, O God of hostes: looke downe k from heauen and behold and visite this vine, 15 And the vineyard that thy right hand hath planted, and the yong vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.

³ A song, or Psalm committed to Asaph.

⁴ Keep ^a not thou silence, O God: be not still, and cease not, O God.

⁵ For loe, thine ^b enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, have lifted up the head.

⁶ They have taken craftie counsell against thy people, and have consulted against thy secret ones.

⁷ They have said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

⁸ For they have consulted together in heart, and have made a league against thee:

⁹ The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

¹⁰ Gehal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyus:

¹¹ Asihur also is joyned with them: they have bene an arme to the children of Lot Selah.

1 David fore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth fervently for deliverance: sometimes rebuking his unbelief, 2 sometimes the mercies received. 11 He singeth also to be assisted of the Lord, that he may praise him and glorify his Name. 14
He complaineth also of his alarmes, and requesteth to be delivered from them.

A Prayer of David.

1 Ncline thine ear, O Lord, and heare me: for
I am poore and needie.

2 Prefume thou my soule, for I am b mercifull:
my God, save thou thy servant, y trusteth in thee.
3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I cry vp-on thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy servant: for vnto thee, O Lord, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, Lorde, art good and d mercifull, and of great kindnesse vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Giue care, Lord, vnto my prayer, and e hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lorde, and there is none that can doe like thy works.

9 All nations, y whom thou hast made; shall come and worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 b Teache mee thy way, O Lorde, and I will walke in thy truth: y knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lorde my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for euer.
13 For great is thy mercy toward me, and thou hast deliuered my soule from i the lowest graue.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue k fought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lorde, art a pitifull God and mercifull, slow to anger and great in kindnesse and truth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me;
giue thy strength vnto thy seruaut, and save the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew a token of thy goodnes toward me, that they which hate mee, may see it, and be ashamed, because: thou, O Lorde, hast holpen me and comforted me.

2 I will say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortresse: be ^b my God, in him I trust.

3 Surely he will deliuer thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noyome penitence.

4 He will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be safe vnder his feathers: his ^c trust shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flyeth by day:

6 Nor of the penitence that walketh in the darkenesse: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and tenne thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine ^d eyes shalt thou beholde, and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou ^e hast said, The Lord ^f my hope: thou shalt set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euill come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lyon and aspe: the ^g yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder feet.

14 Because he hath loued me, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because he hath known my Name.

15 He shall call vpon me, and I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With ^h long life will I satisfie him, and shewe him my salvation.

¶ Thou shalt not only be preferred from euill, but overcome it whether it be secret or open. 1 To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, he bringeth in God to confirme the same. k For he is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortness of this life is recompensed with immortallitie.

PSAL XCII.

¶ This Psalm was made by David, on the Sabbath, in answer to the people to acknowledge God's grace in his house. The Prophet reuieweth therein, 6 But the wicked is not able to confesse that the vngodly, when he is most lowe, shall most freely perish. 12 In the end is described the felicitie of his last, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalm or song for the Sabbath day.

It is a good thing to praise the Lord, & to sing vnto thy Name, O most High.

2 To declare thy louing kindeesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 Vpon an ⁱ instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viose with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy ^j workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An ^k vnwise man knoweth is not, and a Christs comming abolished. 8 He sheweth what is the use of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes. e That is, the wicked confesse not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most fully perish.

a He that maketh Gods defence and truth, shall perseuer in his protection to be a most sure helpe. b Being assured of this protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord. c That is, Gods helpe is most ready for vs, whether Satan assaile vs secretly, he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the penitence. d Thus, is his full keeping of promise to helpe thee in thy need.

e The care that God hath ouer his most innocent to defend them from all dangers.

f The goodly that haue some experience of Gods iudgements against the wicked, even in this life, but finally they shall see vs at that day, when all things shall be created.

g God hath appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to defend him and keep them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without templing.

h God hath appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to defend him and keep them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without templing.

i Which teacheth, that the use of the Sabbath day is to praise God, and not only in ceasing from worldly workes.

j For Gods much cleaue and shining in his promises toward his, kinde them no promise him continually both day and night.

k These instruments were then permitted, but a Christs comming abolished.

l He sheweth what is the use of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes. e That is, the wicked confesse not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most fully perish.

f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and bleste them with all felicity.

h Though the faithful seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God as the Cedars doe in mount Lebanon.

i The children of God shall haue a power aboue nature, and their age shall bring forth most fresh fruites.

a As God by his power and wisdom hath made and gouerneth the world: so mult the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers.

b Wherein thou fittest and gouernest the world. e Godd power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

d Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and covenant.

a Whole offence it is to take vengeance on the wicked.

b Shew by effect that thou art iudge of the world to punish the wicked.

c That is, praye of their crueltie and oppression: or effectment thereof lesse aboue all other.

d Seeing the Church was then so free oppressed, it ought not to be more strait to vs, if we see it in now, and therefore we must call to God, to take our case in hand.

e He sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholly to doe wickedly. f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, & vnderstand their wickednesse. g If God punish whole nations for their sinnes, it is impie folly for any one man, or ch a shew, to thinke that God will spare them.

foole doeth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish) that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art ^e most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord, for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

10 But thou shalt exalt mine home, like the vnicornes, and I shall be anointed with fresh oyle.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.

12 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courtes of our God.

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in their age: they shall be fat and flourishing.

15 To declare that the Lorde my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 He praefeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and sheweth downe all people which lift them vp against his Majesty. 2 And prometh to confound his enemies.

THe Lord reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall be established, that it cannot be moued.

2 Thy throne is established of olde: thou art from curuelating.

3 The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.

4 The waues of the sea are marueilous through the noyse of many waters, yet the Lord on High is more mightie.

5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holinesse becometh thine House, O Lord, for euer.

6 Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and covenant.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 He praefeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants. 2 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 3 Then sheweth to comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did for his others, and by the ruine of the wicked. 4 Whom the Lord will destroy.

O Lord God is the auenger, O God the auenger, shew thy selfe b clearly.

2 Exalt thy selfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proude.

3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?

4 They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt them selves.

5 They d smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse.

7 Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iakob regard it.

8 Vnderstand ye vnwisdom of the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wiser?

9 He that planted the eare, shall hee not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall hee not see?

10 Or he that chastiseth the nations, shall hee not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall hee not know?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou b chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, & all the vpright in heart shall followe after it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not b holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, My foote slideth, thy mercie, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my m thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.

20 Hath the throne of iniquitie b Fellowship with thee, which forged wrong for a Lawe?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And he will recompense them their wickednes, and d destroy them in their owne malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

sheweth of God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to praise God. 2 For the government of the world, and the election of his Church. 3 An admonition vs to follow the reuelation of the old fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: 4 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

COME, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing a aloude vnto the rocke of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his face with praise: let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalms.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King aboue all b gods.

4 In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of the mountains are his:

5 To whome the Sea belongeth: for he made it, and his hands formed the drie land.

6 Come, let vs d worship and fall downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his e hand: to day, if e will heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, & as in the day of Massah in the wilderness.

9 Where your fathers tempted me, though they had seene my worke.

10 Fourtie yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that serue in heart, for they haue not known my wayes.

11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my b rest.

Rocke: that is, if they heare his voyce. f By the contemning of Gods worde, i In a story, whereof the place was called, Mer, temptation, made Exodus 17.26. Genesis 17.22. Numbers 14.22. g They were without iudgement and reason.

h That is into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

PSAL.

b God hath care ouer his, and chastiseth them for their wealth, that they should not perish for euer with the wicked. i God will reforme the state and gouernment of things to their right vie, and then the godly shall followe him cheerfully.

k He complaineth of his tribulation, which would not helpe him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile. l When I thought there was no way but death.

m In my trouble and distress, I once found thy great helpe.

n Though the wicked iudges pretend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that so perfect iudgement as thou hast.

a He sheweth that Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of prais and thanksgiving.

b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles which mans braine inuenteth.

c All things are gouerned by his providence. d By these three wordes he signifies one thing: meaning, that they must wholly giue them selves to serue God.

e That is, the flocke whome he gouerneth with his owne hand. He sheweth wherein they are Gods

PSAL.

PSAL. XCVI.

1. An exhortation both to the Jews and Gentiles to praise God, for his mercies. And this psalm is to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is great and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

8 Giue vnto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring in offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people in righteousness.

11 Let the heavens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce.

13 Before the Lord: for he cometh, for hee cometh to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness and the people in his truth.

14 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the coming of the kingdom of Christ. 2 Desires all to reioyce and sing, and to reioyce in the just, who are exulting in innocence.

3 To reioyce and sing in the just.

4 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

5 The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.

6 Clouds and darkenes are round about him: righteousness and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

7 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

8 His lightnings gaue light vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was affaide.

9 The mountains melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

10 The heauens declare his righteousness, and all the people fee his glory.

11 Confounded be all they that serue grauen images, and that glory in idols: worshipping him fall ye gods.

12 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioycied, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

13 For thou, O Lord, art most high above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

14 Ye that loue the Lord, hate euill: hee profenieth the foules of his Sains: he wil deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

15 Light is shewn for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

16 For thou, O Lord, art most high above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

17 Ye that loue the Lord, hate euill: hee profenieth the foules of his Sains: he wil deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

18 Light is shewn for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

19 For thou, O Lord, art most high above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

20 Ye that loue the Lord, hate euill: hee profenieth the foules of his Sains: he wil deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

21 Light is shewn for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holy remembrance.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1. An earnest exhortation to all to reioyce in praise the Lord for his power, mercie and faithfulness in his promises by Christ. 2. To reioyce for hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

A Psalm.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he hath done maruelous things: his right hand, and his holy arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his saluation his righteousness hath he reuelled in the fight of the nations.

3 Hee hath remembered his mercie and his truth towards the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing praises.

5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harpe, vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With halles and founte of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roar, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountains reioyce together.

9 Before the Lord: for hee is come to iudge the earth: with righteousness shall hee iudge the world, and the people with equite.

10 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 Hee commeth with the power, equite, and excellencie of the kingdom of God by Christ ouer the Jewes and Gentiles. 2 And proueth them to magnifie the same vnto the Lord. 3 And following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayer.

4 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

5 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: the fitteth betweene the Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

6 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all the people.

7 They shall praise thy great and fearefull Name (for it is holy).

8 And the Kings power, that Ioueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equite: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iakob.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his footstool: for hee is holy.

10 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests: and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: theee called vpon the Lord, and hee heard them.

11 Hee spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Lawe that hee gaue them.

12 Thou heardest him, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou didst take vengeance for their intentions.

13 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his holy Mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.

14 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

15 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

16 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

17 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

18 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

19 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

20 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

21 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

22 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

23 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

24 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

25 Hee shall see that they worship him onely. g Hee prophesie that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Jews of Gods promises. h He shall reioyce them a new with his Spirit, and reioyce them in the image of God. i If the inferiour creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malice and sinne.

3 Know ye that euen the Lorde is God : hee hath ^b made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.
4 Enter into his gates with prayse, and into his courtes with reioycing : praise him and blefse his Name.

1 David describeth what government hee will observe in his house and kingdomes. 5 He will punish and correct, by rooting forth sin wicked, 6 And chastising the godly persons.

7 A Psalm of David.

1 Will I sing mercie and iudgement : vnto thee, 10 Lord, will I sing.
2 I will doe wisely in the perfitte way, but thou comest to me : I will walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.
3 I will not be wicked thing before mine eyes : I hate ^c the worke of them that fall away : it shall not cleaue vnto me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me : I will know none euil.
5 Him that priuily ^d slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy : him that hath a proude looke and hie heart, I cannot suffer.
6 Mine eyes ^e shall vnto the ^f faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me : he that walketh in a perfitte way, he shall serue me.
7 There shall no deceiuefull person dwell with in mine house : hee that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.
8 Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.
 a David considereth what manner of King he would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.
 b Though as yet thou desirest to place me in the Kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisdom and vprightnes being a private man.
 c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.
 d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about Kings, hee declareth that hee will punish all.
 e He sheweth what is the true vie of the sword : to punish the wicked, and to maintain the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, least it growe to further inuincement, and if heauenly Magistrates are bound to doe this, howe much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

1 He sheweth that this prayer was appointed to the faithfull to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The comfort of the Gentiles. 28 And the stability of the Church.

7 A prayer of the afflicted, when he shall be in distresse, and pouere forth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lorde, heare my prayer, and let my ^b cry come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me : when I call, make hast to heare me.
3 For my dayes are ^c consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.

10 Because of thine ^b indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.
11 My dayes are like a shadowe that faderth, and I am withered like grasse.
12 But thou, O Lord, doe not remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.
13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.
14 For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pite on the dust thereof.
15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the Kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the Lorde shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare ^c in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people, which shall bee ^d created, shall praise the Lord.
19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuaries: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth, 20 That hee might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the ^e children of death:
21 That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Ierusalem.
22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the Kingdomes to serue the Lord.
23 Hee ^f abated my strength in the way, and shortened my dayes.
24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the middes of my dayes: thy yeres endure from generation to generation.
25 Thou hast aforetime layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine hands.
26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waxe olde as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.
27 But thou art the same, and thy yeres shall not faile.
28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, and thy feede shall stand ^g fast in thy sight.

to seeke God, for-asmuch as all the waters, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth w good things:
and thy youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness & iudgment to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes known vnto Moyses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercy, slow to anger and of great kindeesse.

9 He will not alway chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as he is as the heauen is about the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remoued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of a man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, & it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

Lord.

PSAL. CIII.

1 An exultum. Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, and the governance of the same by his marvellous providence. 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glorie and honour.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light, as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a cur-taine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his charet, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh his spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer moue.

6 Thou couerdest it with the deepe as with a garment: the waters would stand about the mountaines.

7 But when thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer
the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleys, which runne betweene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wilde asses shall quench their thirst:

12 By these springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to grow for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted,

17 That the birds may make their nests there:
the stork dwelleth in the firs trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the jagoats:
the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appoynted the moone for certaine seasons: the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creep forth.

21 The lions roare after their pray, and seeke their meat at Gods hand.

22 When the sunne rieth they retire, & couch in their dens.

23 Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euenig.

24 O Lord, how manifolde are thy workes!
in wisdom hath thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is the sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea, that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayst giue them food in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it:
thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die and returne to their dust:

30 Against thou send forth thy spirit, they are created, & thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth:
he toucheth the mountaines, and they smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my words be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and the wicked til there be no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

Praise the Lord, and call vpon his Name: declare his works among the people.
2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous works.
3 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.
4 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.
5 Remember his marueilous works, that he hath done, his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.
6 Ye feed of Abraham his seruant, ye children of Iacob, which are his elect.
7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are thorowall the earth.
8 He hath alway remembered his covenant, & promises, that he made to a thousand generations,
9 Even that which he made with Abraham, and his oth vnto Izhak:
10 And since hath confirmed it to Iacob for a law, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 11 Saying, I vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of thy inheritance.
12 Albeit they were few in number, yea very few and strangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people, 14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reprocured kings for their sakes, saying,
15 Touch not mine b anoynted, and doe my Prophets no harme.
16 Moreover, he called a famine vpon the land, and vterly brake the staffe of bread.
17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was folke for a slaue.
18 They held his feet in the stocks, and he was layd in yrons.
19 Vntill his appoynted time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.
20 The King sent and loosed him: even the Ruler of the people deliuered him.
21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance, 22 That hee should binde his princes vnto his will, and teache his ancients wisdom.
23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressors.
25 He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.
26 Then sent he Moses his seruant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.
27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkenesse, & made it darke: and they were not discomfited vnto his commission.
29 He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs, even in their kings chambers.
31 He p spake, and there came swarmes of flies, and lice in all their quarters.
32 He gaue them hail for raine, and flames of fire in their land.
33 Hee smote their vines also and their figge trees, and brake downe the trees in their coails.

34 He spake and the grasshoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable,
35 And did eat vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.
36 He smote also all the hilt borne in their land, even the beginning of all their strength.
37 He brought them forth also with silver and golde, and there was none feeble among their tribes.
38 Egypt was glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.
39 He spread a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.
40 They walked, and he brought quails, and he killed them with the bread of heauen.
41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and raine in the drie places like a river.
42 For hee remembered his holy promise to Abraham his seruant, 43 And hee brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladnesse, 44 And gaue them the lands of the heathen, and they tooke the labours of the people in possession, 45 That they might keepe his statutes, and obserue his laws. Praise the Lord.

6 Wee haue a sinned with our fathers: wee haue committed iniquitie and done wickedly.
7 Our fathers vnderstood not thy wonders in Egypt, neither remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, even at the red sea.
8 Neuertheless he rescued them for his Names sake, for he might make his power to be known.
9 And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.
10 And hee saued them from y aduersaries hand, & deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.
11 And the waters couered their oppressors: not one of them was left.
12 Then he beleued they his words, and sang praise vnto him.
13 But incontinently they forgot his works: they waited not for his counsell.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to praise God for his benefits past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and desires.
b He sheweth that it is not enough to praise God with mouth, except the whole heart agree thereto, and all our life be thereto framed.
c Let the good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be reuered into the number of thine.
d By earnest confession auoid all of their owne, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would piete them.
e The inestimable goodness of God

14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire; but he sent leanness into their soule.

16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened & swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth graffe.

21 They forgate God their Sauour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderful workes in the land of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had 1 not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest hee should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and beleecued not his worde.

25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore hee lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreys.

28 They ioynd themselves also vnto Balaam, and did eate the offerings of the dead.

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Phinehas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed.

31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness, from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sake, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that hee spake vnaduisedly, with his lippes.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes,

36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils,

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whome they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they slayned with their owne workes, and went awhoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lordes ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and how much more a thing is latreie, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde cannot obtaine small things. x Then true chastitie is cleane wholly and ouerly vaine God,

45 And he remembred his couenant towards them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the fight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that wee may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy prayse.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him to give thanks, 9 For this mercifull prouidence of God, governing all things at his good pleasure, 10 Sending good and euill, prospering and aduersity to bring men vnto him. 48 Therefore as the righteous thereof reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouths stopped.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them, b which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the South.

4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and founde no citie to dwell in,

5 Both hungry and thirsty, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindeffe, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 They that dwell in darkenesse and in the shadowe of death, being bounden in miserie and yron,

11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High,

12 When he humbled their heart with beauties, then they fel downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse.

14 He brought them out of darkenesse & out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bondes asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindeffe, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For hee hath broken the gates of brass, and braist the barres of yron asunder.

17 Forfooles by reason of their transgression,

y The Prophet sheweth that neither by merces, nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercy ouercometh and hides our malice.

a Not that God is changeable in himself, but that them he seemeth vs to reprob, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiveness vs.

a Gather thy Church, who is dispersed, and give all praye in thee.

PSAL. CVIIL

This Psalm is composed of a few other Psalms before he seuen and sixteenth, and the sixteenth. The matter here contained is, 1. That David giueth himself with heart and voyce to praise the Lord. 2. And offereth himself for the promise of God concerning his kingdomes ouer Israel, and his prayer against other nations: 11. Who though hee seems to forsake vs for a time, yet hee alway will in the ende call downe our enemies.

God, A song or Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

a This earnest affection declareth that hee is free from hypocrisie, and that suggestiue fleshly flayeth him not. For my glory, because it is chiefly Iusteth forth the glory of God.

Awake viole and harpe: will awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great about the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, above the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth:

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: help with thy right hand and here me.

7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasse shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine hand: Iuda is my lawgiuer.

9 Moab shall be my washpott: ouer Edom will I callt out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie which will bring me into Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest forsaken vs, and diddest not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Gine vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shall do valiantly: for he shall treade downe our enemies.

shall be subied vnto mee. * Psalm, 66. 8. From the first verse of this Psalm vnto the last, eade the exposition in the Psalm, and fit verse.

David being fully accursed by flatters vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him to escape, his enemies.

And vnder the name of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27. And do-resth to be deliuered, that his enemies may know the workes of God. 30. Then doth he promise to giue prayer vnto God.

To him that exalteth. A Psalm of David.

H Olde nor thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deccie are opened vpon me, they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded me euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersary stand at his right hand:

7 When hee shall be iudged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be vagabonds and beg and seeke bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: neither let there be any to shew mercie vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: & let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lorde, that he may cut off their memorial from y earth.

goods, are by Gods iust judgement deprived of all, g. Thus punisheth the Lorde to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

b He Prophesied of geance vpon him.

the extortioners,
who thinking to enrich their children by their inlawfull gains.

g Thus punisheth
the Lorde to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children.

16 He sheweth that God accomplisheth to plague the sinner a strange sort that sheweth themselves cruell to ward other.

17 Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing wherein he deliveth, that the reprobate can not accuse God of wrong when they are given vp to their lusts and reprobate mindes.

18 For being delinquent of mans he, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliuer him.

19 As thou art named merciful, gracious and long suffering, so shew thy faith in effect.

20 In Meaning that he hath no flay nor assurance in this world.

21 For hunger, that came of sorrow, he was leane, and his naturall moisture failed him.

22 O the more grieuous that Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer.

23 They shall gaine nothing by causing me.

24 Not onely in confesting it secretly in his selfe, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

25 Merely he sheweth that he had not to do with them that were of liue power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

16 Because he remembered not to shew mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the forsool hearted to lay him.

17 As he loued cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as he loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oile into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shall be all way girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them, that speake euill against my foule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatnesse.

25 I came also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: so faue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shall know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise & be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I will giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly w my mouth, & praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poore, to faue him from them that would condemn his foule.

PSAL. CX.

1 David prophesie of the power and cursting kingdome given to Christ, 4. and of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Zion: be thou ruler in the mids of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of offering: as thine armie in holy beaurie: the youth of thy wombe shall be the morning dew.

4 The Lord swaie & will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The Lord, that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall be iudge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head out the great countries.

7 He shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

8 As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king save onely in Christ, Hebrew. 7. 6. No power shall be able to resist him. Under this similitude of a scapegoat, that is free to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thanks to the Lord for his mercifull works toward his Church, 10. and declareth wherein to be wise and right knowledge consisteth.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Will I praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The works of the Lord are great, & ought to be fought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull & glorious, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is mercifull and full of compassion.

5 He hath giuen a portion vnto them that feare him: he will euer be mindful of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his king in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are truth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in truth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his couenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue it, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

11 In effect doth he declare himselfe iust and true in the government of the same.

12 They onely are wise, that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word. 13 To wit, his commandments, as verily.

PSAL. CXII.

1 He praiseth the felicity of them that feare God, 10. and commendeth the curst fate of the contemptors of God.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Blessed is the man, that feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seed shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 Riches and treasures shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull, and lendeth, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely hee shall neuer be mooued: but the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraied of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 Hee hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his home shall be exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it and be angrie: hee shall gnash with his teeth, and cōsume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

11 The godly pinch not nigardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessity of the poore requireth, and as his power is able. 12 His power & prosperous estate.

13 The blessings of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to die for enuy.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence, 7. in that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise, O ye seruants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord from henceforth and for euer.

3 The works are so wonderfull, and that we are created for the same cause.

4 The Prophet declareth that he will praise God both priuately and openly, & that it is the best can be that consisteth in his felicity wholly and onely vnto God.

5 Hee sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause, wherefore we should praise him, but chief by his benefits toward his Church.

6 God hath giuen to his people all that was necessary for them, and will do still even for his cōsummate sake, and in this is the Hebrew word is taken, Pro. 10. 26. and 31. 15.

the barren children, he the wech-
y God worketh not only in his church by ordinary meanes, but also by miracles.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.
4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heauens.
5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high, 6 Who abaseth himselfe to beholde things in the liuans, and in the earth!
7 He raiseth the needie out of the dust, and lifteth vp the poore out of the dung, 8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.
9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, and a ioyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL CXIII.

1 How the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, and of the wonderfull miracles that God wrought at that time, which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who when the cause of nature faileth, preferreth his miraculously.

When Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Iaakob from the a barbarous
people,

2 Iudah was b his sanctification, and Israel his dominion.
3 The Sea saw it and fled: Iorden was turned backe.

4 The c mountaines leaped like rammes, and the hillies as lambs.

5 What ailed thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest?
O Iorden, why wast thou turned backe?

6 Ye mountaines, why leaped ye like rammes, and ye hillies as lambs?

7 The d earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iaakob,

8 Which e turneth the rocke into water-pools, and the flint into a fountaine of water.

d Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and maiestie: e That is caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in most abundance, Exod 17, 6.

PSAL CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9. trusting most confidently that God will preserve them in their need, saying that he hath adopted them as his own, and promising finally that they will not be disappointed of so great a benefit, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

Not a vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name glorie the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy truths sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, b Where is now thy God?

3 But our God is in heauen: he doth whatsoeuer he c will.

4 Their idols are d siluer and golde, euen the workes of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.

7 They haue c hands and touch not: they haue feet and walke not: neither make they a found with their throat.

8 They that make them are f like vnto them:
so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lord: for hee is thy helpe and thy shield, their helpe and their shield,

10 O house of Aaron, trust ye in the Lord:
for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord:
for he is their helpe and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs: hee will bleesse, he b will bleesse the house of Israel, he will bleesse the house of Aaron.

13 He will bleesse them that feare the Lord, both small and great.

14 The Lord will increase his graces toward you, euen toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blestified of the Lord, which i made the heauen and the earth.

16 The k heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that l go downe into the place of silence.

18 But we will praise the Lord from henceforth and for euer, Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL CXVI.

1 David being in great danger of death in the desert of Moab, preserving the great and inestimable loue of God toward him, expresseth such great mercie, 13. and promisseth that hee will be thankfull for the same.

I Loue the Lord, because hee hath heard my voyce and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him b in my dayes.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, & the griefs of the gaule caught me: when I found trouble and sorrow,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is c mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion,

6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in misericordie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest, O d my soule: for the Lord hath bene beneficent vnto thee,

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feet from falling.

9 I shall e walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

10 I beleueed, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

11 I liid in my s feare, All men are liars.

12 What shall I render vnto the Lord for all his beneficents toward me?

13 I will b take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, euen
now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints.

16 Beholde, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaid:
thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, and will call vpon the Name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my k vowes vnto the Lord, euen
now in the presence of all his people,

19 In the courts of the Lords house, euen in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem, Praise ye the Lord.

the cuppe and drinke in signe of thankes giuing. i I perceiue that God hath bene ouer him, so that hee both dispeth their death, and taketh an account, k I will thanke him for his beneficis: for that is a iust payment, to conuict that we were all to God.

b That is, in conuenient time to c Hee sheweth forth the fruit of his loue

in calling vpon him, continuing him to them that are distressed of ayd and

d Which was required before,

things, and therefore was moued

fesse them.

g In my great distresse I thought God would not is but lies and vanities, yet I overcame this reasoning, and felt the contrary.

hee will overcome the impediments

e Seeing that neither the matter,

there is nothing, why they should be a blemed. e He sheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason.
f As much without sense, as blockes and stones.

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contumaciously depart from thy truth.
d When the powers of the world gaue false sentence against me, thy worde was a guide and counsellor to teach me what to doe, and to comfort me.

a That it is almost brought to the graue, & without thy word I cannot liue.
b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.
c If God did not mainteine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.
d I desired to be in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will.
e By this hee sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods worde, nor come forward in his way, except hee make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on to the ende, except God teach him oftentimes, and lead him forward.
b Not only in outward confession but also with inward affection.
c Hereby meaning all other vices, because that countenances is the roote of all euill.
d Meaning all his sinnes.
e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart still deliue in thy gracious worde, & find mee strength to continue in thy worde euen to the ende.

a Hee sheweth that Gods mercy and loue is the first cause of our saluation.
b By trusting in Gods worde he assueth himselfe to be able to confute the flanders of his adversaries.
c They that simply walke after Gods word, haue no lette to iustangle them, whereas they that doe contrary, are euer in nettes and snares.
d He sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glorie to be obscured by the vaine pompe of Princes.

31 Thou hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandments.
32 Remove from mee shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

33 Princes also did sit, and speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
34 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellors.

DALETH.

35 My soule cleaueth to the dust: quicken me according to thy worde.

36 I haue declared my wayes, and thou hearest me: teach me thy statutes.

37 Make me to vnderstand thy way of thy precepts, & I will meditate in thy wondrous works.

38 My soule melteth for heavynesse: raise me vp according vnto thy word.

39 Take from mee the way of lying, and graunt me graciously thy Lawe.

40 I haue chosen the way of truth, and thy iudgements haue I laid before me.

41 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.

42 I will runne the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

HE.

43 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the ende.

44 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Lawes, & I will keepe it with my whole heart.

45 Direct me in the path of thy commandments: for the euill is my delight.

46 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to contumeliousnesse.

47 Turne away mine eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.

48 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

49 Take away my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

50 Beholde, I desire thy commandments: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAV.

51 And let thy louing kindnesse come vnto me, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promise.

52 So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy worde.

53 And take not the worde of truth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wayte for thy iudgements.

54 So shall I alway keepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

55 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.

56 I will speake also of thy testimonies before Kings, and will not be ashamed.

57 And my delight shall be in thy commandments, which I haue loued.

58 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commandments, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

59 Remember the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

60 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickened me.

61 The proude haue had me exceedingly in derision, yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

62 I remembered thy iudgements of olde, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

63 Feare is come vpon mee for the wicked, that forsake thy Lawe.

64 Thy statutes haue bene my forerunner in the house of my pilgrimage.

65 I haue remembered thy Name, O Lord, in the night, and haue kept thy Lawe.

66 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

67 glory, and indignation against the wicked, e In the course of this life and lowly exile, f Euen when other sleepe, g That is all their beauties.

CETH.

68 O Lord, that are my portion, I haue desired to keepe thy wordes.

69 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy promise.

70 I haue considered my wayes, and turned my feete into thy testimonies.

71 I made haste and delayed not to keepe thy commandments.

72 The bandes of the wicked haue robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Lawe.

73 At midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

74 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

75 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy statutes.

TETH.

76 O Lord, thou hast delt graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy worde.

77 Teach me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleehed thy commandments.

78 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy worde.

79 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

80 The proude haue imagined a lie against me; but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

81 Thy heart is fatte as grease: but my delight is in thy Law.

82 It is a good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

83 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and silver.

84 Hee confesseth that before that hee was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

IOD.

85 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned me: I will keepe thy commandments, therefore, that I may learne thy commandments.

86 So they that feare thee, seeing mee, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.

87 I knowe, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me justly.

88 I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort me according to thy promise vnto thy seruant.

89 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may liue: for thy Law is my delight.

90 Let the proude be ashamed: for they haue despised thy word, O Lord, and haue despised thy Law.

91 Hee declareth, that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead, deale:

a Though hee had felt Gods hand still to lie vpon him, yet hee refused to be comforted himselfe therein.
b Meaning the wicked, which contemne Gods worde, and tread his religion vnder foote.
c That is the examples, whereby thou declarest thy faith to be iudged of the world.
d That is a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked, e In the course of this life and lowly exile, f Euen when other sleepe, g That is all their beauties.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy Law is an heritage and great gaine for me.
b He sheweth that none can imbrace the word of God, except hee consider his owne imperfections & wayes.
c They haue gone about to draw me into their company, d Not only in mutual confessions, but also with sydes and succour.
e For the knowledge of Gods worde is a singular toke of his fauour.

a Having proceeded by experiences that God was true in his promise, he desireth that he would increase in his knowledge and iudgement.
b So Ieremie sayth, that before the Lord conched him, he was like a calfe vntamed; so that the vie of Gods roddes is to call vs home to God.
c Their heart is indurated and hardened, stuffed vp with prosperitie.

a Because God leaueh not his worde, that he hath begone, he desireth a newe grace: that is, that he would increase his mercies.
b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he stretcheth to whether hee shall not them that trust in him.
c Hee declareth, that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead, deale:

d That is, be comforted by mine example.

e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

f Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and flourisheth still in thy word.

g Like a skinned bottle, or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

h How long wilt thou afflict thy servant?

i They have not only oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.
 k Heauenly Father, that God will deliver him, and destroy such as violently persecute them.
 l Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

a Recuse none should chuse Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, be it whether it is a burden in heauen, and therefore is immutable.

b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and changeable.
 c He pronounceth by effect, that he is Gods child, because he seeketh to understand his word.
 d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an end: onely Gods word lasteth for ever.

a He sheweth that we can not lose Gods word, except we exercise our felues therein and practise it.
 b Whosoever doth submit himselfe only to Gods word, shall not onely be safe against the practices of his enemies, but also learne more wisdomes, then that they profess it, and are men of experience.
 c So then of our felues we can do nothing, but when God doth inwardly instruct vs by his spirit, we feele his graces sweeter then honey.

a Of our felues we are weaknesse, and can not free, except we be reherced with Gods word.
 b So all the faithful ought to binde themselves to God by a solemne oath & promise, to flirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word.

dealt wickedly and falsly with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let such as feare thee & turne vnto me, and they that c know thy testimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpbright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

CAP. H.

81 My soule a fainteth for thy saluation: yet I wait for thy word.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a bottle in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the c dayes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?

85 The proude haue digged pitres for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly: c helpe me.

87 They had almost consumed me vpon the earth: but I forooke not thy precepts.

88 Quickene me according to thy louing kindness: so that I keepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 O Lorde, thy worde endureth for euer in a heauen.

90 Thy truth is from generation to generation: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They b continue vnto this day by thine ordinances: for all c thy seruants.

92 Except thy Lawe had bene my delite, I should now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am c thine, saue me: for I haue sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I haue ferene an end of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

MEM.

97 Oh howe loue I thy Lawe! a it is my meditation continually.

98 By thy commandements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are cuer v me.

99 I haue had more vnderstanding then al my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

100 I vnderstood more then the ancients, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euil way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined fro thy iudgements: for c thou didst teach me.

103 Howe sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yes, more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falshood.

NUN.

105 Thy worde is a a lanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path.

106 I haue b sworn & will performe it, that I will not faile to do as thou hast commanded me.
 c So all the faithful ought to binde themselves to God by a solemne oath & promise, to flirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word.

I will keepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am very sore afflicted: O Lorde, quicken me according to thy word.

108 O Lorde, I beseech thee accept the c free offerings of my mouth, and teach me thy iudgements.

109 My d soule is continually in mine hand yet doe I not forget thy Law.

110 The wicked haue layde a snare for mee, but I swarued not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies haue I taken as an c heritage for euer: for they are the ioy of mine heart.

112 I haue applid mine heart to fulfill thy statutes alway, euen vnto the ende.

SAMECH.

113 I hate a vaine inuentions: but thy Lawe doe I loue.

114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.

115 b Away from mee, ye wicked: for I will keepe the commandements of my God.

116 Stablish me according to thy promise, that I may liue, and disappoint me not of mine hope.

117 c Stay thou mee, and I shall bee safe, and I will delight continually in thy statutes.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they d deride is vaine.

119 Thou hast taken away al the wicked of the earth like e droffe: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

f Thy people are droffe doeth the metall.
 g Thy iudgements do not onely teach me obedience, but cause me to feare, considering mine owne wickednesse, which feare causeth repentance.

A IN.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours.

122 a Answer for thy seruant in that, which is good, and let not the proud oppress me.

123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy iust promise.

124 Deale with thy b seruant according to thy mercie, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy seruant: graunt mee therefore vnderstanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is c time for thee, Lorde, to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Lawe.

127 Therefore loue I thy commandements about gold, yea, about most fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and haue all false d wayes.

Gods word to vnto contempt, then is it Gods time to helpe and send remedie.
 d That is, whatsoeuer disreth from the puritie of thy word.

PE.

129 Thy testimonies are a wonderfull: therefore doeth my soule keepe them.

130 The entrance into thy b wordes sheweth light, and giueth vnderstanding to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth and opened, because I loued thy commandements.

132 Look vpon me & be mercifull vnto me, as thou vst to do vnto those f thou thy Name.

133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquity haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliver me from the oppression of men, and I will keepe thy precepts.

135 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

c That is, my prayers and thanksgiving, which sacrifice holies calleth the calors of the lippes, Chap. 14. vers. 3.

d That is, I am in continual danger of my life.

e I esteemed so worldly things, but made thy worde mine inheritance.

a Whosoever will imbrace Gods word aright, must abhorre all fantasies and imaginations bome of him in life and others.

b And his desire is not to keepe the Law of the Lord. He desireth to be content with his ownne shifftance, and he should fight in this race, when he had begun.

c The strait practices of them that esteeme thy Lawe, shall be b ought to moue, e Which understood

PSAL CXX.

1 The prayer of David being vexed by the false reports of Sanchiath, &c. And therefore he lamenteth in long alme among these verses. 7. Who were given to all kinde of wickednesse and conuulsions.

2 Called vnto the Lord in my ^btrouble, and he heard me.

3 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitfull tongue.

4 What doeth thy ^cdeceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auail thee?

5 It is as the ^dsharpe arrowes of a nightie man, and as the coales of Sennir.

6 Woe is to me that I remaine in ^eMeshech, and dwell in the tents of ^fKedar.

7 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

8 I seeke ^gpeace, and when I speake ^hthereof, they are bent to warre.

9 That is, nothing so sharpe to pierce, nor so hote to set on fire, as a slanderous tongue.

10 These were people of Arabia, which came of Ishmael, Genesis 25. 12. That is, of the Ishmaelites.

11 He declareth what he meant by Meshech and Kedar: to wit, the ⁱIsrahel, which had degenerated from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

PSAL CXXII.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 David reioyceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promys, and placed vs in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

1 * Reioyced when they sayd to me, We wil go into the house of the Lorde.

2 Our feete shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie, that is compact together in it selfe:

4 Whereunto ^{the} Tribes, ^{even} the Tribes of the Lorde goe vp according to the testimonye to Iffrael, to praise the Name of the Lorde.

5 For there are thrones set for judgment, ^{even} the thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and neighbours sakes I will wish thee now prosperitie.

9 Because of the House of the Lorde our God, I wil procure thy wealth.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked workings, and consumers of God.

A song of degrees.

1 Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes wait vpon the Lorde our God vntill he haue mercy vpon vs.

3 Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercy vpon vs: for we haue suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, & of the despitefulness of the proud.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 The people of God, escaping a great perill, the acknowledge themselves to be delivered, and by their own power, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatness of the perill, 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

1 If the Lorde had not bene on our side, (may Iffrael now say)

2 If the Lorde had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs vp by quickie, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 Then the waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praise be to the Lorde, which hath not giuen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our helpe is in the Name of the Lorde, which hath made heauen and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 Hee describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions. 4 And sheweth their wealth. 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A song of degrees.

They that trust in the Lorde, shall be as mount Zion which cannot be removed, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountains are about Ierusalem: so is the Lorde about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, least the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes.

4 Doe well, O Lorde, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shall the Lorde lead with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall be vpon Iffrael.

6 He defendeth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliverance was wondrous after the many yeres of captiuitie first begun by Jeremie chap. 51. and 52.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

When the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them that dreame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then sayde they among the heathen, The Lorde hath done great things for them.

3 The Lorde hath done great things for vs, wherof we reioyce.

4 O Lorde, bring againe our captiuitie, as the diuers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried precious seede: but they shall returne with ioy and bring their sheaves.

7 Neuer these themselves sufficiently thankfull. d It is no need to deliuer his people, then to crosse the rivers to mine in the wilderness and barren places. e That a seed which was scarce and deere, meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both downy and spiritual, flourish by Gods mere providence and blessing.

2 And that to save children well nurtured, is an especial grace onely of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Solomon.

Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vaine that build it: except the Lorde keep the citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread of sorrow: but he wil surely giue rest to his beloued.

3 Beholde, children are the inheritance of the Lorde, and the fruite of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrows in the hand of the strong man: so are the children of ioy.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quiver full of them: for they shall not be ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

6 Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable as it were a rest. f That is, adorned with strength and virtues from Gods free gifts, and not the fruit of their own labours. g Such children shall be able to flappe their aduersaries mouthes, when their godly life is manifestly accused before iudges.

7 Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable as it were a rest. f That is, adorned with strength and virtues from Gods free gifts, and not the fruit of their own labours. g Such children shall be able to flappe their aduersaries mouthes, when their godly life is manifestly accused before iudges.

PSAL CXXVIII.

a He sheweth that his goodness appeareth not to all universally, but to them only that feare the Lord, and walk in his wayes.

a Song of degrees.

a God approacheth not our life except it be reformed, according to his word.

b The world ethemeth them happy, which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy fishoff approacheth them best, that live of the meane profit of their labour.

c Because Gods favour appeareth in none outward thing, more then in increase of children he promitteth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing, which God hath made to his Church these temporal things shall be grained. e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this private blessing were nothing.

Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord and walketh in his wayes.

2 When thou carest the labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall send thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of Jerusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

PSAL CXXIX.

a He admitteth that the Church to every thing is beset with affliction. b For by the righteous Lord it shall be delivered. c And the enemies for all their glorious power, shall suddenly be destroyed.

a Song of degrees.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath ever bene such from the beginning to be molested most grievously by the wicked; yet in time it hath ever bene delivered.

b Because God is righteous, he can not but plague his adversaries, and deliver his, as oren out of the plough. c The enemies that lift them. d As it were approacheth neere to the flame, are consumed with the breath of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. e That is, the wicked shall perish and none shall passe for them.

They have oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth (may Israel now say)

2 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not prevaile against me.

3 The plowes plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall bee all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the graffe on the house tops, which withered afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hande, neither the glaiuer his lap:

8 Neither they which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

PSAL CXXX.

a The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries do cry vnto God, and are heard. b They confesse their finnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

a Song of degrees.

a Being in great distress and sorrow.

b He declareth that we cannot be liull before God, but by forgiveness of finnes.

c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithful reuolue thee.

d He sheweth to whom the mercy of God doeth appertaine to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

Out of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lorde, heare my voyce: let thine cares attend to the voice of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lorde, straightly markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercy is with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lorde: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lorde more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel wait on the Lorde: for with the Lorde is mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL CXXXI.

a David charged with ambition and greedily desire to reign, professeth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

a Song of degrees or Psalm of David.

Lorde, mine heart is not haucie, neither are mine eyes loftie, neither haue I walked in great matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe, like one wained from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is wained.

3 Let Israel waite on the Lorde from henceforth and for euer.

PSAL CXXXII.

a The faithful grounding on Gods promise made vnto David, desire that his wealth establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the building of the Temple, so pray there as was foretold, Psalm 132.

a Song of degrees.

Lorde, remember David withall his affliction.

2 Who sware vnto the Lorde, and vowed vnto the mighty God of Iaakob, saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber:

5 Vntill I finde out a place for the Lorde, an habitation for the mighty God of Iaakob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fields of the forest.

7 We wil enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footestool.

8 Arise O Lorde, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let the Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy seruants Dauid sake refuse not the face of thine Anoynted.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth vnto David, and he will not shrike from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body wilt I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy finnes keepe my covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their finnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

15 I will surely blesse her vitales, and will satisfie her poore with bread.

16 And will clothe her Priests with salvation, and her Saints shall shoute for ioy.

17 There will I make my home of David to bud: for I haue ordained a light for mine Anoynted.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

madeft promises to David, so continue it to his posteritie that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted. b Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promises was spiritual. c Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulle use of the place: for he promitteth to blesse it, declaring before that it was barren. d That is, with my protection, whereby they shall live. e I Though his surety for a time seemed to be broken, yet hee promitteth to restore it.

PSAL CXXXIII.

a This Psalm cometh by the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

a Song of degrees or Psalm of David.

Beholde, how good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery together.

against David, though some favoured him, yet when hee was established King, he length they ioyed at together like brethren, and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue.

a He stretcheth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernours.

b Which puffeth the measure & limits of his vacation.

c He was voyde of ambition and wicked desires, a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with how great zeale and care he went about to build his Temple.

b Because the charge of the king was to his fourth Gods glory, he sheweth, that he could take no rest, neither would hee goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessary, before he had executed his office.

c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.

d The common beate was that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah, that is, in Beth lehem, a plethoric place, but alter we perceived that thou wilt dwell place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest and compassed about only with hilles.

e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remoue to some other place.

f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people.

g As thou hast

a Because the great part were established King, he sheweth by these b The ornament was a sign of the grace which came from Christ the head vnto his Church.

c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentiful country about Ierusalem.

2 To like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, vnto vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dew of Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountains of Zion: for there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer.

4 Where there is such concord.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 He exhorted the Levites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A Song of degrees.

Behold, praise ye the Lord, all ye a seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuary, and praye the Lord.

3 The Lord, that hath c made heauen and earth, bleste thee out of Zion.

And therefore hath all power, bleste thee with his Fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Levites vied to praise the Lord, and bleste the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorted all the faithful, of what estate soeuer they be, to praise God for his marvellous works, 12. And specially for his grace towards his people, wherein he hath declared his mercie, 13. To the confounding of idolaters and their works.

A Song for the Lord.

Praise the Name of the Lorde: yee seruants of the Lord, praise him.

2 Yee that stand in the a House of the Lorde, and in the b courts of the House of our God.

3 Praise yee the Lord: for the Lord is good sing praises vnto his name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath c chosen Iakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboute all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer pleased d Iord, that d did he in heauen & in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, & maketh the e lightnings w the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasure.

8 f Hee smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beest.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, & vpon all his seruants.

10 h Hee smote many nations, and slew mightie Kings:

11 i As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan, & all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And j gaue their land for an inheritance, euem an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lord, k and l were for euer: O Lorde, thy remembrance m from generation to generation.

14 For the Lorde will n iudge his people, and be pacified toward his seruants.

15 The o idoles of the heathen are silver and golde, the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: p q are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Levi: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praise the Lorde out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to giue thanks vnto God for the creation and continuance of all things, whoe standeth in confirming that hee hath vnto all of his creatures.

Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his a mercie endureth for euer:

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer:

3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which only doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wisdom made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer:

By the rulers of Babel we a sate, and there we wept, when we remembred Zion.

2 Wee hanged our harpes vpon the willowes, yet we could not stay our sorrow, nor turne vs from the true service of God.

a Ye Levites ye are in his Sanctuary. b Meaning, the people: for the people and Levites had their courts, which were places of the Temple separate.

c That is, he freely loved the posterity of Abraham.

d Hee ioyntly Gods power with his will, so consistent that wee should not separate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which hee confirmeth by examples.

* Ier. i. 12. * Eze. 11. 29. * Num. 21. 7. 4. e Hee sheweth what fruite the godly exercise of Gods power, whereby they see howe he destroyeth his enemies, and delivereth his people.

f That is, hee is gone in and defend his people.

g By shewing what punishment Gods appointeth for the heathen idolaters, hee warneth his people to beware the like offence, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their delinquency can not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God, be punished.

h Reading Psal. 119. verse 4.

i In our greatest affliction & sorrow, when we looked for nothing better, then to languish any further.

j Seeing that God poueth out grace for the beasts, much more hath hee care about his people.

k Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefits, l That is, we sate a long time and wept, that the exercise of Gods

b To wit, of that country.

c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.

d Albeit the faithfull are touched with their particular griefes, yet the common sorrowe of the Church is most grievous vnto them, and is such as they can not but remember and lament.

e The decay of Gods religion in their country was so grievous, that no ioy could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 23:17. and Iere 49:7. were prophesied: and Obadiah verse 10. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinnefolke. g When thou diddest visite Ierusalem, h He alleudeth to Ieremias prophesie, Chapter 13. and 40. etc. promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambition moued to fight against Babylon: but God vied them as his reeds to punish his enemies.

in the middes thereof.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, c required vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of y songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing, sayd we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the soofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my c chiefe ioy.

7 Remember the children of y Edom, O Lord, in the 2 day of Ierusalem, which said, Raile it, raile it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthy to be destroyed, blessed shal be he that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shal be he that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 David with great courage praeseth the goodnesse of God to ward him, the which is so great, q That it is harden to foretell vnto vs, who shall praise the Lord together with him. R As hee is ignorant howe like the conspire of God in the time following, as hee hath beene saying.

A Psalm of David.

I Will pray thee with my whole heart: euen before the 2 gods will I pray thee.

2 I will worship toward thine holy b Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindnesse and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy name aboue all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou hearest me, and hast c increased strength in my soule.

4 All the d Kings of y earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard y words of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because of the glory of the Lord n great.

6 For the Lord is high: y yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude he knoweth c a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuie me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall sue me.

8 The Lord will pforme his work: towarde me: O Lord, thy mercy endureth for euer: forfake not the workes of thy handes.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 David to chaste his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which hee confirmeth by the creation of man. 23 After declaring his grace and fauour of God, hee protesteth to be conuince to all them that conspire God.

q To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, thou hast tried me and knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my a sitting and my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou c compassedst my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in my c tongue, but thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

5 Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.

5 Thou holdest me straine behinde and before, and layest thine d hand vpon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderful for mee: it is so high, that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy c Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lye downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vtmost parts of the sea:

10 Yet thither shall thine c hand leade me, and thy right hand hold me.

11 If I say, Yet the darknes shall hide me, euen the night shall be a light about me.

12 Yea, the darknesse hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darknesse and light are both alike.

13 For thou hast b possessed my reins: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am i fearfully and wonderfully made: maruelous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and facioned k beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without forme: i for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.

17 How w deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! how great is y summe of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more then the sand: when I wake, I am full with thee.

19 Oh y thou wouldest slay. O God, the wicked and bloody men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:

20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

21 Doe not I h hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

22 That hate them with an vnfaigned hatred, as they were mine vter enemies.

23 Tric me, O God, and knowe mine heart: prouue me and know my thoughts.

24 And consider if there be any p way of wickednes in me: and leade me in the q way for euer.

friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or an heinous way rebellious: meaning, that though hee were faine to thinne, yet was hee not given to wickednes and to proueue God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the ende.

PSAL. CXL.

1 David complaineth of the crueltie, fistulles and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Asaith the which hee prophesied vnto the Levites, and asaith himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore hee proueth the iust to praise the Lord, and to asseure the misfortune of his iniurie.

q To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Deluer me from the 2 cruel man:

2 Which imagine euill things in their b heart, and make waie continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: c adders poison is vnder their lips. Selah.

4 Keepe d me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: p reuue me from the cruel man, which purpoeth to cause my steps to slide.

5 The proude haue layde a snare for me, and spread a net with cordes in my pathway, y and set gremies for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my prayers.

7 O Lord

d Thou so guidest me in thine hand, that I can turne no way, but where thou appointest me.

e From thy power and knowledge f Thy power doth so fall vnto me, that I can escape by no means from thee.

g Though darkness be an hindrance to mans sight, yet it serueth thine eyes as well as the light.

h Thou hast made me in all parts, and therefore thou needest know me, i Considering thy wonderful workes in forming me, I cannot but praise thee, and tear thy mightie power.

k That is, in my mother womb: which hee compareth to the inward parts of the earth. l Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast facioned me.

m Now oughtest thou to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdom in the creation of man n continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wisdom, and to praise thee.

o He teacheth vs boldly to chieue all the hatred of the wicked, and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or an heinous way rebellious: meaning, that though hee were faine to thinne, yet was hee not given to wickednes and to proueue God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the ende.

2 Which persecuteth me of malice and without cause. b That is by their false conuitions: and lies they kindle the hatred of the wicked against me.

c Hee the with wisdome reprooeth the wicked vnder, when power and force faile them.

d He declarer what is the reme die of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

a He confesseth that neither our adious thoughts, or any part of our life can be hid to God, though wee seeme to be farr off.

b So that they are euidently knowne to thee.

c Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.

a Who of a pore shepherd hath made me a valiant warrior & mightie conquerour.

f He my answer saith: for the Prophet saith saith himselfe with any words.

b He confesseth that neither by his owne authoritie, power nor policie
his kingdom was set, but by the sweet grace of God.

c To give vnto
God his praise is to confesse his felicitie, to be va-lourous of excellent benefits, & that he belieueth them vpon vs of his free mercy.

d He desireth God to continue his grace, and to him helps for the present neede.

e By these manner of speeches hee sheweth that all the lesse, y world can not hinder Gods power, which hee ap-

proacheth by faith.
f That is, deliuer me from the turmules of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers.

g For though they haue hand,
yet they keepe not promise.

h That is, a rare
and excellent song,
as thy great
benefites deserve.

i Though wicked
kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus was, yet forasmuch
as hee voucheth to execute his iudgement yet David because of Gods promise, and they, that are gaily, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections,
but set forth Gods
glorie.

k He desireth
God to continue his benefices toward his people,
counting the protection of children
and their good education among the chiefest of Gods
benefits.

l That the very corners of our houses may be full
of store for the great abundance
of thy blessing.

m Hee ascribeth not onely the great commonities, but even the least al-
to Gods fauour.

n And if God
gouerneth not all his children
all these blessings,
yet he recompenseth
them with better things.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God will continue his benefits towards vs.

b Heerby hee declareth that all power is subiect vnto
God, and that no worldly promotion ought to oblige Gods children, as the end of a magis-tration, and of his privilegiu in his life is to praise
God, therefore he saith that not onely
we our selues doe that, but can all aske vs, doe the same.

¶ A Psalm of David.

Blessed be the Lord my strength, which teacheth mine handes to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 He is my goodnesse and my fortresse, my tower and my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which defendeth my people vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou exaldest him? or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon
him?

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth.

5 Bow them heauens, O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains and they shall shake.

6 Cast forth the lightning and scatter them:
shoot out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from above: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers.

8 Whose mouth talketh vanitie, & their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a vial, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto kings, and rescueth David his servant from the hurtfull sword.

11 Rescue me, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our houses may be as the plants growing vp in their youth, & our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our corners may be full & abounding with diuers sortes, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streets:

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour:
that there be none indigence, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.

15 Blessed are the people, that be so, yea, blef-sed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

a That is, a rare
and excellent song,
as thy great
benefits deserve.

b He desireth
God to continue
his benefices toward his people,
counting the protection of children
and their good education among the chiefest of Gods
benefits.

c That the very corners of our houses may be full
of store for the
great abundance
of thy blessing.

d Hee ascribeth
not onely the great commonities, but
even the least al-
to Gods fauour.

e And if God
gouerneth not
all his children
all these blessings,
yet he recompenseth
them with better
things.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalm was composed when the kingdom of David flourished. a Wherein hee doth shew the wonderful prouidence of God, aswell in gouerning man as in prouiding all the rest of his creatures. b He prayeth God for his iustice and mercy.
c But specially for his loving kinde: for towards those that call vpon him, that feare him, and love him: d For the which hee promiseth to praye him for euer.

¶ A Psalm of David of prayse.

O My God and King, I will extoll thee, and will bleesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will bleesse thee daily, and praye thy Name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be prayed, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall praise thy works vnto e generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull workes.

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy fearfull actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousnesse.

8 The Lord is gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints bleesse thee.

11 They shew the glorie of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power.

12 To canse his power to be knowne to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renoume of his kingdome.

13 Thy kingdome is an euermouing kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lif-teth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou greatest their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in truth.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: hee also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lord preuenteeth all them that loue him: but hee will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shall bleesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

a That is, a rare
and excellent song,
as thy great
benefits deserve.

b He desireth
God to continue
his benefices toward his people,
counting the protection of children
and their good education among the chiefest of Gods
benefits.

c That the very corners of our houses may be full
of store for the
great abundance
of thy blessing.

d Hee ascribeth
not onely the great commonities, but
even the least al-
to Gods fauour.

e And if God
gouerneth not
all his children
all these blessings,
yet he recompenseth
them with better
things.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

Prayse thou the Lord, O my soule.

2 I will praise the Lord during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and hee returneth to his earth: then his thoughts perish.

5 Blessed is hee, that hath the God of Iakob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made heaven & earth, the sea, & all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelity for euer:

7 Which executeth iustice for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lord giueth sight to the blinde: The Lord encourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lord, both for that his power is able to doe them all danger, and for his promise like his will is ready to doe them all. Whose iustice and patience for a while hee trieth, but at length hee punisheth the aduersaries, that hee may be knowne to be iudge of the world.

d Of the terrible indignation against the wicked.

e He desireth after what God hee wish himselfe to his creatures, though his sinne hath prouoked his vengeance against all to wit, mercifull not only in pardoning the sinner of his eld, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the force comfort of the same.

f The prayse of thy glorie
appeareth in all thy creatures, and though the wicked would obscure thee by their sinne, yet the fastness of thee in the midst of the same.

g Hee desireth that all things be of thee
order, but only where God
reigneth.

h Who being in misery as affliction would induce him to fall away, if God did not vphold
him, they might be gouerned by him.

i To wit,
as well
of man,
as
of beast.
k Hee
praiseth
God, not onely for that hee is beneficiall to all his creatures,
but also in that hee justly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examinieth his people
the croffe, giuing them strength and deliuerance therein.

l Which only appareth to the faithfull:
for
the unbelieving doubt, impatience and murmuring.
m For they will ask or with for nothing,
but according to his will,
as Iohn
5:14.

n That is,
all men should be bound to praise
him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

David desireth his great gods that hee hath to prayse God, and teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God as mighty, & which deliuereth the afflicted, & doeth the stronger, comforteth the fatherless, and for widows, to And rejoiceth for euer.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

Prayse thou the Lord, O my soule.

fue them by aflidion, hunger, imprisonment: and such like yet his faithfully love and praise neuer faileth them, yet as other in his these are figurs of his love.

g Meaning, all them that are defitute of worldly meases and succour. h Hee assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preferation of the same.

Lord raysteth vp the crooked: the Lorde f'loueth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the s strangers: he relie-ueth the fatherlesse & widow: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shall b reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation.
Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the boundlesse, vnspoule, power, iustice and providence of God vpon all his creatures. 2 But specially vpon his Church, wh. h he gathereth together after their dispersiō. 19 Declaring his words and iudgements for vnto them, as he hath done to many other people.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

2 The Lord doeth build vp Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are b broken in heart, and bindeth vp their fores.

4 Hee d counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great u our Lord, and great u his power: his widome is infinite.

6 The Lord reliueth the mecke, and abaseth the wicked to the e ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon
the harpe vnto our God.

8 Which c ouereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh
the graffe to growe vpon the mountains:

9 Which giueth to beastes their foode, and to the yong rauens that crie.

10 Hee hath not pleasure in the b strength of an hoife, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

11 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

12 Praise the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates
i strong, and hath blessed thy children win thee.

14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee three with the f flour of wheate.

15 He fendeth forth his b commandment vpon earth, and his word runneth very l swiftly.

16 He giueth snowe like wool, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He calleth forth his vce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He fendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth his m word vnto Jacob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they b known his iudgements. Praise
ye the Lord.

hee suffereth not to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life everlasting he through to vie law will meane is both profitable and pleasurable God, yet to put our trust in him is to de-fraude Go of his honour: i He death not onely turneth his Church with all things necessary, but prefereth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. f Israel. h M s f euer working in all creatures is as a commandment to keepe them in order, and to giue them moouing and force. i For immediately and without resting all things obey him.
m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creature his word, so he meane here by his w. do. the doctrine: f f euerlasting, which he hath left to his Church, which hath elected it in his name: Christ teles to sapience, and his iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 Her psalmeth all creatures to praise the Lord in heauen and earth and all places. 14 Specially his Church, for she power that he hath giuen to the same, after that he had chosen them and rayned them vnto him.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord from the heauen: praise ye him in the high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye b his Angels: praise him, all his armie.

3 Praise ye him, b sunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters, that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye e dragons, and all depths:

8 Fire and haile, shewe and vapours, stormie winde, which execute his worde.

9 Mountaines and all hills, fruitfull trees and all cedars:

10 Beasts and all cattell, creeping things and feathered fowles:

11 s Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, also olde men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his praise aboue the earth and the heauens.

14 For he hath exalted the b home of his people, which u a praise for all his Saints, esen for the children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

like. f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed alliance. g For the greater glorias that hath he merited, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither high nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his doctour made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his vi-dorie and conquest, that he giueth his Saints against all man power.

Praise ye the Lord.

Sing ye vnto the Lorde a new song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that b made him, and let f children of Zion reioyce in their c King.

3 Let them praise his Name with f flute: let the finger playes vnto him with the timbrel and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people:
he will make the mecke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saintes bee ioyfull with glory: let them sing loud vpon their b beds.

6 Let the high Aces of GOD bee in their mouth, and the two edged sword in their hands,

7 c To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrodions among the people:

8 To binde f their Kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron.

9 That they may execute vpon them the ir most lawfull King, d He aluothed to that continually self and querier.

which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people, by his commandment, to reuenge their private injuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed.

^a That he keeps in thine heart.
b If thou give thy self to the true

God without hy-pocricie.

we must seek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.
d Shewing, that no labour must be feared.
e This (saith he) is the wisdom, to knowe and

f To know the sal-uation.
g The worde of the wicked shall be voyde of them.

My sonne, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments within thee, 2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wis-dome, and encline^e thine heart to vnderstanding.
3 (For if thou callist after knowledge, and crisist for vnderstanding:
4 If thou seekest her as siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures, 5 Then shalt thou vnderstande the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.
6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and vnderstanding.
7 He [p]repareth the state of the righteous:
he is as a shield to them that walke vprightly.
8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgment: and he preferreth the way of his Saints 9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnes, and iudgement, and equitie, and euery good path.
10 ¶ When wisdom entrench into thine heart, and knowledge delicteth thy soule, 11 To be: shall a counsell preferre thee, and vnder-standing shall keepe thee, 12 And deliuer thee from the euill way; and from the man that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the wayes of righteousnes: to walke in the wayes of darkness:
14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delite^b in the traouanles of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are crooked and they are lowde in their paths.
16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.
17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth,
and forgetteth the^c couenant of her God.
18 Surely her^d house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto^e the dead.
19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the waies of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.
21 For the iust shall dwell in the land, and the right men shall remaine in it.
22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, & the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAP. III.

¹ The word of God giueth life. ² Trust in God. ³ Feare him.
⁴ Manner how. ⁵ Suffer his correction. ⁶ To them that followe the word of God, all things succede well.

My sonne, forget not thou my Lawe, but let thy heart^a keepe my commandments.
2 For they shall increaseth the length of thy dayes, and the yeres of life, and thy prosperitie.
3 Let not^b mercie and truth forsake thee:
bindeth on thy necke, and write them vpon
the table of thine heart.
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnder-standing in the sight of God and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.
7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare
the Lord, and depart from euill.
8 So health shall be vnto thy^c navel, and ma-rowe vnto thy bones.

Honour the Lord with thy heart, and with thy first frutes of all thine increase.
2 So shall thy bames be filled with abundance, and thy pressies shall burst with newnes.
3 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.
4 ¶ For the Lord correcteth him, whom hee looueth, euen as the father doeth the childe in whom he delighteth.
5 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
6 For the merchandise thereof is better then the merchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.
7 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, as e not to bee compared vnto her.
8 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.
9 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.
10 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.
11 The Lord by wisdom hath layde the foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heavens through vnderstanding.
12 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the cloudes drop downe the dewe.
13 My sonne, let not^a these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisdom and counsell:
22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace
vnto thy necke:
23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way,
and thy foote shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid:
and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweete.
25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.
26 For the Lord shall be for thine assurance, and shall preferre thy foote for taking.
27 ¶ Withhold not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.
28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come again, and to morowe will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.
29 ¶ I intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doth dwell without feare by thee.
30 ¶ I serue not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.
31 ¶ Bee not^a enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.
32 For the forward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.
33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he bleisseth the habitation of the righteous.

of a Father
Chapter 1. 2
3 For

2 For I doe give you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my lawe.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother,

4 When he taught me, and sayd vnto mee, Let thine heart holde fast my wordes: keepe my commandments, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forfake her not, and thee shall keepe thee: loue her and she shall preferre thee.

7 Wisdom is at the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and aboute all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall exalt thee; she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 Hear, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeeres of thy life shall be many.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the pathes of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not bee strait; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euil men.

15 Auaide it, and go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euil, and their sleepe departeth except they cause scandall to fall.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shined as the light, that shineth more and more vnto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkenes; they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the middes of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that find them, and health vnto all their flesh.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for therout cometh all life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lippes farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye liddes direct thy way before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foote from euill.

C H A P. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 4 And prodigallitie. 5 He witheth a man to haue his labours and to helpe others. 18 To lose his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayst regard counsell, and thy lippes obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips of a froward woman drop as an honeycombe, and her mouth is more soft then boyle.

4 But the ende of her is bitter as wormwood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her feete goe downe to death, and her steps take holde on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her pathes are movable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare ye me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house,

9 Left thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

10 Left the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours bee in the house of a stranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou shalt consumed thy flesh and thy body.)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation and assembly.

15 Drinke the water of thy cistern, and of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streetes.

17 But let them be thine, turn thine only, and not the strangers with thee.

18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why shouldst thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne.

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe afraigh through his great follie.

24 That except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in oward conuersion, that hee shall not escape the iudgement of God. n Because hee will not giue care to Gods wordes and be admonished,

C H A P. VI.

1 Instruction for swiuites. 6 The fowlsall and flayght is shewed to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To see adulterie.

My sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbor, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art enue taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy selfe, and solicite thy friends.

4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a doe fro the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.

6 Go to the psuimire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wiue.

7 For thee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her fooode in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard: when d She hath new new meates to al-lure to wickednesse.

e Thus is, thy strength & goods to her that will haue as pitie vpon thee: as is read of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.

f The goods gotten by thy traual.

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to vnder shame, and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assembly of the godly.

h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to loue of our owne labours and to be beneficial to the godly that want.

i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reioyce them for thy selfe, thy family, and them that are of the household of faith.

k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, shewing that God cleaues marriage, and comfort whoredome.

l Which thou didst desire in thy youth.

m Or, as often with a stranger.

n He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in oward conuersion, that hee shall not escape the iudgement of God.

o Because hee will not giue care to Gods wordes and be admonished, p He forbiddeth vs not to become suretie one for another, according to the rule of christianitie, but that we consider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded.

b Meaning, Dauid his fathers.

c He sheweth that we must liue by Gods word, if to be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of y world, which make it their last studie, or else, care not for it at all.

d Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true fear of God: for this was Dauids protection.

e Thou shalt walk at libertie without offence.

f Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper & naturall to the wicked, than to sleepe, eate or drinke.

g Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppression.

h Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge & perfection, till they come to full perfection.

i Which is, when they shall ioyne and to their head in the beautie.

j That is, they shall haue health of body, vnder the which all other blessings promised to the lawe are contained.

eth his death, that hath ſubſtituted his wife, and in conſequence that neither Gods Law nor the Law of nature admit any ranſome for the adulterie.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wiſdomen and to the word of God, q which will preſerue vs from the harlots, & wholeſome meares are deſired.

M Y ſonne, keepe my wordes, & hide my com-mandements with thee.

2 Keepe my commandements, and thou ſhalt when aduertiſe thee of thy ſleepe?

10 * Twi a little ſleepe, a little ſlumber, & a little folding of the hands to ſleepe.

11 Therefore thy powerie cometh as one that t ranaileth by the way, & thy neceſſitie like an armed man.

12 The vniuſitarie man, and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a ſigne with his eyes: he ſignifi-eth with his feet: he inſtructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth cuill at all times, and raiſeth vp contentions.

15 Therefore ſhall his deſtruction come ſpee-dily: he ſhall be deſtroyed ſuddenly without recouerie.

16 ¶ Theſe fixe things doth the Lord hate:
yea, his ſoule abhorreth ſeuē:

17 The haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that do innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterpriſes, hee that be ſwift in running to miſchance,

19 A falſe witneſſe that ſpeaketh lies, and him that raiſeth vp contentions among brethren.

20 ¶ My ſonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forſake not thy mothers inſtruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It ſhall leade thee, when thou walkeſt: it ſhall watch for thee when thou ſleepeſt, and when thou wakeſt, it ſhall talke with thee.

23 For the commandement is a lanterne, & inſtruction a light: & corrections for inſtruction are the way of liſe.

24 To Keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a ſtrange woman.

25 Deſire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eye lids.

26 For becauſe of the worthieſſe woman a man is brought to a morſell of bread, & a woman will launt for the precious liſe of a man.

27 ¶ Can a man take fire in his boſome, & his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go vpon coales, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, ſhall not be innocent, whoſoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men do not deſpiſe a thiſſe when he ſealeth, to ſatiſſie his ſoule, becauſe he is hungrie.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he is deſtitute of vnderſtanding: he that doeth it, deſtroyeth his owne ſoule.

33 He ſhall finde a wound and diſhonour, and his reproch ſhall neuer be put away.

34 For ielouſie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not ſpare in the day of vengeance.

5 That they may keepe thee from the ſtrange woman, euen from the ſtranger that is ſinuous in her wordes.

6 ¶ As I was in the window of mine houſe,
I looked thorow my window.

7 And I ſaw among the ſcooles, and conſide-red among the children a young man deſtitute of vnderſtanding,

8 Who paſſed thorow the ſtreet by her corner, and went toward her houſe,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlots behaviour, and ſhe ſubtil in heart.

11 (Shee is babbling and loud: whoſe feet can not abide in her houſe.)

12 Now ſhe is without, now in the ſtreets, and lieth in wait at euery corner)

13 So ſhe caught him, & kiſſed him and ſhe an impudent face ſaid vnto him,

14 I haue peace offerings: this day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might ſeeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bedde with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of lout vntill the morning: let vs take our pleaſure in dalliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken ſ with him a bagge of ſiluer, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft ſhe cauſed him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips ſhe enticed him.

22 And he followed her ſtraightwayes, as an oxe that goeth to the ſlaughter, and as a ſoole to the ſtocks for correction.

23 Till a dart ſtrike thorow his liuer, as a bird hatched to the ſnare, not knowing that he is in danger.

24 ¶ Hearc me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the word of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes:
wonder thou not in her paths.

26 For ſhee hath cauſed many to fall downe wounded, & the ſtrong men are all ſlaine by her.

* Chap. 1. 18.

3 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.

6 Giue care, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of the lippes shall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.

9 They are all plain to him that will vnderstand, and straight to them that would finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.

12 I wisdom dwell with ^dprudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counsels.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate ^e euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things, I do hate.

14 I haue counsell and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.

15 By me, Kings ^freigne, and princes decree iustice.

16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue me: and they that seeke me ^g carely, shall finde me.

18 Riches and honor are with me: ^h euendurable riches and righteousnesse.

19 My fruit is better then gold, ⁱ euenthin fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.

20 I cause to walke in the way of righteousness, and in the mides of the paths of ^j iudgement.

21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: ^k I was ^l before his works of old.

23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were fetled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

27 When he prepared ^m heauens, I was ⁿ there, when he set the compasse vpon the deepe.

28 When hee established the clouds aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe,

29 When he gaue his decree to the Sea, that the waters should not passe his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him ^o as a nourisher, and I was daily ^p his delight reioicing alway before him, 31 And tooke my ^q place in the compasse of ^r his earth: and my delight ^s with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my ways.

33 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my ways.

34 I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a tender nurse to the widow.

35 I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a tender nurse to the widow.

36 I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a tender nurse to the widow.

37 I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a tender nurse to the widow.

38 I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a tender nurse to the widow.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed ^t the man that heareth mee, watching daily at my gates, and giuing attendance at the posts of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

1 Wisdom calleth all to her feare. 2 The former will be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The condition of the harlot.

WISDOME hath built her ^a house, and heuened out her ^b seven pillars.

2 She hath killed her vitalles, drawn her wine, and ^c prepared her table.

3 She hath sent forth her ^d maidens, and crieth vpon the highest places of the cite, ^e saying,

4 Who so is ^f simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, the sayth,

5 Come, and eat of my ^g meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.

6 Forake your way, yee foolish, and yee shall liue: and walke in the way of vnderstanding.

7 He that reprobeth a scorne, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a ^h blot.

8 Rebuke not a ⁱ scorne, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wife man, and he will loue thee.

9 Giue ^j admonition to the wife, and he will be the wifer: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, ^k is vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shall be multiplied by me, and the yerres of thy life shall be augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wife for ^l thy selfe, and if thou be a scorne, thou alone shalt suffer.

CHAP. XII.

HE that loueth instruction, loueth knowledge; but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauour of y Lord: but y man of wicked imaginations will be condemne.

3 A man cannot bee established by wickednesse: but the a roote of the righteous shall not be moued.

4 A t vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the wicked, is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will b deliuer them.

7 God ouertroweth the wicked, & they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall bee commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 Hee that is despised, c and a his owne seruant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man d regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

11 He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the ille, is destitute of y vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the d net of euils: but the f roote of the righteous giueth fruit.

13 The euill man is snared by the wickednes of his lips: but the iust shall come out of aduersity.

14 A man shall be satiate with good things by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans hands shall God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be known by his anger: but he that speaketh truth, is wise.

17 He that speaketh craft, will shew righteounesse: but a false witness, is shew deceit.

18 There is that speaketh words like the prickings of a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lippe of truth shall be stable for euer: but a lying tongue is variabie incontinently.

20 Deceite is in the heart of them that imagine euill: but to the counsellors of peace shall be joy.

21 There shall none iniquity come to the iust: but the wicked are full of euill.

22 The lying lips are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

23 A wise man shall keepe knowledge: but the heart of the fooles publisheth foolishnes.

24 The hand of the diligent shall beare rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

25 Heauinesse in the heart of man doth bring it downe: but a k good word reioyseth it.

26 The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked will deceiue them.

27 The deceitfull man roseth not that hee is to kee in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteounesse, and in that path way there is no death.

29 Although he get much by vnlawfull meanes, yet will hee not spende it vpon himselfe.

CHAP. XIII.

A wise sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a scoerner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eate good things by the fruite of his mouth: but the foule of the trespassers shall suffer keepe.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lips, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggard b lusteth, but his foule hath nought: but the foule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked catcheth slander and shame.

6 Righteounesse preserveth the vpright of y life: but wickednesse ouertroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will giue his riches for the ransom of his life: but the poore c cannot heare y reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyseth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Oncly by d pride doth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanitie shal diminish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shal increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire commeth, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth s the worde, hee shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandement, hee shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the welpring of life to tume away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Euery wise man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth h into euill: but a faithfull ambassadour is preservation.

18 Pouertie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but hee that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delicteth y foule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners, but vnto the righteous God will recompence good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the sinner is laid vp for the iust.

23 Much food is in the field of the i poore: but the field is destroyed without discretion.

24 He that spareth his rod, hateth his sonne: but hee that louch him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to contentation of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

a That is, taketh paine to profit her familie and to doe that which concerneth her dutie in her house.

A Wife woman * buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 He that walketh in his righteousness, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rod of pride: but the lips of the wise preferue them.

4 Where none * oxen are, there the cribbe is empty: but much increase cometh by strength of the oxen.

5 A faithfull witnessse will not lye: but a false record will speake lyes.

6 A corner * seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of y prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fool is deceit.

9 The fool maketh a mocke of y sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, & the stranger shal not meddle with his ioy.

11 The house of the wicked shalbe destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shal flourish.

12 * There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the ende of that mirth is heavinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, shal be satiate with his owne wayes: but a good man shal depart from hurt.

15 The foolish will beleue every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euill: but a fool is careless, and is careless.

17 He that is hable to anger, committeth folly: and a buble body is hated.

18 The foolish doe as heere folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euill shal be before the good, and the wicked * at the gates of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the rich are many.

21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercy on the poore is blessed.

22 Doe not they erre that imagine euill? but to them that thinke on good things, shal be mercy and truth.

23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth onely want.

24 The crowne of the wife is her riches, and the folly of fool is foolishnesse.

25 A faithfull witnessse deliuereth foules: but a deceiver speaketh lies.

26 In the feare of the Lord is an assured strength, and his children shal haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a wellpring of life, to auoide the snares of death.

28 In the multitude of y people is the honour of a King, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the Prince.

29 He y is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom: but he that is of an hable minde, exalteth folly.

30 A found heart is the life of the y flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 He that oppresseth the poore, reprooueth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercy on the poore.

32 The wicked shal be cast away for his rapine: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdometh in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowne in the mids of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, y sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a King is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shal be toward him that is lewde.

C H A P. XV.

A Soft answer putteth away wrath, but grievous words stirre vp anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vtieth knowledge might: but the mouth of fooler * babbleth out foolishnesse.

3 The eyes of the Lorde in every place beholde the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of y mind.

5 A fooler despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lipps of the wise doe spread abroad knowledge: but y heart of the foolish doth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh the way, and he that hath correction, shal die.

11 * Rich and destruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men.

12 A corner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will hee goe vnto the wise.

13 A ioyfull heart maketh a chearefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the fooler is filled with foolishnesse.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good confidence is a continual feast.

16 Better is a little with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure, and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a little of greene herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 * An angry man stirreth vp strife: but he that is slow to wrath, appeaseth strife.

19 The way of a slouthfull man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is plaine.

20 * A wife woman reioyeth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnes is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counsell thoughtes come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is steadfastnesse.

23 A ioy cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: how good is a word in due season.

24 The way of life is on high to the prudent, to auoide from hell beneath.

25 The Lorde will destroy the house of the proude men: but hee will stablish the borders of the widow.

26 The thoughts of y wicked are abomination to the Lord: but the pure heart is pleasant vnto him.

31 The care that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.
32 Hee that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.
33 The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour, goeth humilitie.

CHAP. XVI.

THe preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.
2 All the wayes of a man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.
3 Commit thy workes vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.
4 The Lord hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euill.
5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though they haue signes in hand, he shall not be vnpunished.
6 By mercie and truth iniquitie shall be forgiven, and by the feare of the Lord they depart from euill.
7 When the wayes of a man please the Lord, he will make also his enemies at peace with him.
8 Better is a little with righteousness, then great reuenues without equitie.
9 The heart of a man is purposed his way: but the Lord doeth direct his steppes.
10 A diuine sentence shall be in the lips of the King: his mouth shall not transgresse in iudgement.
11 A true weight & balance are of the Lord: all the weightes of the bagge are his worke.
12 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is stablished by iustice.
13 Righteous lips are the delight of Kings, and the King loueth him that speaketh right things.
14 The wrath of a King is as his messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.
15 In light of the Kings countenance is life: and his fauour is as a cloude of the latter raine.
16 How much better is it to get wisdom then golde: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.
17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euill, & he keepeth his soule, that keepeth his way.
18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.
19 Better it is to be of humble minde with the lowly, then to deuide the spoiles with the proud.
20 He that is wise in his businesse, shall finde good: and he that trusteth in the Lord, hee is blessed.
21 The wife in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetnesse of the lippes shall increase doctrine.
22 Vnderstanding is a wellspring of life vnto them that haue it: and the instruction of fooles is follie.
23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.

24 Faire wordes are as an hony combe, sweetness to the soule, and health to the bones.
25 There is a way that seemeth right vnto man, but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.
26 The person that traueleth, traueleth for himselfe: for his mouth craueth it of him.
27 A wicked man diggeth vp euill, and in his lippes is like a burning fire.
28 A froward person soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.
29 A wicked man deceiuet his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.
30 He shutteth his eyes to deuide wickednes: he moueth his lippes, and bringeth euill to passe.
31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is found in the way of righteousness.
32 He that is slowe vnto anger, is better then the mightie man: and hee that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.
33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

Better is a drie morrell, if peace be with it, then an houle full of sacrifices with strife.
2 A discreete seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and he shall deuide the heritage among the brethren.
3 As is the fining pot for siluer, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord tryeth the hearts.
4 The wicked giueth heede to false lippes, & a lyer hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.
5 He that mocketh the poore, reprocheth him that made him: and he that reioyceeth at destruction, shall not be vnpunished.
6 Children children are the crowne of the elders: & the glory of the children are their fathers.
7 Hee that talketh becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.
8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whither soeuer it cometh.
9 He that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but hee that repeateth a matter, separateth the prince.
10 A reproofe entrench more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.
11 A seditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.
12 It is better for a man to meete a beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his follie.
13 Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his houle.
14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore or the contention be medled with, leaue off.
15 He that iustifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euen they both are abomination to the Lord.

CHAP. XVIII.

FOR the desire thereof, hee will * separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in al wisdom.
 2 A foole hath no delite in vnderstanding: but that his heart may be * discovered.
 3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh contempt, and with the vile man reproche.
 4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like deepe d waters, and the wellspring of wisdom is like a flowing riuer.
 5 It is not good to * accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgement.
 6 A fooles lips come with strife, & his mouth calleth for stripes.
 7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soule.
 8 The wordes of a tale-bearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.
 9 He also that is slouthfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waster.
 10 The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth vnto it, and is exalted.
 11 * The riche mans riches, are his strong citie: and as an hic wall in his imagination.
 12 * Before destruction the heart of a man is haucie, and before glory getteth lowlinesse.
 13 * Hee that answereth a matter before hee heare it, it is folly and shame vnto him.
 14 The spirit of a man will susteine his infirmities: but * a wounded spirit, who can beare it?
 15 A wife heare getteth knowledge, and the care of the wife seeketh learning.
 16 A mans gift * enlargeth him, and leadeeth him before great men.
 17 * He that is first in his owne cause, is iust: then cometh his neighbour, and maketh inquisition of him.
 18 The lot * causeth contentions to cease, and maketh a partition among the mightie.
 19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the barre of a palace.
 20 With the fruit of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.
 21 Death & life are in 3 power of the tongue, and they that * loue it, shall eate the fruit thereof.

 23 Hee that findeth a wife, findeth a good thing, and receiveth fauour of the Lord.
 24 The poore speakeeth wish prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.
 25 A man that hath friends, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neuer when a brother.
 26 Marriage is blessed of the Lord, as Chap. 19. 14. q That is, oft times (such are found which are more ready to do pleasure, then he that is more bound by dutie).

CHAP. XIX.

BETTER is the poore that walketh in his uprightness, then he that abuseth his lips, & is a foole:
 2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that hasteth with his feet, sinneth.
 3 The foolishnesse of a man peruertheth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.
 4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.
 5 * A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.
 6 Many reuerence the face of the prince, and every man is afraid to him that giueth gifts.
 7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: how much more will his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant * with words, yet they will not.
 8 Hee 3 possesseth vnderstanding, * loueth his owne soule, & keepeth wisdom to finde goodnes.
 9 A false witness shall not be unpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perill.
 10 * Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.
 11 The discretion of a man deferred his anger, and his glory is * to passe by an offence.
 12 * The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the grasle.
 13 * A foolishfonne is the calamitie of his father, and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall * dropping.
 14 House & riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.
 15 Slouthfulness causeth to fall asleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be afflicted.
 16 He that keepeth the commandment, keepeth his owne soule: but hee that despiseth his wayes, shall die.
 17 Hee that hath mercy vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompense him that hee hath giuen.
 18 Chasten thy soune while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.
 19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment: and though thou * deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.
 20 Heare counsell and receiue instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy later end.
 21 Many deuises are in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.
 22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnes, and a poore man is better then a liar.
 23 The feare of the Lord leadeeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with cuil.
 24 * The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and wil not put it to his mouth againe.

Wine is a mocker, and strong drinke is racounsell make warre.

19 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discornereth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lippes.

20 Hee that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall be put out in obscure darkenesse.

21 An heritage is hastily gotten at the beginning, but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompense euill: but waite vpon the Lord, and he shall saue thee.

23 Diuers weights are an abomination vnto
the Lord, and deceitfull balances are not good.

24 The steps of man are ruled by the Lord:
how can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a deftuction for a man to deuoure that which is sanctified, & after the vowes to inquire.

26 A wife King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the wheele to turne ouer them.

27 The light of the Lorde is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 Mercy and truth preferre the King: for his throne shall be established with mercy.

29 The beautie of yong men is their strength, and the glory of the aged is the gray head.

30 The blowmatt of the wound ferueth to purge the cull, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the rivers of waters: he turneth it whithersoeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Eury way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A haughty looke, and a proud heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent doe surely bring abundance: but whosoever is halty, commeth surely to pouertie.

6 The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seeke death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruered and strange:
but of the pure man, his worke is right.

9 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house topper, then with a contentious woman in a lwide house.

10 The soule of the wicked witheth euill: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

11 When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wise, he will reccie knowledge.

12 The righteous teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euill.

13 Hee that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shall also cry and not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

15 It is ioy to the iust to doe iudgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisedomel, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loucheth pastime, shall be a poore man:
and he that loucheth wit & oyle, shall not be rich.

18 The wicked shall be a ranfome for the iust, and the transgressor for the righteous.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, then with a contentious and angry woman.

20 In the house of the wise is a pleasant treasure and oyle: but a foolish man deuoureth it.

21 He that followeth after righteuousnesse and mercie, shall finde life, righteuousnesse and glory.

22 A wife man goeth vp into the citie of the mighrie, and casteth downe the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proud, haughty, and scornfull is his name that worketh in his arrogancie wrath.

25 The desire of the slouthfull shall slay him:
for his hands refuse to worke.

26 Hee coueteth euermore greedily, but the righteous giueth and spareth not.

C H A P. XXII.

A * Good name is to be chosen above great riches, and a loving favour is above silver and above gold.

2 * The rich and poore meete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

3 * A prudent man feeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish go on still, and are punished.

4 The reward of humilitie, and the feare of God is riches, and glorie, and life.

5 * Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: but he that regardeth his soule, will depart farre from them.

6 Teach a child in the trade of his way, and when he is olde he shall not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth the poore, and the borrower is servant to the man that lendeth.

8 He that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the rod of his anger will faile.

9 * He that hath a good eye, he shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread vnto the poore.

10 Call out the stomer, and strife shall go out: so contention and reproche shall cease.

11 Hee that loucheth purpene of heart, for the grace of his lippe, the King shall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord be preserue knowledge: but hee onerthroweth the wordes of the transgressor.

13 The fowthall man faith, I a Lyon is with out, I shall be slaine in the streete.

14 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pit: he with whom the Lord is angrie, shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnesse is bound in the heart of a child: but the rodde of correction shall driue it away from him.

16 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the rich, shall surely come to poutie.

17 * Incline thine eare, and heare words of the wife, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it shall be pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy belie, and if they be directed together in thy lippe.

19 That thy confidence may be in the Lord, I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heed.

20 Haue not I written vnto thee three times in counsels and knowledge, 21 That I might shew thee the assurance of the wordes of truth, to conserue the wordes of truth to them that fend to thee?

22 Robbe not the poore because he is poore, neither oppress the afflicted in iudgement:

23 For the Lord will defend their cause, and spoyle the soule of those that spoyle them.

24 Make no friendship with an angrie man, neither goe with the furious man.

25 Lest thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

26 Be not thou of them that touch the hand, nor among them that are suretie for deists.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why causeth thou that hee should take thy bed from vnder thee?

28 Thou shalt not remove the auncient bounds which thy fathers haue made.

29 Thou seest that a diligent man in his businesse standeth before Kings, and standeth not before the base sort.

C H A P. XXIII.

W HEN thou sitest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee.

2 And put the knife to thy throte, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his daintie meates: for it is a deceeuable meate.

4 Trauail not too much to be rich: but cease from thy wisdom.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an Eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his daintie meates.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart, lo will he say vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete wordes.

9 Speake not in the eares of a fool: for hee will despise the wisdom of thy wordes.

10 * Remove not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fieldes of the fatherlesse.

11 For hee that redeemeth them, is mightie: he will defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine cares to the wordes of knowledge.

13 * Withhold not correction from thy child: if thou finite him with the rodde, he shall not die.

14 Thou shalt finite him with the rodde, and shalt deliuer his soule from shell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

18 For surely there is an end, and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not companie with drunkardes, nor with gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall bee poore, and the sleeper shall be clothed with ragges.

CHAP. XXIIII.

BEe not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with thim.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lippes speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wife man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsell thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell is health.

7 Wisdom is hid to a foole: therefore he can not open his mouth in the gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an author of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the former is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuere them that are drawn c to death: and wilt thou not preferre them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: he that pondereth the heartes, doeth not he vnderstand it? and he that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? will not he also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My soule, eate d of honey, for it is good, and the honycombe, for it is sweete vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule if thou finde it, and there shall be an *e*nde, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no wait, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoye le not their resting place.

16 For a iust man shall be seuen times, and resist againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when hee stumbleth.

18 Least the Lorde see it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath f from him.

19 * Fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shall be none end of g plagues to the euill man: * the sight of the wicked shall be put out.

21 My sonne feare the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are seditious.

22 For their destruction shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them h both.

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTAIN TO THE VISION, It is not good i to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 Hee that faith to the wicked, * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodness.

26 They shall kisse the lippes of him that answereth vpright wordes.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, and after, build thine house.

28 Be not a witnes against thy neighbor without cause: for wilt thou decieue with thy lippes.

29 * Say not, I will do to him, as he hath done to me, I will recompence euery man according to his worke.

30 I passed by the field of the southfall, and by the vineyard of the man delitue of vnderstanding.

31 And lo, it was all growen out with thornes, and nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

32 Then I behelde, and considered it well: I looked vpon it, and received instruction.

33 Tea a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the handes to lye.

34 So thy powerie commeth as one that traueleth by the way, and thy necessity like an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

I THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES OF SALOMON, which the men of Hezekiah King of Iudah copied out.

The glorie of God is to *c*conceale a thing secret: but the Kings honour is to search out a thing.

3 The heauens in height, & the earth in deepnesse, & the Kings heart can no man search out.

4 Take the *d*rossie from the siluer, and there shall proceede a vessel for the finer.

5 Take e away the wicked from the King, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.

6 Boast not thy selfe before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

7 * For it is better, that he shalld vnto thee, Come vp hither, then thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince who thine eyes haue seene.

8 Goe not forth hastily to strife, least thou knowe not what to doe in the ende thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another.

10 Least he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamie doe not h cease.

11 A word spoken in his place, is like apples of gold with pictures of siluer.

21 If he that hateth thee be hungry, giue him bread to eate, and if he be thirstie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay thy coales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 As the Northwind drieth away the raine, so doeth an angry countenance the flattering tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the houle together, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

25 As are the colde waters to a weary soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled wel, & a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eate much hony: so to search their owne glory is not glory.

28 A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a city which is broken downe and without wals.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snowe in the Sommer, and as the raine in the haruest are not meete, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

2 As the sparowe by flying, and the swallow by flying escape, so the curse that is causelesse, shall not come.

3 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

4 Answer not a foole according to his foo-lishnesse, least thou also be like him.

5 Answer a foole according to his foolish-nesse, least he be wise in his owne conceite.

6 Hee that sendeth a message by the hande of a foole, is as hee that cutteth off the feete, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that lift vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giueth glory to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing vpon in the hande of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The excellent that formed all things, both rewards the foole, & rewardeth his transgressors.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

12 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceite?
more hope is of a foole then of him.

13 The slouthfull man saith, A lyon is in the way: a lyon is in the stretes.

14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slouthfull man vpon his bed.

15 The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bo-some, and it grieueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceite, then seuen men that can render a reason.

17 Hee that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

18 As hee that fainteth himselfe mad, casteth fire brands, arrows, and mortal things,

19 So doeth the deceitfull man with his friend and faith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As ycole maketh burning coles, & wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The wordes of a talebearer are as flaterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

23 As silver drossie ouerlayde vpon a por-thead, so are burning lips, and an euil heart.

24 He that hateth, will counterfaite with his lips, but in his heart he lyeth vpon deceit.

25 Though he speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are seuen abominations in his heart.

26 Hatred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall bee discouered in the congregation.

27 He that diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that rolleth a stone, it shall reurne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

Beast not thy selfe of to morrow: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lips.

3 As stone is heauie, and the sand weightie:
but a fooles wrath is heavier then them both.

4 Anger is cruel, and wrath is raging: but who can stand before a enemie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a louer are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemie are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an hony thing is sweete.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest, so is

CHAP. XXVIII.

- THe wicked see when none pursueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lion.
- 2 For the transgression of y land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding and knowledge a realm like wise endureth long.
- 3 A poore man, if he oppress the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no food.
- 4 They that forsake the Lawe, praise the wicked: but they that keepe the lawe, set themselves against them.
- 5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lord vnderstand all things.
- 6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vp-rightnesse, then hee that peruerth his wayes, though he be rich.
- 7 He that keepeth the Lawe, is a childe of vnderstanding: but hee that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.
- 8 He that encreaseth his riches by vsury and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be merciful vnto the poore.
- 9 He that turneth away his care from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shall be abominable.
- 10 He that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shal fall into his owne pit, and the vpright shal inherite good things.
- 11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceite: but the poore hath vnderstanding, can try him.
- 12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.
- 13 He that hideth his finnes, shal not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.
- 14 Blessed is the man that seareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shal fall into euil.
- 15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungry beare, so is a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

- 16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressor: but hee that hateth couteousnes, shal prolong his dayes.
- 17 A man that doth violence against the blood of a person, shal flee vnto the graue, and they shal not stay him.
- 18 He that walketh vprightly shal be saved: but he that is firoward in his wayes, shal once fall.
- 19 Hee that tilleth his land, shal be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shal be filled with pouertie.
- 20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and he that maketh haste to be rich, shal not be innocent.
- 21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man wil transgresse for a piece of bread.
- 22 A man with a wicked eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie shall come vpon him.
- 23 Hee that rebuketh a man, shal finde more fauour at the length, then hee that flattereth with his tongue.
- 24 Hee that robbeth his father and mother, and lieth, it is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.
- 25 Hee that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lord, shal be full of fatte.
- 26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shal be deliuered.
- 27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shal not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shal haue many curses.
- 28 When the wicked rise vp, men hide their selues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

- A Man that hardeneth his necke when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed and cannot be cured.
- 2 When the righteous are in authoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.
- 3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: but he that feedeth harlots, wasteth his substance.
- 4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the country: but a man receiuing gifts, destroyeth it.
- 5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreadeth a net for his steps.
- 6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.
- 7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.
- 8 Scornefull men bring a ciue into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.
- 9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.
- 10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.
- 11 A foole pouerth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in til afterward.
- 12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his seruants are wicked.
- 13 The poore and the vsurer meete together, and the Lord lighteth both their eyes.

THE WORDS OF S^r AGUR THE SONNE OF IAKIM.

The prophetic which the man spake vnto Ithiel, each to b Ithiel, and vcal.

1 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

2 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

3 Who hath ascended vp to heaven, and descended? Who hath gathered the winde in his fist? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

4 Every word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

5 Put nothing vp into his word, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

6 Two things haue I required of thee: deny me then not before I die.

7 Remove farre from mee vanitie and lies: giue me not poutie, nor riches: feed me with food conuenient for mee.

8 Let I be full, and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or let I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God in vaine.

9 Accuse not a servant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou shalt be offended.

10 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not blesse their mother.

11 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceits, and yet are not washed from their filchinesse.

12 There is a generation whose eies are hauey, and their eyelids are lifted vp.

13 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their chawes as knives to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

14 The hoftie leech hath two daughters which are, Giue, giue. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is enough.

15 The graue, and the barren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

16 The eie that mocketh his father & despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the rauen of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eat it.

17 There be three things hid from mee: yea, foure that I know not.

18 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the milles of the sea, and the way of a man with a mayd.

19 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she catcheth & bewitcheth her moeth, and faith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

20 For three things the earth is moored: yea, for foure it cannot fallcine it selfe.

21 For a servant when he reigneth, & a foole when he is filled with meat.

22 For the hatefull woman, when she is married, & for a handmaid that is a heire to her mistress.

23 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are wile, and full of wisdom.

24 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in summer:

25 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

26 The grassopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

27 The spider taketh holde with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

28 There be three things that order well their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

29 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth out at the sight of any:

30 A lufy grayhound, and a goat, and a king against whom there is no rising vp.

31 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

32 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forseth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

37 It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke.

38 Let he drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

39 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

40 Let him drinke, that he may forget his poutie, and remember his miserie no more.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the law of grace is in her tongue.

27 She ouerseeeth the wayes of her housholde, and catcheth not the bread of idlenesse.

28 Her children rise vp, and call her blessed : her husband also shall praise her, saying,

ECCLASIATES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon as a Preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceivable vanities of this world : that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life : therefore hee confuteth their opinions, which see their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that, that he is vnitied with God, and shall enjoy his presence : so that all other things must be reiected, save inasmuch as they further vs so attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is iure and permanent, and cannot be seised in any other sense in God alone.

CHAP. I.

a All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 12 All mans miserie is but sorrow and griefe.

b He words of the Preacher, the sonne of David king in Ierusalem.

c Vanitie of vanities, sayth the Preacher : vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

d What remaineth vnto man in all his trauell, which he suffereth vnder the sunne?

e One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth : but the earth remaineth for ever.

f The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.

g The winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North : the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

h All the riuers go vnto the sea, yet the sea is not full : for the riuers go vnto the place, whence they returne, and go.

i All things are full of labour : man cannot vnder it : the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the care filled with hearing.

j What is it that hath bene? that that shalbe : and what is it that hath bene done? that which shall be done : and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

k One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longell, even to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption. e By the sunne, winde, and riuers : he sheweth that the greater labour and longell hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world. a Eccles. 1. 2. 1 The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which poure out springs and riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times & seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, It is new? it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the latter that shalbe, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bene king ouer Israel in Ierusalem :

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and finde out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen : this foretrauall hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.

14 I haue considered all the works that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanity, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight : and that which faileth cannot be numbered.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Beholde, I am become great, and excell in wisdom all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem : and mine heart hath sene much wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisdom and knowledge, I made it, and soothly it is : I knew also that this is a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe : and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

19 I committed much lesse remedy there. I That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

20 Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

21 That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

22 Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

23 That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

24 Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

25 That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

26 Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assemblith the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that see felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing.

c Salomon doth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, and in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitorie.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longell, even to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption.

e By the sunne, winde, and riuers : he sheweth that the greater labour and longell hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world.

f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which poure out springs and riuers into the sea againe.

g He speaketh of times & seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

b He prooeth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and studie, hee chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had y^est and aide of God thereunto about all others.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise than they doe : neither can he number the fautes that are committed, much lesse remedy them.

l That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

m Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

n That is, value things, which seemed vnto pleasure, where in was no commodity, but griefe and trouble of conscience.

q Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of bodie and minde : for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde not fully content : therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches, and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wife and shee haue both one end: to see the iudiciall death.

I said in mine heart, Goe to nowe, I will proue thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

I thought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdom, and to take holde of follie, till I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the sunne: the whole number of the dayes of their life.

I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyardes.

I haue made me gardens and orchardes, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

I haue gotten seruants and maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeces and sheepe aboute all that were before me in Ierusalem.

I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer and gold, & the chief treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me men fingers and women fingers, & the delictes of the fonnnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

And I was great, and increased aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in al my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauel.

Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all was vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there was no profite vnder the sunne.

¶ And I turned to behold wisdom, and madnesse and follie: (for who is the man that will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

Then I saw that there is profite in wisdom, more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkness.

¶ For the wife mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkness: yet I know also that the same condition filleth to them all.

¶ Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

¶ For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole: for euery for that that now is in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wife man as doth the foole?

¶ Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grievous vnto me: for all a vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

¶ I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after me.

¶ And who knoweth whether hee shall be wife or foolish? yet shall hee haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauelled, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

¶ Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne.

¶ For there is a man whose trauelle is in wisdom, and in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauelled herein, shall hee giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

¶ For what hath man of all his trauelle and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauelled vnder the sunne?

¶ For all his dayes are sorowes, and his trauel griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

¶ There is no profit to man: but that hee eate, and drinke, and delight his soule with the profit of his labour: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

¶ For who coulde eate, and who coulde haue to outward things more then I?

¶ Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

All things haue their time. 14 The works of God are perfect and canst not beare time. 17 God shall twinge both the iust and the vnjust.

To all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

A time to be borne, & a time to die: a time to plant, & a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

A time to say, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

A time to reue, and a time to fowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

¶ What profite hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauelleth?

¶ I haue seene the trauel that God hath giuen to the fonnnes of men to humble them thereby.

¶ He hath made euery thing beautiful in his time: also hee hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

¶ I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to do good in his life.

¶ And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

¶ I know that whatsoever God shall doe, it shall be for euery: to it can no man adde, & from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

¶ What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall be, hath now bene: for God requireth that which is past.

¶ And moreover I haue seene vnder the sun the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

¶ I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust

¶ That I might feare the true iustice which is in God.

¶ Among other griefes this was not the least, to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauell, so one that had taken no paine therein, and whom he knew not whether he were a wife man or a foole.

¶ When hath all laboured hee can get no more then food, and refreshing: yet hee can see that this cometh of Gods blessing, as Chap. 119. q. Meaning, to pleasures.

¶ He speaketh of this doctrine of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetuall: next, to teach vs not to be grieved if we haue not all things at once according to our desire, whether they be things as we would wish.

¶ Reade Chap. 12.

¶ God hath giuen man a desire, and affection: to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

¶ Reade Chap. 12. q. 1. & the 5. places declare that we should do all things with sobriety, and in the feare of God: forasmuch as hee giueth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

¶ That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as hee hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

¶ God only can see that which is past, to requite.

a Solomon maketh this discourse with him selfe, as though he would reue whether there were contentation in safe pleasures.

i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference between man and beast, as touching these things whereunto both are subiect: for the eye cannot iudge any otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead yet by the word of God and man we easily know the difference, as ver^s. 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleueth herein. l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 1. 24. and Chap. 2. 17, 22. Chap. 3. 17. and Chap. 8. 15. he declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vie the gifts of God freely and comfortably: for to knowe farther is a speciall gift of God remitted by his Spirit.

iust and the wicked: for time is g there for euery purpose and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had ^k purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are euen as one condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, & there is no excellencie of man aboue y^e beast: for al v^avanity.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who ^k knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend y^eward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should ^l reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what he shall be after him?

CHAP. III.

2 The innocent are oppressed. 4 Men labour are full of sorrow and weeping. 9 Man's fortune is uncertaine. 13 A young man's path, and his way, is to be preferred to an old Kings that is a foole.

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.

b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

c He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to see, or fee troubles.

d The more persone that the worke is, the more it is enuied of the wicked.

e For idleness he is compied to destroy himselfe.

f For as much as when man is alone he can neither help himselfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to liue in mutual societie, so the intent at they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.

g By this promise he declareth how necessary it is that men should liue in societie.

h That is, from a poore and base estate, or out of trouble and prison, as ieremy did, Gen. 4. 14.

i Meaning, that is borne a King.

S O ^a Turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and beheld the teares of the oppressed: & none comforteth them: ^b as the strength y^e of the hand of them that oppresseth them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I prayed the ^c dead which now are dead, about the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I ^d count him ^e better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath seene the euill workes which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, & all ^f perfection of workes that this is the enuy of a man against his neigh^r: for this also is vanity & vexation of spirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and ^g catcheth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and saw vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one ^h alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet ⁱ there none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither ^j death he thinke, for whom do I trauaile & defraud my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and this is an euill trauaile.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but w^o vnto him ^k that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heat: but to one how should there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold ^l s^coord is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wife childe, then an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the ^m prison he commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is ⁿ borne in his kingdom is made poore.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne; ^k with the second childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none ^l end of al the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heede to thy ^m moorte when thou entreth into the house of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of ⁿ foolles: for they know not that they do euill.

18 They thinke themselves abused, as other haue bene in time past, and offerre no more for him. ^o That is, with what affection thou comest to heare the word of God. ^p Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor penitence.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The counten can neuer beate youth. 11 The labourers sleepe in sacke. 13 Men whose life, takeh nothing with him. 15 To die iustly, and with a contrite minde, is the gift of God.

B E not ^a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine be hasty to w^rite a thing before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be fewe.

2 For ^b as a dream commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voice of a foole is in the multitude of words.

3 * When thou hast vowed a vow to God, defer not to pay it: for he delighteth not in foolles: pay therefore that thou hast ^c vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldst not vow, then that thou shouldst vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy ^d flesh to sinne: neither say before the ^e Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voice, and destroy the worke of thine hand?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many words: but scarce thou God.

7 If in a country thou feest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, he not astonied at the matter: for he that is ^f higher then the highest, regardeth, and ^g there be higher then they.

8 And the ^h abundance of the earth is ouer all the king ⁱ also confilteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer; and he that loueth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, and the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that trauelleth, is sweet, whether he eat litle or much: but the ^j faculty of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euill sicknesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: ^k as wit, riches ^l refused to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euill trauell, and he begeth a sonne, and in his ^m hand is nothing.

14 * As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to go as he came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sicknesse, that in all points as he came, so shall he go, and what profit hath he that he hath trauelled for in the ⁿ world?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in ^o darkness.

1 He doth not enjoy his fathers riches. * Job. 21. w^old. 2. 5. 1 Tim. 6. 7. in Meaning, in vaine, and without profit. 2 In affliction and griefe of minde, with g The reuenges of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things which appertaine to this life.

with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Beholde then, what I haue scene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sun, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him for his life's portion.

18 Also to eury man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enjoy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

Here is a cuill, which I saw vnder the sunne, and it is much among men.

1 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honor, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but God giueth him not power to eate thereof, and this a strange man shall eate it vp: this is vanitie; and this is an euill sicknesse.

2 If a man beget an hundred children & liue many yeeres, & the dayes of his yeeres bee multiplied, and his soule bee not satisfied with good things, and hee bee not buried, I say that an vniustly freee is better then he.

3 For hee cometh into vanitie, and goeth into darknesse: and his name shall bee covered with darknesse.

4 Also he hath not scene the sun, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

5 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twise tolde, and had scene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

6 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.

7 For what hath the wife man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

8 The sight of the eye is better then to walk in y lusts: this also is vanitie, & vexation of spirit.

9 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is now named: and it is knowned that it is man: and he cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to avoid the contrary.

Surely there be many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it man?

1 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life, and in the number of the dayes of his life, his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a shadow? For who can shew vnto man what shall befall him vnder the sun?

2 A good name is better then a good oymment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.

3 It is better to goe to the house of mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.

4 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is better better.

5 The heart of the wife is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.

6 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a man should heare the song of foolles.

7 For like the noise of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foolle: this also is vanitie.

8 Surely oppression maketh a wife man e mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

9 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proude in spirit.

10 Be not thou of an hasty spirit to be angry: for anger refteth in the bosom of foolles.

11 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou dost not enquire wisely of this thing.

12 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

13 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdome, and in the shadow of filth: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdome giueth life to the possessers thereof.

14 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make straight that which he hath made crooked?

15 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find nothing after him.

16 I haue scene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

17 Be not thou iust ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldst thou be desolate?

18 Be not thou wicked ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldst thou perish not in thy time?

19 It is good that thou lay hold on this: but yet withdraw not thine hand from that: for hee that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

20 Wisdome shall strengthen the wife man more then ten mighty princes that are in the city.

21 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneeth not.

22 Giue not thine heart also to all the words that men speake; lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

23 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.

24 All this haue I proued by wisdome: I thought I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

25 It is farre off, what may it be? and it is a profound deepenesse, what can finde it?

26 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know and to enquire and to search wisdome, and reason, and to knowe the wickednesse of follie, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.

27 And I find more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettles and snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

28 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to finde the count:

29 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

30 Onely loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought many usurpations.

a To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The works of God passe mans knowledge.

WHo is as the wife man? & who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisdom of a man doth make his face to shine: and the strength of his face shall be changed.

a I advertis thee to take heed to the counsel of the King, and to the word of the othe of God.

3 4 Haste not to goe forth of thy sight: stand not in an euill thing: for he will doe whatsoever pleasheth him.

4 Where 5 word of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wife shall know the time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the miserie of man is great vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not lord 9 ouer the spirit to reteine the spirit: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possesors thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and they returned, and they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the cite where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to do euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shalbe well with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall hee prolong his dayes: he shalbe like a shadow, because hee seareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there be righteous men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I prayed ioy: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the sunne, saue to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to beholde the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe, 17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, I man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man labourth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wife man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

CHAP. IX.

a By no outward thing can man know when God blesseth or curseth, 11 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wisdom excelleth strength.

Hauere giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wife, and their works are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnesse is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dogge, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shall die, but the dead know nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enie is now perished, & they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Goe, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now accepteth thy works.

8 At all times let thy garments be white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whom thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauell wherein thou labourst vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shall finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inaction, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little cite and few men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wife man, and he deliuered the cite by his wisdom: but none remembered this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of the wife are more heard in quietnesse, then the cry of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

a The difference of foolishnesse and wisdom. 11 A slander is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish King, and drunken prince, 17 and of good King and prince.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or reiecte or man knoweth not by their outward things; that is, by propertie or aduersitie, w^{ch} God doth iudice or before hee iudiceth them all to the wicked to the godly. b In outward things, as riches and pouertie, sickness and health, difference betweene the godly and the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are assisted by faith w^{ch} Gods iudice and assistance.

c He noteth the Epicures, and carnall men, which made their bellie their god, and had no pleasure but in this life, willing rather to be abused, and vile person in this life, then a man of authority, and to die, which is meant by the dogge and lion. d They flatter themselves to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.

e Reioyce, because, & saue for no cost, then speake the wicked before gods.

g Chap. 5. 18. f Thus the worldlings say to prouide that all things are lawful for them, and attribute that to chance and fate, which is done by the providence of God. g That is, he doth not foresee what shall come.

a That is, doth get him fauour and prosperitie.

b Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meke.

c That is, that thou obey the King, and keepe the othe that thou hast made for the same cause.

d Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.

e That is, when time is to obey, and how farre he should obey.

f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to doe nothing to increase the same, but to worke all things by wisdom and counsel.

g Man hath no power to save his owne life, and therefore must not rashly cast himselfe into danger.

AN EXCELLENT SONG WHICH WAS SALOMONS.

THE ARGUMENT.

In this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and paraboles describeth the perfect loue of Iesue Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faultfull soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without reprobation. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits wherewith he doeth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her desertings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more united to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. L

1 The fountaine telleth and mystical communication of the spirit, and loue betweene Iesue Christ and his Church, 5 The mystical remedies that perfume the Church.

1 She him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the^b fauour of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment poured out: therefore the^c virgins loue thee.

3 Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

4 I am blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tentes of^d Kedars, and as the^e curtains of Salomon.

5 Regard ye mee not, because I am blacke: for the^f Minne hath looked vpon me. The^g sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shew me, O thou, whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I bee as^h shee that turneth aside to the flocks ofⁱ thy companions?

7 If thou knowest not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kiddes by the tentes of the shepherds.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the^j charres of Pharaoh.

9 Thy cheekes are comely with rows of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 Wee will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

11 While the King was at his repast, my spokenard gaue the smell thereof.

12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my^k breasts.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, behold, thou art faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves.

15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire: and pleasant: also our^l bed is green.

16 When they had culled to the dignitie of palace, and they let forth their voyce of songs in Israel as thy doctrine, p. Christ speaketh to his church, bidding them that are ignorant, to goe to the fountains to learn. For thy spiritual beautie & excellence there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee. The Church reioyceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ. f. Hee shall be with thee every day. e. Christ accepteth his Church & commendeth her beauty. d. That is the heart of the Church, where Christ dwelleth by his spirit.

CHAP. II.

1 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ, 8 She heareth his voyce, 14 She is compared to the dore, 15 And she exhorteth to the fountaine.

I am the rose of the field, and the lillie of the valles.

2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my^a loue among the daughters.

3 Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delight, & fate down: and his fruites were sweete vnto my mouth.

4 He brought mee into the wine cellar, and loue was his banner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hinds of the field, that ye surne not vpon waken my loue, vntill the pleasure.

8 Is the voice of my welbeloued: behold, hee cometh leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hills.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: hee standeth behind our wall, looking forth of the windows, shewing himselfe through the gates.

10 My welbeloued spake and said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and comethy way.

11 For behold, winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figtree hath brought forth her yong figs: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a fauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

14 My dowe, that art in the holes of y^m rocke, in the secret places of the flaires, I heare mee fight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, theⁿ idle foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines beare small grapes.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: hee feedeth among the lillies.

17 Vntill the day brake, & the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and be like a roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bethel.

18 The Church desireth Christ to bee most ready to helpe her in all danger.

h All ye, that are of the number of the faithfull. i Christ become man was crowned by the loue of God with the glorious crowne of his dominie.

a Because Christ delighteth in his Church, he commenderh all that is in her. b (See a. 4. c He hath respect to the multitude of the faithfull which are many in number.

c Wherein are knowledge and zeale, two preciousiewels.

d Christ promitteth his Church to call his faithfull from all the corners of the world.

In my bed by a night I fought him that my soule loued: I fought him, but I found him not.

I will rise therefore now, and goe about in the cite, by the strettes and by the open places, and wil I seeke him that my soule loueth: I fought him, but I found him not.

The watchmen that went about the cite, found me: to whom I sayd, Haue you seene him, whom my soule loueth?

When I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke holde on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that conceiued me.

I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roses and by the hyndes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue vntill the please.

Who is shee that cometh vp out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, and with all the spices of the marchant?

Behold his bed which is Salomons: three-score strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, euery one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare so by night.

King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pavement thereof of gold, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paved with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.

Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, & behold the King Salomon with the crowne, where-with his mother crowned him in day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

CHAP. IIJ.

1 The praises of the Church. 2 Shee is without blame in his sight. 3 The loue of Christ toward her.

Behold, thou art faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doves: among thy lockes* thine haire is like the flocke of goates, which looke downe from the mountaine of Gilead.

Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe in good order, which goe vp from the walhing: which euery one bring out twines, and none is barren among them.

Thy lips are like a threede of scarlet, and thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.

Thy necke is as the tower of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shields hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

Thy two breasts are as two young roes that are twines, feeding among the lilies.

Vntil the day brake, and the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with me from Lebanon, and looke from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir, and Hermon, from the demes of the hyons, and from the mountaines of the leopards.

My filter, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy neck.

My filter, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? how much better is thy loue then wine? and the fauour of thine ointments then all spices?

Thy slippers, my spouse droppe as hony combs: hony and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the fauour of thy garments is as the fauour of Lebanon.

My filter, my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring thut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

Thy plantes are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenarde, Euen spikenarde, and saffron, calamus, and cynamon with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

Arise, O North, and come, O South, and blowe on my garden that the spices thereof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his plentiful fruite.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 4 She prayeth Christ her husband.

I am come into my garden, my filter, my spouse: I gathered my myrrhe with my spice: I ate mine hony comb with mine hony, I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, O friends, drinke, and make you mery, O welbeloued.

I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto me, my filter, my loue, my done, my vnfiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with the droppes of the e night.

I haue put off my coat, howe shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, howe shall I de file them?

My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned to ward him.

I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did drop downe myrrhe, and my fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, and past: mine heart was gone when hee did speake: I fought him, but I could not finde him: I called him, but he answered me not.

The watchmen that went about the cite, found mee: they smote mee and wounded mee: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my vaile from me.

I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another loue, that thou doest lo charge vs?

My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chieft of ten thousand.

His head is as fine gold, his lockes curled, and blacke as a rauen.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promise, Deut. 18. 15. that he would never leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare unto the people the things to come, whereof they had a special revelation, but also to interpret and declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the viciaries and profits of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertain, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: Secondly to the promises and threatenings of the Law: and thirdly, to the covenants of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Lawe. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the venences against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they have more clearly entreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: ever applying the doctrine, as hee saws that the disease of the people required. Hee declares also many notable prophecies which hee had received of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdom. Also of the favour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Jewes. Which are as most principall points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that hee preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stode upon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to sit up the summe of their doctrine for certain dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isa. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priestes tooke it downe and referred it among the registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for ever. As touching his person and time, hee was of the Kings stocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres from the time of Vzziah unto the reigne of Manassah, whose father was lame hee was (as the Hebrews write) and of whose hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among other is to be observed, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordained them in his secret counsell, and so revealed them to his Prophet.

CHAP. I.

1 Isaiah reprehendeth the Jewes of their ingratitude and stubbornness, that neither for benefits nor punishments would amend.
2 He sheweth why their sacrifices are refused, and wherefore Gods true service standeth. 3 How prophecies of the destruction of Ierusalem. 4 And of the restitution thereof.

5 Vision of Isaiah, the sonne of Amoz, which he saw concerning Iudah and Ierusalem: in the daies of Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Iudah.

6 Hearken, O earens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lord hath sayd, I have nourished and brought up * children, but they have rebelled against mee.

7 The Lord knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel hath not known: my people hath not understood.

8 Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a * seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they have forsaaken the Lord: they have provoked the * holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backward.

9 Wherefore shouldest thou see: I smitten any more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole * head is sicke, and the whole heart is hearie.

6 From the sole of the foote unto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds, and swelling, and sores full of corruption: they have not bene wrapped, nor bound up, nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire: strangers devour your lande in your presence, and it is a desolate like the overthrowe * of strangers.

8 And the daughter of * Zion shall remaine like a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hostes * had reserved vnto vs, euen a little remnant: wee shoulde have bene as * Sodom, and shoulde have bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Hear the word of the Lord, O * princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Law of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What have I to doe with the multitude of your sacrifices, saith the Lord? I am full of the burnt offerings of rammes, and of the fat of fed beastes: and I * desire not the blood of bullocks, nor of lambs, nor of goats.

12 When ye come to appeare before me, who by naming the chief partes of the body, he signifieth, that there was no part of the whole body of the Jewes free from his rods.

Every part of the body, as well the least as the chiefest was plagued. In their plagues were so grievous that they were incurable, and yet they would not repent.

Meaning, of them that dwell farr off, which, because they looke not so advantage of that which remaineth, destroy all before them.

That is, he is full.

Because that he will cover him with a Church: so call upon his Name.

That is, all destroyed. Yet that your vices deserved all to be destroyed as they of Sodom, from that God of his mercy reserved a little remnant, Lament. 3. 2. Although God commanded the sacrifices for a time, as oyles and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had not faith nor repentance, God detesteth them, Psalm 50. 13. Ieremie 4. 2. Amos 5. 22. Mich. 6. 7.

a That is, a revelation or prophecy, which was one of the two means, whereby by God declared himselfe to his servants in olde times, as Num. 12. 6. and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1. Sam. 9. 9. b Isaiah was chiefly sent to Iudah and Ierusalem, but not onely, for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations also. c Called also Azariah, 2. Kings 19. 2. of these Kings read, 2. Kings from Chap. 14. unto Chap. 32. and 2. Chron. from Chap. 32. unto Chap. 33. d Because men were obstinate and intractable, he calleth to the dumb creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods word, as Dent. 28. 1. e He doth lareh his great mercy towards the Jewes, inasmuch as he chose them above all other nations to be his people and children, as Dent. 10. 15. f The most brute and dull beastes doe more acknowledge their dueitie toward their masters, then any people doe toward me, of whom they have received benefites without corruption. g They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but vitally corrupt, and by their evil example infected others. h That is, him that sanctifieth Israel. i What availeth it to seeke to amend you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebelle required this of your handes to treade in my courtes?

13 Bring no mo oblations, t in vaine: incenſe is an abomination vnto mee: I cannot ſuffer your newe monnes, nor Sabbathes, nor ſolemne dayes (as is iniquitie) nor ſolemne aſſemblies.

14 My ſoule hateth your newe moones and your appointed feaſtes: they are a burden vnto me: I am wearie to beare them.

15 And when you ſhall ſtretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though yee make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.

16 Ye ſay, you, make you cleane: take away the cuill of your workes from before mine eyes: ceaſe to doe euill:

17 Learne z to doe well: ſeekie iudgement, relieue the oppreſſed: iudge the fatherleſſe and defend the widowe.

18 Come now, z and let vs reaſon together, ſaith the Lord: though your finnes were as crim, they ſhall be made white as ſnowe: though they were red like ſcarlet, they ſhall be as wooll.

19 If ye c conſent and obey, ye ſhall eate the good things of the land.

20 But if ye reſuſe and be rebellious, ye ſhall be deuoured with the ſworde: for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

21 Howe is it the faithfull cite become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, of iuſtice lodged therein, but now e they are murderers.

22 Thy filiter is become a troſſe: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy Princes are rebellious and companions of ſ theemes: euery one loueth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherleſſe, neither doeth the widowes cauſe come before them.

24 Therefore ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, the mighty one of Iſrahel, Ah, I will eafe me of mine aduerſaries, & auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy droſſe, till it be pure, and take away all thy tynne.

26 And I will reſtore thy iudges as at the firſt, and thy counſellers as at the beginning: afterward ſhalt thou be called a cite of rightcouſneſſe, and a faithfull cite.

27 Zion ſhall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iuſtice.

28 And the deſtruction of the tranſgreſſors and of the finners ſhall together: and they that forſake the Lord, ſhall be conſumed.

29 For they ſhall be confounded for the okes, which ye haue deſired, and ye ſhall be aſhamed of the gardens, that ye haue choſen.

30 For ye ſhall be as an ok, whoſe leafe ſadeth:

and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the ſtrong ſhall be as ſ tow, and the maker thereof, as a ſparke: and they ſhall both burne together, and none ſhall quench them.

CHAP. II.

a The Church ſhall be reſtored by Chriſt, and the Gentiles called.
b The puniſhment of the rebellious and aduſers.

T He word that Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſaw vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

1 It ſhall be in the laſt dayes, that y mountaine of the houſe of the Lord ſhall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and ſhall be exalted aboue the hilles, and all nations ſhall flow vnto it.

2 And many people ſhall go, and ſay, Come, and let vs go vp to the mountaine of the Lord, to the houſe of the God of Iaakob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes:

3 For the Law ſhall goe forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem,

4 And ſee hall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they ſhall breake their ſworde alſo into mattocks, and their ſpeares into ſickles: nation ſhall not lift vp a ſworde againſt nation, neither ſhall they learne to fight any more.

5 O houſe of Iaakob, come yee, and let vs walke in the Lawe of the Lord.

6 Surely thou haſt forſaken thy people, the houſe of Iaakob, becauſe they are full of the Eaſt manner, and are foreracers as the Philiftines, and alſo with ſtrange children.

7 Their land alſo was full of ſilver & gold, and there was none ende of their treaſures: and their land was full of horſes, and their chaires were infinite.

8 Their land alſo was full of idoles: they worſhipped the worke of their owne hands, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himſelfe, and a man humbled himſelfe: therefore ſpare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the duſt from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiſtie.

11 The hie looke of man ſhall be humbled, and the loſineſſe of men ſhall be aſhamed, and the Lord only ſhall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hoſtes ſhall be vpon all the proude and haute, and vpon all that is exalted: and it ſhall be made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are hie & exalted, & vpon all the okes of Baſhan,

14 And vpon all the hie mountaines, and vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euery hie tower, and vpon euery ſtrong wall,

16 And vpon all the ſhippes of Tarſiſh, and ward another: which peace and loue doth begin and grow in this life, but ſhall be perfected, when we are ioyned with our head Chriſt Ieſu. 1 Seeing the Gentiles will be ſo ready, make you haſte and ſtew them the way to worſhip God. In the Prophet ſeeing the ſmall hope, that the Iewes would conuert, complained to God, as though he had vnto forſaken them for their finnes. 2 Full of the corruption that reigned chriſt in the Eaſt parts. 3 They altogether gave themſelves to the ſinners of other nations. 4 The Prophet ſaith condemned their ſuperſtition and idolatry: next their conſent and ſhilly their vaine truſt in worldly merces. 5 He toucheth the nature of the idolaters, which are neceſſarily ſatisfied in their ſuperſtitions. 6 Thus the Prophet ſpoke, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might ſeare them with Gods iudgement. 7 Meaning, as ſoon as God ſhall beginne to execute his iudgements. 8 By his trees and mountaines are meant them that are proud and lofty, and thinke themſelves moſt ſtrong in this world. 9 He condemneth their vaine confidence, which they had in ſtrong holdes, and in their rich marchandize, which brought in vaine pleaſure, wherein mens mindes became effeminate.

p The ſaſſe god, where in is your confidence, ſhall be conſumed as eaſily as a piece of tow.

2 Micah. 4. 3 The decree and ordinance of God, touching the reſtauration of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Chriſt. b It is an euident place to be ſcene and diſcerned. c When the kingdom of Chriſt ſhall be enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. d Here alſo is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called. e Alluding to mount Zion, where the viſible Church then was. f Micah. 4. 2. e Meaning the whole doctrine of ſalutation. g This was accomplished, when the Goſpel was firſt preached in Ierusalem, and from thence wenteth forth to all the world. h The Lord, which is Chriſt, ſhall haue all power giuen him. i That they may acknowledge their finnes and turne to him. k He ſheweth the fruit of the peace, which the Goſpel ſhall bring to wit, that men ſhall doe good one to another, where as before they were enemies. l He ſpeaketh not againſt the life of weapons & ſouldiers, but ſheweth how the hearts of the godly ſhall be affected one to another.

t Without faith and repentance. u Your ſacrifices offered in the new moones and feaſtes: here condemneth hereby hypocrites, which thinke to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and they themſelves are they of old faith and merie. x Heſteweth that where men be giuen to auarice, deſire, cruelty and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will ſhew his anger, and not accept them, though they ſeeme neuer ſo holy. y In this outward waſhing, he ſpeaketh of the ſpiritual: exhorting the Iewes to repent and amend their liues. z This kinde of reaſoning, by the ſecund table, the Scriptures vie in many places againſt the hypocrites, who pretend moſt holines and religion in word, but when their charit and loue toward their brethren ſhould appeare, they declare that they haue neither faith nor religion. a To know if I doe auenge you without cauſe. b Left finners ſhould pretend any rigour on Gods part: the only willen them to be pure in heart, and he will forgive all their finnes, were they neuer ſo many or great. c He ſheweth that whatſoeuer aduerſitie man indureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne inſolentitie and diſobediſſence. d That is, Ierusalem, which had promiſed fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband. e Giura to conſortuſſe & exortio, which he ſignified before by blood, &c. f Whatſoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward ſhew. g That is, they maintaine the wicked and the extortioners, and not only do not puniſh them, but are themſelves ſuch. h When God will them himſelfe meſſage to his Church, he calleth himſelfe, The hie one of Iſrahel: but when he hath to do with his enemies, he is called mighty, as againſt whom no power is able to reſiſt. i I will take vengeance of mine aduerſaries: the Iewes and ſo ſatiſfie my deſire by puniſhing them. Which thing yet hee doeth with a griefe becauſe of his conſcience. k Let the faithfull among them ſhould be overcome with this threatening he addeth this conſolation. l It is only the worke of God to puniſh the heart of man, which thing hee doeth becauſe of his promiſe, made concerning the ſaluation of his Church. m In ſuch, it meant Gods faithfull promiſe which is the cauſe of the deliniance of his Church. n The wicked ſhall not be partakers of Gods promiſe, Iſa. 55. 3. o That is, the trees and ſtrong holdes, where ye commit idolatry, which was forbidden, Deut. 16. 22.

upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtinesse of men shalbe brought low, and the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Lord shall onely he exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he vicerely destroy.

19 Then they shal goe * into the holes of the rockes, & into the caves of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glory of his maiestie, when he shall arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his siluer idoles, & his golden idoles (which they had made themselves to worship them) * to the mowles and to the backes,

21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the tops of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glory of his maiestie, when he shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man whose pride is in his wofrels: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God will take away the wife men and giue them foolish princes. 2 The contumelious of the gourdners. 3 The pride of the women.

For loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem and from Iudah the stay * and the strength: * euen all the stay of bread, * and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of warre, * the iudge and the prophet, the prudent, and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint * children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 The people shalbe * oppressed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When euery one shall * take holde of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, * and let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he shall * sweare, saying, I can not be an helper: * for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue & workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the cies of his glory.

9 The * trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they * shew their finnes, as Sodom, they hid them not. v. to be vnto their foules: for they have rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 I Say ye, Surely it shalbe well with the iust: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Wo be to the wicked, it shalbe euill with him: for the reward of his hands shalbe giuen him.

12 * Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule over them: O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, & destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, hee standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the Ancients of his people & the princes thereof:

* Hefte vs. 18. Iude 23. vs. 16. d. 16. and 9. 6.

2 They shall cast them into most vile and filthy places, when they perceive that they are not able to helpe them.

3 Call off your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so fraille, that if his soile be flopped, he is dead, and consider that you haue to doe with God.

a Recuse they trusted in their abundance and prosperity, they thought that they should be taken from them.

b The temporal gouernours and ministers.

c By these he meant, that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves.

d Not onely in age, but in wisdom, knowledge and strength.

e For like of good regime and order.

f He sheweth that this plague shalbe to horrible, that contrary to the common manner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shalbe found able or willing to be their gouernour.

g Feare shall rather cause him to forsake himself, than to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.

h When God shall examine their deeds whereupon they now for an impudent face, hee shall finde the make of their impiety in their forehead.

i Be ye that are godly called that God will defend you in the midst of these troubles. k Because the wicked people were more addid to their princes, then to the commandments of God, hee sheweth that hee would giue them such princes, by whom they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooler & effeminate. l Meaning that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church, & not preserved it, according to their duty.

for ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to do, that ye beate my people to pieces, * and grinde the faces of the poore, faith the Lord, * the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also faith, * Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with * stretched out neckes, and with * wandring eyes, walking & miming as they goe, and making a * tinkling with their feete, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion halke, and the Lord shall discover their secret partes.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, * and the calles, and the round tyres,

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, and the heall bands, and the tablets, and the eare rings,

21 The rings and the muffers,

22 The costly apparell and the vailles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glaffes, and the fine linnen, and the hoodes and the * launes.

24 And in steade of sweete sauour, there shall be stinke, and in steade of a girdele, a rent, and in steade of dressing of the haire, baldnesse, and in steade of a stomacher, a giuding of sackcloth, and turning in steade of beautie.

25 Thy men * shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates * mourne and lament, and she being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

disolute, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The small remnant of man after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The places of God vpon them that remaine.

And in that day shall * a fewen women take hold of one man, saying, Wee will eate our owne bread, and we will weare our owne garments: only b let vs be called by thy name, and take away our reproch.

2 In that day shall the * bud of the Lorde be beautifull and glorious, * and the fruite of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Isack.

3 * When he that shalbe left in Zion, * and hee that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shalbe called holily, and euery one shalbe * written among the iust in Ierusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthinesse of the daughters of Zion, and purge the * blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the * glory shall be a defence.

6 And a cowering shalbe for a shadow in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a couert for the storme * and for the raine.

huddle of the Lord meane Christ. a He alleudeth to the booke of life, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euertlasting. f That is, the euellie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednesse. g When things thus remedied shall be amisse, h He alleudeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13. 21. meaning, that Gods sinners and wickednesse should appeare in euery place. i The sackcloth are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shalbe in them. k God promitteth to be the defence of his Church against all wronges and dangers.

m That is, yee shewe all crueltie against them.

n He menaceth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themselves to all wastonnesse and dissolution. o Which declared their pride.

p As a signe, that they were not chaste.

q Which shewed their wantonnes.

r They delisted then in slippers that did craeke, or had little places sowed vpon them, which tumbled as they went.

s In hearsching all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse, and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

t Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this.

a When God shall execute the vengeance, there shall not be one man found to bee the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly modestie, shall vse to be as head to many women.

b Be then our husband, and let vs be called thy wives, for so they thought it to be without an head and husband.

d He comforteth the Church in this dissolution, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods grace should be as pleasant smell toward the faithful, as though they were out of the earth, as Chap. 41. 1. Some by this meaneth, that God shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the glory shall be a defence.

huddle of the Lord meane Christ. a He alleudeth to the booke of life, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euertlasting. f That is, the euellie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednesse. g When things thus remedied shall be amisse, h He alleudeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13. 21. meaning, that Gods sinners and wickednesse should appeare in euery place. i The sackcloth are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shalbe in them. k God promitteth to be the defence of his Church against all wronges and dangers.

h This oft repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels can not satiate themselves in praising God, to teach vs that in all our lives we should give our selves to the continual praise of God.

i His glory doeth not only appeare in the heauens, but through all the world, & therefore all creatures are bound to praise him.

k Which things were to continue the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man; and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come vpon the Iewes.

l He speakes this for two causes the one, because he was but a mortall creature, & therefore had more neede to glorie God then the Angels, did it not and the other, because the more secret & man approacheth to God, the more doeth he know his owne sinne and corruption.

m Of the burne offerings, where the fire neuer went out. n This cleareth his man cannot render true obedience to God, till he haue purged vs. o Wherby is declared that the malice of man God will not immediately take away his word, but hee will canie it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and be fained hereby he exhorted the ministers to doe their dutie, and answere to the wicked murderers, that through their owne malice their hearts is hardened. Matt. 17. 12. Act. 26. rom. 11. 8. p As hee was moued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was hee touched with a charitable affection toward the people. q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was reuelled to Iſaiah for the confirmation of his prophesie, that ten Kings should come before the captiuitie, as were from Vaziah to Zechariah. r For the fire which they shall burne to be eaten vp: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in summer is fresh, and greene.

3 And one cryed to another, and sayd, h Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hostes: the whole world is full of his glory.

4 And the lintels of the doore cheekes k morned at the voyce of him that cryed, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then Iſaiah, I wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, & I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King, and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote cole in his hand, which hee had taken from the altar with the tongs:

7 And hee touched my mouth, and sayd, Loc, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shall be taken away, and thy sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whome shall I send? and who shall goe for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

9 And he sayd, Goe, and say vnto this people, o Ye shall heare in deede, but ye shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainly see, and not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, & vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and hee heale them.

11 Then sayd I, Lord, how long? And hee answered, Vntill the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vtterly desolate, 12 And the Lord haue remoued men farre away, and there is a great desolation in the mids of the land.

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and shall returne, & shall be eaten vp as an olme, for as an olme, which haue a substance in them, when they cast their leaues: so the holy feede shall be the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

2 Iſaiah is ledged, q Iſaiah comforteth the King, 14 Christ is promised.

*2 Kings 18. 5.

107. 512.

a To wit, the second time: for in the first battell Ahaz was ouercome.

b Meaning, the Kings house.

c That is, Iſrael, because that Tribe was the greatest, Gen. 48. 9.

d For Iſaiah.

e That is to say, the rest shall returne, which name Iſaiah gaue his people, to signifie that the rest of the people should re- turne out of their captiuitie.

And in the dayes of * Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vaziah king of Iudah, Rezin the King of ¶ Aram came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Iſrael, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but hee could not overcome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of b David, saying, Aram is ioyned with c Ephraim: therefore his heart was d moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

3 ¶ Then sayde the Lord vnto Iſaiah, Goe forth now to meeete Ahaz (thou and e Shearaias thy sonne) at the ende of the conduit of the vpper pool, in the path of the fullers field.

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still: feare not, neither bee faint hearted for the two tailes of the smoking f firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne.

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vp against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breach thereof for vs, and set a King in the mids thereof, euen the sonne of 8 Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, it shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram ¶ Damascus, and the head of Damascus ¶ Rezin: and within five and b threethree yeere, Ephraim shall bee destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim ¶ Samaria, and the head of Samaria ¶ Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayde, I will not aske, neither will I k tempt the Lord.

13 Then he sayde, Heare you now, O house of David. Is it a small thing for you to grieue l men, that ye will also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lord m himselfe will giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgin shall concene and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name ¶ Immanuel.

15 ¶ Butter and hony shall hee eate, till hee haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chuse the good.

16 For afore the o childe shall haue knowledge to eſchewe the euill, and to chuse the good, the land, that thou abhorrest, shall be forsaken of both her Kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the day is that are not come from the day that ¶ Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of 9 Affur.

18 And in that day shall the Lord hiſſe for the r ririe that is at the vttermoſt part of the floods of Egypt, and for the bee which is in the land of Affur,

19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thornie places, and vpon all bushes ¶ places.

20 In that day shall the Lord flauie with a razor that is hirsd, euen by them beyond the Riuier, by the King of Affur, the head and the haire of the t ſecte, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man u nourish among kowe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left with- in the land.

Kings of Samaria and Syria shall be destroyed. p Since the time that the reuoluing Tribes departed from Roboam. q In whom thou hast put thy trust. r Meaning the Egyptians: for by reason the country is hote & moyt, it is full of flies, as Affrica is full of bees. s Signifying, that no place shall bee free from them. t That is, that which is from the belly downe ward: meaning that hee would destroy both great and small. u He that before had a great number of cattell, shall be content with one kowe and two sheepe. x The number of men shall be so small, that a fewe beastes shall be able to nourish all abundantly.

f Which haue but a little smoke and shall quickly be quenched. g Which was an Israelite, and as Iſaiah, enemy to the house of David.

h Counting from the time and over the threethree yeere of the reigne of Vaziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, & now Iſaiah comforteth that the Iſraelites should be led into perpetuall capti- uity, which thing came to passe within threethree yeere after that Iſaiah did this message.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preterred.

k Not to beleue Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde & helpe of our infirmities, is to rebell against him.

l I You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods mes- sengers: but it is God against whom you beed your feires.

m Forasmuch as thou art vnder- thy, ¶ Lord for his owne promes sake will giue a signe, when shall be that Christ the Saviour of his Church and the effects of all finnes and mis- eries shall be re- uelled.

n God wisheth, which name con- agree to want, and to him that is God and man.

23 And at the same day every place, wherein shalbe a thousand vines, shalbe a thousand pieces of siluer: for it shalbe for the briars, and for the thornes.

24 With arrows and with y bowes shall one come thither: because all the land shall be briars and thornes.

25 But on z all the mountaines, which shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briars and thornes: but they shalbe for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

1 The captivitie of Iffrah and Tabbah by the Assyrian. 2 The substance of the lawes. 3 The destruction of the Assyrian. 4 The fall of the stone of stumbling to the world. 5 The word of God shall be required.

Ma Orecouer the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it b with a mans pen, Make speele to the foyple: h sste to the prayer.

2 Then I tooke vnto me c faithfull witnessers, to recorde, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Ieherechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the d Prophetesse, which concieued and bare a sonne. Then sayd the Lord to me, Call his name, || Maher-shalal hath baz.

4 For before the c child shall haue knowledge to crye, My father and my mother, he shal take away the riches of Damascus, and the foyple of Samaria, before the king of Asshur.

5 And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of g Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Nowe therefore, beholde, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of h the Riuer mightie and great, euen the King of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their banks.

8 And thall breake into Iudah, and shal ouerflowe and passe through, and shal come vp to the i necke, and the stretching out of y wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O k Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye l people, and ye shalbe broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lorde spake thus to mee in taking m of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, lying,

12 Say ye not, A n confederacie to all them, to whom this people sayth a confederacie, neither feare you o their feare, nor be afraide of them.

13 p Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shal be as a q Sanctuarie: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall and shalbe broken and shalbe snared and shalbe taken.

16 r Binde vp the testimonie: scale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will waite vpon the Lorde that hath hid his face from the house of Iakob, and I will looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the s children whome the Lorde hath giuen mee, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, t by the Lorde of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion,

19 And when they shall say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and in the soothsayers, which whisper and murmur: u shoud not a people enquire at their God? from the x liuing to the dead?

20 To the y Lawe, and to the testimonie, i if they speake not according to this word: z is because there is no z light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall goe to and fo in it: and when he shall be hungry, hee shall euen fret himselfe, b and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpwad.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, behold trouble and c darkenesse, vexation and anguish, and he s driuen to darkenesse.

God, and seeke helpe at the dea, which is the illusion of Satan. y Seeke remedie in the word of God where it will be declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blinde. a That is, in Iudah, where they thought haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God, b In whom afore they had put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless, the Lord will raise vp the aduersaries of Re in against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before & the Philistins behinde, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and taile, branch and rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, hee is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them are deuoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their yong men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse & of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speakech folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse is burneth as a fire: it de-uoureth the briars and the thornes, and wil kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shall the land be darkened, and the people shall be as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and hee shall eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eate the flesh of his owne ayme.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall fight against Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrian and after destroy them. 31 The remnant of Iffraim shall be saved.

W O vnto them that decree wicked decrees,
and write grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may be their praye, and that they may spoule the fatherlesse.

3 What wilt ye doe now in the day of visitation:
and of destruction, which shall come from farre: to whom wilt ye flee for helpe? and where wilt ye leaue your glory?

4 Without mee euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the flaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O Ashur, the rodde of my wrath: and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will sende him a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoyle & to take the pray, and to tread them vnder foete like the mire in the streete.

7 But hee thinketh not so, neither doeth his heart esteeme it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he saith, Are not my princes altogether
Kings?

9 Is not Calno as a Carchemish? Is not Ham-math like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath founde the king-domes of the idoles, seeing their idoles were about Ierusalem, and about Samaria:

11 Shall not I as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visit the fruit of the proud heart: the king of Ashur, and his glorious and proude lookes,

13 Because he said, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, & by my wisdome, because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, & haue spoiled their treasures, & haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leanness, and vnder his glory he shall kinde a burning, like the turning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be as a fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne, and deuoure his thornes & his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful fields both soule and flesh: and he shall be as the fainting of a standard bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be fewe, that a childe may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iaa-cob, slay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall sit vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall returne, euens the remnant of Iaaqob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the find of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption I decreed shall ouerflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euens determined, in the middes of all the land.

24 I shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteousness,
I destroy this land as he hath determined, and after I will destroy it.

25 Therefore

flaie.

se to destroy deuill.

h Because of the promises made to that kingdom, whereby Christs kingdom was prefigured.

i He deserveth by what way the Assyrians should come against Jerusalem, to confirm the faithful, when it should come to pass, that as their plague was come, so should they be delivered.

2. Fear and destruction shall come upon Iudah: for the princes and the people shall all be led away captives.

3. Because the captivity of Babylon was a figure of the spiritual captivity vnder sin, he the weath that our true deliverance must come by Christ: for as David came out of Ithai a man with-out dignity: so Christ should come of a poore carpenters house as out of a dead Rocke, Chap. 33. 3. b. All these prophecies can agree to none but only unto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithful and mortifieth their consciences: and to the wicked he is the favour of death, and to them that shall perish: so that all the world shall be sown with this rodde, which is his word.

c Men because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beasts, wherein the like affections reigne: but Christ by his Spirit shall recomfort them, and worke in them such mutual charity, that they shall be like lambs, favouring and loving one another, and cast off all their cruell affections, Chap. 33. 3. d. It shall be as great abundance as the waters in the sea.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people, that dwellst in Zion, Be not afraid of Aharah: that smite thee with a rod, & that lift vp his fist against thee after 7 maner of Egypt: 25 But yet a while tiane, and the wrath shall be confuted, & mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of Midian in the rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was upon the Sea, so he will lift it vp after the manner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anoynting.

28 He is come yto Aiaz: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the foord: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraid: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselves together.

32 There is a time that he will stay at Nob: he shall lift up his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hosts hath cut off the bough with feare, and they of high stature shall be cut off, and the hie shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, and Lebanon shall haue a mighty fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Ithai. 2 His vertues & kingdomes. 3 The fruites of the Gospel. 4 The calling of the Gentiles.

But there shall come a rodde forth of the stocke of Ithai, and a graffe shall growe out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest vpon him: the spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsell and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord.

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shall not iudge after sight of his eyes, neither reprove him by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousnesse shall he iudge the poore, and with equitie shall he reprove for the meeke of the earth: and he shall b smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lippest shall he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, and a faithfulnesse the girdle of his reines.

6 The wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lie with the kid, and the calfe, and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the kowe and the beare shall feede: their yong ones shall lie together: and the lyon shall eate strawe like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking child shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the wained child shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 Then shall the Spirit of the Lord recomfort them, and worke in them such mutual charity, that they shall be like lambs, favouring and loving one another, and cast off all their cruell affections, Chap. 33. 3. d. It shall be as great abundance as the waters in the sea.

11 And in that day the roote of Ithai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his rest shall be glorious.

12 And in the same day shall the Lord breake out his hand against the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people, (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, & of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

13 And hee shall set vp a signe to the nations and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the world.

14 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, & the aduersaries of Iudah shall be cut off. Ephraim shall not enuie Iudah, neither shall Iudah vex Ephraim:

15 But they shall see vpon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spoile them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

16 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mightie winde shall lift vp his hand ouer the river, and shall smite him in his seven streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoos.

17 And there shall be a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

18 And thou shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, & thou comest to me.

2 Behold, God is my saluation: I will trust, and will not feare: for the Lord God is my strength and song: he also is become my saluation.

3 Therefore with ioy shall we sing: draw waters out of the welles of saluation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, * Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the world.

6 Crie out, and shout, O inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holie one of Israel in the midst of thee.

4 The noise of a multitude ⁱⁿ y mountains, like a great people: a tumultuous voice of y kingdoms of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbeth the hoite of the battell.

5 They come from afarre country, from the end of the heauen: euen the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle y you for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almightie.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: anguish and sorrow shall take them, and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: euery one shall be amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lorde cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the flames of fire, and the planets thereof shall not gine thee light, the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visite the wickednesse vpon the world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a man more precious then fine gold, euen a man about y wedge of gold of Ophir.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shall be the destruction of God in Sodom and Gomorah.

20 It shall not bee inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepheardes make their foldes there.

21 But y Zijm shall lodge there, and their houses shall be full of Ohim: Olmethes shall dwell there, and the Satyres shall dance there.

22 And Jjm shall crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is ready to come, and the dayes thereof shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The desolation of the King of Babilon. 11 The death of the King. 19 The destruction of the Philistines.

For the Lord will haue compassion of Iacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger shall ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iacob.

2 And the people shall receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lorde, for seruants and handmaids: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall giue thee rest from thy sorrowe, and from thy feare, and from the fore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this pronerbe against the King of Babel, and say, Howe hath the oppressour ceased? and the gold-thirstie Babel rested?

5 The Lorde hath broken the rodde of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecutid, he did it not let.

7 The whole world is at rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the firre trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid downe, no heuier came vp against vs.

9 Helbeneath is moued for thee to meete thee at thy coming, saying vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crye, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weak also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the found of thy vioules: the worme is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cut downe to the ground, which diddest cast lotes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue the starres of God: I will sitte also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend aboue the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt bee brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes?

1 Hee sheweth why God will haue to destroy his enemies: to wit, because he will deliver his Church. 2 Meaning, that the Gentiles shall be ioynd with the Church and worship of God. 3 Signifying, that the ioyes should be superiour to the Gentiles, and that they should be brought vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiection of Christ. 4 Corin. 10. 5. 6 That is, he suffered all violence and iniuries to be done. 7 Meaning, that when tyrants reign, there can be no rest nor quietnes, and also how detestable a thing tyrannie is, seeing the infernall creatures haue occasion to reioyce at their destruction.

8 As though they feared, lest thou shouldst trouble the dead, as thou diddest the liuing: and here he denieth the proud tyrannies of the wicked, which knowe not that all creatures with their destruction that they may reioyce.

g Meaning that it was a city that was lined in pleasure, and neuer left forwe.

grate, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and slaine thy people: the seede of the wicked shall not be renowned for ever.

21 Prepare a slaughter for thy children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the world with enemies.

22 For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hostes) and wil cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne and the nephew, saith the Lord.

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I will sweepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lorde of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I have purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I have consulted, it shall stand:

25 That I will breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountains will I tread him vnder foote: for that his yoke shall depart from y them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole worlde, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations,

27 Because the Lorde of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disanul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 In the yeeare that King Abaz dyed, was this burden,

29 Reioyce not, (thou howle Palestina) because the rod of him that did beat thee, is broken: for our of the serpents roote shall come forth a cockatrice, and the huite thereof shall be a herie flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the needy shall lie downe in safetie: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, Ogare, erie, O cite: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolved, for there shall come from the North a smoke, and none shall be alone, at his time appointed.

32 What shall then one answer y the messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lorde hath stablished Zion, and the poore of his people shall trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

A propheticke against Moab.

THe burden of Moab. Surely the Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall go vp to the temple, & to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for Nebo and for Medeba that Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall be baldnesse, and euery beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they bee girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heihbon that erie, and Elealeh: their voyce shall bee heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shall howle: the soule of euery one shall lament in his selfe.

5 Mine heart shall erie for Moab: his fugitiues shall flee vnto Zoar: an heifer of three yee oide: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horoumain they shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried vp: therefore the grassie is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euer man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willowes.

8 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the (kriking thereof vnto Beer-Elim, 9 Because the waters of Dimon shall be full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euen Lyons I vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes whereby the Moabites are destroyed.

End yee a lumbeto the ruler of the worlde from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that flyeth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their count from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in steadfastnesse, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and lasting iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, because his lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one shall howle: for y foundations of Kir-hareeth shall ye mourne, yet they shall be shaken.

8 For the vineyardes of Heihbon are cut downe, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof: they are come vnto Iazec: they wandered in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I weepe with the weeping of Iazec, & of the vine of Sibmah, O Heihbon and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy hauest I a howling is fallen.

10 And glasse is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull fielde: and in the vineyardes shall be no singing nor howling for ioy: the reeder shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioying to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall found like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward partes for Ker-hareeth.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weaue of his hie places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying, and shoute for ioy, when they carie thy commodities from thee, as Ierem. 48. 37. For very sorrow and compassion, n They shall vse the helpe of their idols and all in yaine: for Chemus their great god shall not be able to helpe them.

a That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he denideth their long delay, which would not repeat when it is end called them, threatening them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

b There is no remedie, but you must die.

c Hee sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would giue no shadow nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse.

h That is, the Assyrians and other enemies.

i Meaning, that the country of Moab was now destroyed, & all the precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countries, and ouer the sea.

k He sheweth that this plague was so great, that it would haue moved any man to lament with them, as Psa. 14. 5.

l The enemies are come vpon thee, as Ierem. 48. 37.

m They shall vse the helpe of their idols and all in yaine: for Chemus their great god shall not be able to helpe them.

8 The fishers also shall be mourne, and all they that cast angle into the river, shall lament, & they that spread their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of divers forces, shall be confounded, and they that weaue nettes.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they, that make ponders, shall be heauie in heart.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye vnto Pharaoh, I am the forme of the wife? I am the sonne of the ancient Kings?

12 Where are now thy wife men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lorde of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, even the corners of y tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit of errors: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may do, nor the taile, the branch nor the thul.

16 In that day shall Egypt bee like vnto women: in that y she shall be afraid and feare because of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which hee shalke out of it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: eury one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereof, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which hee hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord bee in the mids of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witness vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crye vnto the Lord, because of the oppressers, and hee shal send them a Saviour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall knowe of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall knowe the Lord in that day, and do sacrifice and oblation, and shall vowe vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shal smite Egypt, hee shal smite and heale it: for hee shal reurne vnto y Lord, and hee shal be intreated of them, and shal heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Ashtur, and Ashtur shal come into Egypt, and Egypt into Ashtur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Ashtur.

24 In that day shall Israel bee the third with Egypt and Ashtur, euen a blessing in the mids of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shal blese it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt & Ashtur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, & loofe the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foote. And hee did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, & barefoote three yeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the King of Ashtur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men & old men, naked and barefoote, with their burtookes vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, & of Egypt their glory.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this yle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whether wee fled for helpe to be deliuered from the King of Ashtur, and how shal we be deliuered?

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: they shall be bound all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which have fled from farre.

4 Therefore said I, Turne away from me: I will weep bitterly: labour not to comfort mee for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of mine and of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a crying vnto the mountains.

6 ¶ And Elam bare the quiver in a mans chariot, horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

19 And I will driue thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and hee shall be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay vpon his shoulder: so hee shall open, and no man shall shut: and he shall shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him a yale in a sure place, and hee shall be for the throne of glorie to his fathers house.

p In steade of repentance ye were in fall and made great cheer, continuing the commissions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eat and drink: for our Prophets say, that we shall die to morrow. q Because we saw word death also signifie one that doth nourish and cherish, there are of the learned that thinke, that this wicked man did nourish secretly with the Assyrians & Egyptians, to betray the Church, and to provide for himselfe against all dangers: in the mean time hee packt craftily, and one of the best offices in his hand vnder Hezekiah, yet aspiring to his light.

r Meaning, that he was a stranger and came vp of nothing.

s Whereas hee thought to make his name immortal by his many sepulchres, hee did most miserably among y Assyrians: 1 Signifying, that whatsoever dignitie the wicked attain vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of his name, by whom they are preferred.

c All men know of this destruction.

d Haue haunted thee, and enriched thee.

k Because these two countries were ioyned in league together, l Tyrus willith other marchants to go to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her marchants like Princes, n Thy strength will no more serue thee therefore flee to other countries for succour.

o For Tyrus was neuer touched nor afflicted before, p Because Tyrus was build by them of Zidon.

q The Caldeans which dwelt in tents, in the wilde-nesse, were ga-thered by the Af-ryans into cities.

r The people of the Caldeans de-stroyed the Af-ryans: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that seeing y Caldeans were able to overcome the Af-ryans which were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Caldea and Af-rya be able to overthrow Tyrus.

f That is, Tyrus by whom ye are enriched, s Tyrus shall lie destroyed seuentie yeeres, which hee calleth the reigne of one King or a monage.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyrus (that m crowsmeth men) whose marchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to staine the pride of all glory, and to bring to con- tempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarthith: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he hooke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he sayd, y Thou shalt no more reioyce when thou art oppressed: o Virgin p daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim, yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: q Alihar founded it by the inhabi- tants of the wilde-nesse: they set vp the towers thereof: they raised the palaces thereof and hee brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee shippes of Tarthith, for your f strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyrus be forgotten seuentie yeeres, (according to the yeeres of one King) at the end of seuentie yeeres shall Tyrus l sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe and go about the city: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) x make sweete melody, sing moe songs that thou mayest be re- membered.

17 And at the end of seuentie yeeres shall the Lord visite Tyrus, and shee shall returne to her y wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, yst are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be z holy vnto the Lord: it shall not be laide vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shall bee for them that dwell before the Lord, to eate suffici- ently, and to haue durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIII.

A prophete of the curie of God for the sinnes of the people.

13 A remnant referred shall praise the Lord.

Behold, the Lord maketh the e earth emptye, & he maketh it waste: he turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like b Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maike, like mis- tresse, like buier, like seller, like lender, like bor- rower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

3 The earth shall be cleane emptied, and vter-ly spoyled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away, the worlde is feeble and decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth e also deceiueh, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerslating couenant.

6 Therefore hath the d curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are e burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseh: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaseh.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The cite of f vanitie is broken down: euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streetes: all ioy is darkened: the g mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the cities is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, h as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voice: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from i the sea.

15 Wherefore praise yee the Lord in the val- leys, euen the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth wee haue heard praisses, euen glory to the k iust, and I said, l My leanneffe, my leanneffe, woe is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgre- ssours haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and hee that cometh vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the founda- tions of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolved: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shall be heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord e visite the hostie aboute that is on him, euen the Kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be that vp in the prison, and after many daies shall they be o visited.

23 p Then the moone shall be abashed, and the sunne alhamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glory shall be before his ancient men.

b This prophesie is as a conclusion of that which hath bene threatened to the Iewes & other nation. From the 23 chap. and there- fore by the earth he meaneh those lands, which were before named.

c Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applied to them, which were not of Aarons familie, and to signifyh also a man of dignitie, as a Sam. 8. 18. and 9. 9. 1. 17. and by these wordes the Prophet signifyh as horrible cru- elties, but there it albe neither religion, order, nor policie, Hiera 4 9.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that he hath wrought himselfe judge of the world, by punishing the wicked and making living the godly.

O Lord, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a^b citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the mightie people give glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, even a strength to the needy in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heat: for the blast of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a dry place: he will bring downe the song of the mightie, as the heate in the shadow of a cloude.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lorde of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the couering that couereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he will save vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, even as strawe is threshed in a Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the middles of them (as he that swimmeth stretcheth out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall he bring downe and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, even vnto the dust.

1 Meaning, hat ignorance and blindness, whereby we are kept backe from Christ. 2 Hee will take away all occasions of sorowe and fill his with ioyfull things. 3 And 4. 1 By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church. 2 There were two cities of this name: one in Iudab, 1. Chro. 3. 49. and another in the land of Moab, Jerem. 48. which seemeth to haue bene a plentiful place of come. Chap. 19. 1.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithful, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall this song be sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: a saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarke.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preferre perfitt peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For hee will bring downe them that dwell on high: the high citie he will abase, even vnto the ground will he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, even the feete of the poore, and the steps of the needie.

7 There is no power to his, that can let God, when he will destroy him. 1 God will set the poore against the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the just is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lorde, haue waited for thee in the way of thy judgments: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within mee will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne righteousness.

10 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet hee will not learne righteousness: in the land of vprightnesse will hee do wickedly, & will not beholde the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lorde, they will not beholde thine hand: but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, & the fire of thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The dead shall not line, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O Lorde: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lorde, in trouble haue they visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the traualle, is in sorow, and crieth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceived, we haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth: wende there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of the world fill.

19 ¶ Thy dead men shall liue: even with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee, hide thy selfe for a very litle while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall discloke her blood, and shall no more hide her blaine.

in winter, flourishing againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise up to ioy when they shall see the dew of Gods graces. 2 Hee exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait vpon Gods working. 3 The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdomes of Sathan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliverance.

IN that day the Lorde with his sore and great and mightie sword shall visite Lemnath, that peacering serpent, even Lemnath, that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

3 In that day shall the vineyard be of red wine.

4 The Lord doe Keepe it: I will water it every morning: I cast any aduaise it, I will keepe it night and day.

5 Meaning, the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should be bring forth as much agreeable to the Lord.

6 We haue constantly said, and it is our aduantage wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.

7 Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

8 The wicked through God sheweth evident signes of his grace, (his love) neuer the better.

9 Through enuie against thy people.

10 The fire and vengeance wherewith thou dost destroy these enemies.

11 The Babylonians, which were not grieved according to thy words.

*12 Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall haue the beginning of euersliding death.*

13 To wit, the company of the faithful by the calling of the Gentiles.

14 That is, the faithful by thy rods were moued to pray vnto thee for deliverance.

15 Our forefathers haue sinned, neither did we enjoy the comfort that we looked for.

16 The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

*17 He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as verily.*

18 As herbes dead in winter, flourishing againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise up to ioy when they shall see the dew of Gods graces. 2 Hee exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to wait vpon Gods working. 3 The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

4 As the time appointed.

5 That is, by his mightie power & by his word.

6 He prophesied here of the destruction of Sathan and his kingdome vnder the name of Lemnath, Antichrist and Egypt.

7 Meaning, the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should be bring forth as much agreeable to the Lord.

8 Meaning, the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should be bring forth as much agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore hee will destroy the kingdom of Satan, because he loveth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and can not be angry with it, but with him that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked iudels, whom he meaneeth by briers and thornes.

e He maunleth, that Israel will not come by gentleness, except God make them to feele his iudges, and to bring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roose spring againe, and bring forth in great abundance.

g He saith that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice.

h This, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe winde of affliction.

i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof destroyed.

k Now withstanding his fauour that hee will shewe them after, yet Ierusalem shalbe destroyed, and grace for cattell shall growe in it. l God shall not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it, to their great shame. m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fiedde toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped. n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

4 Anger d is not in mee: who would set the briers & the thornes against me in battell? I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or wil hee feeble my strength, that hee may make peace with me, and be at one with me?

6 I hererafter, Iacob shall take roote: I Israel shall flourish and grow, and the world shall be filled with fruite.

7 Hath hee smitten 8 him as hee smote those that smote him? or is hee slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In h measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the East winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iacob be purged, and this is all the fruit the taking away of his sinne when hee shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the k defended city shalbe desolate, and the habitation Ihabite forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shall the calfe feede, and there shall hee lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of icare drie, they shall be broken: the l women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding therefore hee that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the chanel of the m Kiuer vnto the riuier of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be blown, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy Mount at Ierusalem.

14 Now withstanding his fauour that hee will shewe them after, yet Ierusalem shalbe destroyed, and grace for cattell shall growe in it. l God shall not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it, to their great shame. m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fiedde toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped. n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. 9 The vntoward, wile of them that should leaue the worde of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

W Oe to the c crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shalbe a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the b valley of them that be fat, and are overcome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lorde hath a mightie and strong bote, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that ouerflowe, which throwe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, euen the crowne of the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as d the haffie fruite afore sommer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lorde of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the e residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that sisteth in iudgement, and for f strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But 8 they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are fwalowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome shall he teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are waied from the milke, and drawn from the brestes.

10 For i precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 For with a flammering k tongue and with a strange language shall hee speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom I hee layd, m This is the rest: giue rest to him that is wearie: and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the worde of the o Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle, that they may goe, and fall backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

14 Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lorde ye scornfull men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a p covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through it, shall not come at vs: for we haue made q fallshood our refuge, & vnder vanity are we hid.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a r tried floure, a precious corner stone, a firm foundation. Hee that beleueth, s shall not make hafte.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and t righteousness to the balance, and the u haile shall sweep away the vaine confidence, and the waters shall ouerflowe x the secret place.

18 And your couenant with death shalbe dissolved, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be only y feare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bed is z strait that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrowe that one can not wrapp himselfe.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount: P eزازim: he shall be wroth as in the valley b of Gibeon, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Nowe therefore be no mockers, least your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lorde of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speech.

content with Christ. In the refutation of this Church, iudgement, and affliction, shall reigne. n Gods owne rebukes and afflictions. o Affliction shall discount their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to themselves. y Terror and destruction shall make you to leaue that, which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto. z Your affliction shalbe soe, that you are not able to endure it. a When David ouercame the Philistines, 1 Sam. 8. v. 1. Chron. 14. b Where Iehoua discounted fwe Kings of the Amorites, 10. 12.

f He will goe couenant to the capaine, to draw the continues in at their owne gates.

g Meaning the hypocrites, which were among them, and we a conuincit corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here ment by drunkenness and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: none were so iolly, and so vaine as yong iuues.

i They may haue one thing out of us tolde.

k Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if hee spake in a strange language.

l That is, the Prophet whom God should send.

m This is the doctrine whereupon ye ought to stay and rest.

n Shewe to them that are weary and haue need of rest, what is the true rest.

o Because they will not receive the word of God, which is offered, cometh of their owne malice, if their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before Chap. 9.

p They thought they had thutes to annoyde Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perilled.

q Though y Prophets condemned their idoles, and vaine iust of fallshood, and vanitie, yet the wicked thought in themselves, that they would trust in these things.

v Terror and destruction shall make you to leaue that, which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto.

w Your affliction shalbe soe, that you are not able to endure it. a When David ouercame the Philistines, 1 Sam. 8. v. 1. Chron. 14. b Where Iehoua discounted fwe Kings of the Amorites, 10. 12.

24 Doth the plowe man plowe all the day, to fowe? doth hee open, and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it e plaine, will he not then fowe the fitches, and fowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appoynted barely and iye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shall not bee threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out w a stalle, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corne when it is threshed, hee doth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart make a noise, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This alke cometh from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophete against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

A H^a altar, altar of the citie that David dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: ^b let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be haue it and forow, and it shall bee vnto me like e an altar.

3 And I will begett thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the d ground, and thy speech shall be out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy s strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall be in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whilewinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall be as a dream or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thurstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are drunken, but not w wine: they stagger, but not by strong drink.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes the Prophet, and your ciuile Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they declaire to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall hee say, I can not: for it is sealed:

12 Meaning, that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people ^a come neere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue renouced their heart farre from me, and their i feretoward me was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore beholde, I will againe doe a maruclous worke in this people, euen a maruclous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wife man shall ^a perih, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that ^a seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuises shall it not be esteemed ^a as the potters clay? for shall the worke say of him that made it, He made me not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, He had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruel man shall cease, & the scornfull shall be consumed: and all that haisted to iniquitie, shall be cut off.

21 Which made a man to sinne in the s word, and tooke him in a snare: which reprobud rebels in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Iacob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iacob that not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the mids of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holy one of Iacob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirite, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hee representeth the times which in their aduersities, and their owne counsels, 10 Despiseth the Prophets. 16 Therefore hee sheweth what distress shall come vpon them, 18 But of fresh mercie to the repentant.

W O to the rebellious children, sayeth the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke fourth to goe downe into Egypt: and haue not asked at my mouth: to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his s princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproch.

^a Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Mat. 23. 8.

^b That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine and not by my word.

^c Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, but magistrates and philosophers are but fools and without vnderstanding.

^d This is spoken of them, which in heart despise Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions but outwardly bare a good face.

^e For all your craft saith ^f Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine handes to more men the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

^g Shall, there is not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is a pleasant place in respect of that it is, be then, may be taken as a forest.

^h As Chap. 23. 11. and thus hee speaketh to comfort the faithful.

ⁱ They that went about to find faults with the Prophets words, and would not abide admonitions, but would iustifie them and bring them into danger.

^j Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding and knowledge, man cannot, but shall erre and misman against him.

^k Who contrary to their promise, take not me for their protectour, and contrary to my commandment, seeke helpe at strangers.

^m The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in Ambassage to seeke helpe, and abide at their cities.

^a He sheweth the Jews, that if they would put their trust in him, he is able, that none can resist his power: and to comfort them, as a kind overruler, which over their about their defence which he defendeth himselfe the scripture veth in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 1. mat. 23. 7. He toucheth their conscience, if they might earnestly see their greivous finnes, and to truly repent, for as much as now they are almost downed and past recourse.

^b By these fruites your repentance shalbe knowne, as Chap. 1. 8.

^c When your repentance appeareth.

^d This was accomplished thence after when Saneheribs armie was discomfited, & he fled to his castle in Nineue, for his cure. k To destroy his enemies.

shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me. As the Lyon of Lyons whelped ovr upon his praye, against whom if a multitude of shepheards be called, he will not be afrate at their voyce, neither will humble himselfe at their noyse, so shall the Lord of hosts come d'owne to fight for moynt Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds that flie, so shall the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preferring it.

6 O ye children of Israel turne againe, in as much as ye are f'unken deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euery man shall cast out his idoles of silver, and his idoles of golde, which your hands haue made you, as a thine.

8 Then shall Ashtar fall by the sworde, not of man, neither shall the sworde of man deuoure him, and hee shall flee from the sworde, and his young men shall faile.

9 And he shall go for feare to his towne, and his princes shall be afrate of the standart, saith the Lord, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Ierusalem.

This was accomplished thence after when Saneheribs armie was discomfited, & he fled to his castle in Nineue, for his cure. k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers desired by the gouernours of his church, who was the figure of Christ.

B Holde, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule in iugement.

2 And that man shall be as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as rivers of water in a dry place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a wearie land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shall not be shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shalbe ready to speake distinctly.

5 A negard shall no more be called libell, nor the churche rich.

6 But the rigarde will speake of nigardrie, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsly against the Lord, to make empty the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirste to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churche are wicked: he deuileth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words: and to speake against the poore in iugement.

8 But the libell man will deuise of libellall things, and he will continue his libellarie.

9 Rise vp, ye women that are at ease, heare my voice, ye careless daughters, hearken to my words.

10 Ye women, that are careless, shall be in feare & about a yeere in dayes: for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.

11 Ye women that are at ease, be astonied: for ye are careless women: put off the clothes, make bare, and girdle yee with the loynes.

12 Men shall lament for the teares, cause for the pleasant fieldes, and for the fruitful vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people shall growe thornes and briars: yea, vpon all the houses of ioy in the cite of reioicing.

14 Because the palace shall be forsaken, and the noyse of the cite shall be left: the towne and fortress shall be demnes for cuer, and the delight of wildcasses, and a pasture for flockes.

15 Vntill the Spirit be p'oued vpon vs from above, and the wildernes become a fruitful field, and the plextuous felde be counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitful felde.

17 And y^e worke of iustice shall be peace, & the worke of iustice & quietnes, & assurance for cuer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it hailth, it shall fall on the forest, and the cite shall be left in the low places.

20 Blessed are ye that sowe vpon all waters, and odreine thither the seete of the ox & the asse.

they had found beginning of goodlines, that bring forth fruits in such abundance, that their former life seemed but as a wilderness, where no fruit was. m They shall not need to build it in his places for feare of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turne away the thumers from hurting of the commodities. n That is, vpon far ground and well watered, which bring forth in abundance, or in places which be were once covered with water, and low made dry for your vices. o The fields shall be made, that they shall tend not their cattell to eat vpon the first crop, which abundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and love towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them by whose God hath punished his Church.

Woe to thee that a spoyler, and wast not spoyled: and dost wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoyle, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an ende of doing wickedly, they shall doe wickedly against thee.

2 O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, wee haue waited for thee: be thou, who hast waited for them in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine & exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your people shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and hee shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with iudgement & iustice.

6 And there shall be stabilitie of thy times, strength, saluation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Behold, their messengers shall cry without, and y^e ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The paths are waste: the way bring man ceaseth: he hath broken the couenant: hee hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and faineth: Lebanon is aflamed, and hewn downe: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Basan is shaken and Carnel.

10 Now will I p'arfe, saith the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe.

11 Ye shall conceiue chaffe, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall deuoure you.

12 And the people shall be as the burning of the Medes and Persians.

g When thou, O Lord, shalt lift up thine arm to punish thine enemies. h Yea, that as caterpillers destroyed with your number the whole world shall have no strength to resist your enemies the Caldeans, but shall be gathered on an heap and destroyed. i Meaning the Medes and Persians against the Caldeans. k That is, in the dayes of Herzhiah. l Sent from Saneherib. m Whom they of Ierusalem sent to increase of peace. n There are the wordes of the Ambassadors, when they returne from Saneherib. o Which was a plentifull country, meaning that Saneherib would destroy all. p To helpe and deliuer my Church. q This is spoken against the enemies, who thought all was their owne: but he sheweth that their enterprise shall be in vaine, and that the fire, which they had kindled for others, should consume them.

time: and as the thornes cut vp, that they be burnt in the fire.

13 Heare, ye that are farre off, what I haue done, and ye that are neere, know my power.

14 The sinners in Zion are affraide: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs shall dwell with the euerting burnings?

15 Hee that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing gaine of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his ears from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euil, 16 He shall dwell on hie: his defence shall be the munitions of rockes: bread shall be giuen him, and his waters shall be free.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his glory: they shall behold the land & farre off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate feare, Where is the scribe? where is the receiuer? where is hee that counted the towres?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a darkespeech, that thou canst not perceive, and of a flaming tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.

20 Look vpon Zion the cite of our solenne feastes: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation, a Tabernacle that cannot be renoued: and the stakes thereof can neuer be taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the nightie Lorde will be vnto vs as a place of floods and broad riuers, whereby that passe no shippe with oares, neither that great shippe passe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our Iudge, the Lord is our lawe giuer: the Lord is our King, he will saue vs.

23 Thy wordes are loosed: they could not wel strengthen their masse, neither could they spread the fayne: then shall the prayer be diuided for a great people: yea, the Iameh take away the praye.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shall haue their iniquitie forgiven.

a He decideth the Afflictions and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction as they that perish by shipwrecke. b He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shall be enriched with all benefites both body and soule.

CHAP. XXXIII.

a He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

a He prophesieth of y^e destruction of the Edomites, and of the nations which were enemies to the Church.

b God hath determined in his counsel, and hath giuen sentence for their destruction.

c He speaketh this in respect of mans ingenuitie, who in great feare & horrible troubles thinketh that heauen and earth perisheth.

d I haue determined in my secret counsel saide in the heauen to destroy them: till my word be wearie with fleeing blood.

7 And the unicorn shall come downe with them, and the heifers with the bulles, and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of y^e Lords vengeance, & the yeere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall goe vp euermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe through it for euer.

11 But the pellicane & the hedgehog shall possesse it, and the great owle, and the rauen that dwell in it, and he that stretch out vpon it the line of vanitie, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 The noble thereof shall call to the kingdom, and there shall be none, and all the princes thereof shall be nothing.

14 There shall no meeke also Zii'n and Tim, and the Satyre that cry to his fellowe, and the Berich-owle that rull there, and shall finde for her life a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the owle make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather them vnder her shadowe: there shall the vultures also be gathered, euery one with her make.

16 Seeke in the booke of the Lord, and read: none of these shall faile, none shall want her make: for his mouth he hath commanded, and his very Spirit hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cut the flint for them, and his hand hath diuided it vnto them by line: they shall possesse it for euer: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

The desert and the wilderness shall reioyce: and the wast ground shall be glad and flourish as thereof.

2 It shall flourish abundantly, as I shall greatly reioyce also, and ioye: the glory of Lebanon shall be giuen vnto it: the beautie of Carmel, and of Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellencie of our God.

3 Strengthen the weak handes, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are fearefull, Be ye strong, feare not: behold, your God commeth with vengeance: euen God with a recompense, he will come and salue you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leape as an hart, & the dumme mans tongue shall sing for in the sweetnes that waters breake out, & riuers in y^e desert.

7 He will shew al to encourage one another, and specially the most sterre exhort and strengthen the weak, that they may patiently abide the coming of God which is at hand. 8 To destroy your enemies. 9 When the knowledge of Christ is received. 10 They that were barren and destitute of the graces of God, shall haue them giuen by Christ.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Sancherib ſendeth Rabſhakeb to ſiege Jeruſalem. 15 His blaſphemies againſt God.

NOWE in the fourteenth yere of King Hezekiah, Sancherib King of Aſſhur came vp againſt all the ſtrong cities of Iudah, & took them.

2 And the King of Aſſhur ſent Rabſhakeb from Lachiſh toward Jeruſalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoſte, & he flood by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came fourth vnto him Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the ſonne of Alaph the recorder.

4 And e Rabſhakeb ſayde vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus ſayth the great King, the King of Aſſhur, What confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

5 I ſay, ſurely I haue eloquence, but counſell and ſtrength are for the warre: on whom then doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6 Lo, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pearce it: ſo is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that truſt in him.

7 But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the Lord our God, is not that he, whoſe hip laces & whoſe altars Hezekiah tooke down, & ſaid to Iudah and to Jeruſalem, Yee ſhall worſhip before this altar?

8 Nowe therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the King of Aſſhur, and I will giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders vpon them.

9 For how canſt thou deſpiſe any captaine of the leaſt of my lordes ſeruants? and put thy truſt on Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

10 And am I nowe come vp without the Lord to this land to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid vnto me, I Goe vp againſt this land and deſtroy it.

11 ¶ The ſaid Eliakim, and Shebna and Ioah vnto Rabſhakeb, ſpeake, I pray thee, to thy ſeruants in the Aſſyrian language, (for wee vnderſtand it) & talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wal.

12 Then ſaid Rabſhakeb, Hath my maſter ſent mee to thy maſter, and to thee to ſpeake theſe wordes, and not to the men that ſit on the wall:

that they may eate their owne dowing, and drinke their owne p iſſe with you?

13 So Rabſhakeb flood & cryed with a loud voice in the Iewes language, and ſayd, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Aſſhur.

14 Thus ſaith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he ſhal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord will ſurely deliuer vs: this cite that not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Aſſhur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſayeth the King of Aſſhur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vney, & euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne wel.

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, even a land of wheate, and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, 18 Leaſt Hezekiah deceiue you, ſaying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Aſſhur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuim? or howe haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of theſe landes, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord ſhould deliuer Jeruſalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept ſilence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, ſaying, Anſwere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebna the chancellor, and Ioah the ſonne of Alaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabſhakeb.

2 And he ſent Eliakim the ſteward of the houſe, & Shebna the chancellor, with the Elders of the Priſtes, clothed in ſackcloth vnto Iſiah the Prophet the ſonne of Amoz.

3 And he ſayd vnto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blaſphemie: for the children are come to ſc Lathi, & there is no ſtrength to bring forth.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Asshur fighting against Seneb: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 Hee heard also men say of Tihakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, hee is come out to fight against thee: and when hee heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Trust thou shalt seeke to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Asshur.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur have done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be delivered?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the House of the Lord, and Hezekiah spred it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone over all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

18 Truth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Asshur haue destroyed all lands, and^m their country, 19 And haue cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, as wood for stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto mee, concerning Saneherib King of Asshur, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, the v virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, & laughed thee to scorn: the daughter of Ierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou railed on and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, & lifted vp thine eyes on high against the holy one of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou railed on the Lord, and sayd, By the multitude of my charrets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire fire trees thereof, and I will go vp to the heightes of thy land, and to the forest of his fruitful places.

27 Whose inhabitants I haue small power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the graske of the fildes, and greene herbe, or grasse on the house tops, or come cald before it be grown.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy c going out, and thy coming in, and thy fury against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hooke in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, & will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

30 And thou shalt be a y signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt see this yeere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yeere, such things as growe without sowing: and in the third yeere, thou shalt see and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruite thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take vnto doweward and beare fruit vnto the Lord.

32 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the king of Asshur, He shall not enter into this citie, nor shote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

11 I sayde, I shall not see the Lorde, even the Lorde in the land of the living: I shall fee man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from me, like a shepheards tent: I have cut off like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the heighe: from day to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned I to the mornings: but he brake all my bones, like a lyon: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a dove: mine eyes were life vp on high: O Lorde, I hath opprest me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke weakly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lorde, ¶ to them that ouerline them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knowne, that thou causest me to sleepe and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for I felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pitte of corruption: for thou hast call all my sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For ¶ the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the living, the living, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

Hezekiah is reproued because hee sheweth his treasures vnto the King of Babylon.

¶ At the same time, ¶ Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, & shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ornament, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, & said vnto him, What hast thou men and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah saide, They are come from a farre country vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah sayde to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lorde of hostes,

6 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shall be caried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lorde.

7 And of thy sonnes that shall proceede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the Kings of Babel.

a I will make thee able to defie all thine enemies: be they never so mighty: and this chiefly referred to the kingdome of Christ.

o That is they that shall be afflicted in the captivitie of Babylon.

p God will rather change the order of nature: then they should want any thing: that is: so him by true faith in their enemies: declaring to them hereby: yet they shall lack nothing by y way, while they remaine in Babylon.

q That which appointed & decreed that it shall come so to passe.

r He indueth the idolaters to prout their religion, and to bring forth their idoles: y they may be deceived where they know all this, & can doe all things which they cannot do, he concludeth that they are no gods but vile idoles.

s So y a man can not make an idol, but he must doe y which God decreth, & abhorreth: for he chuse his owne desires, and forsake h y Lords.

t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall doe all things in my name, & by my directi- on whereby he maye both their captivite, and de- linciance shall be ordered by Gods providence and appointment.

v Both of the Chaldeans and others.

y Meaning, that none of the Gen- tiles gods can worke any of these things.

z That is, the Is- raelites which re- turne from the captivitee.

a To wit, a continuall succession of Prophets and ministers.

b When I looked whether the idoles could not do these things, I found that they had neither wisdom nor power to doe any thing: therefore he concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in vanitie.

men of Israel: I will helpe thee, faith the Lord and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, & a newe threshing instrument hauing reeth: thou shalt thresh the m mountaines, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fenne them, and the winde shall carie them away, and the whirlewinde shall scatter them and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, & shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

17 When o the poore & the needie seeke water, & there o none: (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them)

18 I will open riuers in the tops of the hilles, and fountains in the middes of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a poole of water, and the waste land as springs of water.

19 I will fit in the wilderness the cedar, the Shittah tree, and the firre tree, and the pine tree, and I will fit in the wilderness the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

20 Therefore let them see and knowe, and let them consider and vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, & the holy one of Israel hath created it.

21 Stand to your cause, faith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, faith y king of Iakob.

22 Let them bring forth, and let them tell vs what I shall come: let them shew the former things what they be, that wee may consider them, and knowe the later ende of them: either declare vs things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereaf- ter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, doe good or doe euill, that we may declare, and be- holdeth together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, and your mak- ing is of nought: man hath chosen an abomi- nation by them.

25 ¶ I have raised vp s from the North, and he shall come: from the East sunne shall he call vpon my name, & shall come vpon princes as vpō clay, and as the potter treadeth myre vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may knowe before time, that wee may say, Hee is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declar- eth: surely there is none that heareth y your words.

27 I am the first, that faith to Zion, Beholde, beholde s them: and I will giue to Ierusalem a one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when I beheld, there was none, & whē I enquired of thē, there was no counsellor, & whē I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The childehood and humilitie of Christ, & why he was first in the world. 2 The vocation of the Gentiles.

Beholde, a my seruant: b I will say vpon him: Be- bring elect, in whom my soule delighteth: I have aske to make mention of Christ after y they have receiued the word: for he is the foundation whereupon al y promises are made and ratified, b For I haue committed all my power to him as to a most faithful seruant. c He will establish him: to wit, his officer, by giuing him the fulnesse of my Spirit. c He only is acceptable vnto me & they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meane of reconciliation, Mat. 11. 28. & yhes. 1. 4.

put my Spirit vpon him: hee shall bring forth judgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not crie, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the streete.

3 A bruised reede shall hee not breake, and the smoking flaxe shall hee not quench: he shall bring forth judgement in t truth.

4 He shall not faile nor be discouraged if he haue i judgement in the earth: and the k yles shall waite for his lawe.

5 Thus faith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and spred them abroad: he that stretcheth forth the earth, and the buideth thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in i righteousnesse, and will hold i thine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee a c couenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou maist open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and then that fit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glory will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are p come to passe, and v things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the ende of the earth: yee that goe downe to the sea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift vp their voyce, the townes that I Kedar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing: let them shoute from the top of the mountaines.

12 Let him giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his prayse in the ylands.

13 The Lord shall goe forth as a gyant: he shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: he shall shoute and crie, and shall penele against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: now will I crie like a t raiailing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and hilles, and drie vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods ylands, and I will drie vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I will bring the blinde by a way, that they knew not, and leade them by paths that they haue not known: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafes and yee blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my seruant? or deafe as my messenger, that I sent? who is blinde as the y perfit, and blind as the Lords seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepst them not: opening the eares, but he heareth not?

delivered when that is in truall. 2 That is, my poore people, which are in per- pleure and care. 3 To wit, Ihsu, which should haue redi- fied Ihsu by the word of my lawe. 4 The Priests to whom the people is committed, which should not only heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it. 5 As the Priests and Pro- phets that should be lightes to otheres

d He shall declare himselfe gouernor ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

e No coming shall not be with pompe and noie, as earthly princes.

f He will not hurt the weak and feeble, but sup- port and comfort them.

g Meaning the weeke of a lampe or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it and snuffe it, that it may shine brighter.

h Although he faint the weak, yet will he not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to truth and equitie.

i I will haue felt all things in good order.

k The Gentiles shall be desirous to receive his doctrine.

l Meaning, vnto a law full and iust vocation.

m To stult and guide them.

n As him, by whom the promise, made to all nations in Abraham, shall be fulfilled.

o I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should doe if I were not faithful in performing the same, and the idola- ters thereby would extoll their idoles above me.

p As in time past I haue bene as in my promise, so will I be in time to come.

q Meaning the Arabians, vnto whom he com- prehendeth all the people of the East.

r Hee sheweth the scale of the Lords, and his pow- er in the con- temeration of his Church.

s I will haue to execute my ven- geance, which I haue so long de- ferred as a woman that desireth to be free.

t That is, my poore people, which are in per- pleure and care. 3 To wit, Ihsu, which should haue redi- fied Ihsu by the word of my lawe. 4 The Priests to whom the people is committed, which should not only heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it. 5 As the Priests and Pro- phets that should be lightes to otheres a Because they will not acknowledge this benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliver them to be faithful them to be spoiled of their enemies through their own fault and inconsideration.

b There shall be none to succour them, not to will the enemy to reffore that, which he hath spoiled.
c Meaning Gods wrath.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousness sake that he may magnifie the Law and exalt it.
22 But this people is robbed and spoiled, and shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a pray, and none shall deliver: a spoile, and none shall say, ^a Reffore.
23 Who among you will hearken to this, and take heed, and heare for ^b afterwards?
24 Who gaue Iakob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not ^c I Lord, because we have sinned against him? for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Law.
25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battell: and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him vpon, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promisseth deliverance to the lowly. 2 There is no God but our saviour.

But now thus saith the Lord ^a that created thee, O Iakob: and he that formed thee, O Israel, ^b Feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the ^c waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not ouerthrow thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt ^d be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour: I gaue ^e Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honorable, and I loued thee, therefore will I giue ^f man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring the seed from the ^g East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Giue: and to the South, Receiue not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, & my daughters from the ends of the earth.

7 Euerie one shall be called by my ^h Name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, & they shall haue eyes, & the deafe & they shall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered ⁱ together, and let the people be assembled: whom among them can declare this and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their ^j witness, that they may be iustified: but let them ^k heare, and say, It is truth.

10 You ^l are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my ^m seruants, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall knowe and beleue mee, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: be fore me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, ⁿ euen I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall list it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, for your sake I haue I sent to Babel, and ^o brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Caldeans cry in ^p the thips.

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel your King.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in ^q the Sea, and a path in the mighty ^r waters.

17 When hee ^s bringeth out the ^t chariot and horse, the armie and the power lie together, and shall not rise, they are extinct, & quenched as tow.

18 Remember yee not the former things, neither regard the things of olde.

19 Behold, I doe a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the ^u desert, and floods in the wilderness. 20 The wilde ^v beastes shall honour me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall thew forth my praise.
22 And thou hast not ^w called vpon mee, O Iakob, but thou hast ^x wearied me, O Israel.

23 Thou ^y hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue ^z an other, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boughtest mee no sweete ^a sauer with money, neither hast thou made mee drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made mee to be seruie with thy finnes, and wearied mee with thine iniquities.

25 I, ^b euen I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Put me in ^c remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou that thou maist be iustified.

27 Thy ^d first father hath sinned, and thy ^e teachers haue transgressed a gainst me.

28 Therefore I haue ^f prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, & haue made Iakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

I did commande thee, when thou wast little, that thou shouldest not grieve me. Whereby he sheweth that his meries were the only cause of their deliuerance, forasmuch as they had defured the contrary. 2 Meaning in true faith and obedience. a Either for the composition of the sweete oymment, Exo. 30. 23. or for the sweete incense, Exo. 30. 7. b Thou hast made me to beate an heauie burden by thy finnes. c I will forget any thing that may make for thy iustification, put mee in remembrance and speake forth thy selfe. d Thine ancestors. e Thy Priests and thy Prophets. f That is, reiect, abhorred and destroyed them in the wilderness, and at other times.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promisseth comfort, and that hee will affebrate his Church of diuers nations. 6 The waste of iherusalem. 17 The lesseion of iherusalem.

Yet now heere, O Iakob my seruant, and Israel whom I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed ^a thee from the wombe: he will helpe thee, Feare not, O Iakob, my seruant, and thou righteous, whom I haue chosen.

3 For I will poure water vpon thee ^b a thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I will poure my Spirit vpon thy feed, & my blessing vpon thy buds.

4 And they ^c shall grow as among the graile, and as the willowes by the riuers of water.

5 One shall say, I am the Lordes ^d seruant.

c Because want of himselfe is as the drie and barren land, he promisseth to moisten him with the waters of his holy Spirit Ierl 2. 28. Iohn 7. 38. 42. 1. 7. d That is, his children and posteritie shall increase wonderfully after their deliuerance from Babilon.

a shalbe called by the name of Iakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

b Thus faith the Lord the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, I am the first, and I am the last, & without me there no God.

c And who is like mee, that shall I call and shall declare it, and see b it in order before mee, since I appointed the c ancient people: and what is at hand, and what things are to come: let them thew vnto them.

d Feare ye not, neither be afraide: haue not I tolde thee of olde, and haue declared it? e You are euē my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I knowe not.

f All they that make an image, are vanities, and their delectable things shall nothing pro-fite: g & they are their owne witnesses, h that they see not nor knowe: therefore they shall be confounded.

i Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for nothing?

j Beholde, all that are of the fellowship thereof, shalbe confounded: for the workemen themselves are men: let them all be gathered together, and stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

h He faith to Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard: and hee shall performe all my desire: saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely laide.

i Gods workes should be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, when then hee bought them out of Egypt through the Sea. j To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the perion by whom it should be, more then an hundred years before hee was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 2 God is good in all his workes. 3 The calling of the Medes.

*T*hus faith the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whose right hand I haue holden to: subdue nations before him: I therefore will I weaken the loynes of Kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

a I will go before thee and make the crooked straight: I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres.

b And I will giue thee the treasures of darkness, and the things hid in secret places, that thou maist know that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euē the God of Israel.

c For Iakob my seruants I like, and Israel mine elect, I will euē call thee by thy name and name thee, though thou hast not knowne me.

d I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides mee: I e guided thee though thou hast not knowne me, f That they may knowe from the rising of the sunne, and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, & there is none other.

g I forme the light and create darkness: I h prophane men may haue of his power, and so was compelled to deliuer Gods people. i Not for any thing that is in thee, as for thy worthiness, j These giue thee strength, power and authority, k I thus peace and warre, goodnesse and aduersitie, as Amos 9. 4.

a He is abidant as one that would care after this king to satiate his hunger.

b Showing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore hee warneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleane to any but to the liuing God, when they should be among the idolaters.

9 I Wo be vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potholder with the potholders of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, I haue none hands?

10 Wo: vnto him that sayeth to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israel, and his maker, Alike nie of things to come concerning my finnes, and concerning the works of mine hands: command you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen com mande all their armie.

13 I haue raised p him vp in righteousness, and I will direct all his wayes: he shall build my cite, and he shall let goe my captiues, and not for a price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabaeans, men of stature shal come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall goe in chaines: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily thou, O God, I hidest thy selfe, O God, the Saviour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be faued in the Lord, with an euertlasting saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, & made it: he that prepared it, hee created it not in vaine: he formed it to bee inhabited: I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secrete, neither in a place of darkness in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the feele of Laabok, Secke you mee: I the Lord do speake righteousness, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your felues, & come draw neere together, ye abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

21 Tell ye and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning: or hath told it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside mee, a iust God, and a Saviour: there is none beside me.

22 Lookke vnto me, and yee shall be faued: all the ends of the earth shall be faued: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworn by my selfe: the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not returne, That euery knee shall bow vnto me, and euery tongue shall swaie by me.

24 Surely he shall say, In the Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shall be ashamed.

5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people: I have polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no h mercy, but thou didst lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

9 But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children & widow- hood: they shall come vpon thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine incantations.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast said, None feeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, they have caused thee to rebel, & thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine incantations, and in the multitude of thy fourfishers (with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so bee thou maiest haue profited, or if so be thou maiest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsell: let now the astrologers, the starr gassers, and prognosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrites of the Jewes is reproved. 2 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 3 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

Hearre ye this, O house of Iakob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the Name of the Lord, & make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and stay themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hosts.

3 I have declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, & I shewed d them: they would haue none other God. d Hee sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, for as much as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that thou art obliuious, and thy necke is an iron sinew, and thy brow braffe.

5 Therefore I have declared it to thee of olde: before it came to passe, I shewed f it to thee, left thou shouldst say, Mine iudice hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, and will not yete declare it? I have shewed thee newe things, euen now, & hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, left thou shouldst say, Behold, I h knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knewe that thou wouldest grievously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from the i vombe.

9 For my Names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praye will I refrain it from thee, k that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have fined thee, but i not as silver: I haue m chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for thou shouldst my Name a be polluted: surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iakob and Israel, my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call them, they stand vp together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, and heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued h him: he wil doe his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Chaldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profite, and leade thee by the way, that thou shouldst goe.

18 Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, & thy right coufines as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy feede also had bene as the fenne, and the fruit of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 Y Go ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of ioy: tell and declare this shewe it forth to the end of the earth: say yee, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iakob.

21 And they z were not thirfie: he led them through the wilderness: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

persons estate of Israel. y After that he had forewarned them of their captiuitie, hee sheweth them the great ioy, that shall come of their deliuerance. z He sheweth that it shall be easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus hee speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, as Chapter 47. 21.

CHAP. XLIX.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy flubbe meale and impudencie might haue bene overcome.

f How thou shouldst be deliuered out of Babylon.

g As it were as knowledge this my be seene, and declare it vnto others?

k As it were my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that I will save thee.

l For I had respect to thy weakness and infirmities: for in sinners there is some pangs, but in vs there is nothing but droffe.

a Thus hee speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, as Chapter 47. 21.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithful, that these promises should come to pass: for they were all made in him, and in him should be performed.

b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Psal. 2. 7. c By the sword and shaft, he signifieth the virtue & efficacie of Christs doctrine.

d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, & may also be applied to the ministers of his word. e By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members & their head.

f Thus Christ in his members & plainers, that his labour and preaching take those effect, yet here is contended that his doings are approved of God.

g Though the Jewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministration. h To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles Chap. 23. v. 32. 33. 47. Iuk. 2. 35. i Meaning, the Jewes whom the Gentiles kept in bondage.

k The benefit of their deliverance shall be great, that great and final shall acknowledge it, and receive God for it. l Thus he speaketh of his Church, when he would show his mercy toward it, 1. Cor. 6. 18.

m Meaning, Christ alone. n Signifying, that before Christ came, the earth was in nothing but confusion & disorder. o To them that are in the prison of sinne and death.

6 Christ is the saluation of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

Hear ye me, O yles, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lord hath called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers belly.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadowe of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quier.

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, & Israel, for I will be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine, and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lorde, and my worke with my God.

5 And now faith the Lord, that formed mee from the wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iakob againe to him, (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shall be my strength)

6 And he said, It is a small thing that thou shouldst be my seruant, to raise vp the tribes of Iakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maist be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

7 Thus faith the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a defenced in rulers, Kings shall fee, and karife, and princes shall worship because of the Lorde, that is faithful: and the Holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus faith the Lorde, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I will preferue thee, and will giue thee for a couenant of the people that thou maist faile vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

9 That thou maist say to the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknesse, Shewe your felues: they shall feed in the wayes, and their pastures shall be in all the tops of the hills.

10 They shall not be hungry, neither shall they be thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion for them, shall lead them: euen to the springs of waters shall he drue them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths shall be exalted.

12 Beholde, these shall come from farre: and loe, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of Sinitim.

13 Reioyce, O heauens: and bee ioyfull, O earth: braft forth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion faile, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, & not haue compassion on the soune of her wombe? though they should forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine hands: thy walls are euer in my sight. 17 Thy builders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes round about and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I liue, faith the Lord, thou shalt surely put them all vpon thee as a garment, and gird thy selfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did deuoure thee, shall be farre away.

20 The children of thy barrenesse shall say againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten mee this, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus faith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand to the Gentiles, and set vp my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be carried vpon their shoulders.

23 And Kings shall be thy nurcing fathers, and Queenes shall be thy nurses: they shall worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and lick vp the dust of thy feet: and thou shalt know that I am the Lord: for they shall not be ashamed that waite for me.

24 Shall the pray be taken from the mighty? or the iust captiue deliuered?

25 But thus faith the Lord, Euen the captiue of the mighty shall be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shall be deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children,

26 And will feede them that spoyle thee, with their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweete wine: and all flesh shall knowe that I the Lord am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Iakob.

2 Wherefore came I, and there was no man? I called, & none answered: is mine hand to be shortened, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I driue vp the Sea: I make the floods desert: their fish roteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 Surely the Lord hath comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, & he shall make her desert like Eden, and her wilderness like the garden of the Lord: joy and gladnesse shall be found therein: praise, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto mee, my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a Lawe shall proceede from mee, and I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousness is neere: my saluation goeth forth, and mine armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the sheauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousness shall not bee abolished.

7 Hearken vnto mee, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my Law, Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like wooll: but my righteousness shall be for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as in the olde time in the generations of the world. Art not thou the same, that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, & enuied the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and exulting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse: and sorowe and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, saith I am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou shouldst feare a mortall man, & the sonne of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spied out the heauens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue is hastened to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pitte, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the sheauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunken at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the nations, whom the hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that the hath brought vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and the sword: by whome shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lye at the head of all the strettes as a wilde bull in a nette, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, euen the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoyle thee: which haue said to thy foyle, Bow downe, that we may goe ouer, and thou shalt lye thy bodie as the ground, and as the strette to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God, 7 Of the miseries thereof.

A rise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beautie, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the vncircumcised and the shakene.

2 Shake thy selfe from the dust: arise, and sit downe, O Ierusalem: loose the bandes of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

7 For a little while have I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hidde my face from thee for a little season, but with euertlasting mercy have I had compassion on thee, faith the Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto mee as the waters of Nozh: for as I have sworn that the waters of Nozh should no more goe out the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remooue, and the hills shall fall downe: but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, faith the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, beholde. I will lay thy stones with the cartledge, and lay thy foundation with saphires,

12 And I will make thy windowes of iaspere, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

14 In righteousness shall thou be established, and be farre from oppression, for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Beholde, the enemy shall gather himselfe, but without mee: whoeuer shall gather himselfe in thee, against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I have created the fire, and he that bloweth the coales in the fire, and him that bringeth forth an instrument for his worke, & I have created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and every tongue that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lordes seruants, and thy righteousness is of mee, sayeth the Lord.

H O, euery one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, & ye that haue no silver, come, buye and eate: come, buye wine and milke without siluer, and without money.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out siluer and not for bread? and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto mee, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delight in it as farnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto mee: heare and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euertlasting covenant with you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue 2 him for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knewe not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lorde thy God, and the holy One of Israel: for hee hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may: I be found: call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lorde, and he will haue mercy vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, sayeth the Lorde.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine cometh downe and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue feede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,

11 So shall my word bee, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto mee voyde, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hills shall breake forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the ficke shall clap their hands.

6 Thy portion is in the smooth stones of the river: they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou poured a drinke offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delight in these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a very hie mountain: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behinde the doores alow and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy selfe to smother then me, and wentest vp, and diddest enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant betwene thee and them, and loudist their bed in euery place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest to the Kings with oyle, and diddest increase thine ornaments and sende thy messengers farre off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

thou wast not grieved.

11 And whom diddest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast lyed vnto mee, and hast not remembered mee, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, and that of long tyme: therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I will declare thy righteousnesse and thy workes, and they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou creyst, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shall take them all away: vanitie that pull them vp: but hee that truthest in me, shall inherite the lande, and shall possesse mine holy Mountaine.

14 And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For this faith he that is hie & excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, for the spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked c couterfinesse I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his waies, and will heale him: I will leade him also, & restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruite of the lipe, to be peace: peace vnto them that are farre off, and to them that are neere, sayeth the Lord: for I will heale him.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 6 The fall of the faithfull. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

CRy aloude, spare not: liue vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iakob, their sinnes.

2 Yet they seeke me dayly, and will know my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they ake me the ordinaunces of iustice: they will draw neere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue wee fasted, and thou seest it not? wee haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fault you will seeke your will, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, yee fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: yee shall not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voyce to be heard above.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosn, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bow neither fast nor prayer, e So long as you vse contention and oppression, your fasting and religion shall not be heard.

n Broken promise with me.

o Meaning, that the wicked abuse Gods leuitie, and growe to further wickednes.

p That is, thy magistrates, idolatries, and impieties: which the wicked call Gods seruice: thus he denieth their oblation.

q Meaning, the Assyrians and others, whose helpe they looked for, r God shall say to Darius and Cyrus.

f I will not vse my power against a fraille man whose life is but a breath.

g That is for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by couterfinesse.

u Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraw my mercy from them.

x That is, I frame the speech and wordes of my messengers which shall bring peace.

y As well to him that is in captiuitie as to him that remaineth at home.

a The Lord thus speaketh to the Prophet, willing him to viall diligence and fortitude to rebuke the hypocrites.

b They will seeme to worship me and hie outwards holinesse.

c He testeth forth the malice and dissimulation of the hypocrites which grinde against God if they worketh not accepted.

d That hee conuicteth the hypocrites by the second table and by their deuor to ward their neighbour that they downe his head as a bulrush, and to lye downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bandes of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery yoke.

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy righteousnesse shall goe before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away fiue mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the hand, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou poure out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darknesse, and thy darknesse shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, & like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach, & the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their own iniquities. 2 The confession of sinners. 3 God alone will preserve his Church, though all men fail.

BEholde, the Lordes hand is not shortened, Behold it cannot faile: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he will not heare.

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, & your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, & your tongue hath murmured iniquity.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: they conceiue mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice egges, and weaue the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labours: for their workes are works of iniquities, & the worke of crueltie in their hands.

7 Their feete runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: defolation and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, & there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whoso euer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doth iustice come neere vnto vs: wee waite for light, but loe, it is darknesse: for brightnesse, but wee walke in darknesse.

10 Wee grope for the wall like the blinde, and wee grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are as in solitary places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like beares, and mourne like doves: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our finnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and uttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and hee that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he sawe that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did he raise it, and his righteousness he made himselfe a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to take recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will surely repay the ylanders.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chuse him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of the mouth of the seede of thy seede, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

The doctrine is made probable by the vertue of the spirit, he comforteth the soule with the other, and promitteth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

1 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 2 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 3 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

ARise, O Ierusalem: be bright, for thy light is come, and the glorie of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

All men winke at the iniquities and oppressions, and none goe about to remedie them.

According to their wicked desires, they hurt their neighbours.

Whosoever cometh from them, is perished and bringeth death.

They are profitable to no purpose.

That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

Gods protection to defend vs.

We are alone, their deliniance of counsel and can finde no rest of our enemies.

We asperse our sorrows by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

This confession is general to the Church to obtaine remission of finnes, and the prophets did not excuse themselves from the same.

I to wit, against our neighbours.

There is acie their iustice not vprighte as among men.

The wicked will deliuer him.

Meaning, so doe iustice, and to remede the things that were to be done out of order.

That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe to restore, and did not seeke side of any order.

Signifying, that God hath all manner of hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

To wit, vpon enemies, which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.

He sheweth that there shall be great affliction in the Church, but God will not deliuer him.

Whereby he declareth that the true differences from sinne and Satan becomen to none, but to the children of God, whom he iustifieth.

Reuocate the doctrine is made probable by the vertue of the spirit, he comforteth the soule with the other, and promitteth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

The time of thy prosperitie and iustitie, whereto speaking of Babylon hee commended her to goe downe.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a filthy clothe.

O Lord, that thou wouldest breake the heavens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire cauld the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, thou camst downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world they haue not heard nor vnderstood with the care, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou diddest meete him, that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembered thee in thy wayes: beholde, thou art angry, for wee haue sinned: yet in them is continuance, and we shal be faued.

6 But wee haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousness is as filthy cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stretch vp himselfe to take holde of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: wee are the clay, and thou art our putter, and wee are all the worke of thine handes.

9 Be not angry, O Lord, about measure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: loe, we beseech thee beholde, we are all thy people.

10 Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wilderness, and Ierusalem a desert.

11 The House of our Sanctuary & of our glorie, where our fathers praised thee, is burne vp with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

12 Wilt thou holde thy selfe still? at these things, O Lord? wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs about measure?

13 Albeit, O Lord, thy iust indignation thou mayest utterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children. For so the iust iudge when God doeth not immediately send succour, which were dedicate to thy seruice, and to call vpon thy Name, in wherein we reioyced and worshipped thee, a Thats, at the contempt of thine owne glory: though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glory thus to be diminished.

CHAP. LXV.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles and the reuersion of the Iewes. 12 The joy of the elect, and the punishment of the wicked.

I haue bene sought of them that asked not: I was found of them that sought mee not: I said, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue spread out mine handes all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne imaginings.

3 A people that prouoked mee euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense vpon bricks.

4 Which remember among the graves, and lodge in the deserts, which care swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted are in their vessels.

5 Which fly stand apart, come not neere to mee: for I am holier then thou: therefore a smoke in my wrath, and a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Beholde, it is written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers haue together (saith the Lorde) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, & blasphemed mee vpon the hillies: therefore will I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lorde, As the vine is founde in the cluster, and one faith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I doe for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a feede out of Iakob, and out of Iudah, that shal inherit my mountaine: and mine elect shal inherit it, and my seruants shal dwell there.

10 And Sharon shal be a sheepefold, and the valley of Achor shal be a resting place for the cattle of my people, that haue sought me.

11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Lorde and forgotten mine holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnishe the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I p number you to the sword, and al you shal bowe downe to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answere: I spake, and ye heard not, but did euill in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shal eate, and ye shal be hungry: beholde, my seruants shal drinke, and ye shal be thirstie: beholde, my seruants shal reioyce, and ye shal be ashamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shal sing for ioy of heart, and ye shal cry for sorrow of heart, and shal howle for vexation of minde.

15 And ye shal leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lorde God shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 He that shal blasse in the earth, shal blasse himselfe in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shal sweare by the true God: for the former troubles are forgotten, and shal surely hide themselves from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create 7 new heuens and a new earth: and the former shal not be remembered nor come into minde.

18 But be ye glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I shal create. For beholde, I will create Ierusalem as a reioycing; and her people as a ioye.

19 And I will reioyce in Ierusalem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping shal bee

¹ God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. ² He desireth sacrifice: thou without mercy and faith. ³ God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. ¹⁹ The vocation of the Gentiles. ²³ The perpetual Sabbath. ²⁴ The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

¹ Thus sayth the Lord, *The heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that yee will build vnto me? and where is that place of my rest?

² For all these things hath mine hand made, and all these things have bene, sayth the Lord: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of a contrite spirit, and tremble that my words.

³ He that killeth a bullocke, as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he that remembereth inence, as if he blessed an idol: yea, they have chosen their owne wayes, and their foule delighteth in their abominations.

⁴ Therefore will I chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did cuill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Jeremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whom some thinke to be that found out the booke of the Law, and gave it to I. fish. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandment of the Lord he began very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eighteen yeeres vnder the said King, and three months vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Iehoiakim eluen yeeres and three months vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eluen yeeres: vnto the time that they were carried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to about fortie yeeres, besides the time that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with roares and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetisousnesse, subtiltie, crueltie, excess, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word: and for the confusion of the Church, reuelles his iust time of their diluerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which was more stubborn and obdurate, when the Prophets doe admonish them manfully of their destruction. Next how the Prophets and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he ever shew himselfe a preseruer of his Church, and when all means seeme to man's iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

c This was a citie about three miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonged to the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron, Iosiah. 1. 18.

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office: forasmuch as he did not presume of himselfe to preach and prophesie, but was called thereto by God.

e Meaning, the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoiachin was his father, who reigned but three months, & therefore is not mentioned, no more is Iachin that reigned no longer. f Of the eleventh yeere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar. g The scripture voucheth this manner of speech, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as 16. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15. h For Jeremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and against all. i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings should come vpon the world, he was moved with a certaine compassion to the one side to pittie them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmities of mans nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to counterfeite such a charge, as 16. 4. 1. Exod. 3. 11. and 4. 10.

3 And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah vnto the end of the eleueth yeere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, euen vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift e month.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I a formed thee in the wombe, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee to be a Prophet vnto the n nations.

6 Then said I, Oh, Lord God, beholde, I can not speake, for I am a child.

7 But the Lord said vnto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and k touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this day haue I set thee ouer the l nations, and ouer the kingdomes, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to destroy, & throw downe, to build, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a m rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast scene aright: for I will hasten my word to performe it.

13 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a satching n pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Out of the o North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shall sit with thine in the entering of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my p iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the works of their owne hands.

g God reherfeth his benefices done vnto the Iewes, 8. Against the Priests and false prophets. 12. The Iewes are dejected, because they forsake God.

Moreover, the word of the Lorde came vnto Me, saying,

3 Goe, and cry in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the ^a kindnesse of thy youth, & the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness ^a in a land that was not fowen.

3 Israel was as a thing ^a halowend vnto the Lord; ^a his first fruites: all they ^a that eat it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone ^a farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become ^a vaine?

6 For they said not, Where is the Lorde that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through the wilderness, through a desert and waste land, though a drie land, and ^a by the shadow of death, by a land that no man passed thorow, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull country, to eate the fruit thereof, & the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled ^a my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests did not, ^a I Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the ^a Lawe, knewe me not: the ^a pastours also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophesied in ^a Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet ^a plead with you, saith the Lorde, and I will pleade with your children & childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of ^a Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto ^a Kedar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their ^a glory, for that which doeth not ^a profite.

12 O ye ^a heathens, be astonied at this: be afraid and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils:

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance, 1. Hee promisseth the restoration of his Church, 2. Hee representeth Iudah and Israel, comparing them to a woman of oldeint to her husband,

THEY say, If a man put away his wife, and she goe from him, and become another mans, shall hee returne againe vnto her? shall not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, & behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and way thou hast polluted the lande with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the shewes haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou hast defiled a shewes forehead: thou wouldest not bee alhamed.

4 Diddest thou not stil cry vnto mee, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will hee keep his anger for euer? will hee reuerse it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, & yet thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto mee, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Haft thou seene what this rebellious Iudah hath done? for the hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I said, when she had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saue.

and cry vnto God, and vnto outward prayer: as the godly do, but because they trust not in their call, they are not heard, Iosiah, 1. 1. Meaning, the ten tribes.

8 When I sawe, howe that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not affaide, but they went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnes of her whoredome she hath euen defiled the land: for the hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuerthelesse for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto mee with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath iustified herselfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these wordes toward the North and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but yet wouldest not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a cite, and two of a tribe, & will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The Ark of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, & all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iffrah shall walke with the house of Iffrah, & they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayd, How did I take thee for children and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayd, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelled against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Iffrah, saith the Lord.

21 A voice was heard vpon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruered their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne, and I will heale your rebellions, & behold, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labor, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullocks, their fannes and their daughters.

13 I will surely confume them, faith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figges on the figtree, and the leafe shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them, shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? assemble your felues, and let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, & giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The noying of his horfes was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyse of the noying of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the citie, and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I will send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, faith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorowe, but mine heart is heauie in me.

19 Behold, the voyce of the crie of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre country, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her King in her? Why? haue they prouoked me to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the sommer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no Physicion there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 For the knowledge of Conscience we ougly to reuerce. 26 The transgression of the heart.

Oh, that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and go from them: for they be all adulterers, and an assemblie of rebels.

3 And they bendeth their tongues like their bows for 4 lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not known mee, faith the Lord.

4 Let euery one take heed of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for euery brother will vse deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and will not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies: and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiues: because of their deceit they refuse to know me, faith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus faith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will smite them, and trie them: for what should I doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrowe shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

9 Shall I not visit them for these things, faith the Lord? or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the fayre places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voyce of the Rocks: both the foule of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is it that will to vnderstand this? and to whome the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, such he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passeth through.

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked thereafter.

14 But haue walked after the stubbornnes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus faith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feede this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will find a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, Take heede, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillfull women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, & let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye liddes gulf out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings: we haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, & teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp vpon our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the yong men in the streets.

22 Speake, Thus faith the Lord, The carkeises of men shall lie, euen as the dung vpon the field, and as the hawthull after the shower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus faith the Lord, Let not the wife man glorie in his wifeedom, nor the strong man glorie in his strength, neither the rich man glorie in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glorie in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which haue mercie, iudgement, and

CHAP. X.

1 The confessions of the flauers are not to be feared. 2 The weakness of idols, and of the power of God. 3 Their flauers are become to mice beasts.

HEARE ye the word of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, I came not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the signs of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the customs of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the handes of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it with silver, and with gold: they fasten it with nayles, and hammer, that it fall not.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they can not goe: feare them not, for they can not doe euill, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of nations? for to thee appertained the dominion: for among all the wife men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdoms there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the flocke is a doctrine of vanitie.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarshish, and golde from Phaz, for the worke of the workman, and the handes of the founder: the blew filke, and the purple in their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the living God, and an everlasting King: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations can not abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters, in the heauen, and he catcheth the cloudes to ascend from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

a Because the people thought that to haue Images, was a meane to serue God and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanity, the worke of errors, ver. 15. & Habak 2. 17. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people. f Whereas they found the best gold: shewing that they thought nothing too deere for their idols: some read Ophe as King, 2. 16. g This declarerh, that all that hath bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they should be in Caldeas among the idolaters, and now with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, and how to answer them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeas tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is in Hebrew.

14 Every man is a beast by his owne knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no brach therein.

15 They are vanitie, & the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Iakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throwe as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, and my grievous plague: but I thought, Yet is I my forowe, and I will beare it.

20 My Tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cordes are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtaines.

21 For the Pastors are become beasts, and haue not sought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flockes of their pastures are scattered.

22 Beholde, the noyse of the brute is come, and a great commotion out of the North country to make the cities of Iudah desolate, and a deince of dragons.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct mee, but with iudgement, not in thine anger, least thou bring mee to nothing.

25 Powe out thy wrath vpon the heathen that knowe thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iakob and deuoured him, and consumed him, and haue made his habitation desolate.

But hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to goe against Ierusalem, Ezek 21. 2. 11. therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lords decision. 9 Concerning that God hath reuelled vnto him the certaine of their expiation, Chap 7. 26. hee only prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, which Iudah calleth, in weale, Chap 27. 8. meaning his rodde by their infirmity, 1 Cor. 10. 13. for here by iudgement is meant not only the punishment, but also the mercifull consolation of the time, as Chaps 30. 11. f Forasmuch as Iudah cannot only be knowne and glorified by his mercie, that hee is with toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that his glorie may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 76. 6.

CHAP. XI.

1 A curse of them that obey not the word of Gods countenance. 2 The people of Iudah, following the steps of their fathers, now do strange gods. 3 The Lords forbiddeth them to pray for them.

THE worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, a Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this covenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron furnace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

b The more that man thinketh to do any thing well by his owne will, and not as God instructeth him, the more doth hee prove himselfe to be a vile beast. 1 By these wordes, Porcion & Rod, hee signifieth their inheritance, meaning that God should be all sufficient for them: & that their felicity consisted in him alone, & therefore they ought to renounce all other helps & succours, as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32. 17. psal. 83. c The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare themselves to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, and that they should leele the things, whereof he had told them. 1 It is my iust plague, and therefore I will take it patiently, whereby he teacheth the people how to behave themselves toward God. m He sheweth how Ierusalem shall lament. n The governors and Ministers. o Read Chap. 4. 19. p He speaketh this because that Nebuchad-nezzar supposed to haue made warre against the Magistres and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to goe against Ierusalem.

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I have sworn vnto your fathers, to giue them a lande, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered b I and sayd, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the words of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I have protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, c rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuerthelesse they would not obey, nor encline their eares: but euery one walked in the stubbornnesse of his wicked d heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the e wordes of this couenant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A f conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: g thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not bee able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, h I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shall not bee able to helpe them in the time of their trouble.

13 i For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streets of Ierusalem haue yett set vp altars of confusion, k l m n o p q r ro Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasur portion they haue made a desolate wil-dernes.

11 They haue layde it waste, and it, being waite, mourneth vnto mee: and the whole land lyeth waste, because no man setteth his minde on it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sworde of the Lord shal deuoure from the one ende of the land, euen to the other ende of the land: no flesh shall haue peace.

13 They haue sowne wheate, and reaped thornes: they were sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lorde against all mine euill neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherit, Be-holde, I will plucke them out of their lande, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (for the Lorde li-ueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Ba-al) then shall they be built in the naddes of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I vter-ly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prepared. 1. Why I haue recused to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.
2. He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lorde vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loines, and so it not in water.

3 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

4 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee
the second time, saying,

5 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

6 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lorde had commanded me.

7 And after many dayes, the Lorde sayde vnto mee, Arise, goe toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

8 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

9 Then the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

10 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

11 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubburnesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

12 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lorde, that they might bee my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this worde, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery bottell shall be filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Doe we not knowe that euery bottell shall be filled with wine?

14 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennesse.

15 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lorde: I will not spare, I will not piete nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

16 Heare and giue care, bee not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.

17 Giue glory to the Lorde your God before he bring darkness, and euer your feete stumble in the darke mountains, and whiles you looke for light, bee tume into the shadowe of death and make it as darkenesse.

18 But if yee will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall weep and drop downe teares, because the Lorde stocke is caried away captiue.

19 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your shies, sit downe: for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

20 The cities of the South shall bee shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall bee caried away captiue: it shall be wholly caried away captiue.

21 Lift vp your eyes and beholde them that come from the North: where is the stocke that was giuen thee, when thou wast beautiful stocke?

22 What wilt thou say, when he shall visit thee?
(for thou hast taught them to bee captaiues and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

23 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? for the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered and thy heeles made bare.

24 Can the blacke Moore change his skin? or the leopard his spots? neither may ye also doe good, that are accustomed to doe euill.

25 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

26 This is thy portion, and the part of thy measures from mee, saith the Lorde, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

27 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

28 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy neigh-

¹ Of the dearth that should come. ² The prayer of the people making murther of the Lord. ³ The vnfaithfull people are not heard. ⁴ Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophecies that seduce the people.

The worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the ^a death.

¹ Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the cite of Ierusalem goeth vp.

² And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and founde no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

³ For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and covered their heads.

⁴ Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsooke ^a it, because there was no grasse.

10 ¶ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striveth with the whole earth: I have neither ¹ lent on violence, nor men have lent unto me on violence: yet every one doth curse me.

11 The Lord said, ² Surely thy remnant shall have wealth: surely I will cause thine enemy to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to be spoiled without gain, and that for all thy sinnes even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visit me, & reuenge me of my persecutors: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou returne, then will I bring thee againe, & thou shalt stand before me: & if thou take away the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them returne vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, & they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to fight, and to deliver thee, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

a The Lord forbidding Jeremiah to marry, sheweth him what should be the affliction vpon Judah, 15 The captivity of Babylon, 15 Their deliverance, 16 The callon of the Gentiles.

The wordes of the Lord came also vnto mee,

saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor have sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deathes and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung vpon the earth, & they shall be consumed by the sword, & by famine, and their carcases shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beastes of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for the: for I have taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, your mercy & compassion.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them: nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the morning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sit with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, even in your dayes the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladness, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shew this people all these wordes, & they shall say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? and what is our sinne that we have committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the Lord, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my Law,

12 (* And ye have done worse than your fathers: for beholde, you walke every one after the stubbenesse of his wicked heart, and will not heare me)

13 Therefore will I drive you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, and there shall ye see other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

14 * Beholde therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more be sayde, The Lord lieth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But the Lord lieth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the landes where hee had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gave vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many sithers, and they shall hunt them, and after, will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountaine and from every hill, and out of the caues of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they have defiled my land, and have filled mine inheritance with their filthie carions, and their abominations.

19 O Lord, shew art my force, & my strength, & my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lyes and vanitie, wherein was no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

b Signifying, that the affliction should be so great, that one should not have leisure to comfort another.

c That is, should not rent their clothes in figure of mourning. d For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vaine.

* Chap. 1. 9. e Because the wicked are all wayes rebellious and defile the land with their sinnes, and murmur against Gods iudgements: as though he had no just cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answer.

* Chap. 2. 28. f Chap. 2. 7. g Signifying the distance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of the distance from Egypt: but hee chiefly respecteth to the spiritual distance vnder Christ.

h By the sithers & hunters are meant the Babylonians & Caldees, who should destroy the land: as if they engaged the one, the other should take them. i That is, their sonnes and daughters, which they offered to Molech. k He willeth at the greatness of Gods iudgement, which shall not only extend to the Tewes, but also to the Gentiles. l Our fathers were most vile idolaters: the force is cometh only from Gods mercy, that he performeth his promise, and hath not utterly cast vs off.

b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doth contrary to that which he hath ordered in his secret counsell, but when he threatneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth him grace to repent, the threatening (which euer continueth a condition in it) taketh no place and thus the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion, and to their owne telic will,

d As no man that hath thirst, refresheth fresh cold water, which he lack at home, to goe and seek water abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers & braue God, which was present with them.

e That is, the way of crueltie, which God had taught by his lawe, reade Chap. 6. 16.

f I will hewe mine anger and not my fauour to ward them.

g This argument the wicked haue ouer vsed against the seruants of God. The Church cannot erre: we are the Church, and therefore whoeuer speaketh against vs, they ought to die.

h Let vs slander him, and accuse him: for we shall be believed.

i Seeing the obliuious malice of the adulterers,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this power, saith the Lord? behold, as the clay is in the potters hande, so are you in mine hande, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out and to destroy it.

8 But if the nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euil in my sight and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith y Lord, behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: I returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they sayde desperately, Surely wee will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snowe of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocke of the field? or shall the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their Prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate and a perpetual derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East winde before the enemy: I will shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayde they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuile against Ieremiah: for the Law shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs visite him with the tongue, and let vs not giue heede to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lorde, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slaine by the sword in the barrel.

22 Let the cry bee heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and laid snares for my feete.

23 Let more and more, the Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnall addition prayeth for their destruction, because hee knew that it should tende to Gods glory, and profit of his Church, 23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me: sendeth to death: forgieue not their iniquitie, neither put out their time from thy sight, but let them bee ouerthrowen before thee: deale thou with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

Her prophesie the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

T Thus sayde the Lord, Goe, and buy an earthen bottell of a potter, and sake of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe fourth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate: and thou shalt preach there the wordes, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the wordes of the Lorde, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitans of Ierusalem, thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whoeuer heere, his eares shall bingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knownen, nor the Kings of Iudah: they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde

6 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsel of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hande of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meat for the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall bee astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friende in the siege and straitnes, wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues, shall hold them frait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall bury shew in Topheth till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, sayeth the Lorde, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose roofes they haue burnt incense unto al the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah fro Topheth where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lordes house, and sayde to all the people,

For gate of the Iunus.

g Reade Deut. 118.

15 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this cite, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

a Jeremiahs is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. b Hee prophesieth the captiuitie of Babilon. c Hee complaineth that he is a smocking flouer for the word of God. d He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin which was by the House of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then sayd Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabab.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall carie them captiue into Babel, and shall fall them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliuer all the substance of this cite, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision dayly: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation, therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision dayly.

9 Then I sayd, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire that shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the railing of many, and feare on euery side. Declare, sayd they, and we will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceived: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lord is with me like a mighty giant: therefore my persecuters shall be overthrown, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 But O Lord of hostes, that triest the righteous, and seekest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blefied.

15 Cursed be the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man childe is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned & repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the shewing at noone ride,

17 Because he hath not slaine me, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorrow, that my dayes should be confirmed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophesieth that Zedekiah shall take, and the cite burne.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs, (for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous works, that he may returne vp for vs.

3 Then sayd Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will b^e turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this cite.

5 And I will selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this cite, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this cite, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 Hee that abideth in this cite, shall die by the sword and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this cite, for euill and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

a He exhorteth the King to iudgement & righteousness. 9 The King of Iudah is brought into captiuitie. 21 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

Thus sayd the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord, O King of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, * Execute ye iudgement & a righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressour, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by these gates, * and ride vpon charres, and vpon horses, & he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these words, I swear by my selfe, faith the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For this hath the Lord spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, thou art Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, * yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this citie, and they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 ¶ Weeping for the dead, and not moved for them, weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe vnto him that buildeth his house by a wrongconnesse, and his chambers without equitie: the visit his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windowes, and feeling with cedar, and paint them with vermillion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou clovest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy father eate and drinke, and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, faith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnesse, and for to (head innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to do this.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

19 He shall be buried, as an asse is buried, euen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Goe vp to Lebanon, and cry: shoute in Bethan, and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidst, I will not heare: this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wilde hild feed all thy pastors, and thy louers shall goe into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautifulst thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in traile?

24 As I liue, faith the Lord, though Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cause them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land, wherunto they desire to returne, they shall returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole? or as a vessel, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, he and his seed, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this * men desire of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seed that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

¶ He sheweth that all posteritie shall be witnesses of his iust plague, as though it were registered for perpetuall memorie. ¶ Not that he had no children (for after that he begate Salathiel in the captiuitie, Matthew 1. 12.) but that none should reigne after him as King.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophet and the Priest doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darkenesse they shall be driven forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, ouer the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue scene foolishnesse in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue scene also in the prophets of Ierusalem, kildnesse: they commit adultery and walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto me as Sodome, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Heare not the words of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise mee, The Lord hath sayde, Ye shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbenesse of his owne heart, No quill shall come vnto you.

18 For I who haue flood: in the counsell of the Lord that hee hath perceiued and heard his worde? Who hath marked his worde and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord cometh forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter daies ye shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 I haue not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had flood in my counsell, and had declared my words to my people, then they should haue turned them from that euill way, and from the wickednesse of their intentions.

23 Am I a God as heathen, saith the Lord, and not a God? farre off.

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets sayde, that prophesie lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Doe the prophets delite to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceite of their owne heart?

27 Think they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forfathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, and he hath my worde, let him speake my worde faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheate, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like a hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that shall steal my worde euery one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue swete tongues, and say, He sayeth.

32 Beholde, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commanded them therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or the Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I burden which the sinners were not able to suffice: therefore the wicked in deciding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, You see nothing but a burden on our shoulders: and thus they reioiced the word of God as a grievous burden. Because that word was brought to contempt and derision, hee will teach them another manner of speech, and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teach them to aske what seruence, What speeth the Lord.

16 And they shall drinke, and be mœuod, and 17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke , vnto whom the Lord had sent me :

18 ^a Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Iudah, and the kings thereof, & the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hilling, and a curse, ^a as appeareth this day :

19 Pharaoh alfo, King of Egypt, and his ser-

20 And all sorts of people, and all the kings of the Philistines, and P Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod :

21 ^a Edom, and Moab, and the Ammonites, 22 And all the Kings of Tyrus, & all the Kings of Zidon, and the Kings of the ^a yles, that are beyond the sea,

23 And Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all

Kings of Elam, and all the Kings of the Medes, 26 And all the Kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of ^a Shehach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Drinke & be drunken, and fure and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will fend among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuse to take the cuppe at thine hand to drinke, then tell them. Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, Ye shall certainly drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the ^a citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free?
Ye shall not goe quit : for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, sayth the Lord of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these words, and say vnto them, ^a The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation, & cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The found shall come to the endes of the earth : for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, ^a and he will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, Beholde, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a ^a great whirlewinde shall be raised vp from the coasts of the earth.

33 And ^a the flaine of the Lord shall be at that day, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned:
neither gathered nor buried, ^a but shall be as the dough vpon the ground.

low your felues in the ashes, ^a ye principall of the flocke : for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your disperſion, and ye shall fall like a precious vessels.

35 And the ^a flight shall faile from the shepheards, and the eſcaping from the principall of the flocke.

an howling of the principall of the flocke ^a shall be cause of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Jeremiah mœueth the people to repentance. 7. He is taken of the false prophets and priests, and brought to iudgement.
23 Vnto the Prophet a hatred of Iudaism cometh to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, cameth this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord, Stand in the ^a court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lords House, all the words that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not ^a a word backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turne eue-ry man from his euill way, that I way ^a repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their works.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lauces, which I haue bet before you,

5 And to heare the words of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like ^a Shiloh, and will make this city ^a a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him,
and sayd, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This ^a House shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the Kings house into the House of the Lord, and fate downe in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, ¶ This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiah vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath ^a sent me to prophesie against this house & against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, & vpon this cite, & vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthe to die; for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morasthite * prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shall be an heape, & the mountaine of the I House shall be as the hie places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did he not fear the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them? To this might we procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, one Uriah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-jarcon, who prophesied against this cite, and against this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 Nowe when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King sought to slay him. But when Uriah heard it, he was afraide and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, euen Eltnath the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Uriah out of Egypt, & broght him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead bodie into the granes of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan was with Ieremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jeremiah, at the commandment of the Lord, sendeth to the King of Iudah and to the other Kings that were nere, whereby they are warned to be subject vnto Nebuchad-nezzar.
2 He warneth the people, and the Kings and rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to mee. Make thee bonds, and yokes, & put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, & to the King of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the King of Iudah,

4 And saye vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, the God of Iudah, I have sent vnto you Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, your God, that he may send you raine, or dew, or snow, or frost, or summer, or winter, according to his word, which he hath spoken vnto you, and ye shall prosper. But ye have despised his word, and have not hearkened vnto his voice, nor have ye kept his commandments, nor have ye done as he hath said: therefore shall I send vnto you raine, or dew, or snow, or frost, or summer, or winter, according to his word, which he hath spoken vnto you, and ye shall prosper. But ye have despised his word, and have not hearkened vnto his voice, nor have ye kept his commandments, nor have ye done as he hath said: therefore shall I send vnto you raine, or dew, or snow, or frost, or summer, or winter, according to his word, which he hath spoken vnto you, and ye shall prosper.

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I have made the earth, the man, & the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and have giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I have giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the field have I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntill the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visit saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I have wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your incanters, nor your forerunners, which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their necks vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your necks vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shall not serue the King of Babel; for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Beholde, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them intreat the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the House of the King of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when he carried away captive Ieco-

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 The false prophete of Hananiah, 12 Ieremiah reprooueth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

And that same yeere, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the fourth yeere, and in the fifth month, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the House of the Lorde in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

3 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

4 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes House, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caryed them into Babel.

5 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Ichoiakim king of Iudah, with all them that were caryed away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lorde: for I will breake the yoke of the King of Babel.

6 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the 4 Prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lorde,

7 Euen so the Prophet Ieremiah said, So be it: the Lord so do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lordes House, and all that is caryed captiue from Babel into this place.

8 But heare thou now: this worde that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

9 The Prophets that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

10 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee known that the Lord hath truly sent him.

11 Then Hananiah the prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

12 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

13 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

14 Goe, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lorde.

17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same yeere in the seventh month.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were captiue in Babel, 10 Hee prophesieth their returne after seuen years, 16 Hee prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ierusalem, 21 Hee threatneth the prophets that seduce the people, 23 The death of Shelemiah a prophesied.

Now these are the wordes of the booke that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders, which were caryed away captiue, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzar had caryed away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuchs, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workmen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elafah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah King of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hosts the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caryed away captiue, whom I haue caused to be caryed away captiue from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

6 Take you wives, and beget sonnes & daughters, and take wives for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbandes, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whither I haue caused you to be caryed away captiue, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that be among you, deceive you, neither giue care to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lorde.

10 But thus saith the Lorde, That after seuen yeeres be accomplished at Babel, I will visit you, and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, saith the Lorde, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto me, and ye shall go and pray vnto me, and I will heare you,

13 And ye shall seeke mee and finde me, because ye shall seeke me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be carryed away captiue.

15 Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp 8 Prophets in Babel.

16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figges, that can not be eaten, they are so naughty.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment and a hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them.

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord, all ye of the captiuitie, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

21 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahaz the sonne of Kolaiash, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophetic vnto you in my Name, Beholde, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and hee shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahaz, whome the King of Babel burnt in the fire.

23 Because they haue committed a villenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, and testifie it, saith the Lord.

24 Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speake the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lorde hath made thee a Priest, for Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for every man that rageth and maketh himselfe a prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why halt not thou reprooed Ieremiah of Anathoth, which propheticth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: builde houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah had propheticd vnto you, and I sent him not, and bee caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will visit Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his feed: hee shall not haue a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he beholde the good, that I will do for my people, saith the Lorde, because hee hath spoken rebelliously against the Lorde.

CHAP. XXX.

The returne of this proph from Babylon. 16 He moneths his memory, 24 And comforteth the Church.

The word, that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

1 Thus speake the Lorde God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words, that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

2 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

3 Again, these are the words that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

4 For thus sayth the Lorde, Wee haue heard a terrible voice, of feare and not of peace.

5 Demand now, and beholde, if I man trauell with childe: wherefore doe I beholde every man with his hands on his loines as a woman in trauell, and all faces are turned into a palenesse?

6 Alas, for this day is great: none shall be deliuered from it: it is euen the time of Iakobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

7 For in that day, saith the Lorde of hostes, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more serue themselves of him.

8 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and I Dauid their King, whome I will raise vp vnto them.

9 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iakob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy feed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

10 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly at thee off.

11 For this sayth the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

12 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaiter: there are no medicines, nor help for thee.

13 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy finnes were increased.

14 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy finnes were increased, therefore doe these things vnto thee.

p He and his feed shall be destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliuerance.

a Because they should be altered, and their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised.

b Hee sheweth that before that this deliuerance shall come, the Caldeans should be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and that they should be in such perplexitie and sorow, as a woman in her trauell is in.

c Meaning that the time of their captiuitie should be grieuous.

d When I shall visit you.

e Of the King of Babylon.

f To wit, of Iakob.

g That is, Ierusalem, which should come of the flocke of Dauid according to the flesh, and should be the true pastor.

h Ezek. 34. 17, 18, who is set over his flocke, and his kingdome, that should be as a shepherd in the person of Dauid.

i Mal. 3. 5.

j Read Chap. 30. 34.

k Meaning, that no man is able to find out a remedy, so to deliuer thee, but that it must be the worke of God.

l The Assyrians and Egyptians, whom thou dost detest with gifts, who led thee on thine affliction.

I Herein is commended Gods great mercie toward his, who doeth not destroy them for their finnes, but corrects and chastise them, till he have purged & pardoned them, & to bereth the iob by the which he sheweth that the cite and the Temple should be restored to their former state.

a He sheweth how the people shall win praise and thanksgiving so long as they shall be true.

b Meaning Zerubbabel, who was the figure of Christ, in whom this was accomplished.

c Signifying, that Christ doth willingly submit himself to the obedience of God his father.

d Left the wicked hypocrites should deter themselves with their promises, the Prophet sheweth what shall be their portion.

e When this Messiah and deliverer is sent.

b Which were delivered from the captivity of Pharaoh.

c To wit, God.

d The people thus saved as though he were not to be necessary to them now, as he had been of old.

e Thus the Lord saith, that his love is not changeable.

16 Therefore all they that devote their, shall be devoured, and all thine enemies every one shall go into captivitie: and they that spoile thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that robbe thee, will give to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy woundes, faith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whome no man seeketh after.

18 Thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring againe the captivitie of Iacobus rentes, and have compassion on his dwelling places: and the cite shall be builded vpon her owne heape, and the palace shall remaine after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceede thanksgiving, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be fewe: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as afore time, and their congregation shall be established before me: and I will visite all that vce them.

21 And their noble ruler shall be of themselves, & their government shall proceed from the middes of them, & I will cause him to draw nere, & approach vnto me: for who is this that directeth his heart to come vnto me, faith the Lord?

22 And yet shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the temple of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlwind that hangeth ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue don, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

Here sheweth Gods benefits after their returne from Babylon, 25 And the spiritual joy of the faithful in the Church.

At the same time, faith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

a Thus faith the Lord, The people which escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

b The Lord hath appeared vnto me of olde, say they: yea, I haue loued thee with an everlasting love, therefore with mercie I haue drawn thee.

c Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt still be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt goe forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

d Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of a Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shall make them common.

e For the dayes shall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, & let vs go vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

f For thus faith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iacob, and shoute for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.

g Beholde, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blinde & the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is delivered also: a great compaign shall retorne hither.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will lead them by the riuers of y water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to the lame, & Ephraim is y my first borne.

10 Hearre the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him and will keepe him, as a shepherd doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and ransomed him from the hand of y him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifullnes of the Lord, for the wheat and for the wine, and for the oyle, & for the increase of sheepe, & bullocks: and their soule shall be as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall y virgine reioyce in the dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & wil comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorrow.

14 And I will replenish the soule of the Priests with y fatnesse, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnesse, faith the Lord.

15 Thus faith the Lord, A voyce was heard on bie, a mourning & bitter weeping: Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus faith the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, faith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemies.

17 And there is hope in thine ende, faith the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as a vntamed calfe: y comest thou with me, and I shall be comforted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I am comforted, I repented: and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did beare the reproof of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim y my deare (some or pleasant child)? yet since I spake vnto him, I shall remember him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely haue compassion vpon him, faith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp signs: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgine of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created a newe thing in the earth: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shal bring against their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue faciated the wearie soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepes was sweete vnto me.

27 Behold, the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will sow ^h house of Israel, & the house of Iudah with the seed of man and with the seed of beast.

28 And like as I haue: watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to root out, and to throw downe, and to destroy, & to plague them, so will I watch
ouer them, to build & to plant them, saith ⁱ Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the children strech their seet on edge.

30 But euery one shall die for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ^j Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a ^k new couenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah,

32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they brake, although I was Ihan husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those daies, saith the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward partes, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquitie, and will remember their finnes no more.

sunne for a light to the day, & the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof
roare: his Name ^m the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shall the feede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, ⁿ or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the feede of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the ^o citie shall be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shal compasse about to Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, & all the fields vnto the brooke of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shall be holy vnto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked vp nor destroyed any more for euer.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the King of Babylon. 7 He sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38
The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

TH word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the ^a tenth yeere of Zedekiah King of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

1 For then the King of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

2 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, * Behold, I will giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shall take it?

3 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the King of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face,

4 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, & there shal he be, vntill ^b I visit him, saith ^c the Lord: though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

5 ¶ And Ieremiah said, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 Beholde, Hananeel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee and say, ^d Buy vnto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kinred apperteyneth vnto thee: so bier it.

7 So Hananeel, mine vncles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession ^e thine, and the purchase ^f belongeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Lord.

8 And I bought the field of Hananeel mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, ^g seven sauen ^h shekels, and ten ⁱ pieces of siluer.

9 And I wrote it in the booke and signed it, & tooke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the balances.

10 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed ^j according to the Law, & custome, with the booke that was open,

11 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maasiah, in the sight of Hananeel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that late in the court of the prison.

12 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, ^k vnto this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen ^l vessel, that they may continue a long time.

14 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel saith thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land.

15 ¶ Nowe when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying, a So that Ieremiah had now prophesied from the 7 And I will cause the captivity of Iudah and the captivity of Israel to returne, and will builde them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against mee, and whereby they have rebelled against me.

9 And it shalbe to me a name, a ^b joy, a praise, and an honour before al the nations of the earth, which shal heare al the good that I do vnto them:
and they shal feare & tremble for al the goodnes, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this city.

10 Thus layeth the Lord, Again there shall be heard in this place (which yet lay shall be defolate, without man, and without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are defolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast):

11 The voice of ioy and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, the voyce of them, that shall say, i Praise the Lord of hostes, because the Lorde is good: for his mercy endureth for ever, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the House of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus faith the Lorde of hostes, Againe in this place, which is desolate, without man, & without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall be dwelling for shepherds to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the ^k mountains, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hande of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, & to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes and at that time, wil I cause the branche of righteousnesse to growe vp vnto Dauid, and he shal execute iudgement, and righte-ousnesse in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saved, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and hee that shall call ^m her, is the Lord our ⁿ righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Levites want a man before me to offer ^oburnt offerings, & to offer meate offerings, & to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremiah saying,

20 Thus faith the Lorde, If you can breake my couenant of the p day, and my couenant of the night, that there should not bee day, and night in 31 Then may my covenant bee broken with Dauid my seruant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne; and with the Leuites, and Priestes my ministers.

12 As the armie of heauen cannot be numbred, neither the sands of the sea measured; so wil I multiply the seede of David my seruant, and the Leuites that minister vnto me.

Moreover, the words of the Lord came to Jeremiah.

34 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lorde hath chosen, hee hath euen cast them off?
thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the order of heaven and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Iacob and Dauid my seruant, and not take of his seed to be rulers ouer the seed of Abraham, Izhak, and Iacob: for I wil cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 He sheweth that the zittis, and the King Zedekiah shall be giurn into the hands of the King of Babylon, 11 He rebuketh their cruelty toward their servants.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah King of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, * I wil giue this ci-tie into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely bee taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall beholde the face of the King of Babel, & he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lorde, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah : thus saith the Lorde of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burn aduers for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh lord: for I haue pronounced the worde, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these words vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7. (When the King of Babel hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah, that were left, even against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

10 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lorde, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them,

9 That euery man should let his seruante goe free, and euery man his handmayde, which was an Ebrue or an Ebrueffe, and that none should serue himselfe of them, ^{so} ~~as~~ ^{was} of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that every one should let his servant go free, and euer'y one his handmaide, and that none should serue themfelues of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterwarde they † repented and caused the seruants and the handmayles, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and helde them in subiection as seruants and handbrowde.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came upon to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant

a Reade Chap. 33.

And in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, & write therein all the wordes that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, even from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne every man from his euill way, that I may forgieue their iniquities, and their sinnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lord, which hee had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am 4 thus vp, and can not go into the house of the Lord,

6 Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule, wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lordes House vpon the 6 fasting day: also thou shalt read them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and every one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lordes House.

9 ¶ And in the fift yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth month, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in y booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in y chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretary, in the hier court at the entry of the new gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord, 12 Then hee went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the Princes sate there, even Eliham the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the wordes that hee had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the Princes (in Iehudi the sonne of Nathaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chufsi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid both one and other, and sayde vnto Baruch, Wee will ceraine the King of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with yuke in the booke.

19 Then said the Princes vnto Baruch, Goe, hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King to the court, but they laide vp the roule in the chamber of Eliham the Chancellour, and told the King all the wordes that he might heare.

21 So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and he tooke it out of Eliham the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the Princes, which stood before the King.

22 Now the King sate in the winter House, in the 1 ninth month, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three or foure fides, hee cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraide, nor rent 1 their garments, neither the King, nor any of his seruants, that heard all these wordes.

25 Neuzheleleff, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had beought the King, that he would not burne y roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelch, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord 1 hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule) and the wordes that Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe 1 another roule, and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Hee shall haue y none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his y dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all y euil that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

The godly were afraid, fearing God so offended, and the wicked were afflicted for the burnment of the parchment.

1 They that were gilty among the Princes gave this counsel, by whose means it is like that Ieremiah was delivered, for they knewe the rage of the King, and so the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of their liues.

1 Which covered part of November, and part of December.

1 Shewing that the wicked in stead of repening when they heare Gods iudgements, growe into further malice against him and his word.

1 Thus we see the continual care, that God hath ouer his to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.

o Though the wicked thinke to haue abolished the wordes of God, when they haue burnt the booke thereof: yet this doeth that God will not easily wite it y againe, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as ver. 32. p. These are Iehoiakims wordes. q. Though Iehoiachim his sonne had burnt him, yet because hee repented but three months, it was effemed as no reigne.

the coardes. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew vp Jeremiah, with coardes, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the thirde citie that is in the house of the Lorde, and the King sayd vnto Jeremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah sayd to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slay mee? and if I giue thee counsel, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King sware secretly vnto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lorde liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then sayde Jeremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe forth vnto the King of Babels princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not be burnt vp with fire, & thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the King of Babels princes, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the King sayde vnto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, least they deliuer mee into their handes, and they i mouke me.

20 But Jeremiah sayde, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lorde, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the King of Iudahs house, shall be brought forth to the King of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perwaded thee, and haue perswaded against thee: thy feete are fastened in the myre, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wines, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes, but shalt bee taken by the hand of the King of Babel: and this citie shall thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Jeremiah, Let no man knowe of these wordes, & thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, and say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the King, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the King said vnto thee,

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the King that he would not cause mee to returne to Iehonathans house, so to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremiah and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these wordes that the King had commaunded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not percieued.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nazzar king of Babel, sent for Jeremiah the Prophet, and he came to him, and he said, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, which thou hast served, I have taken thee from captiuitie.

IN * the ninth yeare of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the tenth month, came Nebuchad-nazzar King of Babel and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh yeare of Zedekiah in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the citie was broken * vp.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, even Neregal, Sharezer, Samgarnebo, Serfethim, Rab-aris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, through the Kings garden, and by the gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans holde purposed after them, and outooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nazzar King of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the King of Babel slew the finnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreouer hee put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to cary him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the lande of Iudah, and gaue them vineyardes and fieldes at the same time.

11 Nowe Nebuchad-nazzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and looke well to him, and do him no harme, but doe vnto him as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebuzar-ban, Rabaris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that hee should cary him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lorde came vnto Jeremiah, while hee was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my wordes vp on this citie for euill, and not for good; and they shall accomplishe in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in due day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hande of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

Jeremiah hath been in the gate whether he will. 4. He dwelleth with the people that remain in Gedaliah.

THe word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him go from Ramath, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were carried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye haue ^b sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were on thine hands, if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, I tary till: behold, all the land w^h before thee: whither it seemeth good, and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore ^{hee} ³⁹⁴ Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wherefoeuer it pleaseth thee to go. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitales and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to ^c Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaiues of the hoste, ^d which were in the fields, euen they and their men heard that the King of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not carried away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen ^e Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, & the sonnes of Ephai, the Neophathite, and Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan ^f swaie vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, Behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to ^g serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and summer fruits, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that he had fet ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits, very much.

13 Moreover, Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaiues of the host, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And sayd vnto him, Knowest thou not that ^h Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will fly Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should he kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perih?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt ⁱ not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

^a Ishmael killeth Gedaliah secretly, and many other with him.

^b Iohanan flieth afterwards after Ishmael.

IN the ^a seventh moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elisama of the seed royall, and the princes of the ^b king, and tenne men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, & there they did ^c eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these tenne men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the King of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmael also slew all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Caldeans that were found there, ^d and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, ^e euen fourescore men, hauing their beards shauen, & their clothes rent and cut, with ^f offerings and incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went: and when he met them, he said vnto them, Come ^g to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the mids of the cite, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, ^h and cast them into the mids of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that sayd vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he stayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the King had made because of Basa King of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, ⁱ euen the Kings daughters, & all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah carried them away captiue, and departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the ^j captaiues of the host that were with him, heard

^a For vnder the colour of entreining of Ishmael he sought only to make them to destroy one another.

^b Thus the godly, which thinke no harme to others, are inuicely deceiued, & neuer lacke such as confound their destruction.

^c The cite was destroyed in the fourth moneth, and in the seventh moneth, which contained part of September, & part of October, was the gouernour Gedaliah slaine. ^d Menasseh, Zedekiah. ^e They did eat together in familiar friends.

^f For they thought that the Tribes had not bene cut off, and that therefore came up to the feast of Tabernacles: but hearing of the burning thereof in this way, they feared their fingers of sorrow.

^g For his death was kept secret, and he laid that he lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem and the Temple: but after they knew that they seemed to be near Gedaliah.

12 Then they all tooke their men, and went to fight with Iſhmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Iſhmael caried away captiue, ſaw Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoſte, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Iſhmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came againe, & went vnto Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael the ſonne of Nathaniah, eſcaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the b Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoſte that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Iſhmael the ſonne of Nathaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that he had ſlaine Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam) euen the ſtrong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought againe from Gibeon:

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captiues are counſell of Jeremiah what they ought to do, 7 he admoniſheth the remnant of the people vs to goe into Egypt.

THen all the captiues of the hoſte, and Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and Ieremias the ſonne of Hoſhaiah, and all the people from the leaſt vnto the moſt came,

2 And ſayde vnto Ieremias the Prophet, † Hear our prayer we beſeech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant (for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes do beholde)

3 That the Lord thy God may ſhew vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may a doe.

4 Then Ieremias the Prophet ſayd vnto them, I haue heard you beholde, I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatſoeuer thing the Lord ſhal anſwere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they ſayd to Ieremias, b The Lord be a witneſſe of truth, and faith betwene vs, if we do not euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God ſhal ſend thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voice of the Lord God, to whom we ſend thee that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ And ſo after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremias.

8 Then called he Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoſte, which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt to the moſt.

9 And ſayd vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, vnto whom ye ſent me to preſent your prayers before him.

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not deſtroy you, and I will plant you, and not root you out: for I a repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you, to ſaue you, and to deliuer you c from his hand, 12 And I will grante you mercie that hee may haue compaſſion vpon you, and he ſhal cauſe you to d dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no warre, nor heare the ſound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, If ye ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to dwell there)

16 Then the ſword that ye feared, f ſhall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, ſhall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there ſhall ye die.

17 And all the men that ſee their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine and by the peſtilence, and none of them ſhall remaine nor eſcape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſts the God of Iſrael, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalem: ſo ſhall my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye ſhall enter into Egypt, and ye ſhall be a deſtillation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe and a reproch, and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath ſaid concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: know certainly that I haue admoniſhed you this day.

20 Surely ye h diſbelimed in your hearts when ye ſent me vnto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto al that the Lord our God ſhall ſay, and we will do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath ſent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, know certainly that ye ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, i in the place whither ye deſire to goe and dwell.

Johanan carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt, contrary to the ſentence of Ieremias, & Ieremias propheliſeth the deſtruction of Egypt.

three against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldians, that they might slay vs, and carrie vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voice of the Lorde, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned fro all nations, whither they had bin driuen to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 ¶ Men men and women, and children, and the kings daughters, & euery person, that Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, & son of Shaphan, & Jeremiah the Prophet, & Baruch the son of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lorde: thus came they to Talphanes.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Jeremiah in Talphanes, saying,

9 Take great lions in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bricke kiln, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Talphanes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will send and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pawlauer ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and carie them away captiues, & he shall aay himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepheard putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 He shall breake also y images of gods, the which are in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of y Egyptians shall be burne with fire,

CHAP. XLIIII.

He rebueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that sit high by the straitning of the Lorde, are chastised. 16 The destruction of Egypt, and of the Iewes therein is prophesied.

1 ¶ The word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Talphanes, & at Noph, & in y colliery of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus faith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger: in that they went to burne incense, and to sene other gods whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you al my seruants the Prophets rising early, & sending them, saying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from the ieuic kednes, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore say I, and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the eyes of Iudah, and in the freetres of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus faith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you a man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee prouoke me vnto wrath with the workes of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither yee bee gone to dwell: that yee might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that yee might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednesse of your fathers, and the wickednes of the 4 Kings of Iudah, and the wickednesse of their wiues and your owne wickednes, & the wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the freetres of Ierusalem?

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared not walked in my lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus faith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will set my face against you * to euill and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shal all be consumed, and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shal be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shal die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, & by the famine, and they shal be a dectestation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the lande of Egypt to dwell there, shal escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shal returne, but such as shal escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods and all the people that flood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The worde that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lorde, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whatsoever thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both wee and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the freetres of Ierusalem: for shent had we plenty of vitales and were well and felt none euill.

18 But since wee left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had y fearcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when wee burnt incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and poured out drinke offerings vnto her, did wee make her cakes to make her glad, and poure out drinke offerings vnto her as a sacrifice by the belly, and in stead of sacking bridging Gods workers who sene both plenty and dearth, health and sickness, they attribute it to idols, and to dishonour God. ¶ Order. ¶ For as much as we have done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the freetres of Ierusalem: for shent had we plenty of vitales and were well and felt none euill.

d Here bewaith that we ought to keepe in memory Gods plagues fro the beginning, that considering them, wee might liue in feare, & know, if he haue not spared our fathers, yea, kings, princes, and rulers, & all whole countries, and nations for their sinnes, that we vile wretches cannot looke to escape punishment for ours. ¶ For as much as we have done, both we and our fathers, yea, kings, princes, and rulers, & all whole countries, and nations for their sinnes, that we vile wretches cannot looke to escape punishment for ours.

20 Then said Jeremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lorde remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the freetrees of Ierusalem, both you, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and I had he not considered it?

22 So that the Lorde could no longer forbear because of the wickednes of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse and without inhabitant, 23 appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense & because ye haue sinned against the Lorde, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah fayd vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lorde, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Ye & your wives haue both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will performe our vowes that we haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings to her: ye will performe your vowes and doe the things, that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lorde, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Beholde, I haue sowne by my great Name, faith the Lorde, that my Name shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lorde God lieth.

27 Behold, I will watch ouer them for euil and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, vntill they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudah: and al the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto you, faith the Lorde, when I visite you in this place, that ye may knowe that my words shall surely stand against you for euil.

30 Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will giue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah King of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel his enemy, who also fought his life.

1 Jeremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring that hee should not perish in the destruction of Ierusalem.

¶ The worde that Jeremiah the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, when hee had written these wordes in a booke at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou diddest say, Woe is mee now: for the Lorde hath laid sorrow vnto my sorrow: I & faint ed in my mourning, and I can find no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lorde saith thus, Echolde, that which I haue built, will I 4 destroy, and that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp &e thou this whole land.

5 And seeketh thou great things for thy selfe, seeke them not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, faith the Lorde: but thy life will I giue thee for I pray in all places, whither thou goest.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The propheticall destruction of Egypt. 2 Deliverance is promised to Israel.

¶ The wordes of the Lorde, which came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the Gentiles.

2 Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, which was by the river Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel smote in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah.

3 Make ready the buckler and shield, and goe forth to battell.

4 Make ready the horses, and let the horsemen get vp, and stand vp with your fallets, fourbills the speares, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore haue I seene them afraid, and driuen backe? for their mighty men are smitten, and are fled away, and looke not backe: for fear was round about, faith the Lorde.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fall towards the North by the river Perath.

7 Who is this that cometh vp, as a flood, whose waters are moued like the reuiers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and her waters are moued like the reuiers, and she sayeth, I will go vp, and will ouer the earth: I will destroy the citie with them that dwell therein.

9 Come vp, ye horses, and rage ye chariots, and let the valiant men come forth, the blacke Moores, and the Libians that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bowe.

10 For this is the day of the Lorde God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall deuoure, and it shall be satiate, and made drunke: with their blood: for the Lorde God of hostes hath a sacrifice in the North country: by the river Perath.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and take thine, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: for thou shalt haue no health.

12 The nations haue heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the strong hath stumbled against the strong, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the Lorde spake to Jeremiah the Prophet, how Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel should come and smite the land of Egypt.

14 Publish in Egypt and declare in Migdol, and proclaim in Noph, and in Tahpanes, and say, stand still, and prepare thee: for the sword shall deuoure round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men put backe? they could not stand because the Lorde did driue them.

16 He made many to fall, and one fell vpon another: and they sayd, Woe is us goe againe to our owne people, and to the land of our natiuitie from the sword of the violent.

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriatihaim, and vpon Beth-gamul, and vpon Beth-moon,

24 And vpon Keioth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of the land of Moab far or neere.

25 The horn of Moab is cut off, & his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though he had bene found among themes? for when thou speakest of him, thou art pmooued.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, and belike the dowe, that maketh her nest in the fides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the haughtinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith y Lord, that it shal not be so: and his diffimulations, for they do not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I wil cry out for all Moab: mine heart shal mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea of Iazer: the destroyer is fall vpon thy summer fruits, & vpo thy vintage,

33 And ioy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepresse: none shall tread with shouting: their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 Fro the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh & vnto Iahaz haue they made their noise: fro Zoar vnto Horonaim, the theifer of three yeres olde shal go leuelling: for y waters alow of Nimrim shal be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offered in his places, and him that burned incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shal found for Moab like a shauime, and mine heart shal found like a shauime for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For euery head shal be balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the hands shal be cuttings, and vpon the loynes lackcloth.

38 And mourning shal be vpon all the house tops of Moab and in all the freets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shal howle, saying, How is he destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, he shall flee as an eagle, & shal spred his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, & the strong holds are woon, & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shal be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

42 And Moab shal be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, and pit, and snare shal be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shal fall in the pit, & he that getteth vp out of the pit shal be taken in y snare: for I wil bring vpon thee, vpon Moab, the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow of Heshbon, because of the force: for a fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemoth perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus fare of the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, y Idumea, Damascus, 28. Kedar, 34. and Elam.

Vnto the children of Ammon thus saith the Lord, Hah Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath their king possessed Gad? and his people dwell in his cities?

2 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I will cause a noyle of warre to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, & it shal be a desolate heape, and her daughters shal be burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse that which possessed him sayth the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Aii is wasted: crie ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Priests, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: the trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, sayth the Lord God of hosts, of all those that be about thee, & ye shal be scattered euery man right forth, and none shal gather him selfe.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hosts, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsell perished from their children? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, yee inhabitants of Dedan (& they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) in I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some grapes? if they come because by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncovered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shal be none to say,

11 Leave thy fatheries children, & I will preserve them aliuie, and let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cuppe, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shal escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shal be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shal be perpetual desolations.

Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will breake the bowe of Elam, even the chiefe of their strength.

And vpon Elam I will bring the foure winds from the foure quarters of heauen, and will scatter them towards all these winds, & there shall be no nation, whither the fugitiues of Elam shall not come.

For I will cause Elam to be afraide before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, & I will send the sworde after them til I haue consumed them.

And I will set my throne in Elam, & I will destroy both the King & the princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in the latter daies I will bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAP. L.

He prophesieth the destruction of Baby lon, and the diuersion of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

He word that the Lord spake, concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the ministration of Ieremiah the Prophet.

Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standard, proclaime it, and concale it not: say, Babel is taken, Babel is confounded, Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

For out of the North there cometh vp a nation against her, which shall make her lande waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee and depart, both man and beast.

In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping, they they go, and seeke the Lord their God.

They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetual covenant, that shall not be forgotten.

My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepherds haue caused them to go astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from S. mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

At that found them, haue deuoured them, & their enemies said, We offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, the habitation of iustice, even the Lord the hope of their fathers.

Flee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and bee ye as the hee goats before the flocke.

For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mightie nations from the North country, and they shall fee themselves in aray against her, whereby they shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

And Caldea shall be a spoile: all that spoile her,

of Caldea shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will maintaine thee ^a cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will drie vp the sea, and drie vp her springs.

37 And Babel shall be ^a heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hilling, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roar together like lions, and yell as the Lyons whelpes.

39 In their ^a heate I will make them feasts, and I will make them drunken, that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

40 I will bring them downe like lambes to the slaughter, and like rammes and goates.

41 Howe is ^a Y Shefhach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The ^a sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is covered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I will also visite Bel in Babel, & I will bring out of his mouth that which ^a he hath swallowed vp, and the nations shall run no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, goe out of the middes of her, & deliuer ye euerie man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord.

46 Least your heart euen faint, and yee feare the rumour that shall be heard in the land: the rumour shall come ^a this yeere, and after that in the other ^b yeere shall come a rumour, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her flaine shall fall in the middes of her.

48 Then the heauen and ^a the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the shame of Israel to fall, so by Babel the flaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Yee that ^a haue escaped the sword, goe away, stand not still: remember the Lord as yet, and let Ierusalem come into your minde.

51 Wee are ^a confounded, because wee haue heard reproch: shame hath covered our faces, for strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords Houfe.

52 Wherefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to ^a heaven, and though shee should defend her strength on hye, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A found of a cry cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans,

55 Because the Lord hath laide Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roar like great waters, and a found was made by their noyse:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, asen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenceth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will ^a make drunke her princes, and her wife men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The ^a thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, & her hic gates shall be burnt w fire, & the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.

59 The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Seraliah the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maasiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in ^a the fourth yeere of his reigne: & this Seraliah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel, ^a euen all these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Jeremiah said to Seraliah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these wordes, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beaust, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a ^a stone to it, and cast it in the middes of Euphrates.

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel bee drowned, and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall be wearie. Thus farre are the wordes of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

^a Ierusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiah sawe a killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 12 The cite burne. 13 Nebuchadnezzar is brought in vpon Ierusalem, and shall like a King.

Zedekiah ^a was one and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euill in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Ichioiakim had done.

3 ^a Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till hee had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babel.

4 ^a But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth month the tenth day of the month, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, hee and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built fortres against it round about.

5 So the cite was besieged vnto the eleventh yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Nowe in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the famine was fore in the cite, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the cite was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the cite by night, by the way of the gate betweene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the King, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all the hoste was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the King and caried him vp vnto the King of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, ^a where he gaue iudgement vpon him. 10 And the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: hee slew also all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the King of Babel bound him in chains, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Nowe in the fifth moneth in the ^d tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yere of the King Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward ^{which} stood before the King of Babel in Ierusalem, 13 And burnt the House of the Lorde, and the Kings House, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the army of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward brake downe all the wals of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue ^{certaine} of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left ^{certaine} of the poore of the lande, to dreffe the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the House of the Lorde, and the bases, and the brasen Sea, that was in the house of the Lorde, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the ^s becons, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherewith they ministered, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the alspans, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlestickes, and the incense dishes, and the cuppes, and all that was of golde, and that was of silver, tooke the chiefe steward away,

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen buls, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the house of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without ^h weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eightene cubites, and a threede of twelue cubites did compass it, and the thicknes thereof was foure fingers: ^{it} was holow.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fise cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an ⁱ hundred round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the ^h second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the oversight of the men of warre, and ⁱ seven men that were in the Kings presence, which were house in the citie, and Sopher captain of the hoste who mulstered the people of the lande, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the middes of the city.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babel smote them, and slew them in Riblah, in the lande of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, 5 And sheweth that they are plagued because of their sinnes. The first and second chapter begin every verse according to the letters of the Hebrew Alphabet. The third hath three verses for every letter, and the fourth is as the first.

2 Ow doeth ^a the citie remaine solitary that was full of people? she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and ^b precesse among the provinces, is made tributarie.

3 Shee weepeth continually in the ^c night, and her teares runne downe by her cheekes among all her ^d louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue dealt vnfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

4 Iudah is caried away captiue, because of affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straites.

5 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man comethth to the solemne feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in ^f heauinesse.

6 Her aduersaries ^g are the chiefe, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

i Jerusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasurable things, that she had in times past, when her people fell into the hande of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersarie sawe her, and did mocke at her Sabbathes.

k Jerusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore shee is in derision: all that honoured her, despise her, because they have seene her filthines: yea, the sight and turneth backward.

l Her filthines is in her skirts: these remembered not her last end, therefore she came downe wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

m The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasurable things: for he hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuary, whome thou diddest command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

p From aboute hath sorrow sent fire into my bones, which preuaile against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, and turned mee backe: he hath made me desolate, and dayly in heauinesse.

s For these things I wepe: mine eye, mine eye calleth out water, because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuailed.

t Zion stretched out her handes, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iakob rounde about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

u The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandment: heare, I pray you, all people, and beholde my sorowe: my virgins and my young men are gone into captiuitie.

w Beholde, O Lord, howe I am troubled: my bowels swell, mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauines: the sword poyeth abroad, as death doeth at home.

x They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: I do vnto thee, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath! and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beaurie of Israel, and remembered not his sojourn in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, and not spared: hee hath thrown downe in his wrath strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: he hath cast them down to ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the home of Israel: he hath drawn backe his right hand from before the enemy, & there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bowe like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath deuoured Israel, & consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden, hee hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lord hath caused the feastes and Sabbathes to bee forgotten in Zion, and hath despised, in the indignation of his wrath, the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: hee hath abhorred his Sanctuary: hee hath given into the hand of the enemy the walles of her palaces: they haue made a noyse in the House of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawn his hande from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: hee hath destroyed and broken her battes: her King and her princes are among the Gentiles: the Lawe is no more, neither can her Prophetes receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the ground, and keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpon their heades: they haue giued themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is powdered vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings in the streets of the cite.

12 They haue saide to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the cite, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bowels.

daughter Jerusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee? O virgin daughter Zion: for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

Recall the false prophets called themselves Seers, as the other were called, therefore he saith with that they saw a vision, because they did not reprove the peoples faults, but flattered them in their sinnes; which was the cause of their destruction. Jer. 23.

14 Thy Prophets have looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wagge their head vnder the daughter of Ierusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the ioye of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found and seene it.

Jer. 26. 15, 16.

17 * The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that he had determined of old time: he hath throwen down, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemies to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the home of thine aduersaries.

Jer. 26. 17.

Jer. 26. 18.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women eate their fruit, and children of a flippance long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

Jer. 26. 19.

21 The young and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed & not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solenne day my flatterours round about, so that in the day of the Lordes wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

Jer. 26. 20.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man, that hath seene a affliction in the rod of his indignation.

a The Prophet complaineth of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as here.

2 He hath ledde me, and brought mee into darkenesse, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe old, and he hath broken my bones.

5 Hee hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 Hee hath hedged about mee, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chaines heauie.

8 Also when I cry and shewe, hee shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath d stopped vp my wayes with beu-en stone, and turned away my paths.

c This is a great reuerſion to the godly, when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and casteth them to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God vouch to doe, that they might pray more humbly and the often. d And keepeth me in hold as a prisoner.

10 * He was vnto me as a beare lying in way, and as a Lion in feroce places.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me delolate.

12 Hee hath bent his bowe, and made mee a marke for the arrow.

13 Hee caused † the arrows of his quier to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitternes, & made me drunken with wormewood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgate prosperitie,

18 And I said, My strength and mine hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembering mine affliction, & my mourning the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lordes mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed every morning: great is thy faithfullnesse.

24 The Lord & my portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them, that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to wait for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone, * and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 Hee giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will hee haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doeth not punish † willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth.

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High,

36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that faith, and it cometh to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the thing a man forswoll? man suffereth for his inue.

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp * our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled: therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast covered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine, and not spared.

44 Thou hast covered thy face with a cloude, that our prayr should not passe through.

e He had as much as a beare lying in way, and as a lion in feroce places. f With great anguish I saw he had made me to take my hope. g These words he was diuine to and fro between hope & despair all the godly oft times are yet in the end the Spirit getteth the victory. h He sheweth that God sheweth to euery man the intent that hereby they may know themselves and seeke his mercie. i Considering the wickedness of man, it is marvell that any remaneth a line: but only that God for his own mercies sake & for his promises will euer haue his Church to continue though they be neuer so few in number. j We see the benefit of this. k The godly put their trust in the commandment of God, and therefore look for none other iustifier, as Psal. 143. l He sheweth that we can neuer begin too early to be exercised vnder the yoke, when the yoke is upon us. m We see the paines that by experience may be longer. n He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. o He sheweth himselfe as they that fall downe with their faces to the ground, and so with patiently wait for his mercie. p He sheweth pleasure in being done it, as it is said, they that are full of grace, are full of peace. q He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. r He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. s He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. t He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. u He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. v He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. w He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. x He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. y He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience. z He sheweth that we must not be against God, but in patience.

1 Jer. 4. 13.

45 Thou hast made vs as the * ofskowing and refuse in the middes of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth against vs.

47 Feare, and a share is come vpon vs with desolacion and destruction.

48 Mine eye catcheth ouer rimers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without stay and cea-seth not.

all the daughters of my cite.

52 Mine enemy chafed me fore like a birde, without cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life y in the dungeon, and calt a stone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lord, our of the lowe dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voyce: stop not thine care from my sigh and from my crie.

57 Thou drestst neere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou saidst, Feare not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my * soule, and hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, iudge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuises against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproche, O Lorde, and all their imaginations against me:

62 The lips also of those that rose against me,
and their whispering against me continually.

63 Behold, their sitting downe and their rising vp, how I am their song.

64 * Giue them a recompence, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Giue them || sorrow of heart, even thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

that they would not touch their garments.

nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steeppes that we cannot goe fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eyles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the moun-taines, and laid waite for vs in the wildecrosse.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremias and Ezekiel had yielded himselfe to Nebuchad-Ner, and so went into captiuitie: with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine beganne to repens and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions and reuelations stewed vnto him, that the cite should most certainly bee destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, in such that they that remained, should bee brought into cruel bondage.
And lest the godly should despair in these great troubles, hee assurath them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyed in their miserie. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whose

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied, and in what place. 3 His kindred. 5 The vision of the four beastes. 10 The vision of the Throne.

E I came to passe in the thirtieth yeere in the fourth moneth, and in the fifth day of the moneth (as I was among the captiuities by the riuer b Chebar) that the heauens were opened, and I sawe visions of c God.

2 In the fifth day of the moneth (which was the fifth yeere of King Ioiachins captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the d handle of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and beholde, e a whirlwinde came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the middes thereof, so was, in the middes of the fire came out the likenesse of f amber.

5 Also out of the middes thereof came the likenesse of g four beastes, and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had four faces, and euery one had four wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the four partes of them, & they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Chap. 3. 1.

9 They were g ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was h the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out about: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forwards: they went whither their i spirit lead them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beastes, and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ranne among the beastes, and the fire gave a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beastes ranne, and i returned like vnto lightning.

15 k Now as I behelde the beastes, beholde a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beastes, ha-ving four faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a l chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion, and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their four sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also m rings, and height, and were ferefull to beholde, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

g The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

h Every Cherubim had four faces, the face of a man, and of a lyon on the right side, and the face of a bullocke, and of an eagle on the left side.

19 And when the beastes went, the wheels went with them : and when the beastes were lift vp from the earth, the wheels were lift vp.

20 Whither the spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheels leade them, and the wheels were lift vp besides them : for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheels.

21 When the beastes went, they went, & when they stood, they stood, and when they were lift vp from the earth, the wheels were lift vp besides them : for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheels.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beastes was wonderfull, like vnto chryfall, fured after their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings streight, the one toward the other : every one had two, which covered them, & every one had two, which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, even the voyce of speech, as the noyse of an hoste : and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce fro the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboute the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the fashion of a throne like vnto a Saphir stone, & vpon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber, and as the similitude of fire : rounde about within it to looke ro, even from his loynes vpwade : and to looke to, even from his loynes downe-ward, I sawe as a likenesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

I Which declared the swiftnesse, and the fearfullnesse of Gods iudgement. m. Which signified, that they had no power of them selves, but only waited to execute Gods commandment.

n. Wherby was signified a terrible iudgement toward the earth.

neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I have any pitye.

12 The third part of thee shall dye with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the mids of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all winles, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeale, when I have accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and absorbed among the nations, that be round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproche and shame, a chastisement and an astonishment vnto the nations, that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord have spoken it.

16 When I shall send vpon them the euill arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will encrease the famine vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

17 So will I send vpon you famine, and euill beastes, and they shall spoyle thee, and pestilence and blood shall passe through thee, and I will bring the sword vpon thee: I the Lorde haue spoken it.

CHAP. VI.

He sheweth that Iudaea shall be destroyed for their idolatrie. He prophesieth the repentance of the remnant of the people, and their afflictions.

A Gaine the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

* Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the * mountaines of Israel, and propheticke against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the worde of the Lord God: thus saith the Lorde God to the * mountaines and to the hills, to the riuers and to the valleys, Behold, I, when I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your hie places:

4 And your altars shall be defolate, and your images of the Sunne shall be broken: and I will cast downe your flaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their * idoles, and I will scatter your bones roundabout your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be defolate, and the hie places shall be layed waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and defolate, and your idoles shall be broken, & cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in peeces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the flaine shall fall in the middes of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, * that you may haue /some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am greued for their whoisf hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the euill, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would do this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, * Smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foote, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Hee that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and he that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then syc shall know, that I am the Lord, when their flaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery hie hill in all the toppes of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweete saour to all their idoles.

14 So will I * stretch mine hande vpon them, and make the land waste and defolate: * from the wilderness vnto Diblach in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the leaues of Israel shall suddenly come.

Moreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, And come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all * thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus sayth the Lord God, * Beholde, one euill, euere one euill is come:

6 An end is come, the end is come, it * watched for thee: beholde, it is come.

7 The * morning is come vnto thee, * that dwellst in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the * founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Beholde, the day, beholde, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the * rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

11 * Crueltie is risen vpon a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of their, neither shall there be * lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the builer * reioice, nor let him that felth,

* They shall be ashamed to see that they haue in idoles, was but vaine, and to that repent.

By these figures he would that the Prophet should signifye the great destruction to come.

That is, all nations when you shall see my iudgements.

Chap. 14. More defoliate than the wilderness of Diblach, which was in Syria, and bordered vpon Israel, or from the wilderness, which was South towards Diblach, which was North: meaning the whole country.

a I will punish thee as thou hast desired for thine idolatrie.

b For I shall punish thee after euill.

c He sheweth that the iudgements of God are watcht to destroy the sinners.

d Which men withoute daunting layeth till there be no more hope of preseruation.

e The beginning of this present trouble is already come.

f Which was a voice of ioy and mirth.

g The scourge is a rod of discipline.

h That is, proud tyrants, who had no fear, but were thier in fact and in secret.

i This euill enemye shall be a scourge for their wickednes.

k Their enemies shall be as a rod of discipline, when they shall be punished for their wickednes.

l For the punishment.

HE cried also with a loud voice in mine ears, saying, The visitations of * the citie draw neere, and every man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

2 And beholde, fixe * men came by the way of the ebie gate, which lieth toward the * North, and every man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers * inke-horne by his side, and they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And the glorie of the God of Israel was * gone vp from the Cherub, whereupon he was, and stood on the * floor of the house, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers inke-horne by his side.

4 And the Lord sayd vnto him, * Goe thorow the mids of the citie, * cast thorow the mids of Ierusalem, and * set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that * nurne, and crye for all the abominations that be done in the mids thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him thorow the citie, and finite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pitye.

6 Destroy vterly the olde, and the yong, and the maids, and the children, and the women, but touch no man vpon whom * the * smake, and begin at my Sanctuary. Then they began at the * ancient men, which were before the house.

7 And he sayd vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the * laine, then goe forth: and they went out, and slew them in the citie.

8 Now when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in pouring out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then sayd he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel, and Iudah * exceeding great: so that the land is full * of blood, and the citie full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth vs not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity, but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man clothed with linnen which had the inke-horne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the man that tooketh burning coales out of the middle of the wheels of the Cherubims. 8 A rehearsal of the vision of the wheeles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

* Chap. 1. 13.

* Which in the first chapter ver. 5. he called the four beasts.

AND as I looked, beholde, in the * firmament that was aboue the head of the * Cherubims there appeared vnto them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as * it were a saphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, & said, Go in betweene the wheels, * cast vnder the Cherub, & fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer * the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glorie of the Lord * went vp from the Cherub, & stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was filled with the brightness of the Lords glorie.

5 And the 4 sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vter court, as the voice of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

6 And when he had commanded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betweene the wheels, and from betweene the Cherubims, then he went in, and stood beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen, who tooke it, and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likeness of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, foure wheels were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a * Chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one fashion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they * turned not as they went.

12 And their whole bodie, and their * rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, as in the same foure wheels.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheels in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

14 And every beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, & the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: * this is the beast that I saw at the riuer Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselves vp also: for the * spirit of the beast was in them.

18 * Then the glorie of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also went beside them: and every one stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lords House at the East side, and the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

20 * This is the * beast that I saw vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had foure faces, and every one foure wings, and the likeness of mans hands was vnder their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same face, which I saw by the riuer Chebar.

CHAP. XI.

19 Who they were that sinned the people of Israel. 20 And they shall be prophesied, shewing them how they shall be dispersed abroad. 19 The returning of the heart commeth of God. 21 He breacheth them that leave vnto their own counsells.

Moreouer, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought mee vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which lieth Eastward, & beholde, at the entrie of the gate were five & twentie men: among whom I saw Iazanziah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

23 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counsell in this citie.

3 For they say, It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this citie is the caldrone, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesie against them, sonne of man, prophesie.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fell vpon me, and sayd vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I know that which riseth vp of your mundes.

6 Many haue ye murdered in this citie, and ye haue filled the streets thereof with the flaine.

7 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue laid in the middes of it, they are the flesh, and this citie is the caldrone, but I will bring you forth of the mids of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, & deliuer you into the hands of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will iudge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This citie shall not be your caldrone, neither shall ye be the flesh in the middes thereof, but I will iudge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the manners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cried with a loud voyce, and sayd, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart ye farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus sayth the Lord God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreys, yet will I be to them as a little Sanctuary in the countreys where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, & assemble you out of the countreys where you haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 ¶ And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels, & I will take the stonie heart out of their bodies, and will giue them an heart of flesh.

20 That they may walke in my statutes, & keepe my iudgements, & execute them: and they shall be my people, and I will betheir God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheelles besides them, & the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

23 And the glory of the Lord went vp from the mids of the citie, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the citie.

24 Afterward the Spirit tooke me vp, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

1 The parable of the capitalists. 18 Another parable whereby the desire of vengeance and thirst is signified.

THe word of the Lord also came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the middes of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuitie, and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by day in their sight, as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie; and thou shalt goe forth at euening in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou chorow the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, & cary it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged thorow the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in their sight, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What doest thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, This burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shall a Thus the wicked derided the Prophets, as though they preached but errors, and therefore gave themselves fill to their pleasures.

b We shall not be pulled out of Ierusalem, all the house of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldrone till it be sodde.

c Contrarie to their vain confidence, he sheweth in what sense this citie is the caldrone; that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murdered therein, and so lie as flesh in the caldrone.

d That is, of the Caldrone.

e That is, in Riblah, reads a King. 25. 6.

f It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God toward the rest of the people.

g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproached that which were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God.

h They shall be yet alive, though they be for a time aliued.

d When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 17. 30. and 31.

13 My net also will I spread vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not fee it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward euery winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

e Which should beare his Name, and should be his Church, read Chap. 11. 16.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Morcouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with trembling, & drinke thy water wth trouble, & with carefulness.

19 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with carefulness, and drinke their water with defolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance, because of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall bee left void, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions || faile?

f Because they did not immediately see the propheties accomplished, they contemned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled. || Or, sake none of it.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vie it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shall be any more in vaine, neither shall there be any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Against the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

g That is, that shall not come to passe in our dayes and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked ruer abuse Gods patience and benignitie.

27 Sonne of man, beholde, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, All my wordes shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

a The word of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne heart.

And the worde of the Lorde came vnto mee, saying,

h (Chap. 14. 9.) a After their owne fancies, and not in heing the reuelation of the Lord. (chap. 13. 16.)

29 Sonne of man, prophesie against the prophets of Israel, that prophesie, and say thou vnto them, that prophesie out of their owne hearts, Hear the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lorde God, Woe vnto the foolish prophets that followe their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes b in the waste places.

5 ¶ Yee haue not risen vp in the gaps, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lorde hath not sent them: and they haue made others to hope that they would confirme the worde of their prophesie.

7 Haue yee not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? ¶ ye say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie & haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hande shall be vpon the prophets, that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the lande of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceived my people, saying, I Peace, & there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and beholde, the others daubed it with vntempered mortier,

11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortier, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great shewre, and I will send hailestones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be sayd vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I will cause a stormy wind to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shewre shall be in mine anger, & hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortier, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discouered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortier, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof,

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, sayth the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus sayth the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that sowe pillows vnder all arme-holes, and make vailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: will ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfulls of barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the soules that should not liue in lying to my people, that beare my lies?

20 Wherefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will sowe downe with you pillows, where b Wanking to destroy the vision.

c Hee speaketh to the good men, and true ministers of the word, that would resist them.

d Ye promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest, that ye are false prophets.

e That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true lines are written.

f Read 12. 6. 14.

g Whereso the true Prophet prophesied the destruction of the citie, to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet said, which is here called the building of the wall, another false prophet would assure, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beare him.

h Whereby is meant whatsoever man of himselfe stretcheth forth vnder the authority of Gods word.

i These importunate women for lucre would prophesie and tell euery man his fortune giving them pillows to leane vpon, & heretofore to counter their heads, to the intent they might the more allure them & bewitch them.

k Will ye make my word to serve you belies?

l The foretold made the people believe, that they could procure life or destroy it, and that it should come to every one according as they prophesied.

and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them,

37 Behold, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I will euē gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filthinesse vnto them, that they may see all the filthinesse.

38 And I will iudge thee after y manner of them that are harlots, and of them that shed blood, & I will giue thee the blood of wrath & ielousie, 39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thee hie place, and shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall flippe thee also, out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring vp a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their ieuordes.

41 And they shall burne vp thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered y dayes of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpo thy head, faith y Lord God yett hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Behold, all that yse prouerbes, shall yse thee prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of y sisters, which forooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy young sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, & Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yett hast thou a not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a venie lile thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, faith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither thee nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, & Pride, filthinesse of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I tooke them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither shal Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast y justified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy finnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they, which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe y captiuitie with the captiuitie of Sodom, & her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters: euē the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou maist beare thine owne shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state. Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom I was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride.

57 Before thy wickednes was iudiced, as in the same time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about k her which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou shalt burne therefore thy wickednesse and thine abomination, faith the Lord.

59 For thus faith the Lord God, I might euē deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou diddest despise y othe, in breaking the couēnat.

60 Neuertheles, I will remember my couenant made with thee in the daies of thy youth, & I will confirme vnto thee an euēlasting couēnat.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue y sisters, herth elder & thy younger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couēnat.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

63 That thou mayest remember, & be y ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, faith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVII.

The parable of the two Eagles.

And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Some of man, put fourth a parable and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israd,

3 And say, Thus faith the Lord God, The great Eagle with great wings, and long wings, and full of feathers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, and tooke the hyest branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the toppe of his twigge, and caried it into the land of y Marchantes, and set it in a cite of y marchantes.

5 He tooke also of the feede of the lande, and planted it in a fruitful ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like a spreading vine of y low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the rootes thereof were vnder it: so it came a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings & many feathers, and beholde this vine did turne her rootes toward it, and spreade forth her branches toward it, that she might write it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, & beare fruite, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall he not pull vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it vp by the rootes thereof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: but shall it prosper? shall it not bee dried vp, and wither? when the East winde shall touche it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not, what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken ^{the} the King thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken ^{one} of the Kings seed, and made a covenant with him, & hath taken him othe of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdome might bee in subjection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their covenant, and stand to it.

15 But hee rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall hee prosper? shall hee escape, that doeth such things? or shall hee breake the covenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, hee shall die in the middes of Babel, in the place of the King, that had made him King, whose othe he defised, and whose covenant made with him, hee brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty host, and great multitude of people, mainteine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath defised the oth, & broken the covenant (yet lo, he had giuen ^{his} his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I will surely bring mine othe that he hath defised, and my covenant that he hath broken vpon his owne head.

20 * And I will spread my net vpon him, and hee shall take in my net, & I will bring him to Babel, and will enter into iudgement with him there for his trespasses that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine, shall be scattered toward all the windes: and yce shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top ^{of} of this cedar, and will fist it, and cut off the top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an high mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the high mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughes & beare fruite, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all kindes, and euery v^{er} soule shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the v^{er} trees of the field shall know that I the Lord haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the low tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, & made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

9 He that turneth backe from his sinne, shall beare his owne sinne. 10 He that turneth backe from his sinne, shall beare his owne sinne. 11 He that turneth backe from his sinne, shall beare his owne sinne.

The word of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

2 What mean ye that ye speake this prophete, concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers haue eaten fowre grapes, & the childrens teethe are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, yee shall vse this prophete no more in Israel.

4 Beholde, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be iust, and doe that which is lawful, and right,

6 And hath not eaten ^{vp} vpon the mountaine, neither hath lift vp his eyes to y^{er} idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath slem with a ^{man} mens pious woman,

7 Neither hath oppressed any, but hath restored the pledge to his detourer: he that hath spoiled none by violence, ^{but} hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

8 And hath not giuen forth vpon ^{his} vsury, neither hath taken any increase, but hath withdrawn his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betweene man and man,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my iudgements to deale truly, he is iust: he shall surely liue, saith the Lord God.

10 ¶ If he beget a sonne, that is ^{as} a thiefe, or a shearer of blood, if he do any one of these things,

11 Though hee doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the mountaine, or defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needy, or hath spoiled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idols, or hath committed abomination,

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsury, or hath taken increase, shall hee liue? hee shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, ^{he} he shall die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 ¶ But if he beget a sonne, that feeth all his fathers sinnes, which he hath done, and feareth neither doth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaine, neither hath lift vp his eyes to y^{er} idols of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 Neither hath withdrawn his hand from the afflicted, nor receiued vsury nor increase, but hath executed my iudgements, and hath walked in my statutes, he shall not die in the iniquitie of his father, but he shall surely liue.

18 His father, because hee cruelly oppressed and spoiled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe euen hee dieth in his iniquitie.

19 Yet say ye, Wherefore shall not the sonne beare the iniquitie of the father? because this sonne hath executed iudgement and iustice, and hath kept all my statutes, and done them, he shall surely liue.

20 * The same soule that sinneth, shall die: the sonne shall not beare the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beare the iniquitie of the sonne, but the righteousnes of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shalbe vpon himselfe.

31 But if the wicked will returne from all his finnes that he hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and doe that which is lawfull and right, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

32 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

33 Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? or shall he not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

34 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and comit iniquitie, and doe according to al the abominations, that the wicked man doeth, shall he liue? all his righteousness that hee hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

35 Yet yee say, The way of the Lord is not equal: heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

36 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen die for the same, he shall euen die for his iniquitie, that he hath done.

37 Again when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawfull and right, he shall liue his soule aliuie.

38 Because hee considered, and turneth away from all his transgressions that hee hath committed, he shall surely liue and not die.

39 Yet faith y^e house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequal?

40 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

41 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, and make y^e you a new heart and a new spirit: for why wil ye die, O house of Israel?

42 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The captivity of the Kings of Iudah signified by the Lyons whelps, and by the Lyons. In the wilderness of the cite of Ierusalem that is past, and the ymages thereof that is present.

Thou also, take vp a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

2 And say, Wherefore say thy mother as a lyoness among the Lyons? shee nourished her young ones among the Lyons whelps,

3 And she brought vp one of her whelps, and it became a Lyon, and it learned to catch the pray, and it deuoured men.

4 The Nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their nettes, and they brought him in chains vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Nowe when these sawe, that she had waited and her hope was lost, shee tooke another of her whelps, and made him a Lyon.

6 Which went among the Lyons, and became a Lyon, and learned to catch the praye, and he deuoured men.

7 And he knewe their widowes; & he destroyed their cities, and the lande was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the Nations set against him on euerie side of the countreys, and layde their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chains, and brought him to the King of Babel, and they put him in holdes, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountains of Israel.

10 Thy mother a like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters,

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and shee appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked vp in wrath: she was cast down to the ground, & the East wind dried vp her fruit: her branches were broken, & withered: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now she is in the wilderness in a drie and thurle ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruite, so that shee hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shalbe for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

3 The Lord denieth that he will enquire them when they pray, because of their unkindnes. 33 He promitteth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46 By the fire that should be burnt in Ierusalem.

And in the seventh yeere, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, came certaine of the elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and fate before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Some of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I wil not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause them to understand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and I lift vp mine hand vnto the seed of the house of Iakob, and made my self knowne vnto them in the land of Egypt, when I lift vp mine hand vnto them, and said, I am the Lord your God,

6 In the day y^e I lift vp mine hand vnto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a lande that I had provided for them, flowing with milke & hony, which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then sayde I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against mee, & would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to poure out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that I should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, & in whose sight I made my self knowne vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

g He speaketh this in the respect of this wicked King, in whose blood, that is, in the rage of his persecutions, Ierusalem should haue beene blessed, according to Gods promises, and flourish as a fruitful vine.

h Meaning, that the Caldeans should destroy them as the East wind doeth the fruit of the vine. i Destruction is come by Zedekiah who was the occasion of this rebellion.

a Of the captiuitie of Ierusalem. b This denieth the great lenitie and patience of God which callen sinners to repentance before hee condemne them.

15 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, z For Iudah flood South from Babylon.

16 Sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of Teman, and droppe thy word toward the South, and prophetic toward the forest of the field of the South, y Both strong and weak in Ierusalem.

z The people said that the Prophet spake darkly: therefore he desired with the Lord to give them a plaine declaration hereof.

17 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the word of the Lord: thus faith the Lord God, Beholde, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall deuoure all the ygreene wood in thee, and all the drie wood: the continuall flame shall not bee quenched, and eury face from the South to the North shall be burnt therein.

18 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord haue killed it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of me, Doeth not he speake z parables?

CHAP. XXI.

19 He threateth the sword, and destruction in Ierusalem. 20 He sheweth the fall of Zedekiah. 21 He commandeth to prophetic the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threateth to destroy Nebuchad-nazzar.

The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

a Speake sensibly, that all may vnderstand.

2 Sonne of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophetic against the land of Israel, b That is, such which seeme to haue an outward showe of righteousness, by obseruation of the ceremonies of the Lawe.

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, & cut off from thee both the b righteous and the wicked.

d As though thou were in extreme anguish. e Because of the great noyse of the sime of the Caldeans.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

f Meaning the keeper: shewing, that it will not spare the king who should be as the sime of God and in his place.

5 That all flesh may knowe that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

h Thus is the rest of the people. i To wit, vnto the sime of the Caldeans.

6 Mournre therefore, thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and mournre bitterly before them.

k Ezekiel. 32. 29. l Reader! thou with compassion, thou complainest, bewailing the destruction of the king, done which God had confirmed to Dauid, and his posteritie by promise which God performed, although here it seemed to many eyes that it should vnto perishe.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? then answer, Because of the brute: for it cometh, and eury heart shall melt, & all handes shall be weake, and all mindes shall faint, and all knees shall fall away, as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be done, faith the Lord God.

m That is, encourage the sword.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophetic, and say, Thus faith the Lord God, say, A sword, a sword both sharpe and fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a fore slaughter, & it is fourbished that it may glitte: how shall we reioyce? for it contemneth the srod of my sonne, as all other trees.

11 And he hath given it to be fourbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, & is fourbished, he may give it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry, & howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, & it shall come vnto all the princes of Israel: the terrours of the sword shall be vpon my people: I smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, and what shall this be, if the sword contemne euen the rodde? It shall be no more, faith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophetic, and smite M hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the sword that hath killed, returne the third time: it is the sword of the great slaughter enter entering into their priue chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the sword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiplie their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whiche soeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, & will cause my wrath to cease. I the Lord haue said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the King of Babel may come: both twaine shall come out of one lande, and chuse a place, and chuse it in the corner of the way of the cite.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabboth of the Ammonites, and p to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong cite.

21 And y King of Babel stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrows bright: he consulted with idoles, & looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint capitaine, to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with shouting, to lay engines of warre against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fortresse.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their fight for the othes made vnto them: but he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus faith the Lord God, Because ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembered in discouering your rebellion, that in all your workes your finnes might appeare, because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquitie shall haue an ende.

26 Thus faith the Lord God, I will take away the diademe, and take off the crowne: this shall be no more the fame: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shall be no more vntill he come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ And thou, Sonne of man, prophetic, and say, Thus faith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth, and fourbished to the slaughter, to consume, because of the glittering:

29 Whiles they see z vanitie vnto thee, and prophetic a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpo the neckes of the wicked that are slaine, whose day is come, when their iniquitie shall haue an ende.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powre out mine indignation vpon thee, and will blowe against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, and skillfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shall be in the middes of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord haue spoken it.

n Provide for thy selfe, for thou shalt see Gods plague on all partes of this country.

o This was prophetic, because that when Nebuchad-nazzar came against Iudah, his purpose was also to goe against the Ammonites: but doubting in the way, which example to vnderstand he consulted with his soothsayers, and so went against Iudah.

p That is, to the tribe of Iudah that kept themselves in Ierusalem.

q To know whether he should goe against the Ammonites or them of Ierusalem.

r He vied conioying and forcing, because there was a league betweene the Iewes, and the Babylonians, they of Ierusalem that thought nothing less than that this thing should come to passe.

s That is, Nebuchad-nazzar will remember the rebellion of Zedekiah, and to come vpon them.

t Meaning, Zedekiah, who practised with y Egyptians to make him selfe, & able to resist the Babylonians.

u Some referre this to the Priests: but for Iohnan the Priest went into captiuitie with the King.

y That is, vnto the coming of Messiah, for though the Iewes had some signes of gouernment afterward vnder the Persian, Greek, and Romanes, yet this restoration was not till Christes coming, and at length should be accomplished, as was promised, Gen. 49. 10.

z Though the Iewes and Ammonites would not beleeue that thou, to wit, the sword, shouldst come vpon them, and slay them, and that the Prophets, which threatened, spake lyes, yet thou shalt see for conuict, through thou vpon thee shall be their neckes.

CHAP. XXII.

Jerusalem is represented for example. 15 Of the wickedness of the false prophets and Priests, and of their uncharitable countenances. 27 The tyrannies of rulers. 29 The wickedness of the people.

Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Nowe thou sonne of man, wilt thou be iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloody city? wilt thou shewe her all her abominations?

Then say, Thus sayeth the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middes of it, that her b time may come, and maketh idoles against her selfe to pollute herselfe.

Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, & hast polluted thy selfe in thine idoles, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, and art come vnto thy terme therefore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

Those that bee neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which are vile in d name and fore in affliction.

Beholke, the princes of Israel every one in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the middes of thee haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vexed the fatherlesse and the widow.

Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

In thee are men that cary tales to shedde blood: in thee are they that cate vpon the mountaynes: in the middes of thee they commit abomination.

In thee haue they discovered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her foures.

And every one hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and every one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hath every man forced his owne sister, such is his fathers daughter.

In thee haue they taken gifts to shedde blood: thou hast taken vny and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

Beholde, therefore I haue smitten mine handes vpon thy countenances, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the middes of thee.

Can thine heart endure, or can thine handes bee strong, in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and will disperse thee in the countries, and will cause thy filthines to cease from thee.

And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as droffe: all they are brasse, and tinne, and yron, and leade in the middes of the fornace: they are as euen the droffe of filuer.

Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as droffe, beholde, therefore I will gather you in the middes of Ierusalem.

As they gather siluer and brasse, and yron, and leade, and tinne into the middes of the fornace, so will I blowe the fyre vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there I and melt you.

I will gather you, I say, and blowe the fyre of my wrath vpon you, and you shall be melted in the middes thereof.

As siluer is melted in the midd of the fornace, so shall ye be melted in the midds thereof, and ye shall knowe, that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land, that is vncleane, and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

There is a conspiracie of her prophetes in the midds thereof like a roaring lyon, rauening the praye: they haue deuoured soules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the midds thereof.

Her Priests haue broken my Lawe, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betwene the holy and prophane, neither discerned betwene the vncleane, and the cleane, and haue hidde their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

Her princes in the midds thereof are like woolues, rauening the praye to shed blood, and to destroy foules for their owne couetous herte.

And her prophetes haue drawed them with vntempered mortar, setting vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy: yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

And I thought for a man among them, that should make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before mee for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendered vpon their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatries of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

Sonne of man, there were two women, a daughters of one mother.

And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teares of their virginitee.

And the names of them were Aholah the elder, & Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

And Aholah played the harlot: when she was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers, so was with the Assyrians her neighbours.

Which were clothed with blew silke, borne capaines and princes: they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

¶ When the Assyrians were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and Ierusalem God's people shall do so.

Meaning hereby, that the godly should be tried and the wicked destroyed.

Thou art like a barren land which the Lord playneth with drought. The false prophetes haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

They haue neglected my seruice. Mich. 3. 11. ysaie. 3. 3.

They which should haue reproved them, suffered them in their vices, and covered their doings with hyes. Chap. 23. 10.

Which would thus handle sinners by religious rites. Mic. 6. 6. and Ps. 51. 16. and also pray vnto me to withhold my plagues. Psal. 109. 13.

Meaning, Israel and Iudah, which came both out of one familie. They became idolaters after the manner of the Egyptians. Aholah signifies a habitation or dwelling in her selfe, meaning Samaria, which was the royall cite of Israel: And Aholibah signifies my mansion in her, whereby I meant Ierusalem where God's Temple was.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, even with all them that were the chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whom the doted, and desired her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and powdered their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, even into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom the doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes & her daughters, & slewe her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she married her selfe with inordinate loue, more then shee, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaines and princes clothed with diuers futes; hoisemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one fort.

14 And that the increased her fornications: for when shee saw me painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with dyed attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Caldee, the land of their natiuitie)

16 Aftoone, I say, as shee saw them, the doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into Caldee.

17 Nowe when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So the discovered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet shee increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the daies of her youth wherein she had played the harlot in the lande of Egypt.

20 For shee doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose yssue is like the yssue of horses.

21 Thou caldest to remembrance the wickednes of thy youth, when thy teares were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are shut.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayeth the Lorde God, Beholde, I will rayse vp thy louers against thee, from whome thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on euery side.

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, the Peked, and Shoaah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines and princes: all they were valiant and renowned, riding vpon horses.

24 Then shalt thou come against thee with charres, wagons, and wheelers, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and I will leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carry away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednesse to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will deliuer thee into the hands of them, whome thou hatest: even into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications I shall be discovered, both thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou shalt walke in the way of thy sister: therefore will I giue her a cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkennes and sorow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and wrap it into the dregges, and thou shalt breake the heartes thereof, and teare thine owne breastes: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, Because thou hast forgotten mee, and cast mee behinde thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah & Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, and blood is in their hands, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also cursed their sonnes, whom they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their meat.

38 Moreover, thus haue they done vnto mee: they haue defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sanctuaries.

39 For when they had slaine their children to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the mids of mine house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from farre vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came: for whome thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And fastest vpon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, with her and with the men to make the company great were broughte in of Saba from the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautiful crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I sayde vnto her that was olde in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an ende.

i They shall destroy the priests, and the Priests, with the rest of thy people.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

l All the world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serve idoles.

m I will execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, and thou shalt be as great as the afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to loath their senses, and reason.

o That is, to be sacrificers to their idoles, as Chap. 16. 20.

p They sent into other countreys to keepe such as should teach the seruice of their idoles.

q He meaneth the altar that was prepared for the idoles.

r Which should reach the mass of worshippers their gods.

e The holy Ghost with these termes which seeme strange to chaffe eares, to cause this wicked vice of idolatrie to be abhorred that voucht any should abide to heare the name thereof mentioned.

f Meaning, the Assyrians.

g This declareth that no words are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging loue and filthy lusts dote vpon the images and paintings of them after whom they sell.

h These were the names of certaine princes and captaines vnder Nebuchad-nezzar.

i He, I will giue iudgements to those whom I will.

and reioyced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel,

7 Beholde, therefore I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and will deliuer thee to be poyled of the heathen, and I will root thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countreys, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir doe say, Beholde, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholde, I will open the side of Moab, ^{even} of the cities of his cities, ^{say,} in his frontiers with the pleasant countrey, Beth-idimoth, Baal-meon, and Kariatthaim.

10 I will call the men of the East against the Ammonites, and will giue them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembered among the nations, 11 And I will execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 ¶ Thus sayth the Lord God, Because that Edom hath done ^{euill} by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, and hath committed great offence, and reuenged himselfe vpon them,

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, & they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, sayth the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselves with a despitefull heart, to destroy it for the olde hatred, 16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, I will stretch out mine hand vpon the Philistims, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance vpon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

CHAP. XXVI

^a The prophet saith that Tyne shall be overthrown because it is reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. ^b The wounding and abundance of the merchants for the destruction of Tyne.

And in the ^a eleuenth yee, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because that Tyne hath sayd against Ierusalem, Aha, the ^b gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: ^{for} seeing she is desolate: I shall be replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyne, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth vp with his waues.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyne, & breake downe her towres: I will also scrape her dust from her, & make her like the top of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nettes in the mids of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be aspyle to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field, shall be slaine by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will bring vpon Tyne Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, a King of Kings from the North, with horses and with charrets, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 He shall lay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude thy walles shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheeles, and of the charrets, when he shall enter into thy gates as into the entrie of a cite that is broken downe.

11 With the houes of his horses shall he tread downe all thy streets: he shall lay thy people by the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy merchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

13 * Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harps shall be no more heard.

14 I will lay thee like the top of a rocke: thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyne, Shall not the illes tremble at the sound of thy fall, and at the crye of the wounded, when they shall be slaine and murdered in the mids of thee?

16 Then all the peprinces of the sea shall come downe from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broikered garments, and shall clothe themselves with astonishment: they shall sit vpon the ground, and be astonished at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of the sea men, the renowned cite which was strong in the sea, both she and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shall the illes be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the illes that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate cite, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, & shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, like the olde ruines, with them, I say, which pce downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited and I shall shew my glory in the land of the liuing.

21 I will bring thee to nothing, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVIII.

a The word of God against the King of Ty^rus for his pride, &c. The word of the Lord against Zidon, &c. The Lord promiseth that he will gather together the children of Israel.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say vnto the prince of Ty^rus, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thine heart is exalted, & thou hast said, ⁱ I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in ^f mids of ^f sea, yet thou art but a man & not God, & ^f though thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God.

3 Beholde, thou art wiser than ^b Daniel: there is no feare, that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom and thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten golde and siluer into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom and by thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted vp because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God.

for, came in company to ward thee.

for, power. That is, Nebuchad-nazzar.

m That is, the cities were about thee, as was Zidon, Arad and others.

n Whereby is meant a long time for it was prophesied that it was to be destroyed but fewe years, as Isa. 23. 18

o I am safe that none can come to hurt me, as God is in the heauen, & though thou shouldest thinke that thou wast as the heauen of God, & thus he speakech by derision for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisdom in Babylon, when Ezekiel wrote this.

g Behold,

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers vpon thee, and the terrible nations: and they shall draw their swordes against the beaute of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightnesse.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them, that are slaine in the middes of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before him that slayeth thee, I am a god? But thou shalt be a man, and no god, in the hands of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the death of the *v*ncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Some of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyrus, and say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, and art full of wisdom, and perisite in beaute.

13 Thou hast bin in Eden the garden of God: euery precious stone was in thy garment, the rubie, the topaze, and the diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the iasper, the saphire, emeraude, and the carbuncle and golde: the workmanship of thy tymbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed Cherub, that couereth, and I haue set thee in honour: thou wast vpon the holy mountaine of God: thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perisite in thy wayes from the day that thou wast created, till iniquitie was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise, they haue filled the mids of thee with crueltie, & thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as prophane out of the mountaine of God: and I will destroy thee, O coueting Cherub from the mids of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted vp because of thy beauty, and thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightnesse: I will cast thee to the ground: I will lay thee before kings that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, & by the iniquitie of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the middes of thee, which shall deuoure thee: and I will bring thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

20 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Some of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesie against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Zidon, and I will be glorified in the mids of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, & blood into her streets, and the slaine shall fall in the mids of her: the enemy shall come against her with the sword on euery side, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And they shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor any pricking thorne of all that are round about them, & despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall haue gathered y^e house of Israel fro^m the people where they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I haue giuen to my seruant Iacob.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, & they shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell safely, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all round about them: that despite them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

Her prophesie against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promyseth that he will restore Egypt after fourety yeeres, 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nazzar for the labour, whiche he tooke against Tyre.

In the 3 tenth yeere, and in the tenth moeth in the twelfth day of the moeth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

1 Sonne of man, set thy selfe against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

2 Speake, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon, that lyeth in the middes of his riuers, which hath saide, The riuier is mine, and I haue made it to my selfe.

3 But I will put hookes in thy chawes, and I will cause the fish of thy riuers to sticke vnto thy scales, and I will draw thee out of the middes of thy riuers, and all the fish of thy riuers shall sticke vnto thy scales.

4 And I will leane thee in the wilderness, both thee, and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meate to the beastes of the field, and to the fowles of the heauen.

5 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they haue bin a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

6 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou didst breake, & rent all thy shoulder: & when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to stand vpright.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee,

8 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, & they shall know that I am the Lord: because he hath said, The riuier is mine, & I haue made it,

9 Behold, therefore I come vpon thee, & vpon thy riuers, & I will make the land of Egypt vterly waste, and desolate from the towre of Seuenne, vnto y^e borders of the black moores.

10 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourety yeeres.

11 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the middes of the countries, that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourety yeeres: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

12 Yet thus saith the Lord God, At the end of fourety yeeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered.

13 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and will cause them to returne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, and they shall be there a small kingdome.

a He sheweth he what cause God will assemble his Church, and y^e seruice it shal though he destroy his enemies to witte, that they should praise him, & give thanks for his great mercies.

a To wit of the captiuitie of Israel, or of the reign of Zedekiah. Of the order of their prophesie, and how the same sometimes standeth after the latter, read, Ier. 27. b He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon which hath himselfe in the riuier Nilus, Ier. 51.9. c I will send enemies against thee, which shal pluck thee, and thy people which shall be in thee, out of thy fere places.

d Reade 1. Kings 22. 11, 36, 4.

e For Pharaoh, when they shal their hart, they would say no more vpon thee, but floods vpon their feete, and put their trust in others. f Thus God can not suffer that man should arrogate any thing to himselfe, or put his trust in any thing save in him alone. g 1. Kings 22. 11, 36, 4.

* Ier. 46. 26. g Meaning, that they should not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Persians, Grecians and Romans, and the cause is, that the Israelites should no more possess their trust in them, but leane to depend on God.

g Like the rest of the heathen and infidels which are Gods enemies.

h He derideth the vaine opinion and confidence that the Tyrins had in their riches, strength, & pleasures.

i For, I say, I will.

k He meaneth the royall state of Tyrus, which for the excellencie and glory thereof be compared to the Cherubims which covered the Ark: and by this word anointed he figuratiue the same.

l I did thee this honour to make thee one of the builders of my Temple, which was when Hiram sent vnto Salomone things necessary for the worke.

m To wit, among many people of Israel, which sinned as precious stones.

n Which was when I first called thee to this dignitie.

o Thou shalt haue no part among my people.

p That is the house, whereunto I called them.

q For, I say, I will.

r I by executing my iudgements against thy wickednes.

m That is, Nebuchad-nazzar.

e Many other nations were vnder their dominion. By Assyria.

4 The waters nourished him, and the deepe exalted him on his her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her little riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the field, and his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitudes of the waters, which the deepe sent out.

6 All the fowles of the heauen made their nestes in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beastes of the field bring forth their yong, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mighty nations.

7 Thus was he faire in his greatness, and in the length of his branches: for his roof was nere great waters.

d Signifying that there was no greater power in this world than his was.

8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: no firre tree was like his branches: and the chefiar trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

For thou wast lift vp.

10 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Because I he is lift vp on high, and hath thot vp his toppe among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height.

4 That is, of Nebuchadnezzar, who afterward was the monarch and onely ruler of the world.

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for I haue cast him away for his wickednesse.

f Herby is signified the destruction of the power of the Affyrins by the Babylonians.

12 And the strangers haue destroyed him, and the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaynes, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughes are broken by all the rulers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forsaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine shall all the fowles of the heauen remaine, and all the beastes of the field shalbe vpon his branches.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shalbe exalted by their height, neither shall thoot vp their toppe among the thicke boughes, neither shall their leues stand vp in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the neyther parts of the earth in the mids of the children of men among them that go downe to the pit.

15 Thus sayth the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hel, I caused them to mourne, and I scattered the deepe for him, and I did refreine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

g The deepe waters that caused him to mount so high (meaning his great abundance and pompe) shall now lament as though they were clothed with sackcloth.

16 I made the nations to shake at the found of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell, with them that defende into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: all that are nourished with waters, shalbe comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

h To cause this destruction of the King of Affyria to seeme more horrible, he setteth forth other kings and princes which are dead, as though they reioyced at the fall of such a tyrant.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that be slaine with the sword, and his arme, and they that dwelt vnder his shadow in the mids of the heathen.

i Meaning, that Pharaohs power was nothing so great as his was. See Chap. 28. 16.

18 To whom I art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden vnto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the mids of the vncircumcised, with them that be slaine by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

a The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharaoh king of Egypt, by prophesie that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

And in the twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

b Which was the first yeere of the general captiue vnder Zedekiah.

2 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a lion of the nations, and art as a dragon in the sea: thou calledst out thy riuers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and stampedst in the riuers.

c Thus the scriptures compare Pharaoh to a lion and a huge beaust which deuours all that is weaker than they, and such as they may overcome.

3 Thus faith the Lord God, * I will therefore spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come vp into my net.

d Thou preparedst great mimes, Chap. 31. 21. and 22. 10.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I will cast thee vpon the open field, & I will cause all the fowles of the heauen to remain vpon thee, and I will fill all the beastes of the field with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh vpon the mountaynes, and fill the valleys with thine height.

d With heaps of the carcases of thine armie.

6 I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, as the water to the mountaynes: and the riuers shall be full of thee.

e As the river floweth Egypt, I will I make the blood of thine hostie to swim.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heauen, and make the starres thereof darke: * I will couer the Sunne with a cloud, and the Moone shall not giue her light.

f The word significeth to be put out as a candle is put out.

8 All the highes of heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring & darkenesse vpon thy land, sayth the Lord God.

g By this manner of speech is meant the great loss that shall be for the slaughter of the King and his people.

9 I will also trouble the hearts of many people when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, and vpon the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amased at thee, and their kings shalbe astonished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter against their faces, and they shalbe asrayd at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus sayth the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babel shall come vpon thee.

12 By the swords of the mightie will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shall be terrible nations, & they shall destroy the pompe of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

b This came to passe in lesse than foure yeeres after this prophesie.

13 I will destroy also the beausts thereof from the great water-sides, neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hooves of beaust trouble them.

14 Then will I make i their waters deepe, and cause their riuers to runne like oyle, sayth the Lord God.

c To wit, of the Caldeans thine enemies, which shall quietly reioyce all thy commodities.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, & the country with all that is therein, shalbe layd waste: when I shall smite all the which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, sayth the Lord God.

17 ¶ In the twelfth yeere also in the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt,

That is, prophesie that they shall becaut downe: thus the Lord giueth his Prophets power both to plant and to destroy by his word, ready to be used by him that will. 25 They haue made his bed in the mids of the slaine with all his multitude: their graues are round about him: all these vncircumcised are slaine by the sword: though they haue caused their feare in the land of y liuing: yet haue they borne their shame with them that goe downe to the pit: they are laid in the middes of them that be slaine.

26 There a Meshech, Tubal, & al their multitude: their graues are round about them: all these vncircumcised were slaine by the sword, though they caused their feare to be in the lande of the liuing.

27 And they shal not lie w the valiant of the vncircumcised: y are fallen, which are gone downe to the graue, with their weapons of warre: haue laid their swords vnder their heads, but they in quiete shalbe vpon their bones: because they were the feare of the mighty in the land of the liuing.

30 There a al the princes of the North, with al the Zidonians, which are gone downe with the slaine, with their feare: they are alamed of their strength, and the vncircumcised sleepe with them that be slaine by the sword, & beare their shame with them that goe downe to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shal see the, & he shal be comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharaoh, and all his army shal be slaine by the sword, saith y Lord God.

32 For I haue caused my a feare to be in the land of the liuing: and he shalbe laide in the mids of the vncircumcised with them, that are slaine by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXI.

a The office of the gouernours and iudges. 14 He strengthned them that despise, and holden them with sh.

principle of sinners: by the words of the Lord against the workers of the Prophecies.

A Gaine the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying.

1 Some of man speake to the children of thy people: say vnto them, When I bring the sword vpon a lande, if the people of the lande take a man from among them, and make him their watchman,

2 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, he blow the trumpet, & warne the people. 3 Then hee that heareth the founde of the trumpet, and will not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shalbe vpon his owne head.

4 For he heard the founde of the trumpet, and would not be admonished: therefore his blood shalbe vpon him: but he that receiueth warning, shal saue his life.

5 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, hee shal be taken away for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

6 So thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and admonish them from me.

7 When I shall say vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou doest not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man that die for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

8 Neuertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way, to turne from it, if he do not turne from his way, he shal die for his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

9 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, thus ye speake and say, I sware, transgressions and our finnes ye vpon vs, and we are confounded: because of them, we haue should wezchenlad.

10 Say vnto them, As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way: and I will turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel.

11 Therefore thou sonne of man, say vnto the children of israhel, The righteousnesse of the righteous shal not deliuer him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickednesse of the wicked shal cast him to fall therein, in the day that he turneth from his wickednesse: neither shal the righteous liue for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

12 When I shall say vnto the righteous, that he shall surely liue, if he trust to his owne righteousness, and commit iniquitie: all his righteousnesses, shal be no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shal die for the same.

13 Again, when I shall say vnto the wicked, thou shalt die the death, if he turne from his sin, and do that which is lawfull and right,

14 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge, and give againe that he had robbed, and walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he shall surely liue, and not die.

15 None of his finnes that he hath committed, shalbe minded vnto him: because he hath done that.

17 Of their castles, he heareth that the people ought to haue continual gouernours and teachers which may haue a care of them, and to warne them in case of the dangers which are at hand.

b Signifying, that the wicked shal not escape punishment: but if the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blow the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shall die, from double punishment.

c Which teacheth, that he that receiueth his charge of the Lord mouth, is a spie, and not a true watchman.

d The watchman must answer for bloods fall: that perishe through his negligence.

e Thus the wicked when they heare Gods indignation for their finnes, despa of his mercies and minere.

that, which is lawful, & right, he shal surely line.

17 Yet the children of thy people say, * The way of the Lord is not equal: but their owne way is vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his rightcousnes, and committed iniquitie, he shall euen die thereby.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickednesse, and do that which is lawful and right, hee shall line thereby.

20 Yet yee say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will iudge you euery one after his wayes.

21 Also in the twelfth yere of our captiuitie, in the tenth month, and in the fift day of the month, one that had escaped out of Ierusalem, came vnto me, and said, The citie is fraint.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had bin vpon me in the euening afore hee that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth vntill he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my mouth, I was no more dumme.

23 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, and said,

24 Sonne of man, these that dwell in the desolate places of the land of Israel, talke and say, * Abraham was but one, and hee possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the land shall be giuen vs in possession.

25 Wherefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yee eate with the blood, and lift vp your eyes to worship your idoles, and shedde blood: should ye then possesse the land?

26 Ye leaue vpon your swordes: ye worke abomination, and ye desire euery one his neighbours wife: should ye then possesse the land?

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I line, so surely they that are in the desolate places, shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured: and they that be in the forces and in the castles, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the poeple of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall passe through.

29 Then shal they know that I am the Lord, when I haue laid the land desolate & waste, because of all their abominations, if they haue committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that I talke of thesely the mules: in the doores of houses, & speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, pray you, and heare what is the word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people do, to comend my people first before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not do them: for with their mouthes they make y iesses, and their heart goeth after their concupiscence.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them as a lifting song of one that hath a pleasant voice, & can sing well: for they heare thy wordes, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to passe, for loe, it will come) then shal they know, that a Prophet hath bene among them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Against the shepherds that despoile the flocke of Christ, and feede their owne papper. 7 The Lord faith that he will visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together, & hee shall feede them with his hand, and shall put them in his pasture.

And the worde of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Some of man prophetic against the shepherds of Israel, prophetic and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God vnto the shepherds, * Wo be vnto the shepherds of Israel, that feede themselves, should not the shepherds feede the flockes?

3 Yee eate the fat, and yee cloth you with the wooll: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The weake haue ye not strengthened: the sicke haue ye not healed, neither haue yee bound vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, neither haue yee fought that which was lost, but with crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were disperfed they were deuoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheepe wandered through all the mountaines, and vpon euery hie hillyes, my flocke was scattered through all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, heare the worde of the Lord.

8 As I liue, sayeth the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoiled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beasts of the field, hauing no shepherd, neyther did my shepherds seeke my sheepe, but the shepherds fedde themselves, and fedde not my sheepe,

9 Therefore, heare ye the worde of the Lord, O ye shepherds.

10 Thus layeth the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, and will require my sheep at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shal the shepherds feede themselves any more: for I will deliuer my sheep from their mouthes, and they shal no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will seatch my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flocke, when he hath bin among his sheep that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe and will deliuer them out of all places where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreies, and will bring them to their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the fiers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, & vpon the hie mountaines of Israel shall their fold be: there shal they lie in a good fold, & in fat pasture shal they feede vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, faith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was driuen away, and will bind vp that which was broken, and will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and I will feede them with iudgement.

17 Also vnto my sheepe, Thus saith the Lord God, behold, I iudge betweene sheepe, and sheepe, betweene the rammes and the goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you to haue eaten vp the good pasture, but ye must treade down with your feet the residue of your pasture: and

26 And I will set them, as a blessing, euil round about my mountaine: and I will cause raine to come downe in due season, and there shall be raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shall yeelde her fruite, and the earth shall giue her fruite, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue broken the cordes of their yoke, and deliuered them out of the handes of those that serued themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be spoyled of the heathen, neither shall the beastes of the land deuoure them, but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise vp for them a plant of renour, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither beare the reproche of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they vnderstand that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, even the house of israel, are my people, saith the Lord God.

31 And ye my sheepe, the sheepe of my pasture are men, & I am your God, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 The destruction that shall come on mount seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord.

Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against mount seir, and prophesie against it,

3 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O mount seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast put the children of israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an end,

6 Therefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou leave blood, euil blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount seir desolate and waste, and cut off from it him that passeth out & him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaynes with his flaine men in thine hilles, and in thy valleys, and in all rivers (that they fall), that are flaine with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not returne, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations, and these two countreyes shall be mine, and we will possesse them, (seeing the Lord was there)

11 Therefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, I will euen do according to thy swarth, and according to thine indignation which thou hast vied in thine hatred against them: & I will make my self known among them when I haue iudged thee.

12 And thou shalt know, that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaynes of israel, saying, They lie waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouthes yee haue boasted against me, and haue multiplied your wordes against me: I haue heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the world reioyce when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou diddest reioyce at the inheritance of the house of israel, because it was desolate, so will I doe vnto thee: thou shalt bee desolate, O mount seir, and all idumea wholly, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

4 Therefore ye mountaynes of israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaynes and to the hilles, to the rivers, and to the valleys, and to the waste, and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoiled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about.

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all idumea, which haue taken my land for their possession, with the ioy of all their heart, & with despiteful mindes to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophecie therefore vpon the land of israel, and say vnto the mountaynes, and to the hilles, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I haue spoken in mine indignation, and in my wrath, because yee haue sustered the shame of the heathen.

winde: propheticke, sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe vpon these flaine, that they may liue.

So I prophesied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they liued, and stood vp vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

Then he said vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Beholke, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

Therefore prophesie, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, my people, I will open your graues, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel.

And yee shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue opened your graues, O my people, and brought you vp out of your sepulchres.

And I shal put my Spirit in you, and yee shall liue, and I shal place you in your owne land: then yee shall knowe that I the Lord haue spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

Moreover thou sonne of man, take thee a piece of wood, & write vpon it, Vnto Iudah, and to the children of Israel his companions: then take another piece of wood, and write vpon it, Vnto Ioseph the tree of Ephraim, and to al the house of Israel his companions.

And thou shalt ioine them one to another into one tree, & they shall be as one in thine hand.

And when the children of thy people shal speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shewe vs what thou meened by this?

Thou shalt answer them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Beholde, I will take the tree of Ioseph, which is in the hande of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

And the piece of wood, whereon thou writest, shal be in thine hand, in their sight.

And I say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Beholde, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on euery side, & bring them into their owne land.

And I will make them one people in the land, vpon the mountaines of Israel, * and one king shal be king to them all: and they shall be no more two peoples, neither be diuided any more henceforth into two kingdomes.

Neither shall they be polluted any more with their idols, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will saue them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they haue sinned, & will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

And Dauid my * seruant shal be king over them, and they all shal haue one shepherd: they shal also walke in my iudgements, and obserue my statutes, and do them.

And they shal dwell in the land, that I haue giuen vnto Iacob my seruant, where your fathers haue dwelt, and they shal dwell therein, even they, and their sonnes, and their sonnes sonnes for euer, and my seruant Dauid shal be their prince for euer.

Moreover, I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shal bee an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my Sanctuary among them for euermore.

Their tabernacle also shal be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Thus the heathen shall know, that I the Lord do sanctifie Israel, when my Sanctuary shal be among them for euermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

The propheticke that Gog and Magog shall fight with great power against the people of God. 31. Their affliction.

And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

Sonne of man, set thy face against * Gog, and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Methech and Tubal, and prophesie against him. And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Gog the chiefe prince of Methech and Tubal.

And I will destroy thee, & put hookes in thy chawes, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine hoste both horses, & horsemen, all clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great multitude with bucklers, and shields, al handling swords.

They of Paras, of Cuth, & of Put with them, even all they that beare shield and helmet.

Gomer and all his bands, and the house of Togarmah of the North quarters, & al his bands, and much people with thee.

Prepare thy selfe, & make thee ready, both thou, and al thy multitude, that are ascribed vnto thee, and be thou their safeguard.

After many dayes thou shalt be visited: for in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the lande, that hath bene destroyed with the sword, and is gathered out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue long liened waste: yet they haue bene brought out of the people, and they shal dwell al safe.

Thou shalt ascend and come vp like a tempest, and shalt be like a cloude to couer the land, both thou, and all thy bandes, and many people with thee.

Thus saith the Lord God, Euen at the same time shall many things come into thy minde, and thou shalt thinke evil thoughts.

And thou shalt say, I will goe vp to the land that hath no walled towres: I will goe to them that are at rest, and dwell in safety, which dwell all without walles, and haue neither barres nor gates.

Thinking to spoyle the praye, and to take a bootie, to turne thine hand vpon the desolate places, that are now inhabited, and vpon the people, that are gathered out of the nations which haue gotten cattel and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

Sheba and Dedan, and the marchants of Tarshish with al the lyons thereof shall say vnto thee, Art thou come to spoyle the praye? hast thou gathered thy multitude to take a bootie? to cary away silver and gold, to take away cattel and goods, and to spoyle a great praye?

Therefore, sonne of man, prophesie, and say vnto Gog, Thus sayeth the Lord God, In that day when my people of Israel shall dwell safe,

* Psal. 109. 4. and 116. 4.

a Which was a people that came of Magog, the chiefe prince of Magog, Gen. 10. 2. Magog also had signified a certain country, so that by these two countries, which had the governments of Gog and Magog, he meant the principal enemies of the Church, Rev. 19. 17.

b He meant that the enemies should be so overcome, that they should be against the Church, but it should be to their own destruction.

c The Persians, Ethiopians, and men of Africa.

d Gomer was a people whose territory was the house of Togarmah the sonne of Gomer, and are thought to be they that inhabit Asia minor.

e Signifying, that all the people of the world should assemble themselves against the Church & Christ their head.

f That is, to march, and to destroy the Church.

g Meaning, that which had now bene destroyed, & was not yet built againe: desiring hereby the fulfillment of the prophesie, which saith, that the nations shall be as a flock to him.

h One enemy had once another, but now they are all gathered together to spoyle the people of the Church.

i Shall not thou, saye thou wilt come to spoyle a great praye, when they shall be nothing?

* That is, when I haue brought you out of those places, and towne where you are captiues.

d Which signifies the joining together of the two houses of Israel, and Iudah.

a This is the house of Israel.

* Iain 10. 16.

* Iain 10. 16. 23. 24. 25.

f Meaning, that the elect by Christ shal dwell in the heavenly Ierusalem, which is meant by the land of Canaan.

Shalt thou not know it?

15 And come from thy place out of the North partes, thou and much people with thee, all shall ride vpon horses, even a great multitude and a mighty armie.

16 And thou shalt come vp against my people of Israel, as a cloud to couer the land: thou shalt be in the latter daies, & I will bring thee vpon my land, that thy heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art not thou he, of whome I haue spoken in olde time, by the hand of my seruants the Prophets of Israel which prophesied in those dayes 400 yeeres, that I would bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time also when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, my wrath shall arise in mine anger.

19 For in mine indignation and in the fire of my wrath haue I spoken it: surely at that time there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel,

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowles of the heauen, and the bestes of the fild and all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, and al the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, & the mountaines shall be ouerthrowen, and the flaires shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 For I will call for a sword against him 0 throughout all my mountaines, saith the Lorde God: every mans sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him and vpon his bandes, and vpon the great people, that are with him, a fore raine, and hailestones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I bee magnified, and sanctified, and known in the eyes of many nations, & they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Gog, and Magog, 11 The granes of Gog and his host. 17 They shall be deuoured of birds and bestes. 22 Wherefore the house of Israel in captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie in promise.

Therefore, thou sonne of man, prophesie against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Methech and Tubal.

2 And I will destroy thee and leaue but the fifth part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North partes and will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I will cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bandes and the people, that is with thee: for I will giue thee vnto the birdes and to euery feathered foule and beast of the fild to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open fild: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the cyles, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So will I make mine holy Name known in the middes of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall knowe that I am the Lorde, the holy One of Israel.

8 Beholde, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall goe forth, and shall burne and set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shieldes, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staves in their handes, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seven yeeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the fildes, neither cut downe any out of the forestes: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, saith the Lorde God.

11 And at the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place there for burial in Israel, even the valley whereby men goe toward the East part of the sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stoppe their noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 A few moneths long, shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to goe continually through the land with them that trauel, to bury those that remaine vpon the ground, and cleanse it: they shall search to the ende of seven moneths.

15 And the trauailers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set vp a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the cite shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus sayeth the Lorde God, Speake vnto euery feathered foule, and to all the bestes of the fild, Assemble yow selues, and come to gather yow selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I doe sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may cate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall cate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambes, and of the goates, and of bullockes, even of all fat bestes of Bashan.

19 And ye shall cate fatted til ye bee full, and drinke blood, til ye bee drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots: with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hande, which I haue layed vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall know, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fel they all by the sword.

24 According to their iniquities, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

That is, this plague is fully determined: it cannot be changed. After this destruction the Church shall haue great peace and tranquillitie, and burne all their weapons because they had no more feare the enemies: and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christs kingdom, when by their head Christ all enemies shall be overcome. Which declareth that the enemies shall haue no horrible fall. For the flight of the captiue. Or, the multitude of Gog, meaning a long time.

Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion that the children of God haue, even on their enemies.

Hamonah.

Whereby he significeth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the enemies of his Church.

The heathen shall know that they ouercame not my people by their strength, neither yet by the weakness of mine arm, but that this was for my peoples finnes.

k Meaning, in the last age, and from the coming of Christ vnto the end of the world. l Signifying, that God will be sanctified by naming his Church, and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 38. 23. and 39. 28. m Hereby he declareth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not bene advertised alretime, to teach them to indure all things with more patience when they know that God hath so ordained.

n All manner whereby man should thinke to save himselfe shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great, and the enemies destruction shall be so terrible. o Against the people of Gog and Magog. Chap. 39. 25. and 39. 28.

a Or, destroy thee with five plagues, as Chap. 38. 23.

b Meaning, that by the vertue of Gods word the enemies shall be destroyed wherefore he afflicteth his Church.

c This is among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, frome they neuer be farre separate.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Nowe will I bring againe the captivité of Iacob, and have compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and will be ielous for mine holy Name.

26 After that they have borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies landes, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivité among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne land, and haue left none of them any more there, 29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the cite and the Temple.

IN the fift and twentieth yeere of our being in captivité, in the beginning of the yeere, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth yeere after that the cite was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lord was vpon mee, and brought me thither.

3 Into the land of Israel brought he mee by a diuine vision, and set mee vpon a verie hie mountaine, whereupon was as the building of a cite, toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, & behold, there was a man, whose similitude was to lookes so, like braffe, with a linnen thread in his hand, & a reede to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man said vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares: & set thine heart vpon all that I shal shew thee: for to the intent, that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And beholde, I sawe a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand was a reede to measure with, of fixe cubites long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, and the height with one reede.

6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staires thereof, and measured the post of the gate, which was one reede broad, and the post of the gate, which was one reede broad.

7 And every chamber was one reede long, and one reede broad, and betweene the chambers were five cubites: & the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reede.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within with one reede.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate of eight cubites, and the post thereof, of two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.

b Which was an Angel in forme of a man, that came to measure out this building.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, & three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the postes had one measure on this side, and one on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the height of the gate thirteen cubites.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, and the space was one cubite on that side, and the chambers were fixe cubites on this side, and fixe cubites on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roofe of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was five and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made also postes of threecore cubites, and the postes of the court, and of the gate had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entrie of the gate vnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were fifte cubites.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, and in their postes within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes were round about within: and vpon the postes were palme trees.

17 ¶ Then brought he me into the outward court, and loe, there were chambers, and a paucement made for the court round about, and thirte chambers were vpon the paucement.

18 And the paucement was by the side of the gates against the length of the gates, and the paucement was beneath.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the postes thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifte cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes, and their arches with their palme trees, was after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going vp vnto it had seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubites.

24 After that, he brought me toward the South, and loe, there was a gate toward the South, and he measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windowes: the height was fifte cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seven steps to goe vp to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side vpon the poste thereof.

27 ¶ And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and hee measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubites.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to these measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fifte cubites long, and five and twentie cubites broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twentie cubites long, and five cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the viter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ Again he brought me into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifte cubites long, and five and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the viter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ After hee brought me to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the postes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therein round about: the height was fifte cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were toward the viter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And euery chamber, and the entrie thereof was vnder the postes of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entrie of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables whereupon they slew the sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broad, and one cubite high: whereupon also they layd the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and vpon the tables lay the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the fingers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was tenne cubites, and the sides of the entrie were five cubites on the one side, and five cubits on the other side, and hee measured the length thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the postes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie six cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seven cubites.

4 So hee measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple. And he said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, hee measured the wall of the house, sixe cubites, and the breadth of every chamber foure cubites round about the house, on every side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpo chamber, three and thirtie foote high, and they entred into the wall made for the chambers which was rounde about the house, that the posses might bee fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large and went round mounting vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting vpwarde, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the hieft by the middes.

Verf. 10. The chambers on the one side were distant from them on the other side 20 cubits, which was the breadth of the Temple.

Verf. 11. The doors of the chambers on the Northside, opened toward the North V and they on the Southside toward the South R for there was an alley of five cubits round about the Temple V Z and was inclosed with a wall 11.

Verf. 12. The building, or the great place compassed with a wall of five cubits thick and was farther off the Temple than the alley, separate place, and this is more plainly set forth in the great figure.

Verf. 16. He declared that whatsoever was of stone work from the bottom to the top, was covered with wood on the East, South, and Northside.

Verf. 22. The altar V which was three cubits high Y X and two cubits long Y Z.

8 I saw also the house the round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reed of five great cubites.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the chamber without, was five cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the widenesse of twenty cubites round about the House on every side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubites round about.

12 Nowe the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was fencible cubites broad, and the wall of the building was five cubites thick, round about, and the length ninete cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the wall thereof were an hundred cubites long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building over against the separate place, which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The postes and the narrow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides over against the postes, sided with cedar wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes, and the windowes were sided.

17 And from about the doore vnto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was sided according to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims & palme trees, so that a palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub: and every Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one side, and the face of a lyon toward the palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground vnto above the doore were Cherubims and palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The postes of the Temple were squared, and thus to looke vnto was the similitude and forme of the Sanctuary.

22 The altar of wood was three cubites high, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuary had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the wall, and there were thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windowes & palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke planks.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

Then brought he mee into the inner court by the way toward the North, and hee brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

1 Before the length of an hundred cubites, was the North doore, and it was five cubites broad.

2 Over against the twenty cubites which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement, which was for the vter court, was chamber against chamber in three rowes.

3 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubites wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

4 Nowe the chambers above were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp thefe, to wit the lower, and those that were in the middles of the building.

5 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemost, even from the ground.

6 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the vter court on the forefront of the chambers, was five cubites long.

7 For the length of the chambers that were in the vter court, was five cubites: and loe, before the Temple were an hundred cubites.

8 And vnder these chambers was the entrie, on the Eastside, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

9 The chambers were in the thicknesse of the wall of the court toward the East, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

10 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fations, and according to their doores.

11 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entred.

12 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, wherein the Priests that approach vnto the Lord, shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering: for the place is holy.

13 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the vter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and so shall approche to those things, which are for the people.

14 Nowe when hee had made an ende of measuring the inner house, hee brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

15 He measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reedes, even with the measuring round about.

16 He measured also the Northside, five hundred

19 He turned about to the West side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad to make a separation between the Sanctuary, and the prophane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 He seeth the glory of God going into the Temple from whence it had before departed. 2 The ministers the israelites of the children of Israel, for the which they were consumed and brought to naught. 3 He is commanded to call them again to repentance.

Afterward he brought me to the gate even the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from out of the East, whose voyce was like a noise of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

3 And the vision which I saw was like the vision, even as the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me vp and brought mee into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto mee out of the house: and there stood a man by me.

7 Which said unto mee, Some of man, this place is my throne, & the place of the soles of my feet, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for ever, & the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their Kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeises of their Kings in their high places.

8 Albeit they fet their thresholds by my thresholds, and their postes by my postes (for there was but a wall betweene me and them) yet have they defiled mine holy Name with their abominations, that they have committed: wherefore I consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carkeises of their Kings farre from me, and I will dwell among them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou some of man, shew this House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednes, & let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of al that they have done, shew them the forme of the House, and the paterne thereof, & the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, & the whole fashion thereof, & all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the lawes thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion thereof, & all the ordinances thereof, & do them.

12 This is the description of the house, It shalt be upon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Beholde, this is the description of the house.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, & put it on the four hornes of it, & on the four corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: this shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcile it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, and burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an hee goat without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullocke.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a yong bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the Priests shall cast salt vpon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euery day an hee goat for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a yong bullocke and a ramme out of the flocke, without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seuen dayes purifie the altar, and cleanse it, and y consecrate it.

27 And when these dayes are expired, vpon the eight day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings vpon the altar, and your peace offerings, and I will accept you, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reprimand the people for their offences. 7 The vncircumcised in heart, and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the service of the Temple, and who to be refused.

Then he brought mee toward the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, This gate shall be shut, and shall not be opened, and no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entered by it, and it shall be shut.

3 It appertaineth to the Prince: the Prince himselfe shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: hee shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 Then brought hee me toward the North gate before the House: and when I looked, behold the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 And the Lord said vnto me, Some of man, I make well, & behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, all that I say vnto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, & all the lawes thereof, & marke well the entering in of y house with euery going forth of the Sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, euen to y house of Israel, Thus sayth y Lord God, O house of Israel, ye haue enough of all your abominations,

7 Seeing that ye haue brought in to my Sanctuary strangers, vncircumcised in heart, and vncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuary, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, euen fat, and blood: and they haue broken my countenance, because of all your abominations.

8 For ye haue not kept the ordinances of mine holy things: but you your felues haue set a stee to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

9 Thus sayth the Lord God, No stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel,

10 Neither yet the Leuites that are gone backe from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idoles, but they shall beare their iniquitie.

11 And they shall serue in my Sanctuary, and keepe the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall lay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stand before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idoles, and caused y house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore haue I lift vp mine hand against them, sayth the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquity, 13 And they shall not come neere vnto me to do the office of the Priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall beare their shame and their abominations, which they haue committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shalbe done therein.

15 But the Priests of the Leuites, the sonnes of Zadok, that kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come neere to me to serue me, and they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, sayth the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and shall come neere to my table, to serue me, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linnen garments, and no wooll shall come vpon them while they serue in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonets vpon their heads, & shall haue linnen breeches vpon their loines: they shall not gird themselves in the sweating place.

19 But when they goe forth into the vter court, euen to the vter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherein they ministered, & by them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments for they shall not sanctifie the people with their garments.

20 They shall not also haue their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long, but round their heads.

21 Neither shall any Priest drinke wine when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, or her that is divorced: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath bene the widow of a Priest.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference betweene the holy and prophane, and cause them to discern betweene the vncleane & the cleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stand to iudge, and they shall iudge it according to my iudgements: and they shall keepe my lawes and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctifie my Sabbaths.

25 And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves, except at their father or mother, or sonne, or daughter, brother or sister, y hath had yet none husband: in these may they be defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, they shall reckon vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when he goeth into the Sanctuary, vnto the inner court to minister in the Sanctuary, he shall offer his sinne offering, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLV.

1 Out of the land of promise are there seuen square fowre portions, of which the first is given to the Priests, &c. in the Temple, the second to the Levites, the third to the cities, the fourth to the prince, &c. An exposition vnto the heads of Israel, &c. Of the weights and measures, &c. Of the first fruits, &c.

Moreouer when ye shall diuide the lande for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation vnto the Lord an holy portion of the land, five and twentie thousand reedes long, and ten thousand broad: this shall be holy to all the borders thereof round about.

1 Of all the land which the Lord shall give thee, thou shalt require this portion for the Temple and for the Priests, for the cities and for the prince.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, all square round about, and fiftie cubites round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twentie thousande, and the breadth of tenne thousande: and in it shall be the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuary, which came neere to serue the Lord: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the five and twentie thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Levites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

6 Also ye shall appoynt the possession of the cities, five thousand broad, and five and twentie thousand long ouer against y oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on y one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the cities, even before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the cities from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall be by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people, and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it be suffice you, O princes of Israel: leave off crueltye and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayth the Lord God.

10 Ye shall haue iust balances, and a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equal: a Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equality thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 * And the shekel shall be twentie gerahs, and twentie shekels, and a five and twentie shekels and fiftene shekels shall be your Maneh.

13 ¶ This is the oblation that ye shall offer, the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheate, and ye shall give the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, even of the Bath of oyle, ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer)

15 And one lambe of two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offering, and for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, sayeth the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes part to give burnt offerings, and meate offerings, and drinke offerings in the soleme feastes & in the new moones, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the hie feastes of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offering, and the meate offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish and cleanse the Sanctuary.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the posts of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou doe the seuen day of the month, for every one that hath erred and for him that is decieved: so shall you reconcile the house.

21 * In the first month in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall haue the Passouer, a feast of seuen daies, and ye shall eat vnleavened bread.

22 And vpon that day shall the prince prepare for himselfe, and for all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seuen dayes of the feast he shall make a burnt offering to the Lord, even of seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes without blemish daily for seuen dayes, and an hee goate daily for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, an Ephah for a ramme, and an Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seuen month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the feast for seuen dayes, according to the sinne offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meate offering, and according to the oyle.

ward the North: and beholde, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then sayd hee vnto mee, This is the place where the Priests shall see the trespass offering and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meate offering, that they should not beare them into the vnder court: to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the vttre court, and caused me to goe by the foure corners of the court: and beholde, in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ioyned of forty cubits long, & thirty broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there ~~went~~ a wall about them, euen about those foure, and kitchins were made vnder the walles round about.

24 Then sayd hee vnto me, This is the kitchin where the ministers of the house shall see the sacrifice of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the Temple, 13 The coasts of the land of promise, and the admission thereof by tribes.

Afterward he brought me vnto the doore of the houle: and beholde, a waters issued out from vnder the threshold of the houle Eastward: for the forefront of the houle floods towards the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the houle, at the southside of the altar.

2 Then brought hee me out toward the north gate, and led me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate, by the way that turneth Eastward: and beholde, there came forth waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and he brought me through the waters: the waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward hee measured a thousand, and it was a ^briuer, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flowe, as a riuer that could not be passed ouer.

6 And he saide vnto mee, Sonne of man, hast thou seene this? then hee brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the river.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the river ~~were~~ very many ^c trees on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then sayde he vnto mee, These waters issue out toward the East country, and runne downe into the plaine, and shall goe into one ^d sea: they shall runne into another sea, and the ^e waters shall be wholefome.

¶ And every thing that liueth, which moueth, wherefoer the riuers shall come, shall liue, and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall bee whole some, and every thing shall liue whither the river cometh.

Perf. 19. He describeth the Priests chambers, which were at the side of the Temple toward the North; and so cometh to the place, which was on the West side. & which verse 21. is called the viter court in respect of the inner court as also where the people were, was the viter court in respect of this inner.

4 That is, the wicked and rebellious.

5 By the land of promise to be signified the spiritual land wherof this was a figure.

10 And then the 5 fishers shall stand upon it, and from En-gedi even unto S En-eglaion, they shall spread out their nets: for their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But of the mine places thereof, and the marishes thereof shall not be wholesome: they shall be made salt pits.

12 And by this river upon the brinke thereof, on this side, and on that side shall grow all || fruitfull trees, whose lease shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof faile: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his moneths, because their waters run out of the Sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be meat, and the lease thereof shall be for || medicine.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, This shall be the portion, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelue tribes * of Israel: Ioseph shall haue two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one aswell as another: * concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land shall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border ^k of the land toward the North side, from the maine sea toward Hethlon, as men go to Zedakah:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is betweene the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazar, Haticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North, Northward, and the border of Hamath: so shall be the North part.

18 But the East side shall ye measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Iorden, and from the border vnto the East sea: and so shall be the East part.

19 And the South side shall be toward Teman from Tamar to the waters of || Meriboth in Kadeth, and the river to the maine sea: so shall be the South part toward Teman.

20 The West part also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come ouer-against Hamath: this shall be the West part.

21 So shall ye diuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be vnto you, as borne in the country among the children of Israel, ^l they shall part inheritance with you in the mids of the tribes of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shall ye giue him his inheritance, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

¶ The lots of the tribes. ¶ The parts of the possession of the Priests of the Temple, of the Levites, of the eun and of the Prince were shewed.

NOW these are the names of the ^a tribes, From the North side to the coast toward Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, the border of Damascus: Northward the coast of Hamath, euen from the East side to the West shall be a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan from the East side vnto the West side, a portion for Acher.

3 And by the border of Ashur: from the East part euen vnto the West part a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali from the East quarter vnto the West side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the East side vnto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East quarter vnto the West quarter, a portion for Iudah.

8 And by the border of Iudah from the East part vnto the West part shall be the offering which they shall offer of five and twentie thousand reeds broad, and of length as one of the other parts, from the East side vnto the West side, and the Sanctuary shall be in the mids of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer vnto the Lord, shall be of five and twentie thousand long, and of ten thousand the breadth.

10 And for them, euen for the Priests shall be this holy oblation, toward the North five and twentie thousand long, and toward the West, ten thousand broad, and toward the East ten thousand broad, and toward the South five and twentie thousand long, and the Sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the mids thereof.

11 It shall be for the Priests that are sanctified of the sonnes of * Zadok, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be theirs, as a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And ouer-against the border of the Priests the Levites shall haue five and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broad: all the length shall be five and twentie thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither change it, nor alienate the first fruits of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth ouer-against the five and twentie thousand, shall be a prophane place for the cite, for housing, and for suburbs, and the cite shall be in the mids thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof, the North part five hundred and four thousand, and the South part five hundred and four thousand, and the East part five hundred and four thousand, and the West part five hundred and four thousand.

17 And the suburbs of the cite shall be toward the North two hundred and fiftie, and toward the South two hundred & fiftie, and toward the East two hundred and fiftie, and toward the West, two hundred and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer-against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand Eastward, and tenne thousand Westward: and it shall be ouer-against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food vnto them that serue in the cite.

19 And they that serue in the cite, shall be of all the tribes of Israel that shall serue therein.

^k This is the position of the ground which they shall separate and appoint to the Lord, which shall be diuided into three parts: for the Priests, for the Prince, and for the cite.

* Chap. 44. 1

^c Meaning that it should be square.

1 Meaning that in this spiritual kingdome there should be no difference betweene Jew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christ.

^a The tribes after that they were diuided into the land vnder Iosua, diuided the land somewhat otherwise: will then 11 becomen North by this vision.
